YACHTS, STEAMBOATS, &c.

FOR SALE—THE CELEBRATED SCHOONER YACHT Henrietta, 110 tons brden, old measurement, winner of the great ocean yacht race to Cowes, England, in 1866, (in which she made the extraordinary run of 280 miles in 24 hours), and several other ocean races. The Henrietta has been on a cruise to the West Indies, but has returned to New York. While on her voyage from Key West to Charleston she made a run of 250 miles during rough weather, showing that she has lost none of her speed. The Henrietta has a commodious saloon, handsomely fitted up, with a large stateroom on the starboard side, three other sta erooms and two staterooms forward for officers. The cabin furniture, kitchen utensils, &c., are in complete order, and the vessel will be put in readiness to go to sea immediately. The Henrietta will compare favorably, for speed and seagoing qualities, with any yacht in this country or England. For particulars address J. ANDERSON Herald office, New York.

GOLD LOAN
of the Rochester, N. Y., Water Works Company.
Six per cent bonds, due 1889, of $1,000 each, interest May and November, principal and interest payable in gold, at Union Trust Company, New York.
We offer for sale $400,000 of this loan at 82½, and accrued interest in currency.
The entire property is mortgaged to the Union Trust Company for the protection of the bondholders, and the bonds are issued by them only upon the certificate of John C. Trautwine, C. E. (appointed by the bondholders), approved by the Board of Directors, that the money has been actually expended upon the works. Pamphlets, containing the reports of Engineers W. Milnor Roberts and J. C. Trautwine, upon the progress of the works, also copies of the acts granting this company their charter to supply Rochester with water, furnished upon application. Upon the most moderate estimate the rental from the works, when completed, will be $150,000 annually, double the amount required for interest upon the bonds. Having personally examined the works we can confidently recommend this loan to the public as a safe and profitable investment.

PACIFIC RAILWAY GOLD LOAN.

Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine street, New York, offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay 7 per cent in gold, have thirty years to run, are free from government taxation and are secured by a land grant of 3,000,000 acres of the finest lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the company also owns 3,000,000 of acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation now earns more than enough net income to pay the interest on the new loan. There is no better security in the market, this being in some respects better than government securities. Principal and interest payable in gold. Price 96 and accrued interest, in currency. Pamphlets, maps and circulars furnished on application.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES AND THE KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY BONDS.
[From the New York Tribune.]

The efforts of the Secretary of the Treasury to reduce the debt meet the general approval of the country. It seems to us that our capitalists and bankers could second Mr. Boutwell, and at the same time do a wise thing for themselves and our industrial interests. Government bonds rule at a high figure now, because, among other reasons, the men who control money desire to make Mr. Boutwell pay as largely as possible. Instead of being one of the best securities for investment at their present price, there are others that seem nearly or quite as good and far more profitable. A five-twenty bond for $5,000 at 120 would cost $6,000. The interest on this in currency would be $405, or 6¾ per cent in currency. As the bonds increase in value of course this rate of interest decreases. Now, with the necessity for money to develop internal improvements and industries, it seems to us the part of wisdom for those who hold governments to take advantage of this increase in their current value to make other investments of a more profitable character. We have in our advertising columns several good seven per cent cent gold-bearing loans which seem nearly as secure as the governments. There is hardly a better security than a first mortgage upon a well located, well managed railway. Let us take for example the case of the Kansas Pacific Railway. Here is a loan running thirty years and paying seven per cent in gold. A $5,000 bond will cost, at the selling rate, $5,760. With gold at 135 the interest would be $568 in currency—a fraction less than ten per cent; a difference of more than three per cent in favor of the road. The whole thing would be summed up in a tabular form thus:—

	Am't.	Sell'g Price.	Cost.	Gold In't.	Cur'cy In't.
Five-twenty	$5,000	120	$6,000	$300	$405 00
Difference			$1,200	$50	$68 50

In fact, the purchaser could buy a $6,000 bond at 96, for a less figure than he can buy a 5-20 $5,000 bond, and make $1-5 68 profit, or an increase of 45 per cent on his investment. It seems to us, with a little quiet figuring, that if people want to invest money now is the time to sell governments to the Treasury and buy some good railroad security like the Kansas Pacific.

REAL ESTATE MATTERS.

Real Estate Notes.

Mr. Daniel Crouse has purchased the old Dutch church property on Broad street, Utica, for $14,500. Stores are to be erected on the site.

It is said that Court square, Memphis, Tenn., was originally ceded to the city on the condition that a court house be built on the ground within a specified time. The time having expired and the court house not built Mr. McLemore, one of the heirs, proposes to enter suit to recover the property.

The Chicago City Directory for the present year contains over 120,000 names—an increase of 18,000 over last year. The Tribune publishes a partial list of buildings in process of erection in Chicago the present season. It is estimated that 1,500 will be built, of the value of $10,000,000.

The property of C. K. Crook, consisting of a residence and four acres of land, near Tarrytown, has been purchased by W. C. Wilkinson for $16,000.

A farm of twenty-seven acres, situated near White Plains, and lately owned by Mrs. Jane Fisher, has been transferred to G. G. Guild, of New York, for $10,000.

SUBURBAN INTELLIGENCE.

NEW JERSEY.

Jersey City.

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD NUISANCE is still the source of agitation. The railroad company have made great concessions, but the agitators are not satisfied. The members of the New York Board of Health have cut the plank from beneath the feet of the grumblers on the abattoir question by the opinion that there is nothing in it dangerous to the health of the locality. Some say that the agitation is fostered by the Camden and Amboy monopoly for the sake of embarrassing the Central.

Union Hill.

A LITTLE GIRL RUN OVER AND KILLED.—About four o'clock yesterday afternoon a man named George Goely was driving from Hoboken a horse car laden with provisions, near the foot of the hill, and when a child named Minnie Rosenberg, four years old, appeared on the track before the car. The driver imagined her to be crossing at the time, but she remained on the road, and in a few moments one of the horses knocked her down on the rail and the wheels passed over her back, almost severing the body in two. The creature had been gathering wild flowers by the wayside and after death the hand retained a handsome nosegay which she was carrying homeward. The parents, who reside in Kossuth street, near Palisade avenue, were soon apprised of the occurrence and appeared almost frantic, especially the mother, whose cries were heartrending. Goely immediately surrendered himself to the authorities and was committed to prison by Coroner White to await the result of an inquest.

Newark.

THE MASONS' STRIKE.—The journeymen masons are still on strike, and no disposition has yet been shown by the "bosses" to pay the old wages—$4 50 per day.

THE DUVALL ALLEGED POISONING.—The Dr. Duvall, who is suspected of having poisoned his wife at Janesville, Wis., is supposed to have at one time resided in this city, where he went by the name of Dr. Potts. Two of his wives died while he resided in this neighborhood.

THE LATE PETER KERR.—The funeral obsequies of the late Peter Kerr, who was drowned at Long Branch, recently, took place yesterday at the North Reformed church, in this city, in presence of a large gathering of the friends of the deceased. The remains have been embalmed, and will be accompanied to Scotland on board the steamer Russia to-day by the widow and children, together with Mr. George A. Clarke.

Paterson.

THE BONE BOILING NUISANCE.—The people of Paterson are determined that the new ordinance prohibiting the bone boiling business within the city shall be enforced. One of the dealers, Allen Warren, was tried yesterday before the Recorder, but owing to the fact that the witnesses could only bear evidence of an olfactory character a verdict was rendered for the defendant. Other cases will be tried soon, and the neighbors are determined to fight it out on that line until the nuisance is abolished.

Godwinville.

A MAN NEARLY SUFFOCATED IN A WELL.—A laborer engaged in digging a well on the premises of Daniel Ackerman, at Godwinville, on Wednesday afternoon descended into the shaft, twenty-seven feet deep, immediately after a blast. He fell senseless on the bottom, having been suffocated by the smoke and foul air. After a delay of nearly an hour he was rescued by Mr. Richardson, who was also nearly suffocated in the attempt. Medical aid was summoned, and with the proper restoratives the man was brought back to consciousness and is now apparently wholly recovered.

Trenton.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Yesterday morning while a man named Isaac Long was driving a team along Centre street the horses became unmanageable and dashed along at a furious rate, throwing him from the wagon, by which his leg was so badly fractured that it is feared amputation will be necessary.

LARGE CABLE WIRE.—On Wednesday evening an immense cable wire was transported from Roebling's wire mill in this city, to be used in drawing the heavy coal trains across the mountains on the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad. The cable is 5,878 feet in length, two and a half inches in diameter, and weighs 63,000 pounds.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.—Late on Thursday night, as a freight train was approaching the depot, a man was observed to walk off the track out of the way, and accidentally fall into the canal. One of the attachés of the locomotive jumped off and attempted to rescue the drowning man with a poker, but did not succeed. He was found yesterday morning, but no person identified him. His shirt bore the name of John Hays or Hare, as well as the trade mark of an English firm. A coroner's inquest was held yesterday afternoon, and a verdict of accidental death returned. The remains were interred in Potter's Field.

STATE PRISON MATTERS.—A short time since a paragraph appeared in the HERALD stating that two deputy keepers were removed by the principal on a charge of theft. It appears that one of them has since been restored through the influence of an ex-State Senator, brother of the accused, and other political friends. The other man, named T. S. Lawrence, of Cape May, asserts that he wrote two letters to Mr. Hennion demanding an investigation for the purpose of proving his innocence, which Mr. Hennion alleges were not received. Yesterday Lawrence waited on the keeper, but was denied any redress. As the allegation has been already published and as no opportunity has been afforded Lawrence to clear himself of the charge, he desires to deny the truth of the accusation.

TRAGEDY AT FORT LEE, N. J.

Terrific Encounter Between Two Women—One of Them Fatally Beaten with a Stone—Verdict of the Coroner's Jury.

People seldom hear anything about Fort Lee, on the bank of the Hudson, a few miles above Hoboken. The denizens of that locality are a peaceable, law-abiding community, and but for the ravages of night prowlers from New York there would be little need for constables. The quiet of that pleasant rural retreat was disturbed, however, by an event which occurred a week ago and which has created great excitement.

A landlady, named Mrs. Hodman, had a dispute with one of her tenants, named Mrs. Bannon, and after some angry words the women clutched each other and fought furiously. Mrs. Hodman broke away from her antagonist, and, lifting a large stone, returned to the charge. A few terrific blows of this stone on the head of Mrs. Bannon ended the fight, and the latter was carried to her house senseless and covered with blood. She never rallied, but sank gradually till Tuesday night, when she expired.

An inquest was held by Justice Maurice Fitzgerald on Wednesday, and the following gentlemen were sworn as a jury:—Justice Taylor, foreman; Joseph Schlosser, Hugh Brosnahan, Frederick Lahm, Leo Bigler, Ferdinand Hefley, Florian Stryker, William Crozier, John Diehl, George Benckler and Peter Ricker. Several witnesses were examined, among them Dr. English, who attended Mrs. Bannon. The jury rendered a verdict that deceased came to her death from the effect of injuries received by the blows of a stone in the hands of Mrs. Hodman. The latter was accordingly committed for trial at the next term of the Bergen County Court.

LONG ISLAND.

BURGLARY AT FLUSHING.—The boot and shoe store of Thomas Costello, Flushing, was entered by burglars on Thursday night and goods stolen to the value of between three and four hundred dollars. An entrance was effected through a back window, which was forced open. A jimmy and pair of painter's overalls were found on the premises.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

ACCIDENT AT HARLEM BRIDGE.—Shortly after twelve o'clock yesterday a laborer, named Owen McDermott, in attempting to step on the draw of Harlem bridge before it had closed, met with a shocking accident. The moving bridge caught one of his legs, from which the flesh and muscles below the knee were torn from the bone, and of course the tibial artery severed, through which he had almost bled to death ere a sensible bystander used his pocket handkerchief as a tourniquet, and arrested the flow of blood. The unfortunate man, who was intoxicated at the time of the accident, was subsequently conveyed to Bellevue Hospital.

ALLEGED ROBBERY BY A SERVANT.—Yesterday before Justice Hauptman at Morrisania, Mrs. Anne King, living on the Boston road, made oath to the effect that a servant named Anna Logue, formerly in her employ, disappeared suddenly from her (deponent's) house on the 13th day of June last, and that about the same time she missed jewelry and children's clothing to the value of sixty dollars, which she believed the girl had stolen. Complainant was ill at the time of the alleged robbery and consequently unable to make a charge against the absconding domestic. Upon her affidavit a warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

GENERAL BRECKINRIDGE.—General Breckinridge informs us that he has determined to settle again permanently in Lexington and resume the practice of law. This will be gratifying news to the hosts of personal friends of General Breckinridge in this section, where he was known and admired and loved long before he had acquired a national reputation. We are glad to learn that he has already received retainers in several important suits.—Lexington (Ky.) Gazette, August 4.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

ARREST OF AN ALLEGED SWINDLER.—A man, who gave his name as William C. Rathburn, was taken into custody yesterday by detectives Folk and Videto on a charge of false pretences. The accused, as alleged, had been swindling some furniture and carpet dealers by making extensive purchases and paying them in worthless coal bonds. It appears that he purchased furniture to the value of $650 about three weeks ago from the store of Mr. John Wood, Nos. 166 and 168 Fulton street, and induced Mr. Wood to take five $500 bonds on the Cumberland Coal Company. Being successful in this transaction he next proceeded to the store of J. G. Latimer, No. 181 Atlantic street, where he purchased $254 worth of carpet. He told Mr. Latimer that he was unable to pay for the carpet at once, but would give him a chattel mortgage on it and also a mortgage on part of the furniture which he had got from Mr. Wood. Mr. Latimer, feeling secure in the transaction, agreed to the proposition of the accused. He then went to the furniture store of Mr. Henry Bayles, No. 124 Atlantic street, and bought $424 worth of furniture from him, giving him in payment four $500 bonds on the Cumberland Coal Company. All these bonds, of course, were worthless. The accused was arrested at the store of Mr. Bayles while the furniture was being removed. The furniture and carpets which he had purchased from Messrs. Wood and Latimer, he had removed to No. 166 Sands street. All of the furniture was recovered by the officers—a portion at No. 166 Sands street, a portion at No. 85 Sands street, and the balance at No. 77 Eighth avenue, New York. Mr. Latimer's carpets were recovered at No. 166 Sands street. The prisoner was taken before Justice Walsh yesterday afternoon and committed to answer.

SINGULAR CASE OF ABDUCTION.—A woman named Catharine Turner was arrested for kidnapping Hannah H. Baker, nine years of age, from the home of her parents, William and Julia Baker, residing at No. 40 Park avenue. The case is rather important from the fact that the accused, when taken before Justice Walsh yesterday afternoon, could give no satisfactory explanation for taking the girl away. It seems she met the girl on Wednesday, the 28th of July, and persuaded her to take a walk as far as Fort Greene, which is but a few blocks from her home. In the course of the walk she won the confidence of the girl so much that she consented to accompany her to Prospect Park, on the promise to bring her back in an hour or two. When they returned, however, she took another route and took the girl across South ferry. The girl begged her to take her home, which she promised to do, but continued at the same time going in a contrary direction. When they reached the Battery they met a woman by the name of Margaret McCann, and she and the accused got into an altercation, during which Catharine Turner was arrested by an officer of the First precinct, New York, and taken to the Tombs. Here she gave her name as Sarah Morehouse, and claimed that she was the mother of the child. This statement the girl denied and told the Judge she lived in Brooklyn, giving the name and residence of her parents. She was then transferred to the police of Brooklyn, and the girl was restored to her parents. The accused stated to Justice Walsh yesterday that she only wanted to take the child to New York to see its father; thats he had no home at present, but formerly resided in Atlantic street. She was fully committed to await the action of the Grand Jury.

ARREST OF AN ALLEGED COUNTERFEITER.

Seizure of a Large Quantity of Counterfeiting Paraphernalia—The Prisoner Held to Bail in the Sum of $10,000.

One of the most important arrests which have been made in a long time has just been accomplished by the Secret Service detectives. For some time past the officers have been watching the premises of a Frenchman named Anthony Neill; suspecting him to be engaged in the manufacture of counterfeit gold and silver coin. Yesterday they took him into custody, and on searching his place found all the paraphernalia for counterfeiting gold and silver coin. There were presses for manufacturing twenty dollar, ten dollar, five and three and one dollar American gold pieces; presses for making twenty-five and fifty cent silver pieces, a press for the manufacture of five cent nickel pieces, and another for the manufacture of some Peruvian coin. The metal which he uses is said to be so similar in color, weight and feeling to gold and silver that it is almost impossible for an expert to tell the difference. He says it is manufactured by himself, that he made the discovery some years since, and until within the past year has been furnishing it to a man in New York, who took about 100 pounds a week. He never knew, he says, to what purpose this man applied the metal, but some months ago he left for Europe and then placed in his charge the presses, &c., which were found on his premises. These presses are all of the most excellent workmanship.

The accused carries on the business of a white metal manufacturer in Beekman street, New York, and says he now uses the metal in the manufacture of spoons, watches and other articles.

He was taken before Commissioner Newton yesterday afternoon, when he was required to give bail in the sum of $10,000. Not being able to do so at once he was remanded to the Penitentiary and his examination set down for Tuesday.

THE REVENUE AND THE BANKS.

United States Marshal's Operations—Names of the Defendants.

During the past week United States Marshal Dallon, of Brooklyn, has been busy in looking after the bankers in that city against whom suits have been brought in the United States Court for their omission to make their returns monthly to the assessors, as required by the 110th section of the act June 30, 1866. The returns are to contain statements of capital employed and amount of business done. The default covers omissions for fifteen months past on the part of some 130 private bankers.

Summonses have been served by the Marshal for the following named gentlemen:—Robert Turner, S. C. Blake, Henry Morgan, Charles Morgan, F. W. Voell, Charles Phipps, David St. John, R. C. Baiger, H. W. Bishop, John J. Cox, Alfred Hanberg, Samuel W. Pachen, J. A. Pachen, G. G. Curtis, R. G. Fuller, Thomas Morgan, F.L. Olcott, W. R. Gould and W. G. Nichols.

LETTER FROM GOVERNOR WELLS, OF VIRGINIA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

Your Washington correspondent says in an article published by you on Monday last that my son is to be appointed an aide-de-camp to myself, with a salary of $2,000 per annum; and he also charges, in the same article, that I consider "that the solution of pending questions in Virginia would be arrived at by a refusal on the part of General Canby to issue his proclamation declaring the result of the election until after the meeting of Congress." Both of these statements are untrue. My son has not been appointed to that or any other office, and will not be by me, nor with my consent.

I have never thought of nor heard the plan expressed to which your correspondent refers, and do not believe that any such plan is contemplated by anybody. H. H. WELLS.

THE NEWS.

Europe.

The cable despatches are dated August 6.

The London papers have taken up the question of the seizure of the Spanish gunboats by the United States government, and comment freely on the probability of the sale of Cuba. Great consternation was caused in the Houses of Parliament in London, during the session of yesterday morning, by the explosion of a canister of gunpowder somewhere within the building. No clue of the perpetrators of this outrage has been obtained. The new boat for the Harvard crew has arrived in London.

The Emperor and the Empress of the French have gone to visit Chalons. Marshal Niel is very unwell. A duel is reported between two well known Paris editors, in which one of the combatants received four wounds.

A correspondent of a London journal writes from Rome that the emancipation of civil society from the Church influence is so complete that it would be superfluous to prevent the meeting of the Council. Other States are expected to follow the moderation expressed by Baron Beust in respect to the Council.

The Carlist bands in Spain are reported to be dissolved and the partisans discouraged.

The representatives of the foreign Powers resident in Constantinople have interceded with the Sultan, and the difficulty with Egypt is, consequently, in a fair way of being settled.

Cuba.

Information has been received in Washington of the safe landing in Cuba of a filibustering party, 250 in number, which started from the coast of Florida on the 4th instant.

Miscellaneous.

The returns from Alabama show that Buckley and Hays (radicals) have been elected to Congress from the Second and Fourth districts, and Dox and Sherman (democrats) from the Fifth and Sixth districts. The First and Third districts are in doubt, but probably Buck (radical) is chosen in the First district.

The implied condemnation of ex-President Johnson by Secretary Boutwell and Postmaster Creswell in their letters endorsing the extreme radical party of Tennessee caused a reaction in that State in favor of the ex-President, and his return to the United States Senate is rendered more than probable.

Hon. James M. Cavanaugh, democrat, has been re-elected delegate to Congress from Montana by 2,000 majority.

The colored radicals of Mobile, Ala., held a meeting on Thursday night to celebrate the election of their candidate for Congress. During the meeting a slight difficulty ensued with a white man, when a general onslaught was made with pistols. Three negroes were killed outright and five were wounded. Five whites were also wounded. The negroes numbered 1,500, the whites 100.

It is believed that upon completion of the Kansas Pacific Railroad St. Louis will become the chief point of smelting the silver ores of Colorado, and in anticipation of this event parties in that city are already making arrangements for the erection of smelting works.

Injunctions were served yesterday upon the vice president and treasurer of the Susquehanna Railroad Company and a majority of the directors, preventing their acting as officers of the company. They are charged with conspiring to place the road in the hands of Jay Gould, and thus defraud the company out of its property.

A steamer of fifteen tons burden left Baltimore yesterday for Attakapas, La. Her route is by canal to this city, hence by river to Albany and through canals and lakes to the Mississippi river.

Jay Cooke & Co. deny the report forwarded from Philadelphia that they had made advances on whiskey destroyed at the burning of the government warehouses in that city.

A Southern farmer deposited $3,300 worth of government bonds in the ash hole of his smokehouse for safe keeping. His wife, knowing nothing of the circumstance, a few days ago, wishing to smoke some bacon, built a fire in the smokehouse and reduced the bonds to cinders.

A pleasure boat containing fourteen persons was capsized on Bush river, Harford county, Md., on Thursday afternoon, and three of the party—Harry Lee, of Baltimore, James M. and Septimus Sewell—were drowned. The mother of Mr. Lee resides in Brooklyn.

Charles Creswell, of Augusta, Ga., and his brother, J. D. Creswell, were met near Edgefield, S. C, on Thursday by the brothers of Miss Addison, who had been seduced by J. D. Creswell. Charles Creswell was shot dead and his brother dangerously wounded. The brothers of Miss Addison surrendered themselves to the authorities.

The City.

Work upon the new Post Office will be commenced on Monday next.

The photograph of the supposed Ocean Bank robber who committed suicide at a railway station in Crewe, England, was yesterday recognized by Mr. Frederick Leiss to be that of his brother, William Leiss, who left this city for Europe early in June.

John H. Platt, a major in the rebel army, was arrested on Thursday night on a charge of having on the 4th of October last, while a prisoner at Jefferson, Texas, assisted in killing three of his guard and making his escape.

Summonses have been served by United States Marshal Dallon upon nineteen Brooklyn bankers for failure to make their monthly returns to the assessors, as required by the internal revenue laws.

A Frenchman named Anthony Neill was arrested yesterday on a charge of manufacturing bogus coin. Upon his premises were found dies, presses and all the paraphernalia necessary for making gold and silver coin, and a quantity of metal so similar in appearance to gold and silver that few experts can detect the difference.

The cost of street repairs in Brooklyn for the month of July was $6,190, as reported by a committee to the Board of Water Works. In regard to street cleaning the same committee say that the streets are much cleaner than they were heretofore, over 3,000 loads of dirt having been removed from the Seventh ward alone.

In the matter of the Third avenue (Brooklyn) controversy another injunction was served yesterday on the Water Board, issued on the complaint of Mr. N. T. Higbie.

Between Thursday evening and yesterday morning three stores on Fulton street, Brooklyn, were entered by burglars and goods to various amounts stolen.

The Inman line steamship City of Washington, Captain Jones, will leave pier No. 45 North river at one P. M. to-day for Liverpool, via Queenstown. The mails for Europe will close at the Post Office at twelve M.

The steamship Ville de Paris, Captain Surmont, will leave pier No. 50 North river at about one P. M. to-day for Brest and Havre. The French mails will close at the Post Office at twelve M.

The National line steamship Denmark, Captain Cato, will sail from pier No. 47 North river at three P. M. to-day for Liverpool, touching at Queenstown to land passengers, &c.

The steamship Europa, Captain McDonald, of the Anchor line, will leave pier No. 20 North river at twelve M. to-day for Londonderry and Glasgow.

The steamship United States, Captain Norton, of the Merchants' steamship line, will leave pier No. 12 North river at three P. M. to-day for New Orleans direct.

Gold opened yesterday at 136⅜, touched 136⅜, and 136, but was steady most of the day at 136⅛, closing at 136⅛. The stock market was fairly active, with the Western railway shares as the features, closing strong on these and firm on the Vanderbilt stocks.

The Solar Eclipse To-Day.

Since eclipses were first observed by mortal eyes they have been sensations. In early times they came on the world by surprise. Mortals naturally were put to their wits' end. The course of nature was disturbed. Darkness burst in upon the light. It was the seeming triumph of evil—either the world was at an end or the God of nature suffered. Later, even when solar eclipses have taken place and the true cause has been known, it has not been possible to eliminate from the minds of men the idea of direct supernatural agency; and the all but universal feeling has been that if nature was not in a condition to inspire us with alarm she had at least a claim on our sympathy. Among the Greeks and Romans it was common on such occasions to rush to the temples of special divinities and by prayers and costly offerings seek to appease their wrath. To this day it is common in China when eclipses take place to beat drums and brass kettles, believing, as the Chinese do, that such noises will frighten away the monsters which are devouring the sun and moon. We know something more than our rude forefathers, and believe ourselves to be a little better educated than our barbarian contemporaries; but we cannot say that eclipses no longer create either alarm or interest. They are known to occur much more frequently than was at one time believed; but they are so seldom experienced on one and the same point of the earth's surface that when they do occur they are felt to be sensations of no ordinary kind.

In another place in this day's HERALD we give a full and detailed account of the eclipse as it will be seen to-day. To this account we refer our readers. It is a peculiarity of the present eclipse that it will be seen all over the United States. In this it differs from the eclipse of last year, which was observable only from certain parts of South Africa and South America. For at least two hours to-morrow the inhabitants of Canada and of the United States, all along a belt which will run from Alaska to Wilmington, will witness this strange and startling phenomenon. From about twelve minutes past five till about twelve minutes past six the eclipse will be visible in New York city and neighborhood.

It is natural that scientific men should be considerably excited by what is this day expected, and that there should be made at different points all along the belt such arrangements as are likely to secure full and accurate observations of the entire phenomenon. At Sitka, at Norton's Sound, at Sioux City, at Burlington, at Des Moines, Iowa; at Springfield, Illinois; at Shelbyville, y., at Abingdon, Va, and elsewhere, scientific parties have located themselves, and, provided as they all are with complete apparatus for observing and photographing the strange sight, it is generally expected that something substantial will be added to our stock of astronomical knowledge. Attention on this occasion will be generally directed to the luminous protuberances which at one time were supposed to belong to the moon, but which are now satisfactorily proved to belong to the sun. These protuberances were observed as early as 1706. They were seen in 1715. They were seen again in 1724, when, however, it was noticed that the luminous corona of which they formed a part was not concentric with the moon, but with the sun. At Gottenburg, in the year 1733, these red protuberances were seen more distinctly by Vassenius, and since then they have been noticed on the occasion of every eclipse. They were seen in 1778 and in 1806, and in 1842 Arago, the celebrated French astronomer, saw them with his naked eye as well as with the telescope. Seen again from the Sandwich Islands in 1850 and from points of observation on the coasts of Sweden and Norway in 1851, they were naturally the great objects of study on the occasion of the eclipse of last year. Some of these protuberances were visible, and photographs taken at different states reveal them with great distinctness. M. Janessen, who made observations at Guntoor with the stereoscope, describes these protuberances as follows:—"The total obscuration occurred instantaneously and the spectral phenomenon also changed immediately in a very remarkable manner. Two spectra, formed of five or six bright lines, red, yellow, green, blue and violet, occupied the field in place of the prismatic image of the sun which had just disappeared. These spectra, about one minute (of arc) long, corresponded line for line, and were separated by a dark space in which I could see no lines. The finder showed that these two spectra were caused by two magnificent protuberances, which were now visible on each side of the point of contact. One of them, that on the left, was more than three minutes (or one-tenth of the sun's diameter) in height; it looked like the flame of a furnace rushing violently from the openings of the burning mass within, and driven by a strong wind. The one to the right presented the appearance of a mass of snowy mountains, with its base resting on the moon's limb, and enlightened by a setting sun." "The preceding observation shows at once:—First—The gaseous nature of the protuberances (the lines being bright). Second—The general similarity of their chemical composition (the spectra corresponding line for line). Third—Their chemical species (the red and blue lines of their spectrum being no other than the lines C and F of the solar one, and belonging, as is well known, to hydrogen gas)."

Later and from fuller observation he concluded:—"First, that the luminous protuberances observed during total eclipses belong unquestionably to the circumsolar regions. Second, that these bodies are mainly or entirely composed of incandescent hydrogen gas. Third, that they are subject to movements of which no terrestrial phenomenon can give us any idea; since, though they are masses of matter having several hundred times the volume of the earth, they change completely their form and position in the course of a few minutes."

Considering the many points of observation and the large numbers of scientific men who are engaged; considering, too, the superior apparatus which science will bring to its aid, great things are expected from the observations of to-day.

For many reasons the day will be interesting. There are many still living who remember the eclipse of 1842. To all such this will be but little of a surprise. There are many, however, who have never witnessed any such phenomenon. To all such it will, indeed, be a "new thing." There are hundreds of thousands again who will never see another eclipse. Before such another material phenomenon presents itself to the wondering gaze of mortals, telescopes and stereoscopes will to them be useless. This day all will gaze, admire, wonder. Many will pry into the mysteries of nature. Some will worship. Few will scoff. Is it unnatural in such circumstances to express the hope that faith this day will be strengthened as well as knowledge increased?

Our State Prison Management.

The management of Sing Sing Prison has been notoriously bad for some time. Revolts among the prisoners, murder and bloodshed within the prison walls and escapes of convicts have been the rule for many months past. We published yesterday the presentment of the Grand Jury of Westchester county, made upon the suggestions of Judge Cochran in his recent charge. The Grand Jury recite the circumstances of insubordination, escapes, cruel punishments, and so forth, all of which have already been published in the HERALD as they occurred. They make a few suggestions as to the best mode of correcting the existing evils in the prison system, and their suggestions, we should suppose, can be very easily adopted. They comprise the employment of a more efficient class of men as keepers and guards; a higher salary for these officials, which might induce better men to accept those situations; a larger number of officers in the prison to control the one thousand five hundred convicts; the absence of political favoritism in the selection of these officers, and the same discrimination in awarding of contracts for prison supplies. All, or nearly all, of these improvements can be adopted by the State Prison Inspectors if they choose to perform their duty faithfully. We have urged all these points upon the State Prison managers repeatedly, and we doubt whether the recommendations of the Grand Jury will have any better effect. But that they have reached the causes of the difficulties existing in the management of Sing Sing Prison there can be very little doubt. It remains to be seen now whether this official interference will receive any consideration at the hands of the prison authorities. If not, the next Legislature will have to remodel the whole State Prison system.

NOT DEAD YET.—Andy Johnson's return to the United States Senate, in view of the result in Tennessee, is almost certain. This is not the least satisfactory result of the contest in that State. Andy is a bold, positive exponent of that class of political ideas that is least agreeable to the blatant radical rulers. He has the one grand virtue that he will not be put down, and, therefore, discussion in the Senate will be the less monotonous for his presence. He has a Union record that no man can impeach. He is a Southern Senator not open to the carpetbag objection nor assailable on the copperhead sneer. He is genuine in all senses, absolutely fearless and honest, and will "make Rome howl" from his place in the Senate with much better effect than ever he did in his messages. He is the first President since John Quincy Adams whose political vitality has not been exhausted by the Presidency.

GUY FAWKES' "DAY" ANTICIPATED.—The members of the British Parliament were alarmed yesterday morning by an explosion in the building in which they were assembled. The fragments of a tin which had contained gunpowder were found outside. "The affair is, we are told, involved in mystery." Such "affairs" always are and have been since the original experiment of the first Guy. For regular "blow up" purposes our American politicians keep to whiskey. The English, as if to be ahead in something or other, are perhaps taking to gunpowder.

The Tennessee Election and Its Moral.

The conservatives in Tennessee have swept everything before them. Senter is elected Governor by a heavy majority, and there is probably a majority of conservatives returned for both branches of the Legislature. No one will be surprised at this result; for the violence, bitterness and ultra course of the radicals there, as in other parts of the South, have disgusted the moderate republicans. The reaction against radicalism which was seen in Virginia has extended to Tennessee, and will run, probably, through the whole South. The position of political parties in that section of the republic must have a powerful influence in the reorganization and course of parties throughout the whole country. The victory in Tennessee, as in Virginia, is not a democratic one; for the conservative republicans were the balance of power, if not the majority, in turning the election against the radicals. There was undoubtedly an alliance or concert of action with the democrats and moderate republicans; but if the democrats expect to make capital out of the result and to reorganize their party upon it they must abandon their old dogmas and construct a platform on which all the conservative elements can unite. On the other hand, should the radicals modify their ultra policy and unite with the administration in a more conservative course, they may head off the democracy and secure a longer lease of power. In any event, however, the elections in the Southern States will put the political elements of the country in a state of fermentation, and will in all probability cause a reorganization or modification of parties. As a consequence of the election in Tennessee it is not unlikely that ex-President Johnson may be returned to the United States Senate. He has a considerable party in the State, and is an able political manager. Should it be so he will prove a thorn in the side of the administration, and might have no little influence in shaping the course and future of parties. Still the administration holds the trump cards, if it knows how to play them—if, in a word, it ignores ultra radicalism and follows public sentiment. The elections in the Southern States give a lesson to both the great parties of the country. It remains to be seen how they will be instructed by them or what use they will make of them.

The Boston Murder.

The additional particulars which we published yesterday relative to the murder of Mrs. Hobbs by Major White clear the terrible Boston South End tragedy of much of the mystery which at first enveloped it. It appears from the testimony at the inquest that the deceased lady, who is described as having been "highly accomplished and widely known," had for twelve years lived happily as the wife of Dr. Alvah Hobbs, but that previous to her marriage she had been the doctor's housekeeper; that she was divorced from a former husband; that the doctor was divorced from a former wife, and that the Major, an invalid resident in their family, had long been passionately in love with Mrs. Hobbs, whose life he had attempted to take with a knife in 1861 in a fit of jealousy, after which he was confined for six months in an insane asylum at South Boston. Most imprudently invited to become an inmate of the family of Dr. Hobbs, his medical adviser, Major White carried into execution on Tuesday evening threats which, it is testified, he has often made to kill the wife of his host. It is difficult to suppose that the murderer was not insane.

But what a curious revelation this case would be of the state of society in Puritanical Boston if it were not known that Boston is no longer inhabited by Bostonians. Everybody who has visited the "Hub of the Universe" is aware that several years ago all the Bostonians de la vielle roche moved out of town. They only come in town every day to do business for a few hours in State street and on Long wharf, accompanied by their wives and daughters, who go shopping awhile, and whom they rejoin at teatime in Brookline or Waltham or Newton, or some other delightful suburban retreat within five to forty miles' distance of the State House. After sunset Bostonians proper can wash their hands of all the indecencies and crimes that have converted Boston Common and Boston streets into a modern counterpart of Sodom and Gomorrah.

Let us not be unjust even to the Boston Pharisees, who know nothing of all the iniquity on which Park street steeple and the Old South nightly look down with horror, and who, therefore, continually sing in their rural homes the "holier-than-thou" song with which they have made "the whole world and the rest of mankind" familiar. In this very latest so-called Boston tragedy is not the murderer a crazy Canadian? Let, then, the burden of responsibility rest not on pious Bostonians, but rather upon the fatal facilities of the divorce laws in almost all the United States except South Carolina, and on the folly of an unfortunate husband who welcomes a furious lover of his wife to the bosom of his family.

CURRENCY.—Here is the latest view of the Tribune in regard to the currency:—"While, therefore, we travel on the direct road to metallic payments, by pursuing a course which diffuses knowledge of our resources and confidence in our ability to redeem, we can, for the time, safely leave the currency to take care of itself." And only the other day, and for months and years, has the same voice clamored for specie payment on any terms, every terms, in season and out of season. When this change of tune? Somebody recently employed Greeley to write on political economy. That led him to study political economy, and in the course of the study he has mastered a few problems in finance, and now knows that our currency in our situation may be left "to take care of itself."

A LONG CRISIS.—Baron Beust says it is hazardous to promise to maintain peace in Europe at present, but that if there is not war in four years there will not be in a great while longer. "At present," therefore, means during the next four years.

BUYING LAND.—Some chiefs of the Osage Indians had agreed to sell a large tract of land to a railroad company at nineteen cents an acre. So said the railroad company; but the Indians say they made the agreement only under compulsion and fear

Affairs in Cuba—Progress of the Patriots.

Our latest despatches from Cuba are on the whole encouraging. The insurrection, instead of being stamped out by the arrest of the Cuban volunteers that left this city, goes on with as much vigor as if no such check had been received. For some reason or reasons yet unexplained the Spanish authorities have detained the American mail steamer between Santiago de Cuba and this country. Probably when details reach us we shall find it only another instance of that high-handed and arbitrary way in which Spain has hitherto conducted this war. The unfortunate Cubans who, rightly or wrongly, are suspected of disloyalty are treated with extreme severity, being hurried away, even when in ill health, to Bayamo, there to be tried summarily before one of the military tribunals. The sequestration of estates still goes on, proving that the wealthy planters are deeply embarked in this cause. Little fighting of any consequence has taken place, the policy of Generals Cespedes and Jordan being to harass the Spanish troops, cut off their convoys of provisions and such small parties of soldiers as stray from the main body. A small body of patriots lately surprised the garrison (four thousand strong) of Puerto Principe by an assault upon the town before daybreak, and retreated in good order, carrying with them fifty thousand dollars' worth of provisions. But cholera and vomito are causing far greater havoc among the raw troops from Spain than all the efforts of the patriot leaders. The Spanish ranks are being thinned rapidly, and the difficulty of filling the vacancies caused thereby is daily becoming greater.

The government journals are now more fully alive than ever to the critical position of affairs, and are calling upon all ranks to volunteer, but the call is badly responded to. The Governor of Trinidad has pressed into the service all Spaniards between fifteen and sixty years of age, and it is proposed to extend this order to the whole island. The government is afraid, however, to entrust the creoles with arms, and as to the negro militia, they have threatened repeatedly to go over to the enemy should they be compelled to exchange garrison duty for service in the field. Quite in keeping with this threat is the news we publish to-day that sixteen of them—a first instalment—have already deserted. Urgent solicitations for fresh troops have been sent to the government in Madrid, and Brigadier Leteure y Rios has gone to Spain for this purpose, as well as to impress upon the government there the really critical position of affairs on the island.

Altogether the news from Cuba is reassuring to the friends of liberty, and, as might be expected, the patriots there rejoice to hear of Carlist insurrections and the many difficulties fast gathering round the Spanish government. Now that the question of the sale of the island seems finally set at rest the Cubans are prepared to fight out their own independence. Every week finds them better organized and fitter to take the field. The very atrocities of the Spanish volunteers have done much to strengthen the insurrection by fomenting among the natives a spirit of hatred against a government that countenances such ruffians, and by enlisting more warmly in behalf of Cuba and her freedom the good wishes of every American.

Election Riot in Mobile.

The political or constitutional experiment for the commingling of people of two distinct races on terms of perfect citizen equality which is being attempted in this country is likely to lead to serious trouble during its progress towards a final solution. From Mobile we have reports of the occurrence of a serious and fatal riot between whites and negroes during a moment of out-door rejoicings, conducted by the republicans of that city, in celebration of the triumph of their candidate for the Congressional representation of the district. An exclusively negro-black-republican meeting was held under the conduct of some white leaders, the enfranchised Africans being for the most part armed, in consequence, as their friends allege, of the prevalence of certain rumors to the effect that they would be assailed—and thus for self-protection. Unfortunately a collision—of the origin of which we have, as usual, very conflicting statements—did occur between men of the opposing parties—opposed in color, in sentiment and in politics. Firearms were freely used, and after a period of general tumult and alarm it was found that three negroes were killed and five others badly hurt in the mêlée. Seven white men were wounded. The expression in Mobile appears as if in gratitude that the affair was not of still worse consequence, and in direct condemnation of the itinerant agitators who "madden and inflame the passions of the negroes." It is the crimination and recrimination of politicians, and will go on until the negro attains his exact position, wherever that may be.

Trouble in the Republican General Committee.

The meeting of this body held on Thursday evening was not of the most harmonious character. In fact, the seeds of discord put up their heads so very demonstratively above the ground that it is quite possible, if the sprouts should flourish, there must necessarily come great trouble to the "Union Republican General Committee." It appears that a rival committee of outsiders has been formed, the members of which aspire to control the federal offices on their own hook, without due regard to the dignity and claims of the original body, as heretofore exercised. The intention expressed by the orators on this occasion tended to "weeding out" the members who had the temerity to join any other committee, and these gentlemen were pretty heartily denounced as backsliders and men who voted with the democratic ring, and were designated the most corrupt members of the republican party, and so on. Of course the parties assailed were not without their defenders. There were speakers who admitted that another organization existed of which they were members, and some who declared that the "General Republican Committee" was arraigned before the State as untrue to republican principles and guilty of infidelity to the party.

This is entirely a family quarrel. It is very amusing to witness, but it may prove a very serious affair to those who hold office or expect to hold office under the influence of the committee which has had the arrangement of these little matters entirely in its own hands. There appear to be some strong-backed politicians among the recusants, and hence the general committee may be compelled to compromise with them or else forego its exclusive claim to the spoils. The domestic fight, however, is of very little moment to the general public except as it suggests the good old proverb which runs "When rogues fall out honest men come by their own."

DETECTIVES.—On the 14th of July a man threw himself under a railroad train in England and was instantly killed, of course. No person acquainted with him was present. His name, home, destination were all unknown, and it became the duty of the police to determine his identity. Seven days later the London police were able almost to write his biography, although he was not an Englishman, and was only in England on his way to Australia. Every step he had taken since he landed in England was known, and in ten days the American Consul was able to send here a considerable statement of facts in regard to him. How would it have been had this event happened here? Detectives Blatherskyte, Puffer and Itchingpalm would have been assigned to "work up the case." They would have studied the newspapers for three days to ascertain what rewards were offered, and finding none would have informed us at the end of three months that the suicide was an impenetrable mystery. Why cannot we have a detective police as well as the Londoners?

CONSERVATIVE PARTIES—that is, parties of such modified republicanism that the democrats and sensible ex-Confederates find it not inconsistent with self-respect to act with them—have now swept Virginia and Tennessee.

MOVEMENTS OF PRESIDENT GRANT.

The President at the Home of the Secretary of State—Interesting Surroundings—Informal Visit to West Point—The Newburg Trip—A Cabinet Meeting Next Tuesday.

GARRISON'S, N. Y., August 6, 1869.

The President at the elegant country seat of the Secretary of State, Mr. Fish, will certainly enjoy to its fullest extent all the delightful recreation to be had only in this interesting locality. The rarest beauties of nature, in the shape of bold mountains, smiling valleys, a magnificent river, passing river craft, from the palatial steamboat to a low-deck schooner, the railway train rushing backward and forward day and night, the numerous mansions of the affluent and the humbler homes of the country people, all lend to this vicinity a peculiar charm. It was also in this vicinity that events transpired calling forth on the one hand feelings of gratitude and reverence and on the other scorn and rebuke. It was here that the patriots of the war of 1776 established for themselves a stronghold in the highlands; it was here that Arnold sought to betray that stronghold and his country to an infamous enemy, and failed because the countrymen were too true to the cause they had sworn to defend and to the principles which were to make them freemen. A few days of ease given to reflections upon these surroundings of historical association, forgetting the annoyance to which he has been subjected within the past few months by the mob of office-hunters, the President will certainly leave here benefited in every respect.

This morning the President inaugurated his visit to the Highlands by getting up at a good country hour, and breakfasted at nine o'clock. About half-past ten, in company with Mr. Fish and General Porter, he crossed over to West Point, on the opposite side of the Hudson. The visit of the President being entirely of an informal nature, not even informing the commanding officer that he was coming, his arrival was a complete surprise. No formalities were exchanged. The President drove to the tent of Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Black, commandant of cadets now in encampment, and remained some time. He also visited Brevet Brigadier General Pitcher, commanding the post. After passing several hours here, surrounded by the scenes of his youth, receiving the attentions of those few officers who by chance learned of his presence, and giving a passing look at the grounds and the encampment of cadets the party returned to Garrison's and thence back to the residence of Mr. Fish, arriving about half-past one.

At dinner this afternoon, which was at three o'clock, Mr. Fish invited General Pitcher and Colonel Black, who were both present, also Judge Pierrepont. The remainder of the day was passed quietly. At five o'clock the President took a short drive with District Attorney Pierrepont.

To-morrow, if it should not rain, the President, Mr. Fish and General Porter will visit Newburg, a short distance above here. A special boat will be at Garrison's by nine o'clock and convey the party to Newburg.

The President has determined to leave here on Monday evening for New York, and will proceed either the same evening or the next morning for Washington. He will be accompanied by Secretary Fish. There will be a meeting of the Cabinet upon the arrival of the President, and there is no doubt questions of importance will be taken up. The first scene of the Spanish Armada business having been so well and summarily disposed of we may look for new developments speedily.

Preparations at Newburg for the Reception of the President.

NEWBURG, August 6, 1869.

The citizens of this place are in a bustle of excitement and preparation for the grand event of tomorrow—the visit of the President of the United States. The event will be the first of the kind in the history of this little city, and there is a general desire to make the most of it, for it may not be repeated very soon. This morning Mayor Clark received a letter from President Grant stating that he would be at the disposal of the committee at ten o'clock to-morrow morning. He will be accompanied by Secretary Fish, General Pitcher, General Porter and others of Grant's friends. The programme is something as follows:—At nine o'clock A. M. the committee of arrangements and invited guests will leave Newburg in the steamer M. Martin, formerly Grant's despatch boat, and now of the Newburg and Albany day line, and proceed to West Point, arriving about ten o'clock. The Presidential party and the West Point Band will be taken on board, and the steamer's head will be turned towards Newburg. The Martin will skirt the shore as closely as possible, to give the President opportunity for inspecting the proposed route of the Newburg and West Point carriage drive. The party will arrive at Newburg at eleven o'clock, and be received by a procession composed of the military, firemen and various civic societies. The Presidential party and invited guests will then be escorted through the principal streets to Washington's headquarters. Here the President will be welcomed in a short address by Mayor Clark, and presented to the citizens. A collation is to be served up on the headquarters grounds for the processionists, while the Presidential party and invited guests repair to the residence of Mayor Clark, to be dined and wined. After dinner the President will be driven around the city, and probably along the river road as far as Cornwall Landing, where he will again take the steamer Martin for West Point. At this hour of writing (7:15 P. M.) the weather has an unsettled appearance, with the promise of a northeast storm tomorrow. Should the day be stormy the visit of the President is to be deferred until Monday next.

THE SOLAR ECLIPSE AND THE WEATHER.

DES MOINES, August 6, 1869.

The weather has been cloudy for two days, with no sign of a break up. Twelve astronomers are here, with eleven telescopes in position, also meterological apparatus; but they doubt the possibility of making observations. The barometer rose a little this morning, but stopped. It will be a great scientific disappointment if the eclipse is not visible.

THE ARMY.

The President has accepted the resignation of Second Lieutenant Burbank, of the Fifth infantry. First Lieutenant Von Schrock is assigned to duty in the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands, and ordered to report to General Howard. The resignation of First Lieutenant Wagmire, of the First cavalry, has been accepted by the President; also of First Lieutenants John Murphy and Moberly, from the cavalry. Captain Joseph Gebray and First Lieutenant Whiting are detailed for recruiting service, and ordered to report to the Superintendent of the recruiting service in New York city for assignment to duty.

THE NAVY.

Admiral Dahlgren will sever his official connection with the Ordnance Bureau as its chief on Tuesday next, on which day he will assume command of the Navy Yard in Washington, in place of Admiral Poor, who takes command of our squadron in Cuban waters, relieving Vice Admiral Hoff.

Second Assistant Engineer John Van Hovenberg is ordered to duty as assistant to the Inspector of Machinery at the New York Navy Yard.

The London Press on the Seizure of the Spanish Gunboats.

LONDON, August 6, 1869.

The seizure by the American government of the gunboats building for Spain at different points in the United States has elicited the following comments from the London newspapers:—

The Morning Star (radical organ) says that the American government having exhibited vigor in favor of Spain by enforcing the neutrality laws has now proceeded equally vigorously against Spain and for the same cause. The writer regards the recognition of Cuba by Peru as ill advised, though spirited. In spite of all the predictions the Cuban insurgents seem to be able to hold their ground. The whispers of the cession of Cuba to the United States are now louder than ever. The Americans have desired to come into possession of that island for the past twenty years. Now the obstacle of slavery having been removed, if a fair purchase can be effected, all the parties may be satisfied with the arrangements which will give another State to the American Union and remove the great perplexity from the arena of Spanish politics.

The News concludes its article as follows:—Considering all the circumstances which make it difficult for Europeans to keep hold of their unwilling colonists in America, and reflecting that Cuba is now in insurrection, Spain will be fortunate if $20,000,000 ever reach Madrid as the price of Cuba.

Another Gunpowder Plot—Explosion in the Houses of Parliament.

LONDON, August 6, 1869.

At an early hour this morning, during the sessions of the houses of Parliament, great excitement was occasioned by a loud explosion in the building. A search was instituted, and a tin case, which had contained powder, was picked up on the terrace near by. Not much damage was done. No arrests were made. The affair is involved in mystery.

The London Press on the Council at Rome.

LONDON, August 6, 1869.

The correspondent of the Morning Post at Rome writes that it is not probable the Pope will renounce the idea of a Council. The emancipation of civil society from Church influence is so complete that it would be superfluous to prevent the meeting. It is expected that other States will show the same moderation as Baron Beust in his reply to Hohenlohe.

The Edgefield Difficulty—A Seducer Shot—A Brother's Life Sacrificed.

AUGUSTA, August 6, 1869.

It now seems that the reported duel between the Creswell brothers, at Edgefield, S. C., yesterday, was altogether a misconception of the facts of the case. J. D. Creswell was accused of the seduction of a young lady named Addison, and while on his way to this city, accompanied by his brother Charles, he was met by George B. and James Addison, brothers of Miss Addison. Nothing is known regarding the unfortunate rencontre save that Charles Creswell was shot dead and J. D. Creswell dangerously but not mortally wounded. To-day the brothers Addison gave themselves up to the authorities.

An Unfaithful Wife and Her Paramour Wounded.

CLEVELAND, August 6, 1869.

Wm. K. Lamphear, a stencil cutter, residing at No. 66 Seneca street, suspecting an undue intimacy between his wife and one of his employés named George Stanley, who boarded at his house, went to work early this morning, and returning home he found Stanley in bed with his wife. He attacked them both with a knife, inflicting wounds in his wife's abdomen, which will probably prove fatal, and wounding Stanley in his shoulder. Lamphear was arrested.

HAVANA, August 4,
Via KEY WEST, August 6, 1869.

Intelligence from Santiago de Cuba to the 30th ult. reports that the authorities there have seized the American mail which was to leave for the United States via Havana.

Prominent citizens who had been released from confinement have been again arrested by order of Count Valmaseda and sent to Manzanillo despite the fact that some of them are dangerously sick. These are compelled to travel by land to Bayamo, where military courts are the only tribunals.

Three hundred soldiers, under Colonel Quiros, all that remain of the Reno regiment, had arrived at Santiago de Cuba. They form part of an expedition which is to be sent in search of Colonel Torrero and 250 Spanish soldiers, who have not been heard from for some time, and fears are entertained for their safety.

Sixteen volunteers of the mobilized force stationed on the Victoria farm deserted and went over to the insurgents.

The negroes on the various estates are suffering from want of food and are becoming troublesome.

Cholera has broken out among the Spanish detachments stationed on the plantations.

Landing of a Filibuster Party from Florida.

WASHINGTON, August 6, 1869.

Information has been received here that a Cuban expedition, composed of about 250 men, which left a point on the coast of Florida on the 4th inst., had arrived in Cuba. It is stated that a courier who accompanied the expedition returned to Florida and communicated by telegraph this morning with a party in this city.

STATE ELECTIONS

TENNESSEE.

Senter's Majority Over 50,000.

NASHVILLE, August 6, 1869.

The total vote of Nashville and Davidson county is, Senter, 653; Stokes, 4,096. Stokes' official majority in Nashville is seventeen. Information from East Tennessee shows that Senter will carry that section by a small majority. In that case Senter's majority in the State will not be less than 50,000.

MEMPHIS, August 6, 1869.

The official vote of Shelby county, with one precinct to hear from, gives Senter 3,652 majority.

With the exception of the disturbance at Moscow no account of violence at the polls in Western Tennessee has been received.

The democratic press here, in announcing the victory achieved yesterday, calls upon the supporters of Senter to remember charity in their hour of triumph and forget the wrongs that have been inflicted upon them.

Ex-President Johnson Favoring Repudiation.

WASHINGTON, August 6, 1869.

Ex-President Johnson, in a speech of over three hours' duration at Blountsville, Tenn., the last he made before the election in that State, took the most open and unequivocal grounds in favor of national repudiation. The bondholders, he said, had already received the amount of their investments. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested throughout the address, at the conclusion of which three hearty cheers were given for the ex-President.

ALABAMA.

Two Radical and Two Democratic Congressmen Elected—Two Districts in Doubt.

MONTGOMERY, August 6, 1869.

The returns are still meagre, but enough is known to render it certain that Buckley and Hays, republicans, have been elected in the Second and Fourth districts by negro majorities. Dox and Sherman, democrats, are elected in the Fifth and Sixth districts by white majorities. The returns from the First district are too indefinite to pronounce certainly as to the result, but the impression is that Buck is elected. The Third district is very close, and 100 votes will probably decide the contest.

MONTANA.

Re-Election of James M. Cavanaugh.

CHICAGO, August 6, 1869.

A Helena (Montana) despatch says that Hon. J. M. Cavanaugh (democrat) has been re-elected Delegate to Congress from that Territory by 2,000 majority.

THE PLAINS.

Extension of the Kansas Pacific Railroad to Denver—Indian Outrages in New Mexico.

ST. LOUIS, August 6, 1869.

A Denver despatch says General Palmer, of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, left there yesterday after having completed arrangements for the extension of that road to Denver.

The most intelligent miners assert that St. Louis will become the chief point for smelting the silver ores of Colorado, and that 1,000 tons of ore will be shipped to this city daily when the railroad is finished, at a saving of thirty dollars per ton on the present mode of transportation. Parties are already preparing to erect smelting works for the treatment of these ores.

The receipts of the Land Office at Denver for July were $529,798.

Steamboats left Denver yesterday with the Vice President's party. Previous to leaving he was presented with a pitcher made of Colorado silver and gold.

A Santa Fé despatch says that a party of miners were attacked by Indians at Sulphur Springs, and their wagons and supplies fell into the hands of the savages.

A party of miners, on a prospecting tour to San Juan, were allowed to pass through the country by the Utah Indians, but they were positively prohibited from locating claims.

Large numbers of cattle and sheep have been driven off by the Indians in Arribo county.

MARYLAND.

Country Editors on the Rampage—Fatal Accident—Three Men Drowned.

BALTIMORE, August 6, 1869.

The association of editors of Maryland country journals left here this morning on a pleasure excursion to Harper's Ferry and the Springs of Virginia.

The small sidewheel steamer Helen Brooke, of fifteen tons burden, left this port yesterday for Attakapas, La. Her route is inland hence to New York by the canal, up the Hudson and through the canals to the Lakes and down the Mississippi.

Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock a sloop-rigged boat, sailed by the Philadelphia Yacht Club, was capsized on Bush river, Harford county, by a sudden flaw of wind. There were fourteen persons on board, three of whom—Harry Lee, of Baltimore, aged twenty-two years, and James M. Sewell and Septimus Sewell, aged respectively forty-five and fifty years, citizens of Harford county—were drowned. Both of the latter leave families. Young Lee was the son of the late Joseph Lee, a well known banker of this city. His mother resides at present in Brooklyn, N. Y.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Murder of Mrs. Hobbs—The Insanity Plea Repudiated.

BOSTON, August 6, 1869.

The inquest on the death of Mrs. Alvah Hobbs was resumed this afternoon. Three witnesses were examined, of whom two, Drs. Mansfield and C. W. Swan, were the attendant physicians. They described the appearance of the body of the murdered lady when they were called in, showing that the bullet entered the left breast and passed out back and under the right shoulder, probably severing the large vessels at the base of the heart, thus causing instantaneous death. The third witness was Warren Hartshorn, the police officer who arrested White. He testified that the prisoner made no resistance, and that while on the way to the station house he said that he did the deed, and that he had cause for doing it, but would reveal nothing until the right time. He further remarked, "They may call me insane, but I am not." Hartshorn stated that he asked White a second time why he did the deed, and the reply was, "There ought not to have been cause enough for doing what I have done." The hearing was adjourned until to-morrow, when the lieutenant of police who had charge of the station when White was brought in, and who entered into conversation with him, will be examined, and also others. The lieutenant's testimony, it is expected, will throw some further light on the cause of the commission of the act.

ALABAMA.

Bloody Affray in Mobile—Three Negroes Killed—Ten Persons Wounded.

MOBILE, Aug. 6, 1869.

Last night a serious riot occurred in this city, beginning at an out-door republican meeting to celebrate the triumph of the republican candidate for this Congressional district. The meeting was a large one, and was composed exclusively of negroes, except a few white leaders. During the whole of yesterday rumors were in circulation that the negroes were very much excited, defiant and threatening, and meant to burn the democratic candidate for Congress (Colonel Mann) in effigy. Several citizens called on the Mayor and some of the republican leaders, and advised them that it would be better to postpone the meeting, for if the effigy threat was carried out the whole people could not be restrained from an attempt to resent the indignity by force. It was thought that these representations had the desired effect, and there would be no meeting. At eight o'clock, however, the tar barrels were lighted and the negroes began to flock in until they swelled into a crowd of a thousand or fifteen hundred. Many came with guns; most all with concealed arms, pistols, knives and razors. Nothing occurred to disturb the harmony of the meeting, except the inflammatory talk of some of the speakers, until about ten o'clock, when a jocose dispute arose between two citizens on a subject entirely foreign to politics or the meeting attracted some attention, and in pressing up to see what it was about a white man accidentally trod on the foot of a negro. Just as the altercation about this was settled a pistol shot was heard, and this was the signal for a general firing. The whole crowd dispersed immediately. The firing was continued a few moments as the crowd scattered, and in ten minutes a dead quiet reigned, broken only by the tread of white patrols. A detachment of United States troops were stationed at the guard house, at the request of the Mayor, in anticipation of trouble. They took no part in the fray, except to march up town to look after and put a stop to some firing. It is not known who fired the first shot; it was the natural result of the excitement. There were not over 100 men as lookers on at the meeting. The casualties were small considering the number of shots fired and the close quarters. Many shots must have been fired in the air. Three negroes were killed outright and five were wounded. Four police officers and three other white men were wounded.

The Register of this morning comments on the riot as follows:—

> Last night's work, done after our editorial of this morning was in print, is a sharp and quick commentary on the dangers we forecasted from the present aspect of affairs. It is a burning shame that this community should be exposed to outrages like this, and the community owes it to itself to take measures to protect itself against a repetition of them. As to where the blame lies there is no room for question. These deeds are the direct outflow of the maddened passions of negroes, inflamed and lashed into fury by the public harangues and private instigations of the foreign radicals in our midst. It is a question for the public to decide how long these incendiaries shall be allowed to expose the peace of society and the safety of women and children. We hope that a public meeting will be held to answer this question.

Politics in San Francisco—Indian Murders in Arizona.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 6, 1869.

Efforts are being made to organize a people's party in this city to nominate a ticket for city and county officers. Reform is demanded, and it is deemed necessary to take the offices of the city out of the hands of the politicians.

The United States steamer Nowbern has arrived from Sitka, touching at Fort Tougass. Her news is unimportant.

Advises from Arizona state that since January 1, in Pima county alone, 1,690 head of cattle have been stolen by the Indians. During the same period, out of a population of 780 whites the savages murdered fifty-two, wounded eighteen and carried two into captivity.

The Late Railroad Accident—Suits Against the Central Company—The Susquehanna Railroad Imbroglio—More Injunctions Against the Directors.

ALBANY, August 6, 1869.

The Coroner's jury in the case of the accident in Spencer street, on Wednesday, found that the flagman, John Delehanty, was absent from his post, and censure the Central Railroad Company for employing such a neglectful man. The railroad company will be prosecuted by the owners of the horses and the friends of the deceased.

The excitement here in regard to the Susquehanna Railroad is intense. A complaint was made to-day against Messrs. Leonard, Herrick, North and Wilbur, directors, and Mr. Phelps, treasurer, charging them with conspiracy to place the road in the control of Jay Gould and his friends, now managing the Erie Railway, and thus defraud the company out of its property. It also denies all charges against President Ramsay. Judge Clute issued an order enjoining the above parties from acting as directors, vice president and treasurer. This reduced the board to less than a quorum, and though they met they were obliged to adjourn sine die.

BUFFALO, August 6, 1869.

The anti-coal monopoly organization held another meeting this evening. A committee was appointed to arrange for an immediate supply of coal and procure a charter for the citizens' coal organization. Resolutions were passed recommending the abolition of the tariff on coal; instructing the Representative of this district to use his utmost endeavors to procure such abolishment in Congress, and denouncing the coal monopolies. A committee was appointed to draft a memorial to Congress for the abolition of the duty on foreign coal. A most earnest and determined spirit is manifested to break up the coal monopolies.

The American Dental Association.

SARATOGA, August 6, 1869.

The American Dental Association held its final session to-day.

Dr. Ambler, from the committee, reported thanks to Dr. C. Palmer for the report and illustrations on operative dentistry.

Drs. Allen, of New York; McClelland, of Louisville; S. B. Palmer, of Syracuse, read papers on medical dentistry. A paper commending rose pearl as the base mounting for artificial teeth was read.

Drs. Morgan, C. R. Butler and L. D. Shepherd were appointed a Committee on Dental Ethics for the ensuing year.

Dr. Freeman, of Philadelphia, offered a preamble and resolution in favor of admitting women to full membership in subordinate associations, and that in consultations the consideration of sex be avoided and only ability and moral character be the standard judgment. Laid on the table as a matter beyond the jurisdiction of this association.

The Committee on Dental Ethics reported a case of two members for advertising unprofessionally. The report was accepted, and a resolution expelling one of the members laid on the table to come up next year.

The following are the standing committees for next year:—

Dental Pathology and Surgery—W. H. Atkinson, J. S. Knapp and C. K. Butler.

Dental Physiology—J. H. Quillen, James Truman and W. H. Morgan.

Dental Chemistry—J. S. Buckingham, J. Allen and G. R. Thomas.

Dental Education—M. S. Dean, J. M. Crouse and T. J. Cobb.

Dental Histology—Homer Judd, W. W. Allport and R. W. Vasney.

Mechanical Dentistry—S. B. Palmer, L. Cotton and S. M. Sturgis.

Dental Literature—L. D. Shepherd, J. McManus and William Smith.

Voluntary Essays—J. J. Wetherbee, C. D. Cook and L. S. Stran.

Instruments and Appliances—F. W. Abbott, A. M. Holmes and J. B. Morrison.

Publications—E. A. Bogue and J. Taft.

Dr. Judd, the new President, was then inducted to office.

Dr. Taft, the retiring President, read an address, and the Convention then adjourned.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS ITEMS.

General Meade and family arrived at Cape May last evening. A grand dress ball will be given in his honor this evening at Stockton's Hotel.

On Thursday morning the schooner L. E. Calvin sprung a leak and sunk ten miles from the shore, opposite Broderick's Point, Lake Ontario. All hands were saved.

Advices from Coyner's Springs, Va., are to the effect that the corn is suffering terribly from drought along the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad. No rain has fallen for eight weeks.

The game of base ball at Cincinnati yesterday between the Red Stockings, of Cincinnati, and the Forest City Club, of Cleveland, resulted in favor of the former by a score of 43 to 27.

The report forwarded from Philadelphia on Thursday in reference to Jay Cooke & Co. having advanced money on whiskey destroyed by the fire was erroneous and is positively denied by that firm.

The store of Samuel C. Anderson at Reed's Ferry, N. H., was entered on Thursday, the safe dumped into a cellar and blown open and robbed of $1,200. Thirty-five hundred dollars in government bonds were left in the safe.

The second game of base ball for the junior championship of the State of Maine was played at Augusta yesterday between the Dirigos, of Augusta, and the North Stars, of Portland. The Dirigos were victorious by a score of 53 to 24.

WASHINGTON.

Effects of Cabinet Interference in the Tennessee Election—Johnson's Return to the United States Senate Secured.

Prominent Tennessee republicans, supporters of Governor Senter, but strong opponents of Andrew Johnson, write to their friends in Washington city that Secretaries Boutwell and Creswell's letters endorsing Stokes have contributed largely to the probabilities of Johnson's election to the United States Senate. These letters of endorsement had the effect of exasperating those republicans who supported Senter in good faith upon the platform and principles enunciated by the Chicago Convention. They assert that they have always, in connection with Senter, stood, and now stand, upon that platform, while Boutwell and Creswell have sought to ignore it so far as the franchise question is concerned. These republicans say that Andrew Johnson and his friends were shrewd enough to take advantage of the fact that these two Cabinet officers were arraying the administration against the most prominent of Grant's supporters in Tennessee, and that therefore they were to be whipped in like a set of curs upon the caprice of ambitious aspirants for the Presidential succession in 1872. It being well understood that Andrew Johnson would be the most obnoxious person to General Grant and his Cabinet that could be sent from Tennessee to the United States Senate, a sympathy for Johnson's success in that regard has been aroused on the part of prominent conservatives who would otherwise have opposed him with strong probabilities of success. This sympathy for Mr. Johnson has also been materially heightened from the fact that General Grant has neglected or refused to contradict or qualify the terms of these mischievous letters of the Secretary of the Treasury and Postmaster General. Private telegrams predict that Senter's majority will reach 50,000.

Modification of Spanish Navigation Dues.

The United States Consulate at Valencia informs the Department of State that the Spanish navigation dues of November last have been modified. The tax on tonnage discharging dues imposed on shipping will be divided into three heads:—First, coasting, properly so called, or the navigation between Spanish ports in the Peninsula, Balearic and Canary Island and the penal possessions in Africa; secondly, the navigation between the above mentioned ports and all nations of Europe, including the coast of Asia in the Mediteranean and of Africa in said sea, and in the Atlantic as far as Cape Magador; and thirdly, the navigation between the Spanish ports and those of the rest of the globe not mentioned above.

ARTICLE 2. Vessels employed in the first kind of trade will continue the dues already established by the decree of November 22, 1868, namely, three reals (fifteen cents) per ton discharged, and two reals (ten cents) a head per passenger. Ships engaged in the third kind of trade will also pay the same dues as ordered by the decree of November, namely, ten reals (fifty cents) per ton discharged, and five reals (twenty-five cents) for passengers. Ships employed in the second kind of trade will henceforth pay five reals (twenty-five cents) per ton discharged, and ten reals (fifty cents) per passenger.

Shingle Manufacturers Exempt from Taxation.

The subject of taxing manufacturers of shingles on sales, which has been before the Revenue Bureau lately, has been decided in favor of exempting the same, in accordance with the ruling of ex-Commissioner Rollins. The point raised by the assessors in the case was, that when shingles are sawed out they are completed and ready for consumption, and, therefore, are manufactured lumber; but the Bureau exempts boards and laths from tax precisely in this condition, because they may yet pass through second hands before they are completed or manufactured. The Commissioner thought the distinction too fine to be justly made, and, therefore, confirmed the previous ruling.

Transfer of Supervisors.

Under the present arrangement of transferring Supervisors of Internal Revenue from one district to another, the Commissioner has decided to assign Supervisor Ira M. Harrison, of New Jersey, to temporary duties in West Virginia, for the purpose of making a thorough investigation into internal revenue affairs in that State.

Customs Receipts.

The following are the customs receipts from July 24 to July 31, inclusive, at the ports named:—

Boston	$329,891
New York	2,389,000
Philadelphia	162,699
Baltimore	362,720
New Orleans, July 10 to 24	99,829
San Francisco	429,520

Reduction of Tariffs in Madagascar.

The Department of State has been informed that a reduction in tariff on the importation of rum has taken place in Madagascar. It was formerly rated at thirty-three and now at ten per cent. Another reduction has taken place in export duties. All Madagascar produce brought into Tullane for the purpose of trying the chances of the market is to pay ten per cent, and if sold for exportation ten per cent export rates; but all produce bought in the interior and sent to Tamatav for shipment to foreign ports is not subject to octroi, and pays only ten per cent export duty, as regulated by treaties.

A Novel Safe—Savory Bacon.

A letter was received at the Treasury Department, in which the writer says he had $3,300 worth of five-twenty bonds which he had in the ash hole of his bacon house for safe keeping. His wife not being aware of the fact kindled a fire to smoke some bacon, and the bonds were reduced to a cinder. They came to the Redemption Bureau to-day to be exchanged in so dilapidated a condition as to almost defy identification, but the experts of the Treasury have managed to paste the charred bits together so as to make out the amount without loss to the owner, who will in a few days receive equal value in bonds of more promising appearance.

The Ecclesiastical Trial in Chicago—Arrival of Distinguished Chinese Merchants.

CHICAGO, August 6, 1869.

Among the documents presented to amend the bill filed by the Rev. Mr. Cheney's counsel, is a bill intended to meet the exigency presented by the answer to the original bill, which carried the proceedings of the Ecclesiastical body to the morning of the 22d of July. The original bill having closed with the adjournment of the first day's proceedings, by the supplemental bill the combining and confederating clause is carried in and new parties are made parties to the suit. These parties are the Bishop and presenters. Accompanying this bill is a correspondence between Bishop Whitehouse and Mr. Cheney. Bishop Whitehouse in his letter to Mr. Cheney answers that the offence and misconduct for which he was to be tried had been unreservedly admitted by Mr. Cheney. This Mr. Cheney emphatically denies, and his denial is sustained by his wife and Mrs. A. Louise Sheldon, who heard Mr. Cheney say in a loud voice, "Bishop, I admit nothing."

Singman and Choy-Chew, the Chinese merchants now in this city, had a reception at the Sherman House last evening, which was fully attended. They will leave for New York on Monday night.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

FOUND DROWNED.—The body of a drowned man was discovered floating in the East river at the foot of Twenty-sixth street yesterday evening and was taken to the Morgue. The body was attired in dress black sack coat, gray ribbed pants and red shirt. Deceased was about forty-five years of age and had sandy hair and whiskers.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—A singular accident occurred to a lady in Fulton street, near Broadway, yesterday evening at six o'clock. As Mrs. Mary Lyons was getting on a Ninth avenue car a man running by with a long piece of iron on his shoulder stumbled. One end of the iron knocked against a lamp post and the other, rebounding, struck Mrs. Lyons on the cheek, injuring her severely. She was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

DESPERATE ASSAULT ON AN OFFICER.

About eleven o'clock last night officer Kearney, of the Eighth precinct, arrested a woman named Maggie Lewis, who was acting in a disorderly manner at the corner of Broome and Sullivan streets. While in the act of taking her to the station house the woman, who was partially intoxicated, suddenly drew a pocket knife and stabbed him in the neck, the right cheek and in the left hand. The wound in the neck was deep and broad and was pronounced by Dr. Armstrong, who dressed it, as very severe. The blood flowed from it all over his neck and back, and when he reached the station house with his prisoner he was quite weak. The assault was not expected by the officer, and the woman had time to stab him three different times before he was able to secure her.

YACHTING.

Annual Cruise of the New York Yacht Club.

The squadron of the New York Yacht Club will rendezvous at Glen Cove this afternoon, preparatory to the annual cruise, which, from all appearances, promises to be among the most enjoyable that have heretofore rendered the performances of this fleet so famous throughout this country. It is the intention of Commodore Stebbins, who goes in command, to make this great annual event as brilliant as possible, and there is no doubt that his desires will be most heartily responded to by the members of the club. The advent of our great pleasure navy at the several ports will, of course, be hailed with delight, not more because of the well known gallantry and hospitality of the New York Yacht Club and the enjoyment it affords all with whom the members come in contact to reciprocate most cordially, but because of the cherished associations which the former visits of the club have occasioned. The prospects are brilliant indeed, and it seems that nothing will be left undone to render the cruise of 1869 worthy a foremost place in the annals of the club.

According to the orders which have been issued the squadron will rendezvous at the charming anchorage of Glen Cove about four o'clock this evening. Mr. Kennard will doubtless welcome the officers with that warm-heartedness and cordiality which in years past have so thoroughly endeared him to the New York Yacht Club. The beautiful grounds which surround his mansion will, in all probability, be visited, and when the works of nature and art have been inspected and appreciated the guests will doubtless be the recipients of a hearty welcome within doors. Glen Cove will be alive to-day, and the grand fleet of schooner yachts will be gazed at by critical and admiring eyes. Indeed, the squadron would hardly have properly commenced did it not open the campaign at Glen Cove. Good King Sol will not long have risen on to-morrow ere a gun from the Commodore's yacht will boom loudly, announcing the departure of the fleet. A fair wind will carry the yachts to New London before sunset, and there a gala time is in the prospective. As New London is an old favorite with the club a stay of a day or two may be made should the arrangements for a regatta be completed. At all events, a hearty welcome is in store for the club, however short the stay. The squadron will sail direct for Newport, which, by the way, will just be in its prime when the yachts arrive. It is expected that a regatta will take place outside the harbor; indeed, it would be unusual if there should not be one, and the inhabitants, therefore, will be prepared for the wonted brilliant display of the fleet. Several yachts belonging to the club will join the club at Newport, so that it will be considerably augmented and the effect will increase accordingly. The races contemplated at Newport will be for plate, and a large number of entries is anticipated, so that on the whole the display will unquestionably be equal to those that on former occasions have so favorably characterized the club.

The squadron will start for Holmes' Hole either on Friday or Saturday morning, or perhaps a day later, according to circumstances, and on the return will visit New Bedford. The enthusiastic manner in which the hospitable and kind-hearted inhabitants of New Bedford ever welcome the officers of the club and their palatial craft has certainly rendered this city perhaps the most favorite resort of the club on its annual cruise. Moreover the authorities of New Bedford have ever displayed the greatest cordiality towards the officers, and manifested the utmost willingness to encourage the splendid amusements and entertainments afforded by the club, as well as extending facilities for their proper production. On the whole New Bedford is one of the most important places to be visited; and that a grand regatta will be given there is almost a certainty. It is needless to state that the waters about New Bedford afford a most delightful ground for sport of the kind.

A large number of the yacht owners meditate a trip to Boston when the fleet shall have been disbanded by the Commodore. A sail in that direction will be not only a novelty, but extremely desirable. It will doubtless be marked by much pleasure and excitement; for it is not at all improbable that a regatta may take place there. In addition to the many attractions which will characterize the annual cruise it is contemplated to have a number of boat races among the crews of the winning yachts, and purses will be given for competition. Such a course would not only afford great satisfaction on account of the pleasure to be derived from the contests, but it would also tend to stimulate the men to greater rivalry and exertion. Altogether a brilliant cruise may be expected. The following yachts have already entered:—

SCHOONERS.

Yacht.	Owner.
Phantom	Commodore Stebbins.
Fleur de Lis	J. S. Dickerman.
Rambler	J. H. Banker.
Kate	Robert Dillon.
Alarm	A. C. Kingsland.

Eva	Mahlon Sands.

SLOOPS.

Addie	J. Voorhis.
Gracie	Commodore Voorhis.
Madeline	Jacob Voorhis, Jr.
Josephine	B. M. Durfee.
White Cap	L. Livingston.
Coming	W. B. Nichols.
Storm King	Peter Voorhis.

Besides those mentioned there will be several others which will join the fleet at New London and Newport, the entire number amounting to about thirty sail.

Yachting Notes.

The race between the Peerless (Felix O'Connor) and Flying Cloud (James F. Morgan) for $1,000 will take place on Wednesday next. The course will be from a stakeboat off the Manhattan Club, at Tottenville, Staten Island, to another stakeboat ten miles to windward and back.

It should be mentioned that the Apollo did not voluntarily haul out of the race at the Union regatta given by the Bayonne Yacht Club on Tuesday. She was disabled by the loss of her jib when her prospects were very favorable.

AMUSEMENTS.

CENTRAL PARK GARDEN—THOMAS' TESTIMONIAL BENEFIT.—The New York public gave last night an unmistakable proof of the high esteem in which they hold Theodore Thomas by crowding his benefit at the above beautiful garden. It was an audience also such as would compare favorably with any of those of Philharmonic or Academy standard in fashion and appreciative musical powers. The programme was one of rare excellence, comprising several novelties. A military band was added to the superb orchestra, which was increased to its full strength for the occasion. Levy was, of course, the star of the evening, and the magic notes of his cornet reverberated through garden and halls, calling up memories of the palmiest days of Koenig. The new ballet music of Faust, the enchanting waltzes of Strauss, the grand "Jubilee Overture" of Weber, a couple of Wagner's happiest works and some quaint German dances by Borgiel were special orchestral features. It would be difficult in Europe or America to match Central Park Garden for real enjoyment during the summer.

Musical and Theatrical Notes.

The Rigl sisters have accepted a ten months' engagement to dance in the Hub.

Miss Ada Webb is rehearsing several new plays at Saratoga. She plays a star engagement at the Theatre Comique in this city, commencing on the 23d inst.

Mme. Marie Sass has received from the Viceroy of Egypt a parure of fine pearls to the value of $5,000.

The following matinées are announced for this afternoon:—"Rip Van Winkle," at Booth's; "Self," at Wallack's; "Lalla Rookh," at Wood's Museum; "Hiccory Diccory Dock," at the Olympic, and "East Lynne" at the Grand Opera House.

Mrs. Claude Hamilton, who won golden opinions during her late brief engagement at the Waverley theatre, where, by the bye, she appeared as a "giant among the pigmies," has just been engaged for a New York theatre for the coming season.

"Rusty Musket Jack" will be the "leading old man" of the Chestnut street theatre, Philadelphia, next season. He intends giving the "broadbrims" a taste of his 'Jack Falstaff.'

The Rand sisters, two clever actresses from the San Francisco theatres, have been engaged by Manager Wood for the regular fall and winter season at the Museum.

'Arry Palmer, since the revival of "Arrah-na-Pogue" at Niblo's, has been living on potatoes, with a view of improving his brogue. He might just as well give it up first as last, for nothing can possibly metamorphose the natty 'Arry into a good Patlander.

London is to have another theatre. It is to be built in the Strand, and to open in October, under the management of a Miss Litton, a popular London actress. The London theatres will soon all be under the management of women.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" is in active preparation at the Olympic. Hays is working night and day upon the necessary scenery, which will be in that artist's best style. The piece will be strongly cast, and will be produced about the 1st of September.

The Thompsonian brigade of blonde burlesquers, after playing in New York for forty-five consecutive weeks, and netting over $70,000 profit, have gone to the Canadian side of Niagara Falls to spend some of their American earnings. The bleached beauties of burlesque may possibly take it into their heads to go home by way of the Canadian railroads if Jim Jubilee, Jr., don't gratuitously place one of his luxurious "palace cars" at their disposal.

The Academy of Music will open about the 20th of September for a season of grand French opera, under a Brussels manager. Among the company will be Madame Marie Sass and the tenor, Roger. They are to receive for their services the extravagant terms of $5,000 per month, exclusive of hotel charges, carriages, &c. They will leave France for this city about the 25th inst. The opening opera will be "The Prophet." The season will terminate in November, when the company will visit the principal cities of the West and South.

The great European Circus, which left this city in May last, has been perambulating through the Eastern States, everywhere meeting with much success. This week it pitches its tent in Worcester, New London, and crosses the Connecticut river at Lyme, exhibiting at New Haven on the 7th, Bridgeport 9th, Stamford 10th, New Rochelle 11th, and Yonkers on the 12th. After this the concern travels up the Hudson as far as Albany, from which place it strikes into the interior of the State, returning to this city about the 1st of October.

The National Museum, Chicago, formerly owned by Colonel Wood, has recently been purchased by Mr. Frank E. Aiken, who will open it for the regular fall dramatic season on Monday evening, with all its old favorites and several new candidates for Chicagoan honors.

"Our American Cousin," with Miss Laura Keene as Florence Trenchard and Mr. Geo. C. Boniface as the irrepressible Asa, has been the attraction this week at Selwyn's theatre, Boston. The theatre closes this evening for alterations and repairs, and reopens on the 30th inst. under Mr. Selwyn's management, with the leading members of "The Great Boston Combination Company," with whose clever acting and whimsical caprices New Yorkers recently had an opportunity of becoming acquainted.

It is stated that the Pope has given M. Gounod three commissions—the composition of a mass, a national song and an oratorio. The last must be in three parts and be written for three choirs—a terrestrial choir upon the stage, an infernal chorus below it and a celestial choir behind the scenes.

A MAN BURIED ALIVE IN A WELL.

[From the Leavenworth (Kansas) Times and Conservative, July 29.]

From C. J. Hanks, Esq., route mail agent on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, we learn that the well being sunk at Monument Station by the company, caved in on Saturday last while two men were working in it, burying one, while the other escaped by seizing a rope, and was drawn up. It seems that the workmen had sunk the well 160 feet and were going through a strata of sand; owing to the scarcity of timber the curbing had been neglected for thirty feet above, and being thus insecure, without a moment's warning the well caved in, burying one man under several feet of earth and sand. The workmen above could distinctly hear his cries for help, and distinguished the words, "don't leave me." Yet, incredible as it may seem, his companions made no attempt to release him, alleging as an excuse that they were afraid of further caving in of the well. More horrible still, after his cries had ceased and it was evident that life had fled, these inhuman monsters filled up the well, forever entombing a human being whom they might have rescued, or have at least obeyed the common dictates of humanity and have attempted to save.

THE SOLAR ECLIPSE.

What It Is and Where It Will be Seen.

Scientific Expeditions for Its Thorough Observation.

The Eclipses of 1806 and 1842, as Described by Fenimore Cooper and Arago.

The Velocity of Its March Across the Continent.

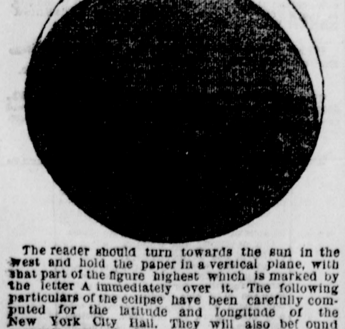
This day there will occur one of the great phenomena of nature—a solar eclipse. There was one, an annular eclipse of the sun, on the 11th of February last, but visible only in the southern parts of South America and Africa. The one occurring to-day and visible over the whole United States, on a belt line, the centre of which runs from Alaska to the coast of North Carolina, is a total eclipse, the second and last for this year, and the last of this character visible in this country during the remainder of the present century. The last total eclipse of the sun occurred on the 18th of August, 1868, visible from points in Australia, South Africa and Southern Asia, and it will be recollected that a number of European governments sent out scientific expeditions to observe the phenomenon at places touched by the central line of the passing umbra, as the astronomers have named the shadow of the moon's disk thrown upon the earth's surface. It was on the occasion of the solar eclipse in 1860 that the modern invention of the process of almost instantaneous photograph was first applied with success by Mr. Warren de la Rue, to perpetuate the appearance of the sun in his various stages as the moon passed between him and the earth. Again, in 1866, the process of photography having been much improved, solar eclipses and their varying phases were successfully transferred to sensitive plates and preserved. But a new and still greater invention had been added to the means of science in the course of time. This was the spectroscope, a plain little instrument, constructed by Professors Bunsen and Kirchhoff, to analyze light, dissect it, as it were, into its component parts and discover the material character of the source from whence it proceeds. This little yet highly important instrument was for the first time used, in the year last named, in connection with improved telescopic and photographic apparatus in the scientific observations of the solar eclipse. The results then obtained were greatly surpassed, however, by those gained by the several expeditions to Asia and Africa, at Aden and other points, in 1868, where not only correct views were made of the physical appearance of the eclipse, but also the irregular outlines of the sun and moon partially determined and by means of the spectroscope even the nature of these heavenly bodies arrived at to a certain degree. The great discovery which the spectroscope thus enabled the men of science to make was that the component parts of the sun and the moon were the same as those of the earth, and nothing has been found in the prismatic reflection or dissection of the rays of light which has not also a corresponding ingredient in the earth's composition. And as the spectroscope has been brought to such perfection that the one hundred and eighty millionth part of a grain—a quantity the smallness of which is beyond human comprehension—of any substance can be detected and easily discerned in its reflection of light, it is certainly a good assurance for our belief. The total eclipse of this day, being visible over such a large belt of land as stretches from the northwest of the North American Continent to the shores of North Carolina, furnishes an extraordinary opportunity for thorough scientific observations, the results of which are looked forward to by men of science all over the world with unusual interest. Since, in the present utilitarian age, science is no longer the exclusive property of the few, but enters largely, as the most progressive and propelling element, into the civilization of mankind, none can doubt that from these observations, properly made use of, practical benefits may flow, not only in our enlarged knowledge of astronomical geography—if the term, like Maury's "Geography of the Sea," be allowed—but also in our better comprehension of the physical elements of the heavenly bodies. It will be apparent to all that such knowledge and comprehension cannot fail to exert their useful influence in many ways, and the nearer we bring the starry heavens to us the higher we raise the dignity and nobility of mankind.

IMPORTANT SCIENTIFIC EXPEDITIONS

have been organized by the chief observatories, by the Nautical Almanac office, by the United States coast survey and by wealthy and public-spirited private parties, with all the facilities for accurate investigation. The sun, in various stages of eclipse, will be photographed and the time of the phenomena noted, while the spectroscopic phenomena will be made the subject of special and exhaustive analysis. The astronomical party from the Dearborn Observatory in Chicago will join forces with the party from the Washington Observatory, and are said to have selected for their point of observation a spot near Burlington, Iowa. Professor Hall, from the Washington Observatory, has started in time for Alaska, with an experienced corps of assistants, and he will there, so it is reported, be joined by a scientific expedition from Russia. Professor Henry, of the Smithsonian Institute, aided by experienced photographers and also by experts with spectroscope, will be in North Carolina and all along the central line of eclipse, or rather of the umbra or shadow of the moon, which is the line of total obscuration of the sun's disk; observations will be made at various points, some more, some less extensive. Even Europe has not let the opportunity pass and has sent out several expeditions from various countries to enrich the store of our knowledge of what is immediately above and around us. Great expectations are based upon the observations to be made by Professor Henry Morton, of the Franklin Institute, of Philadelphia, accompanied by Mr. J. H. Coffin, of the Nautical Almanac office, who are in Iowa to-day. Professor Morton has secured for this purpose the equatorial of the Philadelphia High School and that of the Gettysburg University, both of six inch aperture. Mr. Warren de la Rue recommends that refractors of six inch aperture and ten feet focal length should be used, mounted on equatorial stands with clockwork drivers. Each instrument has a portable observatory with photographic appliances, including four plate-holders and five baths, with fused nitrate of silver, which gives a more sensitive surface than the crystalized salt. Four operators accompany each telescope, two being expert photographers, and all well practised with the instrument in making lunar photographs.

THE ECLIPSE IN NEW YORK CITY.

In this city and its vicinity it will present the appearance of the accompanying figure at the moment of greatest obscuration:—



The reader should turn towards the sun in the west and hold the paper in a vertical plane, with that part of the figure highest which is marked by the letter A immediately over it. The following particulars of the eclipse have been carefully computed for the latitude and longitude of the New York City Hall. They will also be found accurate enough for places within a few miles of the city. The computations were made at the University of the city of New York, by members of the junior class, as part of their astronomical course. But the results obtained by the class have been verified by the separate computations of the professor of astronomy, using first the same process taught to the class, and secondly the formulæ and contents published in the American Nautical Almanac. The two different methods gave results agreeing within four and a half seconds of time, which is far within the limits of accuracy with which it is practicable to predict an eclipse on account of the unavoidable errors of the solar and lunar tables employed in the prediction. The results are:—

Beginning of eclipse, 5h. 12m. 39s. P. M., City Hall, mean time.

Greatest obscuration, 6h. 8m. 39s. P. M., City Hall, mean time.

End of eclipse, 7h. 0m. 46s. P. M., City Hall, mean time.

The sun's diameter being divided into twelve digits, 10 6-10 digits will be covered at greatest obscuration.

Where the observer's position is elevated sufficiently to overcome the obstructions of the surrounding buildings, and of the Palisade Heights in the West, he may see the sun entirely free from the moon's disk, about five minutes before the setting of that point on the sun's limb, at which the last contact with the moon's limb takes place.

WHAT IS THE ECLIPSE OF THE SUN?

The shortest definition of this natural phenomenon is that it is the passage of the moon between the sun and the earth. Astronomers have classified eclipses into three distinct degrees—partial, annular and total. A partial eclipse is when the moon's disk covers but a part of the sun; an annular eclipse occurs when the moon's disk covers the sun, leaving an annulus or ring of the latter visible around him, and at a total eclipse the entire disk of the sun is covered out of sight. An eclipse assumes either one of the first or last of the above phases in proportion as the observer may be nearer or farther from the focal line. Thus, while the eclipse to-day will be total on the line already mentioned above, it will be but partial at certain distances to the north and south of it. An annular eclipse occurs under the following circumstances:—The smallest value of the length of the moon's shadow is 57.76 semi-diameters of the earth, and the greatest distance of the moon from the earth is 63.82 semi-diameters. Should the moon interpose between the earth and the sun when these values occur it is plain that the moon's shadow will fall short of the earth. In this case the sun will not be totally obscured from any point of the earth, but will present the phenomenon of a ring of light or an annular eclipse.

A total eclipse such as will be witnessed to-day along the focal line already described, occurs when a conjunction of the sun and moon happens at a time when the length of the shadow and the distance of the moon from the earth are identical, or nearly so. If, under these circumstances, the shadow fall upon the earth, there will be a total eclipse of the sun in all places with it, or over which it moves.

THE WIDTH OF THE SHADOW.

The breadth of the belt traversed by the umbra or shadow, when the sun's distance is greatest and the moon's the least, is estimated at about 180 miles. In this case the penumbra or semi-shadow covers a circular space of 4,900 miles in diameter, the eclipse happening exactly at the node. When the eclipse does not happen exactly at the node the axis of the shadow is inclined to the plane of the elliptic, the shadow will be cut obliquely, and that part of the earth in shade will be oval. Such a chart as the spectator would observe from outside of the earth the astronomer compiles by calculation.

INCIDENTS OF SOLAR ECLIPSES.

There are some very thrilling and strange appearances connected with solar eclipses. It is not merely, in the case of a total eclipse such as that of to-day will be, that the darkness is almost instantaneous, but it is still more impressive from the strangeness of it, resembling neither the darkness of night nor the gloom of twilight. This peculiar tint of shade, if such an expression can be used, comes of the following fact:—The cone of the moon's shadow, though it envelopes the spectator, does not inclose the whole atmosphere above his horizon. The mass of unenveloped air catches the sunlight and reflects it into the region of the total eclipse, making a peculiarly solemn twilight, which has no analogy in all the appearance of nature.

FENIMORE COOPER'S DESCRIPTION OF AN ECLIPSE.

Fenimore Cooper, the great American romancist, left a description, never yet published, of the great eclipse of 1806, which he viewed, in company with his father, at Cooperstown, N. Y., which will be given to the reading world for the first time in Putnam's Magazine for September. In his beautiful language he describes the surroundings of nature and his own emotion at the moment, when the sun was totally obscured and darkness reigned:—

> I was recalled by a familiar and insignificant incident, the dull tramp of hoofs on the village bridge. A few cows, believing that night had overtaken them, were coming homeward from the wild open pastures about the village. And no wonder the kindly creatures were deceived; the darkness was now much deeper than the twilight which usually turns their faces homeward; the dew was falling perceptibly, as much so as at any hour of the previous night, and the coolness was so great that the thermometer must have fallen many degrees from the great heat of the morning. The lake, the hills and the buildings of the little town were swallowed up in the darkness. The absence of the usual lights in the dwellings rendered the obscurity still more impressive. All labor had ceased, and the hushed voices of the people only broke the absolute stillness by subdued whispering tones. "Whisk! The whippowill!" whispered a friend near me, and at the same moment, as we listened in profound silence, we distinctly heard from the eastern bank of the river the wild, plaintive note of that solitary bird of night slowly repeated at intervals. The song of the summer birds, so full in June, had entirely ceased for the last half hour. A bat came flitting about our heads. Many stars were now visible, though not in sufficient number to lessen the darkness. At one point only, in the far distant northern horizon, something of the brightness of dawn appeared to linger.
> At twelve minutes past eleven the moon stood revealed in its greatest distinctness—a vast black orb, so nearly obscuring the sun that the face of the great luminary was entirely and absolutely darkened, though a corona of light appeared beyond. The gloom of night was upon us. A breathless intensity of interest was felt by all. * * * In looking back to that impressive hour, such now seem to me the feelings of the youth making one of that family group, all apparently impressed with a sensation of the deepest awe. I speak with certainty. A clearer view than I had ever yet had of the majesty of the Almighty, accompanied with a humiliating and, I trust, a profitable sense of my own utter insignificance. That movement of the moon, that sublime voyage of the worlds, often recurs to my imagination, and even at this distant day, as distinctly, as majestically, and nearly as fearfully, as it was then beheld.
> A group of silent, dusky forms stood near me. One emotion appeared to govern all. My father stood immovable, some fifteen feet from me, but I could not discern his features. Three minutes of darkness, all but absolute, elapsed. They appeared strangely lengthened by the intensity of feeling and the flood of overpowering thought which filled the mind. Thus far the sensation created by this majestic spectacle had been one of humiliation and awe. It seemed as if the great Father of the Universe had visibly and almost palpably veiled his face in wrath. But appalling as the withdrawal of the light had been, most glorious, most sublime, was its restoration. The corona of light above the moon became suddenly brighter, the heavens beyond were illuminated, the stars retired, and light began to play along the ridges of the distant mountains. And then a flood of grateful, cheering, consoling brightness fell into the valley with a sweetness and a power inconceivable to the mind unless the eye has actually beheld it. I can liken this sudden, joyous return of light, after the eclipse, to nothing of the kind that is familiarly known. It was certainly nearest to the change produced by the swift passage of the shadow of a very dark cloud; but it was the effect of this instantaneous transition, multiplied more than a thousand fold. It seemed to speak directly to our spirits, with full assurance of protection, of gracious mercy, and of that divine love which has produced all the glorious combinations of matter for our enjoyment. It was not in the least like the gradual dawning of day, or the actual rising of the sun. There was no gradation in the change. It was sudden, amazing, like what the imagination would teach us to expect of the advent of a heavenly vision. I know that philosophically I am wrong; but to me it seemed that the rays might actually be seen flowing through the darkness in torrents, till they had again illuminated the forest, the mountains, the valley and the lake with their glowing, genial touch.
> There was another grand movement as the crescent of the sun reappeared, and the moon was actually seen steering her course through the void. Venus was still shining brilliantly. * * * Men who witness any extraordinary spectacle together are apt, in after times, to find a pleasure in conversing on its impressions, But I do not remember to have ever heard a single being freely communicative on the subject of his individual feelings at the most solemn moment of the eclipse. It would seem as if sensations were aroused too closely connected with the constitution of the spirit to be irreverently and familiarly discussed. I shall only say that I have passed a varied and eventful life, that it has been my fortune to see earth, heavens, ocean and man in most of their aspects; but never have I beheld any spectacle which so plainly manifested the majesty of the Creator or so forcibly taught the lesson of humility to man as a total eclipse of the sun.

ARAGO ON THE ECLIPSE OF 1842.

In the year 1842 a total eclipse occurred in Europe. It was carefully observed and beautifully described by Arago, the great French astronomer. His point of observation was Perpignan, in the south of France. The following interesting extract from his account is worthy of perusal:—

> Between the commencement of the eclipse and the time which closely preceded the total disappearance of the sun we remarked nothing worthy of record in the countenances of the numerous spectators. But when the sun, narrowed to a mere line, began to throw over the horizon but a faint light, an anxiety spread through the whole crowd; each man felt impelled to communicate his impressions to his neighbor. Then began a dull roar, like that of a distant sea after a tempest. The noise became louder in proportion to the thinning of the slender solar crescent. Finally the crescent vanished. Darkness succeeded suddenly to the light, and an absolute silence marked this phase of the eclipse as sharply as did the pendulum of our astronomical clock. The phenomenon, in its magnificence, had triumphed over the restlessness of youth, over the frivolity which certain men take for a sign of superiority, and over the noisy indifference of which the soldiers ordinarily make their boast. A profound calm reigned, too, in the air; even the birds ceased their songs. After a solemn waiting of about two minutes' duration transports of joy, frantic applause saluted, with the same accord, the same spontaneity, the reappearance of the first solar rays.

THE ECLIPSE TO-DAY—THE VELOCITY OF THE SHADOW.

The effect of the eclipse to-day and the velocity of the shadow as it will sweep over the surface of the earth is thus described:—

> The rays of light coming from the extreme borders of the sun's spherical body in straight lines and without previously crossing, to the outer borders of the moon's much smaller globe, form a cone with its vortex pointed toward the earth—that is, on the occasion of an eclipse like that which will be witnessed to-day, of course, the opaque body of the moon eats out all the light from this cone between her own sphere and the vortex. This cone reaches to the nearest surface of the earth; and if it were a material, solid body, it would pierce down towards the earth's centre so far that the section of the cone by the earth's surface forms nearly a circle of about 140 miles in diameter. All persons and places within the limits of this circular section of the moon's conical shadow are of course involved in the blackness of night. The brighter stars and planets near the region of the sun and moon appear; the birds and beasts, in great terror at the unusual and sudden approach of darkness, seek the nearest places of shelter and repose. But this circular shadow, of 140 miles in diameter, does not remain long on the same part of the earth's surface; for the moon is flying around the earth in her orbit from west to east with the velocity of about forty miles per minute, and the shadow passes over the earth's curved surface with an increased velocity of about forty-four miles per minute, or nearly three quarters of a mile every second of time. Hence the whole circular shadow, of 140 miles diameter, sweeps over the earth, in a general direction, from the west toward the east, forming a belt of its own width, more than 6,000 miles long, in the short time of about two hours and a half.

THE COURSE OF THE ECLIPSE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Mr. A. N. Skinner, of the Dearborn Observatory of Chicago, has prepared the following exact statement of the course of the eclipse across the North American Continent, the places which lie in the track of the shadowy cone of the moon, and also a time-table, giving the hours and minutes of its beginning and end at the principal cities touched. The following are his calculations:—

The partial shadow of the moon first touches the earth in longitude west from Washington 138 degrees, and north latitude 57 degrees. The umbra, or the total shadow, touches the earth in longitude 165 degrees west from Washington, and in north latitude 53 degrees. In other words, at the first of these localities the dark body of the moon is seen to touch the sun earlier than at any place, just as the sun is rising. At the second locality the dark body of the moon is seen to wholly obscure the sun when the sun's centre is in the horizon. The umbra of the moon travels at first in a northeasterly direction toward Behring Straits, where it bends gradually eastward, and from Behring Straits it begins to travel in a southeasterly direction, which general direction it holds across British America and the United States. To speak definitely, the central line of the path of the umbra enters the territory of the United States about 200 miles northwest of Fort Union, which is situated at the junction of the Yellowstone and the Missouri rivers.

ITS DIRECTION.

It sweeps southeast across the territory of Dacotah and enters the State of Iowa near its northwestern boundary, and passes near the following places:—

In Iowa—Cherokee, Cherokee county; New Munich, Sac county; Calhoun, Calhoun county; Quincy, Boone county; Boonsboro, Boone county; Belle Point, Boone county; Monroe, Jasper county; Oskaloosa, Mahaska county; Marysville, Wapello county; Fairfield, Jefferson county; Salem, Henry county; Lee City, Lee county; Fort Madison, Lee county.

In Illinois—In the State of Illinois the following places are near the central line:—Colchester, McDonough county; Astoria, Fulton county; Bath, Mason county; New Salem, Menard county; Springfield, Sangamon county; Moaweqna, Shelby county; Shelbyville, Shelby county; Neoga, Cumberland county; Rose Hill, Jasper county.

In Indiana—The central line passes near the following places:—Washington, Daviess county, Corydon, Harrison county.

In Kentucky—The following places are near the central line:—Fairfield, Nelson county; Danville, Boyle county; Manchester, Clay county.

In Virginia—The following places are near the central line:—Estillville, Scott county; Bristol, Washington county.

In Tennessee—Taylorsville, Johnson county, is near the central line.

In North Carolina—The central line passes near the following places:—Boone, Wautauga county; Carthage, Moore county; Fayetteville, Cumberland county; Leesburg, New Hanover county.

The Northern Limit of the Umbra—Or total shadow, passes near the following places in Iowa:—Forrest City, Winnebago county, just outside; Mason City, Cerro Gordo county, just outside; Clear Lake City, quite near the line; Clarksville, Butler county, just outside; Cedar Falls, Black Hawk county, inside; Independence, Buchanan county, outside; Anamosa, Jones county, outside; Wolcott, Scott county, inside; Davenport, Iowa.

In Illinois—The northern edge of the umbra passes near the following places:—Rock Island, Rock Island county, inside; Hampton, Rock Island county, near the line; Colona, Henry county, inside; Neponset, Bureau county, near the line; Lacon, Marshall county, inside; Chenoa, McLean county, inside; Paxton, Ford county, inside; Danville, Vermillion county, inside.

Indiana.—The following places in Indiana are near the northern edge of the umbra:—Bainbridge, Putnam county, inside; Franklin, Johnson county, inside; Versailles, Ripley county, inside; Rising Sun, Ohio county, near the line.

Kentucky.—The following places in Kentucky are near the northern line of the umbra:—Warsaw, Gallatin county, inside; Williams, Grant county, inside; Carlisle, Bourbon county, inside; Triplet, Rowan county, near the line; Paintville, Johnson county.

In Virginia—The following places are near the northern edge:—Arrocoina, Logan county, near the line; Mechanicsburg, Bland county, inside; Newburn, Pulaski county, inside; Danville, Pittsylvania county, inside.

In North Carolina—The following places are near the northern limit of the umbra:—Roxboro, Person county, inside; Greenville, Pitt county, inside; Hatteras Inlet, near the line.

The Southern Limit of the Umbra—Passes near the following places in Iowa:—Council Bluffs, near the line; Frankford, Montgomery county, inside; Mt. Ayr, Ringgold county, inside.

In Missouri—The southern line of total eclipse passes near the following places:—Princeton, Mercer county, near the line; Shelbyville, Shelby county, inside; Bowling Green, Pike county, inside.

In Illinois—The following places are near the southern limit of the umbra:—Alton, Madison county, inside; Edwardsville, Madison county, inside; Covington, Washington county, inside; Mt. Vernon, Jefferson county, inside; McLeansboro, Hamilton county, inside; New Haven, Gallatin county.

The State of Indiana—Barely extends, at its southwestern point, to the southern limit of the umbra.

Kentucky—The following places in Kentucky are near the southern line of the umbra:—Smithville, Henderson county, inside; Morgantown, Butler county, inside; Burksville, Cumberland county, inside.

In Tennessee—The following are near the southern edge of the umbra:—Huntsville, Scott county, inside; Knoxville, Knox county, near the line; Sevierville, Sevier county, inside.

In North Carolina—Asheville, Buncombe county, is within, and Columbus, Polk county, is near the line.

In South Carolina—The following places are near the southern line of the umbra:—Yorkville, York county, inside; Marion, Marion county, near the line; Cherry Grove, Horry county, near the line.

Places which are within the northern and southern limits, as above described, will be within the total shadow, and at these places the eclipse will be total. Places outside of these lines will have a partial eclipse of greater or less magnitude, according as it is near or far from these limits.

REMARKABLE CASE OF DROWNING.

A Row on Board a Steamship—One of the Combatants Falls Overboard and Is Drowned.

Coroner Rollins held an inquest yesterday over the remains of Richard Backhouse, a seaman belonging on board the steamship City of Limerick, he having met his death through drowning in a rather remarkable manner. The deceased quarrelled about some trifling matter, at half-past twelve o'clock yesterday morning, with one of his mates, named Daniel Brown, as they were going on board the steamer. Backhouse struck Brown at the gangway, and followed him to the forward gangplank, where he again assaulted Brown, the recoil making him tumble overboard, when he struck heavily on a fender floating in the water, sustaining a severe injury in the head, and was drowned before he could be aided. The following evidence was elicited before the jury:—

James McGiven, a seaman on board the steamship Nevada, testified that at the time of the disturbance he was on the dock in company with the deceased, the prisoner and one or two others of the crew of the City of Limerick, they having left a drinking saloon in Charlton street a few minutes before; while in the saloon the party had something to drink, none of them being intoxicated, though a little noisy and turbulent; when midnight arrived they all left the saloon, and there was no quarrel except a dispute about the payment for drinks between Lawrence Cummings and Robert Marlow; as the deceased and Brown started to go up the after gangway they had sharp words in relation to the dispute, Backhouse finally running back on the dock where he took off his coat and challenged Brown to fight; Brown declined the challenge by advice of the witness and went on board the steamer; the deceased then followed him, declaring that he would have it out with Brown on board; Brown was overtaken on the forward deck, when the deceased struck him; both men clinched and struggled until they reached the forward gangway, when they fell, being soon after separated; the deceased then stepped back a pace or two and fell down the gangway; the prisoner only struck the deceased once and did not knock him overboard; witness saw two men jump in after deceased.

Lawrence Cummings, a fireman on board of the steamship Limerick, testified that the deceased and the prisoner began quarrelling all of a sudden as they started to go over the gangplank; witness attempted to stop them fighting, the deceased having taken off his coat and vest for the purpose; Backhouse then struck the witness and ran after Brown; the next thing Cummings heard, as he was talking to the engineer, was that the deceased had fallen overboard.

Robert Marlow, another of the steamer's crew, testified that he saw the beginning of the quarrel and preceded the two men to the forecastle; he saw the deceased strike Brown at the gangplank as he turned around to see what the trouble was; Brown remarked, "I did not think you would do that, Dick;" the deceased replied, "Yes I did and will do it again;" when they reached the forward gangway, Backhouse again struck Brown, the blow having the effect to make both men stagger, the deceased falling over the gangway into the river; Brown did not strike the deceased as far as witness could see.

Robert Carson, one of the shipmates of Brown, was also examined and corroborated the evidence already elicited.

Charles Russell, second officer on board the steamship City of Limerick, testified that he knew nothing about the disturbance which led to the death of deceased, as he was in bed at the time; when the deceased fell overboard, there was a long fender floating in the water to keep the ship from the dock; he must have received injuries by the fall.

Dr. John Beach testified that he had examined the remains of deceased, and found a severe cut or fracture on the head; in his opinion the deceased had been rendered partially insensible by this injury, else he would not have been drowned.

The jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a fall over the gangway of the steamer City of Limerick, and they fully exonerated the prisoner, Daniel Brown, from all participation in the struggle which led to the fall.

Brown was accordingly discharged from custody. The steamer City of Limerick then received her men again, and endeavored to make up for the two hours' delay caused by the investigation by at once departing from the dock for Europe.

THE COURTS.

UNITED STATES COMMISSIONERS' COURT.

Alleged Presentation of False Pay Rolls—Examination of General Thomas W. Eagan, a Custom House Weigher.

Before Commissioner Osborn.

The United States vs. Thomas W. Eagan.—Defendant, a Custom House weigher, was arrested a few days ago on a charge of defrauding the government by the presentation of fraudulent pay rolls. His examination was commenced this yesterday morning and the following evidence was taken:—

THE TESTIMONY.

James S. Fuller, an auditor in the office of the Surveyor of the Custom House, testified—The pay rolls of the weigher's department were presented to myself to audit and examine; they were sworn to before me; the oath made to the pay rolls was the only evidence of their correctness; that pay roll, July 1, 1869 (paper shown witness), was presented to me and sworn to by Thomas W. Eagan before me as a notary public; the pay rolls of July 8, 15, 22 and 29 were also sworn to before me by Mr. Eagan; each one was presented to me personally; he usually came to my desk with his roll and I administered the oath; by custom the weigher is the proper person to present the pay rolls; I audited all of the pay rolls shown me; after I audited the pay rolls I put them on the desk of the Deputy Surveyor, J. L. Benedict; these rolls are endorsed by him as approved.

Cross-examined—I know Mr. Eagan personally; had never discovered that the pay rolls were fraudulent; the rolls were sworn to before me and I examined them simply to see if they were carried out correctly.

Re-direct—After the rolls are approved in the Surveyor's Office they are sent to the Auditor of the Collector's Office.

Clarence M. Buel testified—Have been in the employ of Mr. Eagan in various capacities in his weighing department; was so employed in July last, and knew the men he employed during that month; I did not know any such man in his employ as Joseph Naire.

To the Commissioner—There were sometimes fifteen and sometimes twenty men in his employ; I knew the name of every man in his employ from week to week.

To the District Attorney—I did not know L. Morrissey; I knew J. H. B. Jenkins; saw him with letters in Mr. Eagan's private office; never saw him do any other work; saw him with letters on two or three different days; I worked up to the 22d of July; I did not know P. Mentz; I know Edward Costello; I never saw him do any work; Costello is a liquor dealer on Eighth avenue; (showing witness pay roll of July 1, 1869) the following persons whose names are on this pay roll I did not see work:—J. D. Harrington, Joseph Naire; these are all I find upon this pay roll; (roll July 8 shown witness) did not see Joseph Naire, J. H. B. Jenkins or P. Mentz work; (roll July 15) did not see Jenkins or Naire work; (roll July 22) did not see Edward Costello or C. Hovey work; I made particular efforts to find out who were employed by Mr. Eagan from the 1st to 22d of July; I canvassed the district from Thirty-fourth street to Gouverneur slip and inquired the names of all the men in Eagan's employ; I took notes of what I learned; there were no men that I saw employed in that district whose names I didn't learn.

Cross Examined—My business while in Eagan's employ was tallying coal; I was classed as a laborer and was paid forty cents an hour; I was employed two days and a half in Eagan's district in the month of June before Eagan was appointed; was not connected with a particular gang of men; I weighed various kinds of merchandise while in Eagan's employ; Mr. Eagan's district is from pier 51 as far up as New York extends; while I was engaged in tallying coal nobody was engaged with me; nearly all the men of the district worked with me at different times; from June to July I was not engaged four or five week days and all the Sundays; there were several hours on days that I had no duties to perform in the district; while I was engaged all the men were not engaged with me at any time; I know from the pay-roll that all the men whose names are on it did not work and could not work without my knowledge; I was relieved from duty the 22d and I hung around the office for eight or nine days and was not called upon to go to work; Mr. Wilkes, the assistant foreman, employed me; sometimes Mr. Wilkes paid me and sometimes Frank Webb, the foreman; I receipted for my money in blank before I got it; it was the rule in that district while I was employed there for the men to sign their receipts in blank; one Saturday after the receipts had been signed in blank I signed another receipt, in which the amount was carried out; it was by the instruction of Mr. Eagan that this was done; at the same time he ordered that the pay rolls should no longer be signed in blank; they were afterwards signed in blank, as usual; I never had any dealings directly with Mr. Eagan; I reported the observations I made concerning the number of men in Eagan's district to Mr. Brush, a special agent of the Treasury during Mr. Carr's time; I communicated with Mr. Boutwell, and Colonel Howe sent for me; I was never paid anything for my services except as a laborer; Colonel Howe sent me to Colonel Eagan to get employment; I reported my time to Mr. Wilkes, and never saw anybody report to anybody else; Eagan's office was in Grand street; he was not much about the office; may have seen him ten or fifteen times during the time I was employed.

To the Commissioner—On Monday, the 5th of July, Joseph Naire is put down as working ten hours; no work was done on that day; there were no vessels discharging; I went over the district that day, between the hours of seven and eleven A. M., and saw no men at work; the men commence working at seven o'clock in the morning and work till six P. M.; J. H. B. Jenkins is put down as working fifty-three hours on the pay roll of July 15; I cannot specify any particular day put down on this pay roll (the 15th) when he did not work; I went over the district every day from the 8th to the 15th of July and never saw Naire or Jenkins at work.

Andrew M. Benedict, the chief clerk of the cashier in the Custom House, testified—I paid the five pay rolls shown me; one of them I paid to Mr. Eagan himself, and I am not positive that I did not pay all of them.

Charles E. Booth testified—I am employed as bookkeeper and clerk of General Eagan; have been in the employ of Eagan from the time Eagan came; as bookkeeper I knew the men employed in that district; Joseph Naire was not to my knowledge employed during the month of July last; James McGee was employed there; he was employed, as near as I can recollect, during the past three or four weeks; L. Morrissey, J. H. B. Jenkins, P. Mentz and Edward Costello were not employed, so far as I know; I have seen J. H. B. Jenkins at our office in Grand street; I do not know what he was doing; he was up in the General's private office; I don't know any such men as Naire, Morrissey and Mentz; I know Costello, but don't know what his business is; I know all the men employed in that district.

Cross-examined—I was first employed in this district last fall under Mr. Carr; the books I kept pertained to weighing merchandise; they had nothing to do with the names of the laborers; I did not keep the time of the men and had nothing to do with the hiring or the paying of them; the foremen usually paid the men off; never saw General Eagan pay off the men; so far as my observation went Mr. Wilkes, the assistant foreman, kept the time; the time was reported to him by the foreman of each gang; the foreman or assistant foreman handed me the list of each man's time for me to sign; I never knew of a new man being employed that I did not know of it within twenty-four or forty-eight hours; a new man could not possibly be employed and mingle with the men without my knowing it; it was no part of my duty to know the name and face of every man employed; I was on duty every day at the office all this time; I never signed the roll but in blank; I once heard General Eagan say that the proper way was to not sign the roll until the time was entered, and that was the way it must be done after that time; the pay rolls were not in the handwriting of Mr. Eagan; they were made out by Webb.

Adjourned to ten o'clock to-day.

Arrest of an Alleged Murderer.

The United States vs. J. H. Platt.—Defendant was a major in the rebel army, and was arrested Thursday night on a charge of having on the 4th of October last, while a prisoner at Jefferson, Texas, in company with several others who were under guard of United States soldiers, killed three of the guard and made his escape. He was also charged with treason in the affidavit upon which the warrant was issued for his arrest. Four of his confederates are now in custody in Texas. Platt, it is alleged, was the leader of the movement for escape. At the time of his arrest he was in this city, and was found in Fourth street, near Washington square. He was brought before the Commissioner yesterday, and was held for examination on Monday next.

Refilling Barrels on which were Old Stamps.

Before Commissioner Shields.

The United States vs. D. E. Lecher and C. L. Lecher.—Defendants, who have a rectifying establishment at No. 161 Washington street, were examined yesterday on a charge of refilling barrels on which there were revenue stamps with distilled spirits. Robert Hunt, an assistant assessor, testified to going there on the 26th of July and finding forty or fifty barrels of spirits; he found two empty barrels on which were stamps and near by a tub containing spirits with which to fill them. Thomas Hood, an employé of the defendants, testified that the spirits found by Mr. Hunt in the tub had been poured out of the barrels for the purpose of gauging them. Defendants were held to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Refilling Stamped Cigar Boxes.

The United States vs. Louis Frey.—Defendant keeps a cigar store at No. 589 First avenue. He was arrested on a charge of refilling a cigar box on which was a revenue stamp, brought to his establishment for that purpose by a boy employed in a saloon in Second avenue. Rudolph Knoft, an assistant assessor, upon whose complaint defendant was arrested, states in the complaint that he has repeatedly seen defendant filling cigar boxes brought in to him from a large box that he kept under the counter. Two of these boxes the complainant marked, and he afterwards saw them in the saloon in Second avenue, from which cigars were being sold at retail. Defendant held was for examination on Tuesday next.

Breaking Open a Letter.

The United States vs. Annie Clancy.—Defendant was arrested on a charge of opening a letter sent to the address of Ellen Berry. Her examination was set down for Monday next.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Judge Ingraham.

Victorine Steinhaueser vs. John A. Steinhaueser.—This was a motion to discharge the defendant from imprisonment on an attachment against him issued for non-payment of alimony to his wife. It appears that he has gone over to New Jersey since he obtained a decree of divorce from the plaintiff and married another woman, with whom he is now living in two States—namely, that of matrimony and that of Illinois. His discharge is asked for on the ground that he has no means, and is resisted on the ground that, having married another wife, whom he is presumed to support, and having entered into such marriage contract in violation of the decree, which forbids such marriage, he is able and ought to support his first wife.

The Judge took the papers and reserved decision. For plaintiff, Charles Wehle; for defendant, Wm. E. Smith.

Decisions.

By Judge Ingraham.

Beach vs. The Mayor of New York et al.—Motion granted.

Herchbach et al. vs. Kelsburg et al.—Motion denied, costs to abide event.

In the Matter of the Application of Duff et al. for Order, &c.—Reference orders.

In the Matter of the Petition of Lydia Beebe.—Motion granted.

National Citizens' Bank of New York vs. Baack.—Motion granted.

Williams vs. McWilliams.—Motion granted.

Schoeman et al. vs. The Same.—Motion granted.

The Same vs. The Same.—Motion granted.

Leonard vs. Sykes.—Motion granted on payment of costs. Motion to be heard at September term.

SUPERIOR COURT—SPECIAL TERM.

The Fenian Fund Case in a New Form—The Lawyers Looking Out for Their Fees.

Before Judge McCunn.

Mr. Guernsey, counsel for some of the bondholders in this case, appeared before Judge McCunn yesterday morning and presented an order to show cause why he should not be paid his counsel fees out of the Fenian money in the hands of the receiver.

Judge McCunn—I do not want to do anything in this matter too hastily. I will see about it, and see how much you ought to have.

Application for a Habeas Corpus Under Peculiar Circumstances.

Mr. James D. McClellan appeared before the court and asked for the issuance of a writ of habeas corpus on the following statement of facts:—On the night of the 2d of this month one Michael Brady was assaulted by one William Higgins in the cigar store of said Higgins, corner of Broome and Sullivan streets, and dangerously shot through the chin and jaw. Both parties were arrested and on the following morning brought before Justice Ledwith, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, when, for some reason, Brady refused to make a complaint, and the Justice committed both parties on a charge of disorderly conduct, requiring them to find bail in $1,000 each. On Wednesday last Higgins furnished the required bail, while Brady was sent to Blackwell's Island, suffering from his wounds. Judge McCunn said he would hear the case to-morrow morning.

The Charges by the Sheriff upon Attachments.

Before Judge McCunn.

Wooster vs. Weld and Others.—This case, heretofore reported in the HERALD, was an application to settle the amount of legal fees due to the Sheriff for executing two writs of attachment upon the goods of the defendants. The plaintiff objected to the charges made by the Sheriff, as illegal and exorbitant, and appealed to the Court, under the provisions of the Code, to adjust the amount. The Sheriff now abandoned the claim against the plaintiff, having received from the defendants in the suit the legal charges.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Before Recorder Hackett.

The only case disposed of yesterday was a charge of larceny, preferred against Elizabeth Begley, who on the 23d of July stole a set of curtains from Mrs. Sarah Monell. She was convicted of petty larceny and sent to the Penitentiary for three months. The jury was discharged for the term, the Grand Jury of the Oyer and Terminer failing to bring in bills for this court to act upon.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE WEATHER YESTERDAY.—The following record will show the changes in the temperature for the past twenty-four hours in comparison with the corresponding day of last year, as indicated by the thermometer at Hudnut's pharmacy, HERALD Building, Broadway, corner of Ann street:—

MUSIC IN THE PARK.—The Park Commissioners announce that if the weather be fine there will be music on the Mall at the Park this afternoon, commencing at four o'clock.

ACCIDENT ON THE HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD.—Charles Morgan, of No. 254 West Thirty-second street, was yesterday thrown under a car of the Hudson River Railroad, at the corner of Eleventh avenue and Fifty-first street, and had a leg frightfully mutilated. He was removed to Bellevue Hospital.

THE ALLEGED ENGLISH FORGERS.—Superintendent Kennedy yesterday received a cable despatch from England announcing the departure of an officer with the necessary papers to secure the extradition of the alleged forgers, Harwood and Hutcher, held at the Central Office. No further details as to the offence alleged to have been committed were received.

SERIOUS CASUALTIES YESTERDAY.—John Graham, of No. 541 West Fortieth street, was run over and very seriously injured by a truck. John G. Eggleston, of No. 4 Marcy street, Brooklyn, while crossing Roosevelt street ferry, was struck by a whiffletree and sustained severe injuries. Owen McDermot was sent to hospital from Harlem bridge, where he had a leg badly crushed in the "draw."

THE WRONG PASSENGER AROUSED.—About half-past nine o'clock yesterday morning the Superintendent of Police was a passenger on a Third avenue car. At the corner of Canal street and the Bowery car No. 16 of the Canal and East Broadway line attempted to cross, when both drivers whipped up their horses to make the crossing. There came very near being a serious collision. The Superintendent sprang from the Third avenue car to the other, when the conductor of the latter got into an altercation with him. Mr. Kennedy seized him by the neck and turned him over to officer Dolan, of the Fourteenth precinct, with orders to take him to headquarters. On the Superintendent's arrival there, between eleven and twelve, he roundly lectured the man and ordered him about his business.

MINOR INQUESTS.—The body of an unknown man was recovered yesterday from the East river, near pier 26, being subsequently removed to the Morgue for inquest by Coroner Rollins. Margaret Killalee, of No. 10 Downing street, died yesterday very suddenly from unknown causes. Coroner Rollins was notified. The remains of an unknown woman were found yesterday in the East river, near Twenty-first street, and taken to the Morgue. Mrs. Ann O'Conner, aged sixty, a native of Ireland, and residing at 71 Washington street, dropped dead yesterday in Rector street from heart disease. Coroner Keenan held an inquest. An unknown woman died suddenly at 510 West Twenty-eighth street yesterday from unknown causes. Coroner Rollins was duly notified.

SUICIDE BY A FEMALE DRUNKARD.—Coroner Rollins held an inquest yesterday over the remains of Mrs. Mary O'Neil, aged twenty-nine, who committed suicide at 223 Third avenue by swallowing Paris green. The deceased had been of intemperate habits and often threatened to seek a suicidal death when in her cups. When her husband returned home on Thursday he found his wife intoxicated, so he put her to bed in one room, while he retired in another. During the night he awoke by the noise of some one falling out of bed, and discovered the deceased on the floor of her room in a dying condition. A saucer containing a spoon and some Paris green was found on the table, and Mary admitted that she had swallowed the poison. A bottle of laudanum was also found in the room. The jury rendered a verdict of suicidal death, as was shown by the evidence adduced.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.—The reports made to the Sanitary Superintendent's office show that the mortality from contagious diseases is on the decrease. Cholera and smallpox cases are of rare occurrence. Yesterday there was one case of the latter reported at No. 13 Sullivan street. Dr. Harris on Thursday night made an unexpected visit to the various establishments between Thirtieth and Fortieth streets, and found the stench worse than at any time this summer. The Board will hold a special meeting at ten o'clock this morning, when it is expected it will give all the establishments sudden and ignominious burial. The President and the Chairman of the Sanitary Committee made an extensive inspection of the streets yesterday, but have not reported the results of their ride. It is, however, understood that they found plenty of room for improvement.

NEW YORK ATHLETIC CLUB.—A well attended meeting of this club was held on the evening of August 4, at Wood's Gymnasium, No. 6 East Twenty-eighth street, Colonel William E. Van Wyck in the chair. Twelve new members were received and a number of new names were proposed for membership. The Committee on Gymnasiums reported, through Mr. J. Lawrence Hutton, that favorable arrangements could be made for the permanent location of the club at Louis W. Maires', No. 20 St. Mark's place, and at John Wood's, the place of the meeting. By a vote the latter place was chosen, and there the club will speedily get to work to be in readiness for the "fall games and exhibitions," such as it will be remembered were given on the 11th of last November at the skating rink on Third avenue and Sixty-fourth street. By the 1st of next month the club will be fully domiciled in its new locality. The committee to inquire into the qualifications of applicants for membership, consisting of Messrs. John H. Van Wyck and P. A. Curtis, Jr., was increased by the addition of Mr. Charles A. Watson. Mr. Francis Kinney, on behalf of the Committee on Outdoor Grounds and Waters, reported favorably on grounds at Ninety-second street and East river, and also at 120th street and East river, but no decision was reached. Messrs. W. E. Van Wyck, George Boahr, F. Kinney, J. R. Babcock, David G. Dorrian, C. A. Watson and H. E. Buermeyer were appointed a committee to revise the constitution and by-laws of the club to meet its present requirements. The club then adjourned.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

ALLEGED FALSE PRETENCES.—Jacob Smith, lately in the employ of Mr. Horace J. Farrington, was yesterday arrested on a charge of false pretences in obtaining upholstery goods of the value of $239 75 from the establishment of Charles M. Foster, No. 205 Canal street, under pretence of having been sent for the same by Mr. Farrington. Upon an affidavit setting forth the above facts the accused was held by Judge Kelly, at the Tombs, to answer the charge.

ACCUSED OF STEALING GLASSWARE.—A man giving his name subsequently as Henry T. Rooney yesterday employed Howard E. Smith, a cartman, to convey three packages of glassware from No. 49 Murray street to No. 35 New Bowery. After starting with the load Smith suspected the goods might have been stolen, and, returning to 49 Murray street, found his suspicions to be correct, and thereupon Rooney was arrested. The prisoner was taken before Judge Kelly, at the Tombs, and committed for examination.

ALLEGED SWINDLING.—Ludwig Levine, a German Jew, who was arrested some time since on a charge of being concerned in a confidence transaction, was yesterday brought before Justice Shandley, charged with an offence of a similar character. The complainant, Moses Barnot, of No. 47 East Broadway, stated that on the 29th of June the prisoner, in company with one Harry Beck, entered the store and offered for sale a quantity of linen which they said they had received from Europe, and for which they asked $100, at the same time stating that its real value was very much more. Barnot declined to purchase, but he was asked to smell of the goods, and after placing his nose to the linen he became so dizzy and confused that he was persuaded to pay the money asked. The goods were found to be almost worthless. Levine gave bail to answer.

DARING THEFT OF MONEY.—A well dressed and genteel looking young man, giving his name as Joseph Wood, was yesterday arraigned before Justice Shandley, at Essex Market Police Court, on a charge of stealing a large sum of money in a very daring manner. Mr. Hayward, who does business as a provision dealer at Nos. 49 and 51 First street, stated that during his absence from his place of business at dinner hour three young men entered his store and commenced a conversation with the man who had been left in charge of the premises. One of the trio brought a note addressed to a Mr. Cleveland (who is a son-in-law to Hayward), and while talking with the other two visitors the young man Wood went towards the desk. When the clerk looked round he noticed Wood opening the desk, and on looking into it he saw that a quantity of parcels of fractional currency had been removed therefrom. He laid hold of Wood and took from his pockets several bundles of stamps and a check, of the total value of $372. Just at this time Mr. Hayward entered, and being informed of the circumstance spoke to the prisoner, when, as alleged, he admitted the theft, pleaded for mercy, and produced the key with which he had opened the desk. The other two men had by this time disappeared. Wood was detained until officer Pettit, of the Seventeenth precinct, came in and arrested him. The envelope addressed to Mr. Cleveland was opened and found to contain only a blank sheet of paper. When brought before Justice Shandley the young man professed entire ignorance of the affair. He was locked up until this morning, when the clerk who detected the theft will be examined.

QUARANTINE.

Another Death from Yellow Fever—The Vessels from Rio Janeiro, St. Domingo and Key West Ominous.

There have been no new arrivals of vessels with yellow fever on board since Monday last. Dr. Reid, the Deputy Health Officer, is, however, in possession of certain ominous information relative to the departure of several vessels for this port from various Southern ports where Yellow Jack is having everything his own way, and it is quite likely under the circumstances that before the month of August has come to a close the health officers will have their hands full. The reports from Key West, St. Domingo and all along the Rio Grande are very bad, and indicate that yellow fever and cholera are prevailing in those parts to almost an unprecedented extent. Of course vessels coming from ports in those vicinities are to undergo more than usual inspection on their arrival here.

Information has also been received to the effect that the United States Consuls at Cape Caibarien, Cuba, refuse to give bills of health to vessels leaving there for the United States, owing to the epidemics which prevail in the neighborhood of the ports of departure.

The arrivals from Rio Janeiro still indicate the prevalence of yellow fever in that quarter. The brig Schiump-zu-Lulle, sixty-four days from there, just arrived, reports that she had to leave one of her crew in hospital at Rio. The bark Nyborge, also at quarantine, left her mate in hospital at the same place. It is believed that the men left behind were ill of yellow fever.

John Noyes, the second mate of the bark Gertrude, which arrived from Matanzas on the 3d inst., died yesterday morning in the hospital ship of the fever. Captain Atherton, of the same vessel, who was also prostrated by the disease when the bark arrived here, is now convalescent.

COMMISSIONERS OF EMIGRATION.

Special Meeting of the Commission—Investigation of the Hogan-Van Ness Affair—Sharp Criticism by Mr. O'Gorman.

A special meeting of the Commissioners of Emigration was held yesterday afternoon. Messrs. Hall and Kalbfleisch, the Mayors of New York and Brooklyn, and ex officio members of the Commission, were also present. The chief object of the meeting was to investigate the late fisticuffian performances in which Judge Hogan and Mr. Van Ness, both agents of rival railroad lines, lately engaged on Broadway, near Bowling Green, to the great delight of the spectators. Mr. Loutrel was for a thorough and fair investigation, hoping that each party would be afforded an opportunity to clear himself. Mr. Richard O'Gorman said that he thought the only question before the Board was the confirmation of Mr. Van Ness as a recognized agent in Castle Garden of his railway company. As to the difficulty between him and Judge Hogan Mr. O'Gorman said the Board had no authority to raise an investigation, since it was a personal affair only between them and had no connection with their duties at Castle Garden. He was opposed to the confirmation of Mr. Van Ness, as that gentleman had formerly been suspended because he had sold railway tickets in Europe, which practice is detrimental to the best interests of the emigrants. Mr. Smith was of a different opinion. The two persons concerned represented two great companies which transport very many emigrants to the West, and he believed it the duty of the Board, in order to protect these people, to investigate the affair in order to judge of the character of the two. Mayor Hall denied the jurisdiction of the Board to go into this investigation, and after some further debate he moved that the previous resolution for an investigation be rescinded. The motion was seconded by Mr. O'Gorman and unanimously carried. A motion of Mr. O'Gorman that the two Mayors be added to the committee to investigate the abuses at Castle Garden was afterwards withdrawn, and the Board adjourned.

SINGULAR NITRO-GLYCERINE EXPLOSION.

[From the Titusville (Pa.) Herald, August 4.]

One of the most extraordinary accidents which it has been our province to chronicle occurred at the "Salt Well," Scrubgrass, on Friday afternoon, and resulted in the death of George W. Fetterman, which was briefly alluded to in Saturday's issue, and the serious wounding of two other persons. From the reports of the affair which we have heard it appears that the unfortunate man above named procured on Monday last, for the purpose of oiling engines, a quantity of thick fluid, which, from the color, he supposed to be lard oil, but which, as the sequel proved, was really that dangerous explosive, nitro-glycerine. He used it as a lubricator on the engine at the "Salt Well," and also on another engine, from Monday until Friday afternoon. Strange as it may appear the nature of the fluid was not suspected during all the time, although it was remarked by some one, who was curious enough to taste it, that it was singularly sweet for lard oil. However, about three o'clock on Friday afternoon, as the man named was oiling the gudgeon of the sand pump pulley, which was revolving with great rapidity, a terrific explosion occurred. Fetterman was blown some distance and instantly killed. He was mutilated almost beyond recognition. The flesh was literally torn from his limbs, and one-half of his head was blown off. His brother James and a man named D. McNally, who were standing near by, were thrown violently to the earth. They were both much bruised. The former was wounded in the chest, thigh and groin by pieces of the can in which the glycerine had been kept, and other splinters, and the latter was struck in the face by a piece of tin. Their injuries are not considered dangerous. The force of the explosion drove pieces of the can and splinters in all directions, and also blew three or four boards off the engine house. One piece of tin was driven entirely through a four-inch post

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY, August 6—6 P. M.

With the exception of the stock market, which exhibited moderate animation, the markets in Wall street to-day were exceedingly dull and devoid of interest. Money continues to be in free supply, with more offerings on governments than there is any call for even at as low a figure as five per cent, the ruling rate on good collaterals being six per cent. Discounts continue to range between seven and nine per cent, with the bulk of business between these figures.

Gold opened at 136⅜, advanced to 136½, reacted to 136 shortly after noon, recovering soon, however, to 136⅛, at which figure it remained steady up to the adjournment of the board, in an exceedingly quiet market. Subsequently, upon the statement of engagements having been made for heavy shipments of specie to-morrow, amounting, it is said, to $464,000, there was a shade more activity, and the price rallied to 136¼, at which figure it stood at the close of business. The disbursements of coin interest to-day amount to $74,245. The transactions of the Gold Exchange Bank were:—Gross clearings, $51,965,000; gold balances, $2,021,088; currency balances, $2,755,884.

10 A. M.	136⅜	1 P. M.	136⅛
10:05 A. M.	136½	2 P. M.	136⅛
11 A. M.	136⅛	3 P. M.	136⅛
12 M.	136¼	4 P. M.	136⅛
12:25 P. M.	136	5 P. M.	136¼

From 5½ to 6½c. per cent were paid for carrying before Clearing House time, and subsequently 4 per cent.

Foreign exchange is firmer upon a less supply of commercial bills and additional caution in accepting those offered, consequent upon the recent failure. Prime bankers', sixty days, has advanced to 110⅛. We quote:——Sterling, sixty days, commercial, 109¼ a 109⅝; good to prime bankers', 109⅞ a 110⅛; short sight, 110⅜ a 110⅝; Paris, sixty days, 5.18¾ a 5.14⅜; short sight, 5.13¾ a 5.12½; Antwerp, 5.18¾ a 5.15; Switzerland, 5.18¾ a 5.15; Hamburg, 35½ a 36; Amsterdam, 40¼ a 40⅜; Frankfort, 40¼ a 40⅞; Bremen, 78⅛ a 79¼; Prussian thalers, 70⅛ a 71¼.

The government market was quiet throughout the day, with light offerings and a practical decline in prices, referrible principally to this dulness. Prominent houses report a continued inquiry for currency sixes, with offers to exchange five-twenties for these bonds. A leading query in an evening paper recently in regard to the amount of first mortgage bonds issued by the Pacific railroad companies under that clause of the law authorizing such issue, which empowered them to "issue, respectively, their bonds to the extent of one hundred miles in advance of a continuous completed line of construction," has called forth a card from the financial agents of the Central Pacific road. It is therein stated, in regard to that road, "that no such bonds have been issued in advance of the completed line of their road," and further, "that the aggregate of first mortgage bonds issued is less than the amount authorized under the law, and less than the amount of government six per cent bonds issued to them. When the loan was withdrawn from the market in April last the company had on hand, and still have, a large amount of bonds unsold." Importations by foreign bankers of small amounts of ten-forties and '81's are reported, the former probably induced by the offer of the Secretary to exchange for five-twenties. At five o'clock the market closed steady at the following figures:—United States sixes, 1881, registered, 124¾ a 125; do. do., coupon, 124¾ a 125; do. five-twenties, registered, 123⅜ a 123⅝; do. do., coupon, 1862, 125 a 125⅛; do. do., coupon, 1864, 123¾ a 124; do. do., coupon, 1865, 123¾ a 124; do. do., coupon, new, 1865, 122⅜ a 122½; do. do., coupon, 1867, 122⅜ a 122¾; do. do., coupon, 1868, 122⅜ a 122½; do. ten-forties, registered, 112¼ a 112½; do. do., coupon, 116 a 116⅛; currency bonds, 111⅛ a 111¼.

The result of the election in Tennessee promising an early payment of the interest due on the State bonds caused an active movement in these securities to-day, the new bonds advancing on the first call to 56, against 54¾ a 55 yesterday afternoon. These were the feature of the list; but their activity produced a steadier feeling in the others, which continued firm through the day, although quiet. The market closed as follows:—Tennessee, ex coupon, 62 a 63; do., new, 56 a 56¼; Virginia, ex coupon, 59 a 59½; do., new, 61 a 62; Georgia sixes, 83 a 84; do., sevens, 91 a 93; North Carolina, ex coupon, 56⅛ a 57; do., new, 51 a 51½; Missouri sixes, 87 a 88; Louisiana sixes, 70 a 72; do., levee sixes, 64 a 64½; do., levee eights, 84 a 86; Alabama eights, 93 a 93½; South Carolina sixes, 64 a 65; do., new, 61 a 62; city Memphis sixes, 49 a 49¾.

In the stock market the speculative interest of the street continues to be directed to the Western shares, which were quite active to-day in Lake Shore, Northwestern, St. Paul and Rock Island. The former advanced to 110, involving thereby, it is stated, the failure of a small operator on the "bear" side who was short 1,200 shares, which were bought in for his account. Northwestern sold up to 90, buyer three days, for the common and 97⅝ for the preferred, continuing firm to the close. St. Paul sold at 83¼ for common and 90⅞ for preferred, closing stronger. Rock Island was more irregular, and ranged between 116⅛ and 117⅛. The Vanderbilt shares were dull and heavy most of the day, but became more active after the second call, and were stronger at the close. In the miscellaneous list Pacific Mail was the only active stock, and ranged, on extreme figures, between 83⅜ and 85¼, closing about midway between these figures. The expresses were dull and steady, without features. The market was generally strong at the close of business. The following were the prices on the second call:—Canton, 59½ a 61; Cumberland, 34¾ a 36; Western Union, 38⅜ a 39; Quicksilver, 15½ a 16; Mariposa, 7½ a 9; do. preferred, 15½ a 16¼; Pacific Mail, 84 a 84¼; Boston Water Power, 15 bid; Adams Express, 59½ a 60; Wells-Fargo Express, 20⅛ a 20⅜; American Express, 41 a 41⅞; United States Express, 67½ bid; Merchants' Union Express, 10 bid; New York Central, 208⅛ a 208⅜; Hudson River, 183 a 183½; Harlem, 164 a 165; Reading, 97 a 97⅛; Michigan Central, 132½; Lake Shore, 109⅛ a 109⅜; Illinois Central, 141⅛ a 141⅞; Cleveland and Pittsburg, 107⅛ a 108; Chicago and Northwestern, 88⅛ a 88⅜; do. preferred, 97⅜ a 97½; Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati, 74; Rock Island, 116⅞ a 116¾; Milwaukee and St. Paul, 82¼ a 82¾; do. preferred, 90⅜; Toledo and Wabash, 74⅜ a 74⅞; do. preferred, 80; Fort Wayne, 153¼ a 153⅜; Alton and Terre Haute, 34 a 36; do. preferred, 58⅝ a 59; Ohio and Mississippi, 32¼ a 32⅞; Delaware and Lackawanna, 112½ bid; New Jersey Central, 104¾ a 105; Chicago and Alton, 164 a 166½; Morris and Essex, 88 bid; Hannibal and St. Joseph, 126¼ a 126½; do. preferred, 125 a 125½; Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central, 34 a 37.

The following were the bids for city bank stocks to-day:—New York, 130; Manhattan, 135; Merchants', 127; Mechanics', 140; America, 143; City, 201; Phenix, 110; Tradesmen's, 150; Fulton, 158; National, 114; Merchants' Exchange, 117; Leather Manufacturers', 183½; Seventh Ward, 112; State of New York, 112; Commerce, 125; Ocean, 101; American Exchange, 114; Chatham, 156; Bank of the Republic, 118; Irving, 108; Metropolitan, 136; Nassau, 105; Shoe and Leather, 140; Continental, 99½; Importers and Traders', 134; Park, 165; Central National, 110; Fourth National, 104¼; Ninth National, 111; Tenth National, 100; Oriental, 155; Gold Exchange, 138; Bankers and Brokers' Association, 109.

COMMERCIAL REPORT.

FRIDAY, August 6—6 P. M.

BEESWAX was steady, with sales of 5,000 lbs. at 43c. a 47c. for Western and Southern.

BUILDING MATERIALS.—The market for most articles coming under this classification was quiet, but prices generally were steady. Eastern spruce was in fair demand, but with large offerings. The market was heavy and prices were somewhat lower. The sales were about 1,000,000 feet at from $18 to $22, the latter price for choice schedules. Laths were in good demand and firm, with sales of 1,000,000 at $2 70 a $2 75, the market closing at the latter price. Rosendale cement was in fair request at $2, while lime was steady at $1 15 for common and $1 75 for lump. Bricks were quiet but unchanged in value.

COPPER.—The market for ingot was unusually active and a shade firmer, closing strong at 22½c. a 22⅝c. for all kinds. The sales, which were chiefly to one firm, were 3,500,000 lbs. Lake, on the spot and for September delivery, at 22c. a 22½c., the latter price for September. Telegraphic advices from Liverpool to-day quote Chile pig £67 per ton.

COTTON.—The low grades were in improved demand for export and held with firmness, while the better grades were but little sought after, but unchanged in value. For future delivery the market was active and firm. The sales were 1,940 bales (including 125 to arrive), of which 888 were for export, 595 for spinning and 457 on speculation. The sales for future delivery were as follows:—500 bales, basis low middling, for January, at 26⅝c.; 300 do., for December and January, at 27⅛c.; 50 do., for the last half October, at 29c.; 500 do. for January, 950 do. for December, and 100 average low middling, for December, on private terms. We append the current quotations:—

	Uplands and Florida.	Mobile and Memphis.	New Orleans and Texas.

COFFEE.—For Rio the market was quiet, but in prices there was no change. Other kinds were quiet but unchanged. Sales, 100 bags Laguayra at 17c., gold, duty paid. We quote:—Rio—Ordinary cargoes, 13½c. a 14c.; fair do., 14½c. a 15c.; good do., 15½c. a 16½c.; prime do., 16½c. a 17c.; extremes for lots, 13½c. a 17½c.; Java, 22c. a 25c.; Singapore, 20c. a 22½c.; Ceylon, 17½c. a 19½c.; Maracaibo, 16½c. a 19c.; Laguayra, 16½c. a 18.; Jamaica, 15c. a 16c.; Costa Rica, 15c. a 18½c.; Manila, 16c. a 18½c.; Mexican, 16c. a 18c., and Savanilla, 14½c. a 18c., all gold, duty paid.

CORDAGE.—Manila was quiet but prices were steady at 23c. a 24c.

CANDLES.—The market was inactive but full prices prevailed. We quote:—Adamantine 18c. a 23c., sperm 48c., and patent, 58c.

COCOA was dull and nominal at 10½c. a 11c., gold, for Guayaquil in bond, and 26c. a 27c., do., for Maracaibo do.

COOPERAGE STOCK.—The market was still quiet but prices were unchanged. We quote:—Sugar shooks, 88 inch heads, $3 a $3 10; sugar do., 36 do., $2 40 a $2 80; molasses do., 32 do., $2 60 a $2 80; rum do., $5 25 a $5 50; box do., $8; pipe do., $6 50 a $7; hoops, 14 feet, $45 a $50, and hoops, 12 feet, $40 a $45.

DYEWOODS.—Logwood remained scarce and firm at about $34, currency, for St. Domingo, and $26 50, gold, for Jamaica. Fustic continued to rule dull and nominal at $30 a $31, gold, for Cuba, and $18 a $21, do., for other kinds.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.—Receipts, 9,146 bbls. flour, 850 bags corn meal, 46,081 bushels wheat, 28,600 do. corn, 128,464 do. oats and 1,825 do. malt. The flour market was steady under a good demand for extra State for shipment. The higher grades were quiet. California flour was dull. The sales were about 17,000 bbls., including 10,000 bbls. extra State, at $6 70 a $7—mainly at $6 90. Southern flour was dull but unchanged. The sales were 750 bbls. Rye flour was in moderate demand and steady in value. Sales 350 bbls. Corn meal was dull but unchanged. Sales 200 bbls. We quote:—

—Wheat was dull and heavy, owing in part to the scarcity of freight room. The sales were confined to about 110,000 bushels at about $1 48 a $1 53 for soft No. 2 spring, $1 55 a $1 56 for choice, $1 52 for fair do. in store, $1 66½ for new amber Ohio and Michigan, $1 70 for amber Kentucky, $1 52 a $1 55 for red Western, $1 75 for California, $1 80 for white Michigan and white Kentucky on private terms; included in the sales are 10,000 bushels choice Tennessee, to arrive, at $1 75. Corn was scarce, and, with a good demand, prices advanced 2c. a 3c.; the sales were 80,000 bushels at $1 12½ a $1 14 for the best new Western mixed, and 70c. a $1 10 for damp and unsound do. Oats were steady, with sales of 40,000 bushels at 80½c., 81c. for prime old Western, 72c. a 75c. for Southern and 70c. a 73c. for Jersey. Rye was quiet, but steady, at about $1 30 for both State and Western. Barley and barley malt were dull and nominal.

FREIGHTS.—The market was quiet, the offerings being light, but rates generally were steady. The chartering business was quiet, though there was still a fair inquiry for petroleum vessels. The engagements were:—To Liverpool, 3,000 bbls. flour at 1s. 10½d., 30 hhds. tobacco at 17s. 6d., and per steamer, 15,000 bushels wheat at 8½d., 7,500 do. do. at 8¾d., 700 bbls. flour at 2s. 6d.; 4,500 boxes cheese at 40s., and 250 boxes bacon at 35s. To Hamburg, per steamer, 1,500 bbls. rosin at 2s., 150 packages tallow at 16s. a 20s., and 2,000 boxes extract logwood at 22s. 6d. The charters were:—A Norwegian bark to Vigo with 1,400 bbls. petroleum, at 5s. 6d.; an American bark, 2,300 bbls., capacity, to the Windward, at 60c.; a North German bark to Dublin direct, with 3,300 quarters grain at 5s. 6d.; an American ship (not previously reported) to Alicante with 800 hhds. tobacco at 30l; a British brig, 2,200 bbls. capacity, to Jamaica and back; a bark to the continent with 2,600 bbls. petroleum; a British bark to a direct port in the United Kingdom with 2,000 bbls. do.; a British ship with 8,000 bbl's. do. to the continent, and a bark to Cork for orders, with 2,500 bbls. do., all on terms we were requested not to publish.

GUNNIES continued to rule dull and nominal at 16c. a 17c. for bags and 23c. a 23½c. for cloth.

HOPS.—The demand was a trifle more active, though the market was still called dull. The sales were about 100 bales, within the range of 7c. a 15c.

HEMP.—We heard of no sales of any description. Prices were nominal at 12½c., gold, for Manila; 4c. a 4½c., do., for jute; 9½c. a 9¾c., do., for Sisal, and 7½c. a 8c., do., for Tampico, in bond.

HAY was in active demand at previous prices. We quote:—Shipping, 60c.; retail lots, 90c. a $1 20; long rye straw, $1 40 a $1 50, and short do., $1 05 a $1 10.

HIDES.—The market was quiet, but prices were steady at former quotations. We quote:—Buenos Ayres, 21 a 23 lbs., 21½c. a 22c., gold; do. 25 a 27 lbs., 21c.; do., seconds, 20 a 22 lbs., 19c. a 19½c.; Montevideo, 20 a 23 lbs., 20½c. a 21½c.; Corrientes, 21 a 23 lbs., 20c.; Rio Grande, 20 a 21 lbs., 21c. a 21½c.; Orinoco, 20 a 23 lbs., 20c. a 21c.; California, 21 a 25 lbs., 19½c. a 20c.; Central American, 18 a 22 lbs., 18c. a 19c.; San Juan, 21 a 23 lbs., 16½c. a 17c.; Matamoros, 23 a 25 lbs., 16c. a 17c.; Vera Cruz, 18 a 19 lbs., 18c. a 18½c.; Tampico, 20 a 22 lbs., 18c. a 19c.; Porto Cabello, 20 a 23 lbs., 16½c. a 18c., and Texas, 21 a 26 lbs., 20½c. a 22c., currency.

IRON.—Scotch pig was slow of sale, the demand being light, but prices were steady at $38 for Eglinton ex ship, $39 for Glengarnock do. and $40 for Gartsherrie do. There were sales of 100 tons Glengarnock at $39, and 150 do. Coltness on private terms. For American the market was without activity, business still being restricted by the firmness of sellers, who demanded $41 a $42 for No. 1, and $39 a $40 for No. 2. We only heard of sales of 200 tons Crane at $41, and 100 do. Allentown at the same price; 200 tons double-headed rails were disposed of at a private price. Refined bar was quiet but steady at $85 a $90. Rails, though quiet, were firm at $56 50, gold, for English, and $74 a $76, currency, for American.

LEAD.—Ordinary foreign was quoted $6 30, gold, without sales.

LEATHER.—Hemlock sole was quiet, and with fair receipts the market was heavy and prices were ½c. lower for middle and light weights, which composed the bulk of the arrivals. Heavy was scarce and higher, while damaged of prime selection and quality was tolerably active at steady prices. Both oak and rough were dull, but unchanged. We quote:—

ROBBERY OF THE MAIL ON LONG ISLAND.

Disappearance of the Huntington (L. I.) Letter Bag—It is Found Rifled in the Bushes Near Hicksville.

On last Thursday morning the half-past eight o'clock train from Hunter's Point, on the Long Island Railroad, took out, in charge of the regular mail agent, the entire morning mail from New York for points along the railroad. At Hicksville the mail bags destined for Syosset, Huntington, Northport, Centre Port, Cold Spring Harbor and Oyster Bay are left in the charge of the postmaster of Hicksville to await the arrival of the train which leaves the depot at Hunter's Point at half-past ten A. M. and takes up this way mail at Hicksville and distributes it at the post offices along the Syosset branch road. On Thursday morning last the mail agent on the half-past eight o'clock A. M. train delivered these bags as usual into the charge of the Hicksville postmaster. When the same train yesterday reached Greenport the mail agent received a despatch from the postmaster at Huntington inquiring for the whereabouts of his letter bag of Thursday, as he had only received the bag containing the newspapers. The agent answered the despatch at once that he had left the bag in question at the station at Hicksville as usual, to be forwarded from thence to its destination. When the train on its return trip halted at Jamaica the mail agent learned to his surprise that one of the railroad trackmen while passing along the road on a tour of inspection had found the missing mail bag secreted in the bushes near the track, about half a mile west of Hicksville. The bag was burst open and a number of letters it contained were strewn about on the ground around the place. This is all that is known of the case so far. It is believed by those who appear to know the manner in which the Hicksville postmaster transacts his business that, as it has often been noticed before, the mail bags were left on the platform of the station, and that before the arrival of the train to take them one of the many roughs and sports who frequent Long Island during the summer season thought he would improve the opportunity by "doing an extra job," and picked out and carried away the Huntington letter bag. This, however, is only surmise at present, and nothing definite is yet known except the fact of the robbery as given above.

The Journal Officiel of Paris has got into a scrape by publishing the decree of the prorogation of the Corps Législatif before it was announced to the Deputies. The managing editor consequently loses his place.

THE ROCKLAND COUNTY MYSTERY.

Continuation of the Coroner's Inquest—Result of the Chemical Analysis.

The continuation of the inquest before Coroner John Quackenbush, of Rockland county, in this State, to inquire into the cause of the death of Mrs. Sophia L. Nickerson, of Clarksville, N. Y., in August, 1868, suspected of being poisoned, was continued at Haverstraw on Thursday evening and yesterday morning. There were present many witnesses and interested persons, conspicuously being Mr. Nathan B. Nickerson, against whom had been raised suspicions of the blackest hue. Professor Doremus, who made a chemical analysis of the stomach, intestines, liver and kidneys of the deceased, testified that there was no evidence that she died of poison. Facts deduced point to a complete vindication and the clearing away of all the innuendoes raised against the husband of the dead woman. The evidence is as follows:—

TESTIMONY OF JACOB HENGGELER, M. D.

Dr. Jacob Henggeler, being duly sworn, testified as follows:—I reside at Clarksville, Rockland county; am a practising physician, and was on the 17th of August last; I knew Sophia L. Nickerson during her lifetime; I treated her as a physician during her sickness; I was called and attended her from June 25 to August 14, 1868; during that time I visited her house four times, but "the last visit she came to see me," August 14; she thought she could bear the fatigue of the ride to my office, and consequently came to me, reporting herself "smart" when she entered the room; in examining her I found she was as she stated, "smart;" August 17, the following Monday, I was sent for in a hurry to come and see Mrs Nickerson, the messenger saying that "she was very sick and dying;" this was in the early morning, between two and four o'clock; I immediately repaired to her residence and found her greatly prostrated, having a very quick and feeble pulse; her countenance had the appearance of great distress; eyes sunken in her head; she complained of great pain in the region of the stomach and bowels, which was increased on pressure; her hands were cold and her face in a clammy perspiration; at ten o'clock in the forenoon she rallied somewhat from the shock, but I could not tell the cause of her sickness at that time; afterwards, when better, I observed the following symptoms:—Constant and excessive vomiting, mostly of a greenish matter; difficulty in swallowing, burning feeling in the stomach, great restlessness, tossing her hands about and rolling from one end of the bed to the other; there was great nervous irritation, which was the most or one of the most frequent symptoms for many days in her sickness—up to the 26th of August—but the other symptoms before noticed accompanied it; this nervous irritation amounted at times to hysteria, it was so great; among the symptoms were that Mrs. Nickerson wiped her mouth constantly with her handkerchief; she could not get it clean or clear; great thirst and heat of the body; she wanted all the doors and windows thrown open, as she could not get cool air enough; on the 24th of August the condition of her stomach commenced to improve; three days following the deceased was "smart;" when I went to see her that morning I found her asleep; she said, after awakening, "that she had slept some last night and kept some chicken tea upon her stomach, both for the first time since the commencement of her illness;" she was better; I found her pulse was at eighty, nervous system quiet and composed; she had no pain or soreness in the stomach or abdomen; she felt stronger and greatly encouraged; I told her and the family that she "would get well if she continued to improve so rapidly;" but next day, August 28, I was surprised to find her worse; she complained of great prostration again, and had a weak and feeble pulse, distressed countenance and sunken eyes; complained again of great pain in the stomach, also complained of intense burning feeling there, using the expression at the time "I am all burning up inside"; she again referred to her excessive vomiting, the ejections from her stomach were mostly of the color of coffee grounds; she passed also very foetid black stools, with great pain (tenismus); a great desire to take the stool; her bowels were exceedingly sore at the touch; the mouth, throat, tongue, lips, inside of her cheeks, and in fact everything in sight was greatly inflamed and covered with a white thrush; the whole alimentary canal from the throat to the rectum was entirely burned up; the great thirst continued, but she could not swallow anything, even the mildest nourishment; she also complained of numbness in her arms and lower extremity; on the 25th of August, the day before her death, irritation of the uterinary organs set in; I also observed the patient was in a high state of mental excitement, this particularly during the first of her sickness, as if there were something on her mind that worried her; after the relapse referred to she was almost constantly wiping her mouth; on the 29th of August, when I last saw her, she was sinking very rapidly, and she died the next morning.

Coroner—What did you prescribe for her?

A. On the 17th of August I left her two Dover's powders, composed of four grains each, which are composed of opium, sulphate of potash and ipecac.

By a Juror—There is less than one-half ounce of opium in each powder. They are made up from a rule.

Doctor—At the second visit, three o'clock in the forenoon of the same day, I left three powders, each containing four grains Dover's powders and one-quarter grain calomel; the powders were compounded the same as before; she begged me not to give her any morphine, so I prescribed the small quantity of Dover's powders; the next visit I prescribed the gum of assafoetida for her, and told her to keep it in reservation, in case of need of nervousness; on the 18th I gave her a prescription for a mixture of tincture of valerian, one ounce; compound spirits of lavender, one ounce and a half; Hoffman's anodyne, four drams; extract of hyceamus, one scruple; simple syrup, one ounce; on the 20th I gave her tincture of valerian, one ounce; the compound spirits of lavender and tincture of hops, of each one ounce and a half; Hoffman's anodyne, six drams; simple syrup, one ounce; on the same evening I left her a Dover's powder of five grains, compounded as before; on the 21st I left her another Dover's powder for the night, as the family had not obtained the last prescribed mixture; on the 23d I took to her in a bottle a mixture of sulphate of soda, four grains, and simple syrup, half an ounce, with direction to take one-half a teaspoonful every half hour; on the 24th of August I gave her a prescription, as follows:—Sulphate of quinine, one scruple and a half (thirty grains); diluted sulphuric acid, thirty drops; peppermint water and syrup of cinnamon, each one ounce and a half; and at the same time gave another prescription for twenty-five assafoetida pills; when the relapse came on I left her a wash, composed of two grains nitrate of silver and one ounce of water, to be used locally, for a sore mouth; the following day I prescribed carbonate of ammonia, one scruple; mucilage of gum arabic, one and a half ounces; simple syrup, one ounce, and tincture of musk, two drams; the same day I ordered an injection composed of either oak bark, water and laudanum, or alum and laudanum; during her relapse I ordered a blister for her stomach; they obtained blistering salve from some other party than I suggested; they did not go to a drug store, but went to Dr. Harring (laughter from the ladies in the room); I did not give her any other medicine than what I have stated above; if these prescriptions that I ordered had been administered aright they would not have destroyed the life of Mrs. Nickerson, in my opinion; none of the medicine I left her could destroy human life. I never saw the remains of Mrs. Nickerson after her burial; I could not account for the symptoms that were visible with her in any natural way; poison would produce them; she had all such marked symptoms; the poison that would produce them is a mineral irritant; arsenic would produce them; I suppose the bi-chloride of mercury would also produce such symptoms, but it would be attended with "salivation," which she did not have; in my opinion she could not have died from the effects of bi-chloride of mercury; cannot now remember of any other poison that would produce them; in fact, don't know of any substance that would bring on her symptoms but arsenic; this has the property of preserving all the muscular tissues of the body after death; the effect of the introduction of arsenical poison in her system would produce the irritation of the kidneys and bladder—that is, its absorption from the stomach—and would produce and without doubt did lead to her affection noticed during her illness. In my opinion Mrs. Nickerson died from the overtasking of her kidneys, caused by the absorption of poison from her stomach; they were required to do too much and became conjested; this was the cause of her uterinary affection; during her illness I proposed three times a consultation of physicians, both to her husband and to herself; she did not want any consultation, stating at the time she had confidence in me; on Tuesday, the 25th of August, at my proposition of consultation with physicians, she became very nervous and angry, and I feared she would go into hysteria; nothing would quiet her nerves at this period all I could do until I told her "all I wanted to know was to find out if she had any confidence in me" (laughter); I think that she did not want the consultation of other doctors for fear that the real cause of her sickness might be known by another medical man (excitement); on the 17th of August (Monday), when I first went to see Mrs. Nickerson the two Misses Stevens and her husband were present; they were there subsequently, and frequently there at times when I called; I never saw any medicine in any shape administered to her during my several visits; soon after Mrs. Nickerson's death her husband called upon me to pay his bill; I told him that I had not made it out, but I would soon, and sometime see him on the road and give it him. "No," he said, "leave it at —— store;" on the 6th of October, 1867, I met him there, and having found my bill, in looking over my books, to be $38, told him I would take $28 and give him a receipt; he showed me a $50 greenback, and afterwards changed it, gave me what I asked, and I handed him the receipt; so soon as this was done Mr. Nickerson asked me, "Doctor, what was the matter with my wife?" I responded, "Well, you know she was very sick that Monday morning you sent for me, but got better; she had a relapse and died of great prostration." Nickerson rejoined "Is that all?" He then went on, but said "you did not know what ailed my wife; you killed her; if there is anybody else around here that wants to be killed they should call on you and you will kill them; I would not have you to doctor a sick cat, as you would kill it." (Excessive laughter.)

Counsel for the Coroner—Doctor, if you know anything in relation to the conduct of Mr. Nickerson towards his wife, by her bedside and at home generally, that is, tending to make her life unhappy, state it?

Doctor—Well, Nickerson, while I attended his wife, never asked me whether she would get well; on the 17th of August, when I called, he would not go to her bedside, as is the case generally with friends, and he would not answer any of my questions; no one in the house would tell me what made her sick, and I was in great ignorance; all seemed to have an unwillingness to refer to the matter; I pressed my questions in this respect to such an extent that Mrs. Nickerson at last turned to me and said, "I have had such turns before, doctor;" I found out that none ever had been so severe as this one; she was so feeble she could not really explain the character of her attack; at this time, as her husband was standing beside me, I turned to him and said, "I understand your wife has had such attacks before, has she?" to which question he refused an answer, and went away; Mr. Nickerson also refused to go after medicine; he would not go after the blister to Nyack; he seemed to think it too much trouble; the blister I was determined his wife should have, and then he asked me if "I could not get it at —— store;" told him "no;" afterwards I made the blister myself from old material, but it was of no account; he then got some salve from Dr. Haring, and I did not want him to—(suppressed laughter); Mr. Nickerson never complained of the medical treatment of his wife during her life, neither did she; it was seldom that I could see Mr. Nickerson when I called at the house; it seemed as he avoided me; when he would open the door during my calls he always treated me uncivilly; would look scornfully at me; on the 29th of August, the day before her death, I put a small teaspoonful of brandy in a half tumbler of water, sweetened, and put half a teaspoonful on Mrs. Nickerson's tongue, but her husband came and took the tumbler out of my hands and scolded me for giving the brandy and water to her; on the 6th of October when I saw him he said I had given her medicine to "burn her throat, mouth, stomach, and that was the cause of her great pain and soreness"—.

A Voice—Very likely.

Doctor—And he said that the "miserable manner that I had treated his wife would kill me out of my practice, and soon I would have to run away"—.

A Voice—And that's likely, too.

Doctor—He also frequently called me in——store. "What ailed his wife?" I told him in putting him off, "that I would tell him some time," but not then; again on the street he asked me and shook his fist at me, as if he would say that I was an "ignorant man," as if he knew "I was a big fool;" he also told me sneeringly that I could not "see before three o'clock in the morning;" I wrote him a letter at one time after the death of his wife, stating that my impressions were at the time that the cause of her sickness was "grief and trouble," but it did not satisfy me at all, because I had observed unpleasant feelings between them at times; I soon after saw him, and as he did not answer my letter I began to reflect, and then was led to believe that there were distinct traces of poison in the case; then my mind was made to "work up" the case as best I could; at first I went to the Misses Stevens, but they would not give me any information; they spoke about the letter, and did not feel very pleasantly about my sending it; they would not listen to me at all, and declined saying anything about Mr. Nickerson; on a corner of a street in Clarkstown, during the latter part of October, last year, I met Mr. Nickerson; he looked at me and I at him; he said, "Do you see anything green?" "Yes," I returned, "I see somebody very green and stupid."

Coroner—We don't want these personalities; give testimony about the case, his wife, and nothing else but what is relevant thereto.

Doctor—I told him that his wife "had been sick and had died in a very queer and very mysterious way;" I said "I understand her case now; I can see through it, and the more I think of it the clearer it is to my mind;" he said "You stop such talk or I will come and knock you over," and with this threat "made his fist in my face;" as I saw that he meant to execute this threat, I stepped back from him and told him I "should have the matter investigated; that the truth must come out and the guilty party, too; that if I was the guilty person, I wanted to know it;" Mr. Nickerson dropped his head and did not say anything; he did not dare to look at me—(laughter)—and gazed in the opposite direction, and then we separated.

By counsel for the Coroner—I was not acquainted with any member of the Nickerson family until the latter part of May, 1868.

CAN DR. HENGGELER BE CROSS-EXAMINED?

At this stage of the proceedings Mr. C. P. Hoffman, who had been quietly taking notes of the doctor's testimony, said that he appeared in behalf of Mr. Nickerson and Coroner Sloat, who had been wilfully misrepresented in previous reports of the case. He claimed the privilege of cross-examination of the doctor, as it was due to them that such statements, furnished evidently by Dr. Henggeler, should be fitly characterized; that they were alone actuated by black malice; that the doctor suppressed many important facts within his knowledge, and he had uttered innuendoes which were false, and that he could show, if allowed to speak, that he wanted this opportunity for a full vindication of his clients, and such would be the ultimate result. The counsel for the Coroner denied the right of Mr. Hoffman to speak, and the Coroner sustained the objection.

Isaiah Milburn, the foreman of the jury, then stated that they wished such cross-examination to proceed, and that by Mr. Hoffman, as they desired the whole truth in the case. The Coroner, however, ruled that the request should not be granted.

By a Juror—We want to cross-examine Dr. Henggeler, and under the circumstances, ask you to keep him here in town until we can ——

Coroner—Certainly; Doctor, you will remain here until to-morrow.

A voice—And yes, perhaps longer.

Another voice—Fasten a ball and chain to him; he'll run away with that.

The examination of Dr. Henggeler was then rested.

Mr. Philip Moeller, a druggist of Nyack, who put up all the prescriptions of the preceding witness during his professional attendance upon Mrs. Sophia L. Nickerson, testified that there was a great profusion of padoplylin, peppermint oil, nux vomica, diluted sulphuric acid, iodide of potash, simple syrup, ungh-hydr-nitr and pyrophosphate of iron, with some directions for use.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pye stated under oath that she often visited Mrs. Nickerson during her last illness; that Mr. Nickerson was always very solicitous regarding his wife's health; that at all times there were the greatest manifestations of extreme kindness and consideration between them. Mrs. Pye was corroborated by Mrs. Emma and Maria Campbell and Mrs. Bridget House. Mr. Abraham Merritt, of Nyack, never knew or heard of the Misses Stevens being with Mr. Nickerson after his wife's death or before.

THE TESTIMONY OF MISS MARGARET STEVENS,

who attended the deceased during her sickness, went to show that she administered the medicine as the doctor prescribed it; that the doctor was continually changing the prescriptions and did not seem to know what was the matter with her, saying that her sickness was nervousness and hysterics. Her testimony was taken at length, during which she either explained or contradicted many statements of Dr. Henggeler, which caused excited expressions of interest from the audience. She was fully corroborated by Miss Eliza Stevens. Mr. John I. House also testified that he never saw, knew or heard of the Misses Stevens riding with Mr. Nickerson.

TESTIMONY OF PROFESSOR R. OGDEN DOREMUS.

I received from Coroner Quackenbush portions of remains purporting to be of the body of Mrs. Sophia L. Nickerson, of Clarksville, on the 16th of April last, for analysis—viz., the stomach, intestines, liver, kidneys and portions of muscular tissues—with the request to submit the same to toxocological analysis; the stomach and intestines bore no evidence of irritation by poison, which might be accounted for if poison had been administered owing to the length of time elapsing since the death; the post-mortem appearances of the other organs for the same reason were of no especial value or guide as to the presence or absence of poison; examination was first made for volatile and organic poisons; the first class, which, owing to the lapse of time, would naturally evaporate the alkaloids, such as strychnia, morphia and that class, were searched for in the stomach and intestines, but no evidence of the presence of any of them was obtained; examinations were then instituted for the acid and metallic poisons, but no traces of them were found; very careful analysis was then made of the liver, the kidneys and also the muscular tissues for the metallic poisons, but no evidence obtained of their presence; owing to the fact that the portion of muscle was well preserved unusual care was taken in repeating the experiments for testing the presence of arsenic, but none was obtained; if arsenic was the cause of the preservation of the tissue it would exist there in sufficient quantity to enable a chemist to readily detect its presence; I therefore found no chemical evidence of any poison.

This testimony being what was earnestly and greatly wished for by the jurors, an adjournment was immediately had after Dr. Doremus signed his deposition in the case.

THE OCEAN BANK ROBBERY.

The Suicide at Crewe, England.

The article which appeared exclusively in the HERALD yesterday, in relation to the suicide at the railway station at Crewe, England, on the 14th ultimo, has created a great deal of excitement in many circles. The supposition that the person who made away with himself, by throwing himself before a passing train, was one of the parties connected with the robbery of the Ocean Bank, served, no doubt, to throw the shrewd detectives in this city off the track. The perpetrators of that masterly and audacious burglary must have had a good laugh over the fact that the unfortunate individual at Crewe was supposed to be one of their crew, and have felt at the same time more secure from discovery or arrest, as the occurrence in England would throw the officers off the scent.

Yesterday morning Mr. Frederick Leiss, of 55 Broadway, having read the correspondence published exclusively in the HERALD, called at the Mayor's office and recognized, from the photograph in possession of the Mayor, his brother, William Leiss, who left this city early in June. Superintendent Kennedy also called at the Mayor's office and had a consultation and a think over the matter. Several others called, but failed to recognize the likeness. Mr. Leiss will start for Europe immediately, to make further investigations.

THE NEW POST OFFICE.

Work to be Commenced Positively on Next Monday Morning—The Depth of the Cellars to be Governed by the Basement of the Herald Building—Pneumatic Tubes for the Convenience of the Newspaper Offices—The Basement Story to be Completed This Fall, and the Entire Structure to be Finished in 1870.

Mr. A. B. Mullett, the Supervising Architect of the United States Treasury Department, has now completed all the preliminary arrangements for the commencement of the actual work on the new Post Office in this city, and on next Monday morning the plot of ground forming the intended site will be enclosed with a board fence for the exclusion of would-be intruders, the protection of the tools and property, and to secure immunity from annoyance to the workmen. The iron railing at present standing on the property has not yet been purchased, but there are two or three bidders in the field, and an agreement will doubtless be arrived at to-day. As soon as the temporary fence is completed the surface of the ground will be cleared and the excavation of earth for the foundations and cellars will be at once commenced.

Mr. Mullett states that the depth of the basement story, which includes a cellar and sub-cellar, has not yet been positively decided on, but will be about thirty feet, and that the basement of the HERALD building will, in all probability, be the standard depth adopted. He has at least determined to go as deep as the lowest basement or excavation in the vicinity; this step being rendered necessary by the sandy nature of the earth, which would be apt to shift or allow the building to settle, as the superincumbent weight will necessarily be immense. A further reason for this determination also is to guard against any interference from the subterranean borings of proposed or projected underground railroads, several of which schemes, of an unfortunately more or less mythical nature, are at present agitating the minds of corporators and public franchise peddlers. Between 50,000 and 60,000 cubic yards of earth will have to be removed for the basement excavation.

The proposals for furnishing and delivering the granite for the construction of the foundations and basement will not close until the 14th instant, or about two weeks later than the proposals for the purchase of railing, the delivery of cement, excavation, &c., the awards in which latter instances have been announced. This was in consequence of a clerical mistake, but will not materially retard the progress of the work. And in this connection Mr. Mullett desires that it should be understood by contractors making proposals that the deliveries will have to be made to the letter of the agreement, in point of time as well as other requisites, as the government will push the work with all available energy and despatch when once commenced. About 150,000 cubic feet of granite will be required.

It is contemplated and expected that the entire basement story shall be finished flush with the level of the sidewalks during the approaching fall, or at least before the winter fairly sets in, and no failure on the part of contractors in the prompt delivery of material will be overlooked or palliated. If no unforeseen difficulties interpose to delay the work Mr. Mullett proposes to put the roof on in the fall of 1870, and have the building ready for occupancy by the following spring.

A new idea in connection with the building, and one which will not in any way necessitate a change or alteration of the original plans, has just suggested itself, and will no doubt be a great success and convenience if carried out, as it probably will be. The proposition is to construct pneumatic tubes so as to connect the basements of the press and mail rooms of the various newspaper offices with the basement of the Post Office. Small box trucks running on fixed tracks or rails could be laden with the mail editions of the paper, and in a few seconds the carriages could be forced through the tubes by atmospheric pressure, and the papers "dumped" almost at the mouths of the receiving bags. Much valuable time and a vast amount of labor in the handling of these masses of mail matter would be saved in the early morning hours, when time is most precious in the despatch of news, by every train from the [illegible] to all parts of the country. The [illegible] perfectly feasible and certainly ingenious [illegible] mails so conveyed to the Post Office, hav[illegible] assorted, would be placed on elevators and [illegible] the ground floor, as at present intended. [illegible] lars, in addition to occupying the whole su[illegible] area of the site, will be carried out under [illegible] walks as far as the curbstone line.

Mr. Mullett is at present fully occupied [illegible] fact hourly, in interviews with the differ[illegible] tractors and officials on matters relatin[illegible] work, which will until its completion en[illegible] most his entire attention and supervision. [illegible] lic of New York may confidently anticip[illegible] there will be no lost time to be accounted f[illegible] appropriations made by Congress are ampl[illegible] prosecution of the work to an advanced state a[illegible] least, and no hope deferred will make the expectant heart of the people sick, as has been the case with another building in the City Hall Park, which is not yet completed, although nearly a decade of years has passed since it was commenced.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

Harmonic vs. Mutual.

A few days since the Powhatans, from South Brooklyn, played with the Mutuals, at the Union grounds, and in a full game made the very good score of 13 to 20 for the Mutuals. Between the clubs of South Brooklyn there exists a friendly rivalry, and their efforts in contests with professional clubs are put forth with the intention of excelling each other in scoring for themselves and keeping down the score of their opponents. A game was arranged between the Mutuals and Harmonics, of South Brooklyn, to come off yesterday, and the latter were on hand in good season, and no time was lost in getting to work. The ball with which the game was played was a hard, "dead" ball, and the absence of extraordinary liveliness rendered it imperative on the fielders to work sharp, and prevented any display of showy batting. The result was a nicely played game in the majority of the innings. The playing of the Mutual nine was very good. They found early in the game that they could make themselves masters of the situation, but they found also that they need not count on a "sure thing," for in the fourth inning the young Brooklynites batted well for their bases and became quite confident. Then the Mutuals changed around; Norton went in to catch, Swandell to pitch, C. Mills to play short and Wolters left. Then again C. Mills and Wolters changed, the latter going in to short field. On the Mutual side Flanly, E. Mills, Swandell, Hatfield and McMahon, and on the Harmonic side Larkin, Lewis, Fenniman, Brown and Early deserve special mention for good playing in their respective positions. The Harmonics comprise in their nine several players who have figured in some of the leading clubs of South Brooklyn, such as the Star and Mohawk clubs, and can certainly present a good front. They are good batters, very neat and sure fielders, and, with practice, will be enabled to take a leading position in the ranks of the fraternity.

The score of the game is as follows:—

Base Ball Notes.

To-day the Ross Club, of Harlem, will play the Mutuals at the Union grounds, and the Empire and Active second nines will play at the Elysian Fields, Hoboken.

To-morrow night the Atlantics start for Saratoga, where they will play the "Haymakers" on Monday.

The Eckfords also start to-morrow evening on their tour toward the West.

SARATOGA RACES.

Two Races and a Walk Over—Remorseless and General Yorke Winners—Scenes and Incidents of the Day—Decision of the Judges in the Case of the Saratoga Cup Race.

SARATOGA, August 6, 1869.

A New York miss won a bonnet and fifty dollars on the race yesterday, and husbands who withheld cash from their better halves are warned against milliners' bills.

A leading fashionable lady won $5,000 on the first race yesterday and lost it all on the second.

The novelty of the Saratoga meeting having passed away, and Fashion having displayed all her latest styles at the course, the interest in the running has somewhat abated. The throng of people has in nowise diminished, however, and the streets and hotels present the same animated appearance as on the first day of the meeting. There has been a decided improvement in the character of the sporting gentry. The stringent regulations of the association and the exclusion from the grounds of known pickpockets, roughs and other disreputable characters have driven that class almost entirely from the place, and the attendance at the races is characterized by a remarkable degree of respectability. The perfect good order and decorum that have been observed each day are subjects of universal comment. Not a single disturbance has occurred, nor has there been a case of drunkenness on the ground. The road to the grounds has been free from reckless driving and boisterous conduct, and everything has thus far passed off in a manner unusual with occasions of this kind. The only incident that has occurred to ruffle the good feeling hitherto so universally prevailing has been the alleged

of McConnell & Thompson's Vauxhall, by John Ford, in the race for the Saratoga Cup yesterday. This incident took everybody by surprise and for a short time created no little consternation in betting circles, as it was impossible to determine how far the results of the affair might extend. Immediately after the racing the association held a meeting and adopted the following resolution:—

SARATOGA SPRINGS—ANNUAL MEETING OF THE SARATOGA ASSOCIATION.

AUGUST 5, 1869.

IN THE SARATOGA CUP RACE.—In consequence of the fraudulent riding of John Ford, the rider of Vauxhall in the race, it is resolved that all bets, pools or otherwise, on or against Vauxhall, or a field of horses in which Vauxhall is included, are declared off. John Ford, the rider of Vauxhall, is ruled off the course for fraud in riding, and will not be permitted to ride again on the course.

ODIN BOWIE.
F. F. BAYARD.
C. W. WOOLEY.

Great excitement prevailed among the sporting men throughout the afternoon and evening in consequence of the affair, and many comical scenes occurred between parties who had settled bets on Vauxhall before the action of the committee became known. The decisive measures adopted by the association, demonstrating that no dishonest practices would be tolerated, had a marked effect on all the sharpers, and it is now believed that the succeeding races will be free from all attempts at cheating.

THE POOLS

were somewhat affected last night by the Vauxhall incident and were duller than usual. The following were the sales by Dr. Underwood:—

were not so lively as those of the preceding days, and the attendance at the grounds was considerably smaller than on any previous day. The Racing.

The track was in capital order for racing to-day and the weather fine. We had but two races, although there were two purses offered besides the Saratoga Stakes; but one of the purses failed to fill, there being but one entry, and as a matter of course that affair resulted in a walk over. The Saratoga Stakes was for two year olds and had eleven starters. A most capital race was the result, and a finer field of youngsters would be difficult to parade before a critical assemblage. Mr. Belmont had two in the race, Nellie James and Finesse, which are very handsome and promising. Messrs. Dennison & Crawford had also two by Censor, one out of L'Anglaise, and the other out of Pasta, which are splendidly developed for their age; Mr. McConnell's Anna Mace, by Leamington, is a grand creature in appearance, and in time, with care, ought to make a racer of distinction. All the others were fine specimens of the best strains of fashionable blood. Four of those that started were by Censor, two by imported Eclipse and only one by Lexington. Remorseless won this race as easily as she did the Flash Stakes the day before. She is a very fast filly and runs with great power and resolution. The second race had five starters, all well known to the racing public. These were General Yorke, Aldebaran, Climax, Lancaster and Julius. They only had 100 pounds up and made a very fast race, General Yorke winning the money. Lancaster was the favorite, but was beaten badly. The horse is not in condition for any race and has not been since he won the Saratoga Cup last summer. He has been beaten in every race that he has run in this year and will be when run again in his present form. General Yorke is a capital horse and can run any distance. He cannot run as fast as many others on the turf at the present day, but he will stay as long as any of them. This race suited him nicely, the weight and distance being playthings for him, and yet he sold in the pools for a mere song. Those who bought him reaped a rich harvest. Aldebaran seemed at ease with the 100 pounds on his back, and ran with spirit as far as he could. Climax, like Lancaster, deceived his backers and did not run as well as we have seen him. The journey was half a mile too long for him. Little was expected of Julius, and those who bought him in the pools got less. He never had the look of a winner from beginning to end. The following are the details of the day's sport:—

THE FIRST RACE.—THE SARATOGA STAKES.

This was the Saratoga Stakes, fifty dollars entrance, play or pay, $1,000 added for two year olds, three-quarters of a mile; colts, ninety pounds; fillies, eighty-seven pounds. There were forty-three entries, eleven of which came to the post. Mr. Belmont's entries sold highest in the pools; F. Morris' second choice. Dennison & Crawford's entries were the next in favor. The youngsters were started on the inside course, and while preparing for the start presented a fine appearance. They all appeared in the finest condition and were wild to get away. One break away and they were started very finely. The field consisted of F. Morris' chestnut filly Remorseless, by imported Eclipse, dam Barbarity; Mr. Belmont's chestnut fillies Finesse, by Lexington, dam Filigree, and Nellie James, by Dollar, dam Fleur de Champs; Dennison & Crawford's chestnut filly, by Censor, dam L'Anglaise, and chestnut filly, by Censor, dam Pasta; J. Eckerson's chestnut filly Polly Lyons, by Censor, dam Adelgiza; J. McConnell's bay filly Anna Mace, by Leamington, dam Luxemburg's dam; J. W. Doswell's bay filly Midday, by Eclipse, dam Vinetta; D. McDaniel's brown colt, by Doneraile, dam Canary Bird; L. G. Morris' chestnut filly, by Censor, dam Verbena, and John H. Davis' bay colt Kelso, by Voucher, dam by Epsilon. Remorseless had a trifle the best of the start, Anna Mace second, McDaniel's filly third, Dennison & Crawford's pair fourth and fifth, L. G. Morris' sixth, Belmont's seventh and eighth, J. Eckerson's ninth, Doswell's tenth, and Davis' last. They ran across the field rapidly, and when they entered the regular course at the half-mile pole Remorseless led two lengths; Anna Mace second; the others as before named. Going around the lower turn there was little change of place, with the exception of Belmont's and Dennison & Crawford's entries working their way through and past some of the others. As they came on the homestretch they began to spread out like the tail of a kite, Remorseless leading several lengths, Belmont's fillies second and third; then came Dennison & Crawford's pair fourth and fifth. They came dashing up the homestretch at a merry pace, Remorseless going in a winner by two lengths, Belmont's Nellie James second and his filly Finesse third, Dennison & Crawford's filly by L'Anglaise fourth, and their filly by Pasta fifth, Eckerson's Polly Lyons sixth, Anna Mace seventh, Midday eighth, McDaniel's brown colt ninth, L. G. Morris' chestnut filly tenth, and Kelso last. Time of the dash, 1:18¼. The race was a very interesting affair, and was run in very fair time.

The following is a summary:—

SARATOGA COURSE, August 6.—Saratoga Stakes; $50 entrance; play or pay; $1,000 added; for two year olds; three-quarters of a mile; colts 90 lbs., fillies 87 lbs.

Time 1:18¼.

THE SECOND RACE.

This was for a purse of $700, for all ages; to carry 100 pounds, with the usual allowances to mares and geldings; two miles and an eighth; fifty dollars entrance, which was added to the purse. For this event there were five entries. These were R. W. Walden's chestnut horse General Yorke, by Planet, dam Albino, five years old; J. W. Weldon's chestnut gelding Aldebaran, by Commodore, dam Nannie Lewis, aged; R. Shea's brown horse Climax, by Balrownie, dam Jewell, aged; M. H. Sanford's bay horse Lancaster, by Lexington, dam Blue Bonnet, six years old, and D. McDaniel's bay horse Julius, by Lexington, dam Julia, aged. Lancaster was a great favorite, selling for as much as all the others put together. The start was from a point one furlong down the homestretch. The flag dropped at the first attempt, and the horses, getting under good headway from the first jump, came rattling up and passed the stand at a rapid pace, Lancaster leading, Climax second, Julius third, General Yorke fourth and Aldebaran fifth. Going around the turn Climax went up and took sides with Lancaster, and they passed the quarter pole head and head, two lengths in front of Julius, who was third, half a length ahead of General Yorke, who was a short length in advance of Aldebaran. Going down the backstretch Lancaster and Climax ran side and side, but just as they reached the half-mile pole Climax had his head and shoulders in advance. Aldebaran was the third at that point, having passed General Yorke and Julius. The pace was at this time too great for Julius, and Yorke took the fourth position, while Julius fell far in the rear, hopelessly beaten. Going around the lower turn Lancaster and Climax were again head and head, and they ran in that way well up the homestretch, when Aldebaran made a splendid burst, and, going up, passed them and led at the end of the mile. He was hailed with cheers as he dashed along in front of the stand. Going around the upper turn General Yorke ran ahead of Climax and Lancaster, these two showing symptoms of distress. Their chances of victory were entirely gone at the quarter pole. Aldebaran led two lengths and looked very much like the winning horse; but going down the backstretch General Yorke went after him with such power and speed that he captured the gelding before he reached the half-mile pole. At this point Aldebaran was three or four lengths in advance of Lancaster and Climax, who were fifty yards ahead of Julius. Aldebaran soon afterwards seemed to give the race up, and Lancaster appeared to revive for a short time and made a faint effort, which was like the flicker of a candle, and on the lower turn took second place, which he maintained into the homestretch. At the three-quarter pole General Yorke was leading four or five lengths, Lancaster second, Aldebaran third, Climax fourth, while Julius was eighty yards behind Lancaster. These gave the race entirely up, being hardly able to make a jump, and Climax seemed in almost the same condition, as they almost came to a standstill, and old Aldebaran struggled in the second place. General Yorke won the race, by half a dozen lengths, in fine style, Aldebaran second, followed by Climax a long way off, while Lancaster was so hard beaten that Julius came up and took the fourth place. Time of the two miles and an eighth, 3:51¼, which is most capital time, notwithstanding the light weights that the horses carried.

Below is the summary of the race:—

SARATOGA COURSE, Same Day.—Purse of $700 for all ages; to carry 100 lbs., with the usual allowance for mares and geldings; two miles and an eighth; $50 entrance, which was added to the purse.

R. W. Walden entered ch. h. General Yorke, by Planet, dam Albino, five years old........ 1
J. W. Weldon entered ch. g. Aldebaran, by Commodore, dam Nannie Lewis, aged........ 2
R. Shea entered br. h. Climax, by Balrownie, dam Jewell, aged........ 3
D. McDaniel entered b. h. Julius, by Lexington, dam Julia, aged........ 4
M. H. Sanford entered b. h. Lancaster, by Lexington, dam Blue Bonnet, six years old........ 5

THE THIRD RACE.

This was for a purse of $600, for three year olds, one and a half miles, winners of the Belmont, Ladies' or Travers Stakes excluded; colts to carry 110 pounds, fillies 107 pounds. As there was only one entry, Mr. Babcock's chestnut colt Helmbold, by Australian, dam Lavender, he walked over for the money. The reason that there were no other entries for this purse was that the other owners of three year olds were under the impression that Mr. Babcock intended to enter Pompey Payne, and they were all afraid of him. Had they known that Helmbold would have been the colt entered there would have been a good field of horses in it and no doubt a good race.

COMING TROT BETWEEN LADY THORN AND MOUNTAIN BOY.

Lady Thorn and Mountain Boy trot here on Friday next for a $3,000 purse.

Saturday's Races.

The following are the entries and rates of betting for Saturday's races:—

For the Selling Race.—Fanny Ludlow, $350; Viley, $100; Bonny Braes, $85; Bayswater and Connelly together, $70; Lizzie Rogers, Urbana, Jubal and Scotia, $95.

For the Three Mile Dash.—Vauxhall, $800; Pompey Payne, $600; Ab del Kader, $185; Flora McIvor, $105; Sanford, $95; The Banshee, $95; Nellie McDonald, $50.

For the One and Three-quarter Mile Dash.—Helmbold, $200; Corsican, $150; Pleasureville, $100; Metairie, $50; Aldebaran, $30.

THE BUFFALO RACES.

BUFFALO, August 6, 1869.

The horses for the great trots to come off next week are arriving here daily from the West and from Canada. Old turf men say that there are more fast horses already here than were ever together before in one place. It is estimated that there are over $1,000,000 worth of fast horses in the city. The indications promise the most interesting trots ever held anywhere. The city is full of strangers. Among the arrivals yesterday were W. R. Johnson, from Kentucky, and the noted pacer Dan Voorhees.

TROTTING IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

PORTSMOUTH, August 6, 1869.

At the Rockingham Park yesterday the trot for $400, in three purses, was won by McClellan in 2:45, 2:37, 2:38½; Black Walnut the second money, and Nelly Locke the third. Black Walnut took the second heat. The trot for $200 was won by Lady Wilkes, who won the race (under protest) in three straight heats. Time, 2:50, 2:53½, 2:51½. There were two dead heats in 2:51 and 2:54. Lady Wilkes' time on Monday should have been given as 2:55, not 2:35.

CUBA.

El Hombre Justiciero—Another Example of His Equitable and Unflinching Decisions—Extracts from the Press.

HAVANA, August 1, 1869.

The following was issued yesterday from the Secretary's office and appears in the Gaceta Oficial:—

HAVANA, July 31, 1869.

The court martial held in Santa Clara on the 24th inst. for the trial of Don Antonio Calvo, who, having abandoned the rebel lines and voluntarily presented himself for pardon to his Excellency the Commandant General of that district, has pronounced sentence absolutoria of all the charges brought against him, except that of having falsely asseverated that he was forced into the insurgent ranks against his will, having thus concealed the true character of the act and detracted from the merit that would have attached to a voluntary presentation; in consequence whereof, and placed at the disposition of the Superior Political Governor, his Excellency has ordered that the aforesaid Calvo fix his residence in the Peninsula of Spain.

The council of war held in the capital on the 20th inst., for the trial of Don Rafael Navarro y Fuentes, on a charge of disloyalty, gave verdict unanimously condemning the aforesaid Navarro to three years' banishment from this island. The sentence being approved and Navarro placed at the disposition of the Superior Political Governor, his Excellency has ordered that said banishment be fulfilled in the Peninsula of Spain.

CESAREO FERNANDEZ, Secretary.

The Captain General has directed, under yesterday's date, that Don Cesareo Fernandez (de Rodas) is to take charge of the "Despacho," ad interim, of the "Local Direccion de Administracion."

Don Enrique de Arantave ceases to be Inspector General of Telegraphs, and Don M. Crespo Quintano has taken charge of said office. Señor Arantave sailed for Spain in the steamer Comellas.

The press lauds General Prim's telegram of yesterday, in which the War Minister among other matters adds:—"I am giving my attention to preparing reinforcements for Cuba." This needs no comments, says La Prensa, "but it will produce effect on the minds of the laborantes and sympathizers, as they will little have expected it, especially those that fixed their attention to the appointment of General Sickles, as the new Minister of the United States in Madrid. In Spain certain negotiations can never be consummated, because the whole nation would reject them, and whatever may be the government of Spain she will always find the means to defend this much coveted Antille."

El Diario de la Marina says:—"Those few words imply a meaning of the greatest importance. In the first place it proves that the government considers itself with sufficient means to provide not only for its own military necessities, but also for those of Cuba; and in the next place it shows that it is firmly resolved to send everything necessary to put down the rebellion."

La Voz de Cuba cannot reconcile itself with the report that Señor Morales Lemus or any others of the Junta Cubana would be allowed to go to Spain under safe conduct, and much less be listened to by the Spanish government.

MURDER IN PORT JERVIS.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., August 6, 1869.

The people of this village were thrown into a state of the wildest excitement last night by a report that one of its oldest and most respected citizens had been shot dead in his own store, by an intoxicated ruffian, named Warren Fellows. It was soon found that the report was true.

It appears that about half-past eight o'clock this ruffian, well known in this section as a cigar and tobacco pedler, came to the storehouse of Alexander Swinton & Sons, and for indecent conduct was remonstrated with by one of the firm. He commenced an altercation, during which Mr. Alexander Swinton was shot and killed, and Fellows was nearly killed by James Swinton with a hatchet.

THE VICTIM.

Mr. Alexander Swinton was the head of the firm of Swinton & Sons, who occupy the Port Jervis Foundry building and keep a large hardware concern. He had been a resident of Port Jervis for many years, and was much esteemed in the community as a quiet, unoffending and peaceable citizen. He was a native of Scotland, sixty-four years of age, has no wife living, but leaves a family of five grown sons and daughters to mourn his untimely decease. He died in about twenty-five minutes after he was shot.

THE MURDERER.

Warren Fellows is a man who has for many years borne a bad reputation, having been engaged in a number of questionable rows before. He is pretty badly wounded, but his physicians say that if inflammation does not set in he may recover. He is at the Fowler House at present. Last evening Drs. Van Etten, Hunt and Lawrence performed an operation on Fellows' head, removing pieces of the fractured skull.

THE INQUEST.

Coroner Isaac Penney immediately summoned a jury and held an inquest at the house of John Swinton on the body of the deceased. The inquest was then adjourned until this morning, at nine o'clock, when the following testimony was taken:—

TESTIMONY OF PETER RUFFER.

Peter Ruffer testified—He resides in Port Jervis, and was present last evening when Alexander Swinton was shot; he went to Mr. Swinton's store to get some zinc; between eight and nine o'clock John Swinton went out to the door to get something to cut the zinc with; when he returned his brother James came in with him and Warren Fellows behind him; heard John Swinton say to Warren Fellows that he should go away, that he didn't want anything to do with him; and Warren Fellows replied that he didn't ask any odds of any Swinton, nor ever did nor ever would; he then saw a revolver in the hands of Warren Fellows, who cocked it and pointed it at James Swinton; the first word he heard James Swinton say was that he did not want him to point a revolver at him; then James Swinton took hold of Fellows' hand and shoved it away from him; John Swinton went out of the back door to the storeroom; when he went out of the door the father of John Swinton stood leaning against the showcase looking on; he then told Warren Fellows that he did not want him there—he should go out doors; then Fellows said something, but witness did not recollect the words; at that time Mr. Swinton took him by the arm and shoved him; witness at that time saw Fellows point his revolver at the lower part of his body and shoot; after he shot, James Swinton took a hatchet and hit Fellows on the head twice; Fellows dropped; witness said to Charles Hurley "Come, let's go;" after he got out doors the boy hallooed to him and said the man was shot; witness believed he meant Mr. Swinton, and went back and saw Mr. James Swinton holding his father in his arms; Fellows had got up then and went out doors; witness asked James Swinton if he should go for the doctor, and was told to do so; he came back to Swinton's, and Mr. Alexander Swinton was then lying on the counter almost dead; didn't hear him say anything after he was shot; the witness and Mr. Correy then went up near where Squire Penny's office is for a policeman and met officer Tibbetts coming down; when they got back Mr. Swinton was dead; when Fellows shot Mr. Swinton didn't fall; heard but one report of a revolver.

A revolver was produced which witness said was like the one Fellows had, but he could not say positively that it is the same.

TESTIMONY OF THOMAS H. CAMPBELL.

Thomas H. Campbell testified:—Never knew Alexander Swinton until last night; was present last night when he was shot; went in Mr. Swinton's store about half-past eight; should think the occurrence took place about nine o'clock; went into Swinton & Son's store and inquired of Mr. Swinton, the man who was shot, for John Swinton; a gentleman stood by and asked him if he had any zinc; John Swinton then stepped back and got hold of a roll of zinc and unrolled it; the gentleman said he wanted a piece of zinc, and gave Mr. Swinton the size he wanted; Swinton said he would have to get shears to cut it; he went out and was gone not to exceed three or four minutes; about one minute before Mr. Swinton came in I saw a gentleman pass the door, on the stoop; Mr. Swinton having returned, requested the man to step away from the door, and told him he did not think it a very nice caper to step up and do his business before a man's door; Mr. Swinton then proceeded to unroll the zinc and cut it with shears; I saw a man step in the door, draw a revolver and cock it as he stood in the door; he stepped up to Mr. John Swinton and pointed it at him, saying, "He did not ask any odds of any damned Swinton he ever saw;" Mr. Swinton told him to get out doors, and further told him he didn't have any use for such instruments, as he did not carry them nor have anything to do with such things; Fellows said, "By God, he used them and he carried them;" Mr. John Swinton dropped the shears and zinc and went out of the back door; after he had gone out James Swinton asked Fellows to go out doors; he said "he would go out when he got ready;" the old gentleman, Alexander Swinton, then told him to go out; he then made a movement forward towards Mr. Alexander Swinton; Mr. Swinton then took hold of his right arm near the shoulder and stepped with him to the door; Fellows then turned around on Mr. Swinton; took hold of Mr. Swinton somewhere near the shoulder; he then instantly fired and shot Mr. Swinton somewhere in the lower part of the body; Mr. Swinton then stepped back against the counter; he then said "My God, I'm shot;" James Swinton then took a hatchet from off the counter and stepped forward to Fellows; Fellows then drew up his revolver at him; James Swinton snatched the revolver out of Fellows' hand and then struck Fellows twice on the head with the hatchet; he then fell down on his hands and knees; Swinton then kicked him with his boot; Fellows then got up and started for the street; the witness then went to the door to see which way he made his escape; Mr. Swinton said "I'm dying;" James Swinton then caught his arm around his father's neck and lifted him up; I told him we had better pick Mr. Swinton up and lay him on the counter; he then asked me to hold his father until he had followed up Fellows and had retaliation; I told him he had better let him go and take care of his father, as I thought he was hurt very bad; he then put the revolver in his pocket; we picked up the old gentleman and laid him on the counter; in picking Mr. Swinton up to lay him on the counter I discovered a large quantity of blood under his back; I told them we had better unloose his clothes and see where he was shot; myself and another party unbuttoned his clothes; at that time Dr. Jones came in and he said there was no help for him; we then carried him through the rear of the store into an adjoining house; got him in there and presently Dr. Van Etten came in; he said Mr. Swinton was dying; I then started to go home, but Dr. Van Etten said I must stay there; told him I would go home and come back immediately; when I came back Mr. Swinton was dead; did not see any disturbance between Mr. Swinton and Fellows previous to his entering the store; Fellows appeared to have whiskey enough in him to make him ugly; think the revolver shown to the jury was the one Fellows used in shooting Mr. Swinton; think Mr. Swinton did not live over twenty-five minutes after he was shot; don't think it exceeded ten minutes from the time Fellows entered the store until he shot Mr. Swinton.

TESTIMONY OF DR. VAN ETTEN.

Sol. Van Etten, M. D., sworn, says:—Knew Alexander Swinton; was present last night when he died; it was at the residence of John Swinton, his son; it occurred a few minutes before nine o'clock; have examined the body since he was dead; find a pistol ball had entered the groin on the left side, about half way between the pubes and the anterior superior spinous process of the ilium, passing downward and forward, wounding the femoral artery just beneath the Poupart ligament; the artery was cut about half off; this would have caused death; made dissections; exposed the bowels; found them in a normal condition; exposed lungs, heart, stomach, liver, and found all the viscera of the chest and abdomen in a normal condition; did not find the ball, but traced it through the vital parts until it reached the part which caused his death; the death of Mr. Swinton was caused by a pistol ball.

Drs. Jones and Hunt fully corroborated the previous testimony of Dr. Van Etten in every particular. Mr. James Swinton, son of the murdered man, gave substantially the same account of the affair. Other witnesses were examined, but nothing of importance elicited to change in any way the previous aspect of this tragic case.

THE VERDICT.

The jury, after an hour's deliberation, rendered a verdict that "The said Alexander Swinton came to his death at the store of Swinton & Sons, in Port Jervis, in the town of Deerpark, on the evening of August 5, 1869, from a pistol shot wound from the hands of Warren Fellows, and said shot was fired without any just cause or provocation."

THE CONDITION OF THE ASSASSIN.

A brother of Warren Fellows arrived here this afternoon, and is now attending him. The pistol used by Fellows is a Smith & Wesson seven-shooter, carrying a heavy ball. This afternoon Fellows disposed of all his property, devising it to his mother and child. His wife died last March. He is now perfectly rational, and understands his situation. Dr. C. M. Lawrence is his physician, and thinks that unless he is a man of almost superhuman endurance he cannot survive his wounds. There is a strong feeling against Fellows, and the village has been in a state of great excitement all day.

GREAT FIRE ON LONG ISLAND.

Destruction of an Oilcloth Manufactory at Columbusville, Queen's County—Loss Estimated at $100,000.

One of the most disastrous fires that have occurred for many years took place at Columbusville, Queen's county, L. I., last night, on the premises of Messrs. Allan, Sampson & Sons, oilcloth manufacturers, of that place. About half-past ten o'clock last evening the inhabitants of New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City were alarmed by a great glare which overspread the whole of the sky, and which proved that a tremendous conflagration was going on somewhere in the vicinity. The conjectures as to the vicinity of the fire were numerous and conflicting, the inhabitants of Jersey City believing it to be in New York, while the New York police, on being questioned, stated that it was somewhere in East New York or Brooklyn. The ferryboats on the East river were soon crowded with an anxious throng, and the streets of Williamsburg at midnight presented a very animated appearance, large crowds of people hastening rapidly through the streets in the direction of Columbusville.

From the information which our reporter was able to gather in the midst of the great excitement which prevailed it appears that the fire broke out about ten o'clock, in a four story frame building used for the purpose of a drying house. Before the engine which was kept on the premises could be got to work the flames caught another frame building, which was used as the storehouse of the works, and which contained a large quantity of turpentine and other inflammable oils. Within half an hour after the alarm had been given No. 8 hose carriage, of Williamsburg, with a large body of firemen was on the ground, and in the course of an hour the following engines and carriages arrived in rapid succession:—No. 7 steam engine; No. 2 steam engine; Nos. 7, 3 and 4, hose carriages; engines Nos. 1 and 2 of the new Department, Brooklyn, and No. 5 hose carriage. A large number of volunteer firemen were also soon on the spot, and Chief Engineer John W. Smith, of the paid department, Brooklyn, took charge, and every exertion was used to conquer the flames. It soon became evident that there was no chance of saving the two frame buildings. The large quantity of turpentine caught fire and the flames speedily shot up to an alarming height. The exertions of all present were then turned to saving the adjoining property, and we are very glad to say these efforts were very successful. A third small frame building, used as an office, caught fire from the intense heat and was soon consumed.

The estimated loss is $25,000 for buildings, $15,000 for machinery and $60,000 stock—total, $100,000. It is believed that a great portion of the loss is covered by insurance, but the names of the companies could not be ascertained last night. Fortunately there was a very large available supply of water in a store reservoir at the back of the works. Had this not been the case it is probable that the whole of the works, which cover nearly four acres of ground, would have been destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown. The frame building where it first broke out was covered only yesterday with a fresh coating of tar and of tar and gravel on the roof. The workmen engaged in this work left about seven o'clock, and it is thought that they may have left some lights about, and thus, through their carelessness, caused this lamentable accident.

At one o'clock this morning, the time our reporter left the scene of the disaster, the fire was still burning, but all danger of it spreading had passed.

THE LABOR MOVEMENT.

The Tailors' Strike—The Cutters Join the Strikers—Another Arrest—Mass Meeting Yesterday—A Female Tailor on the Stump.

The Executive Committee and Central Body were in session all day at Germania Hall, 42 avenue A, and labored hard to reduce the art of setting watches, organizing committees and placing everything on a war footing to a science; and, as usual, several of the wives of the strikers volunteered as watchers. Only one disturbance took place during the day, resulting in the arrest of a man on watch at Hirschkind & Adler's store; but, on being taken to the Tombs, Judge Kelly immediately released him on parole.

The Committee on Agitation resolved on holding high festival on Monday next, when a grand demonstration will take place of all branches of the tailoring trade, and the Newark tailors, who intend participating in it, will be received with all due ceremony by the entire body at the depot. A committee was also appointed to visit the outlying districts and induce every tailor working there to declare in favor of the movement, and arrangements were made by which any man now on strike may receive immediate relief. The shop cutters have informed the Central Body of their intention of striking when called upon so to do, and this action on their part is imminent. The Newark men went on strike on Wednesday, and are well sustained.

The following is a list of the firms now struck against:—Desaer & Stern, Sonneborn, Ehlfeld & Levy, Mayer & Co., Chatterton & Co., August & Bing, Strauss & Sahlin, Seidenbach & Schwab, Braun Bros., Yung & Son, Strauss & Co., Trettwell & Germen, Strauss & Rauh, Blunn & Son, Peangs & Co., Erdmann & Fox, Grenebaum & Adler, Davis & Co., A. Fsernheimer, Hoffman & Grirman, Stadler, Glarier & Co.; Hirschkind & Adler, Martin & Co., Hornthal, Rindskopf, Gutham, Heimann & Co., Funk, Werner, Schaekmann, Levy Bros., Sudvon & Dayton, Haret, Heimanns & Helms, Jackson & Davis, Litthauer, Morris & Levy, Meisel, Neden & Metz, Vogler, Falk, Alexander, Baum & Schrier, Hall & Bruner, Cohn & Co., Sahlin, Jr., Weiss & Co., Newbruck, Friedlander & Stich, Wilde, Pearl street; Browning, Ratscher & Co., Runk & White, Wigal, Randolph, Leon & Arnold, Huerting & Harting, Longstreet, Hamerslough, Heidt & Hademann, Kaun, Metzer, Fintlon, Reinleke, White & Whitman, August Bruck, Feroslowsky, Harlemer, Levy & Co., Wollenstein, Gross & Co., Turk & Co., Levison, Jones & Co., Warren street.

No returns from the manufacturers who have closed their establishments are forthcoming, but about 100 have as yet left off work, and the number of men employed by them exceeds 1,800.

The mass meeting was advertised for four P. M. at the Germania Assembly Rooms, but it was considerably later before business was commenced. At half-past four P. M. there were about 800 tailors present, and their behavior throughout the meeting was enthusiastic and orderly. Mr. Henry Lucker was unanimously voted to the chair and Mr. Sterr was appointed secretary, and read the report, showing the following firms, who employ over 1,000 hands, to have complied with their employés' demands:—Coleman Bros., Carhart & Whitford, Peet & Co., Brokaw Bros., Devlin & Co., Shaeffer Bros. and Steinhardt & Adler. Mr. Lucker then made a short speech, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

Whereas the obstinacy of our employers in acceding to our just demands is palpable, and as our colleagues of the clothing department have taken sides with us, therefore, we resolve to stand as men to the last.

Mr. Lucker again spoke followed by Mr. Brand, of Union No. 1, Messrs. Braun, Greiffenstein and also by a Mrs. Keiser, the latter a homely-looking dame, who spoke with great enthusiasm, but in a dialect totally incomprehensible even to the chairman, who, however, complimented her on her energy and proposed three cheers for the ladies, which were most vociferously complied with. Three cheers were also given for the Newark men, who were represented by a committee, and after exhorting the strikers to be firm and holding out a hope that by Monday next the strike would be virtually over the chairman adjourned the meeting.

Workingmen's Union.

A full representation of delegates of the Workingmen's Union, of this city, met last evening at No. 267 Bowery. Mr. Nelson W. Young, the President, on opening the proceedings, referred to the death of William H. Sylvis, late President of the National Labor Union and delivered a very feeling and eloquent eulogy on the life and services of the deceased in the cause of labor. Appropriate resolutions of condolence and regret at the loss they had suffered were passed by the meeting.

The tailors' strike received some attention, and the committee presented a report denouncing Brokaw Bros. as having acted dishonorably towards their men, declining to pay them as per agreement. A report was made stating that the Journeymen Bricklayers' Union No. 2 would strike on next Monday morning. It was reported that the iron moulders on a strike in Harlem were being arrested under the Conspiracy act and held in bonds to keep the peace. The delegate from the Tailors' Union reported 4,000 shop tailors as having struck, and the movement as successful and on the increase. By the end of next week the number of strikers, it is expected, will be 20,000. A delegate here delivered a lengthy speech on the tailors' strike, at the close of which speech Mr. Jessup was elected delegate to the National Labor Convention at Philadelphia, and the meeting adjourned.

PORT OF NEW YORK, AUGUST 6, 1869.

Herald Packages.

Captains and Pursers of Vessels arriving at this port will please deliver all packages intended for the HERALD to our regularly authorized agents who are attached to our Steam Yacht fleet. The New York Associated Press do not now collect marine reports nor attend to the delivery of packages, as will be seen by the following extract from the proceedings of the regular monthly meeting, held March 3, 1868:—

Resolved, That on and after April 1, 1868, the Associated Press will discontinue the collection of ship news in the barbor of New York. Passed unanimously.

☞ The office of the HERALD steam yachts JAMES and JEANNETTE is at Whitehall slip. All communications from owners and consignees to the masters of inward bound vessels will be forwarded free of charge.

YACHTS, STEAMBOATS, &c.

FOR SALE—THE CELEBRATED SCHOONER YACHT Henrietta, 210 tons burden, old measurement, winner of the great ocean yacht race to Cowes, England, in 1866, (in which she made the extraordinary run of 280 miles in 24 hours), and several other ocean races. The Henrietta has been on a cruise to the West Indies, but has returned to New York. While on her voyage from Key West to Charleston she made a run of 250 miles during rough weather, showing that she has lost none of her speed. The Henrietta has a commodious saloon, handsomely fitted up, with a large stateroom on the starboard side, three other staterooms and two staterooms forward for officers. The cabin furniture, kitchen utensils, &c., are in complete order, and the vessel will be put in readiness to go to sea immediately. The Henrietta will compare favorably, for speed and seagoing qualities, with any yacht in this country or England. For particulars address J. ANDERSON Herald office, New York.

GOLD LOAN
of the Rochester, N. Y., Water Works Company.
Six per cent bonds, due 1889, of $1,000 each, interest May and November, principal and interest payable in gold, at Union Trust Company, New York.
We offer for sale $400,000 of this loan at 82½, and accrued interest in currency.
The entire property is mortgaged to the Union Trust Company for the protection of the bondholders, and the bonds are issued by them only upon the certificate of John C. Trautwine, C. E. (appointed by the bondholders), approved by the Board of Directors, that the money has been actually expended upon the works. Pamphlets, containing the reports of Engineers W. Milnor Roberts and J. C. Trautwine, upon the progress of the works, also copies of the acts granting this company their charter to supply Rochester with water, furnished upon application. Upon the most moderate estimate the rental from the works, when completed, will be $150,000 annually, double the amount required for interest upon the bonds. Having personally examined the works we can confidently recommend this loan to the public as a safe and profitable investment.

PACIFIC RAILWAY GOLD LOAN.

Messrs. DABNEY, MORGAN & CO., 53 Exchange place, and M. K. JESUP & CO., 12 Pine street, New York, offer for sale the Bonds of the Kansas Pacific Railway. These Bonds pay 7 per cent in gold, have thirty years to run, are free from government taxation and are secured by a land grant of 3,000,000 acres of the finest lands in Kansas and Colorado. In addition to this special grant the company also owns 3,000,000 of acres in Kansas, which are being rapidly sold to develop the country and improve the road. They are a first mortgage upon the extension of the road from Sheridan, Kansas, to Denver, Colorado. The road in operation now earns more than enough net income to pay the interest on the new loan. There is no better security in the market, this being in some respects better than government securities. Principal and interest payable in gold. Price 96 and accrued interest, in currency. Pamphlets, maps and circulars furnished on application.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES AND THE KANSAS PACIFIC RAILWAY BONDS.
[From the New York Tribune.]

The efforts of the Secretary of the Treasury to reduce the debt meet the general approval of the country. It seems to us that our capitalists and bankers could second Mr. Boutwell, and at the same time do a wise thing for themselves and our industrial interests. Government bonds rule at a high figure now, because, among other reasons, the men who control money desire to make Mr. Boutwell pay as largely as possible at their present [illegible] securities for investment at quite as good and far more profitable. A [illegible] would cost $6,000. The interest on this in currency would be $405, or 6¾ per cent in currency. As the bonds increase in value of course this rate of interest decreases. Now, with the necessity for money to develop internal improvements and industries, it seems to us the part of wisdom for those who hold governments to take advantage of this increase in their current value to make other investments of a more profitable character. We have in our advertising columns several good seven per cent cent gold-bearing loans which seem nearly as secure as the governments. There is hardly a better security than a first mortgage upon a well located, well managed railway. Let us take for example the case of the Kansas Pacific Railway. Here is a loan running thirty years and paying seven per cent in gold. A $5,000 bond will cost, at the selling rate, $5,760. With gold at 135 the interest would be $563 in currency—a fraction less than ten per cent; a difference of more than three per cent in favor of the road. The whole thing would be summed up in a tabular form thus:—

	Am't.	Sell'g Price.	Cost.	Gold In't.	Cur'cy In't.
Five twenty	$5,000	120	$6,000	$300	$405 00
Difference			$1,200	$50	$68 50

In fact, the purchaser could buy a $5,000 bond at 96, for a less figure than he can buy a 5-20 $5,000 bond, and make $155 68 profit, or an increase of 45 per cent on his investment.

It seems to us, with a little quiet figuring, that if people want to invest money now is the time to sell governments to the Treasury and buy some good railroad security like the Kansas Pacific.

REAL ESTATE MATTERS.

Real Estate Notes.

Mr. Daniel Crouse has purchased the old Dutch church property on Broad street, Utica, for $14,500. Stores are to be erected on the site.

It is said that Court square, Memphis, Tenn., was originally ceded to the city on the condition that a court house be built on the ground within a specified time. The time having expired and the court house not built Mr. McLemore, one of the heirs, proposes to enter suit to recover the property.

The Chicago City Directory for the present year contains over 120,000 names—an increase of 18,000 over last year. The Tribune publishes a partial list of buildings in process of erection in Chicago the present season. It is estimated that 1,500 will be built, of the value of $10,000,000.

The property of C. K. Crook, consisting of a residence and four acres of land, near Tarrytown, has been purchased by W. C. Wilkinson for $16,000.

A farm of twenty-seven acres, situated near White Plains, and lately owned by Mrs. Jane Fisher, has been transferred to G. G. Guild, of New York, for $10,000.

SUBURBAN INTELLIGENCE.

NEW JERSEY.

Jersey City.

THE CENTRAL RAILROAD NUISANCE is still the source of agitation. The railroad company have made great concessions, but the agitators are not satisfied. The members of the New York Board of Health have cut the plank from beneath the feet of the grumblers on the abattoir question by the opinion that there is nothing in it dangerous to the health of the locality. Some say that the agitation is fostered by the Camden and Amboy monopoly for the sake of embarrassing the Central.

Union Hill.

A LITTLE GIRL RUN OVER AND KILLED.—About four o'clock yesterday afternoon a man named George Goely was driving from Hoboken a horse car laden with provisions, near the foot of the hill, and when a child named Minnie Rosenberg, four years old, appeared on the track before the car. The driver imagined her to be crossing at the time, but she remained on the road, and in a few moments one of the horses knocked her down on the rail and the wheels passed over her back, almost severing the body in two. The creature had been gathering wild flowers by the wayside and after death the hand retained a handsome nosegay which she was carrying homeward. The parents, who reside in Kossuth street, near Palisade avenue, were soon apprised of the occurrence and appeared almost frantic, especially the mother, whose cries were heartrending. Goely immediately surrendered himself to the authorities and was committed to prison by Coroner White to await the result of an inquest.

Newark.

THE MASONS' STRIKE.—The journeymen masons are still on strike, and no disposition has yet been shown by the "bosses" to pay the old wages—$4 50 per day.

THE DUVALL ALLEGED POISONING.—The Dr. Duvall, who is suspected of having poisoned his wife at Janesville, Wis., is supposed to have at one time resided in this city, where he went by the name of Dr. Potts. Two of his wives died while he resided in this neighborhood.

THE LATE PETER KERR.—The funeral obsequies of the late Peter Kerr, who was drowned at Long Branch, recently, took place yesterday at the North Reformed church, in this city, in presence of a large gathering of the friends of the deceased. The remains have been embalmed, and will be accompanied to Scotland on board the steamer Russia to-day by the widow and children, together with Mr. George A. Clarke.

Paterson.

THE BONE BOILING NUISANCE.—The people of Paterson are determined that the new ordinance prohibiting the bone boiling business within the city shall be enforced. One of the dealers, Allen Warren, was tried yesterday before the Recorder, but owing to the fact that the witnesses could only bear evidence of an olfactory character a verdict was rendered for the defendant. Other cases will be tried soon, and the neighbors are determined to fight it out on that line until the nuisance is abolished.

Godwinville.

A MAN NEARLY SUFFOCATED IN A WELL.—A laborer engaged in digging a well on the premises of Daniel Ackerman, at Godwinville, on Wednesday afternoon descended into the shaft, twenty-seven feet deep, immediately after a blast. He fell senseless on the bottom, having been suffocated by the smoke and foul air. After a delay of nearly an hour he was rescued by Mr. Richardson, who was also nearly suffocated in the attempt. Medical aid was summoned, and with the proper restoratives the man was brought back to consciousness and is now apparently wholly recovered.

Trenton.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Yesterday morning while a man named Isaac Long was driving a team along Centre street the horses became unmanageable and dashed along at a furious rate, throwing him from the wagon, by which his leg was so badly fractured that it is feared amputation will be necessary.

LARGE CABLE WIRE.—On Wednesday evening an immense cable wire was transported from Roebling's wire mill in this city, to be used in drawing the heavy coal trains across the mountains on the Lehigh and Susquehanna Railroad. The cable is 5,878 feet in length, two and a half inches in diameter, and weighs 63,030 pounds.

SAD DROWNING ACCIDENT.—Late on Thursday night, as a freight train was approaching the depot, a man was observed to walk off the track out of the way, and accidentally fall into the canal. One of the attaches of the locomotive jumped off and attempted to rescue the drowning man with a poker, but did not succeed. He was found yesterday morning, but no person identified him. His shirt bore the name of John Hays or Hare, as well as the trade mark of an English firm. A coroner's inquest was held yesterday afternoon, and a verdict of accidental death returned. The remains were interred in Potter's Field.

STATE PRISON MATTERS.—A short time since a paragraph appeared in the HERALD stating that two deputy keepers were removed by the principal on a charge of theft. It appears that one of them has since been restored through the influence of an ex-State Senator, brother of the accused, and other political friends. The other man, named T. S. Lawrence, of Cape May, asserts that he wrote two letters to Mr. Hennion demanding an investigation for the purpose of proving his innocence, which Mr. Hennion alleges were not received. Yesterday Lawrence waited on the keeper, but was denied any redress. As the allegation has been already published and as no opportunity has been afforded Lawrence to clear himself of the charge, he desires to deny the truth of the accusation.

TRAGEDY AT FORT LEE, N. J.

Terrific Encounter Between Two Women—One of Them Fatally Beaten with a Stone—Verdict of the Coroner's Jury.

People seldom hear anything about Fort Lee, on the bank of the Hudson, a few miles above Hoboken. The denizens of that locality are a peaceable, law-abiding community, and but for the ravages of night prowlers from New York there would be little need for constables. The quiet of that pleasant rural retreat was disturbed, however, by an event which occurred a week ago and which has created great excitement.

A landlady, named Mrs. Hodman, had a dispute with one of her tenants, named Mrs. Bannon, and after some angry words the women clutched each other and fought furiously. Mrs. Hodman broke away from her antagonist, and, lifting a large stone, returned to the charge. A few terrific blows of this stone on the head of Mrs. Bannon ended the fight, and the latter was carried to her house senseless and covered with blood. She never rallied, but sank gradually till Tuesday night, when she expired.

An inquest was held by Justice Maurice Fitzgerald on Wednesday, and the following gentlemen were sworn as a jury:—Justice Taylor, foreman; Joseph Schlosser, Hugh Brosnahan, Frederick Lahm, Leo Bigler, Ferdinand Hedey, Florian Stryker, William Crozier, John Diehl, George Senckler and Peter Ricker. Several witnesses were examined, among them Dr. English, who attended Mrs. Bannon. The jury rendered a verdict that deceased came to her death from the effect of injuries received by the blows of a stone in the hands of Mrs. Hodman. The latter was accordingly committed for trial at the next term of the Bergen County Court.

LONG ISLAND.

BURGLARY AT FLUSHING.—The boot and shoe store of Thomas Costello, Flushing, was entered by burglars on Thursday night and goods stolen to the value of between three and four hundred dollars. An entrance was effected through a back window, which was forced open. A jimmy and pair of painter's overalls were found on the premises.

WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

ACCIDENT AT HARLEM BRIDGE.—Shortly after twelve o'clock yesterday a laborer, named Owen McDermott, in attempting to step on the draw of Harlem bridge before it had closed, met with a shocking accident. The moving bridge caught one of his legs, from which the flesh and muscles below the knee were torn from the bone, and of course the tibial artery severed, through which he had almost bled to death ere a sensible bystander used his pocket handkerchief as a tourniquet, and arrested the flow of blood. The unfortunate man, who was intoxicated at the time of the accident, was subsequently conveyed to Bellevue Hospital.

ALLEGED ROBBERY BY A SERVANT.—Yesterday before Justice Hauptman at Morrisania, Mrs. Anne King, living on the Boston road, made oath to the effect that a servant named Anna Logue, formerly in her employ, disappeared suddenly from her (deponent's) house on the 13th day of June last, and that about the same time she missed jewelry and children's clothing to the value of sixty dollars, which she believed the girl had stolen. Complainant was ill at the time of the alleged robbery and consequently unable to make a charge against the absconding domestic. Upon her affidavit a warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

GENERAL BRECKINRIDGE.—General Breckinridge informs us that he has determined to settle again permanently in Lexington and resume the practice of law. This will be gratifying news to the hosts of personal friends of General Breckinridge in this section, where he was known and admired and loved long before he had acquired a national reputation. We are glad to learn that he has already received retainers in several important suits.—Lexington (Ky.) Gazette, August 4.

BROOKLYN INTELLIGENCE.

ARREST OF AN ALLEGED SWINDLER.—A man, who gave his name as William C. Rathburn, was taken into custody yesterday by detectives Folk and Videto on a charge of false pretences. The accused, as alleged, had been swindling some furniture and carpet dealers by making extensive purchases and paying them in worthless coal bonds. It appears that he purchased furniture to the value of $650 about three weeks ago from the store of Mr. John Wood, Nos. 166 and 168 Fulton street, and induced Mr. Wood to take five $500 bonds on the Cumberland Coal Company. Being successful in this transaction he next proceeded to the store of J. G. Latimer, No. 181 Atlantic street, where he purchased $254 worth of carpet. He told Mr. Latimer that he was unable to pay for the carpet at once, but would give him a chattel mortgage on it and also a mortgage on part of the furniture which he had got from Mr. Wood. Mr. Latimer, feeling secure in the transaction, agreed to the proposition of the accused. He then went to the furniture store of Mr. Henry Bayles, No. 124 Atlantic street, and bought $424 worth of furniture from him, giving him in payment four $500 bonds on the Cumberland Coal Company. All these bonds, of course, were worthless. The accused was arrested at the store of Mr. Bayles while the furniture was being removed. The furniture and carpets which he had purchased from Messrs. Wood and Latimer, he had removed to No. 166 Sands street. All of the furniture was recovered by the officers—a portion at No. 166 Sands street, a portion at No. 85 Sands street, and the balance at No. 77 Eighth avenue, New York. Mr. Latimer's carpets were recovered at No. 166 Sands street. The prisoner was taken before Justice Walsh yesterday afternoon and committed to answer.

SINGULAR CASE OF ABDUCTION.—A woman named Catharine Turner was arrested for kidnapping Hannah H. Baker, nine years of age, from the home of her parents, William and Julia Baker, residing at No. 40 Park avenue. The case is rather important from the fact that the accused, when taken before Justice Walsh yesterday afternoon, could give no satisfactory explanation for taking the girl away. It seems she met the girl on Wednesday, the 28th of July, and persuaded her to take a walk as far as Fort Greene, which is but a few blocks from her home. In the course of the walk she won the confidence of the girl so much that she consented to accompany her to Prospect Park, on the promise to bring her back in an hour or two. When they returned, however, she took another route and took the girl across South ferry. The girl begged her to take her home, which she promised to do, but continued at the same time going in a contrary direction. When they reached the Battery they met a woman by the name of Margaret McCann, and she and the accused got into an altercation, during which Catharine Turner was arrested by an officer of the First precinct, New York, and taken to the Tombs. Here she gave her name as Sarah Morehouse, and claimed that she was the mother of the child. This statement the girl denied and told the Judge she lived in Brooklyn, giving the name and residence of her parents. She was then transferred to the police of Brooklyn, and the girl was restored to her parents. The accused stated to Justice Walsh yesterday that she only wanted to take the child to New York to see its father; that she had no home at present, but formerly resided in Atlantic street. She was fully committed to await the action of the Grand Jury.

ARREST OF AN ALLEGED COUNTERFEITER.

Seizure of a Large Quantity of Counterfeiting Paraphernalia—The Prisoner Held to Bail in the Sum of $10,000.

One of the most important arrests which have been made in a long time has just been accomplished by the Secret Service detectives. For some time past the officers have been watching the premises of a Frenchman named Anthony Neill, suspecting him to be engaged in the manufacture of counterfeit gold and silver coin. Yesterday they took him into custody, and on searching his place found all the paraphernalia for counterfeiting gold and silver coin. There were presses for manufacturing twenty dollar, ten dollar, five and three and one dollar American gold pieces; presses for making twenty-five and fifty cent silver pieces, a press for the manufacture of five cent nickel pieces, and another for the manufacture of some Peruvian coin. The metal which he uses is said to be so similar in color, weight and feeling to gold and silver that it is almost impossible for an expert to tell the difference. He says it is manufactured by himself, that he made the discovery some years since, and until within the past year has been furnishing it to a man in New York, who took about 100 pounds a week. He never knew, he says, to what purpose this man applied the metal, but some months ago he left for Europe and then placed in his charge the presses, &c., which were found on his premises. These presses are all of the most excellent workmanship.

The accused carries on the business of a white metal manufacturer in Beekman street, New York, and says he now uses the metal in the manufacture of spoons, watches and other articles.

He was taken before Commissioner Newton yesterday afternoon, when he was required to give bail in the sum of $10,000. Not being able to do so at once he was remanded to the Penitentiary and his examination set down for Tuesday.

THE REVENUE AND THE BANKS.

United States Marshal's Operations—Names of the Defendants.

During the past week United States Marshal Dallon, of Brooklyn, has been busy in looking after the bankers in that city against whom suits have been brought in the United States Court for their omission to make their returns monthly to the assessors, as required by the 110th section of the act June 30, 1866. The returns are to contain statements of capital employed and amount of business done. The default covers omissions for fifteen months past on the part of some 130 private bankers.

Summonses have been served by the Marshal for the following named gentlemen:—Robert Turner, S. C. Blake, Henry Morgan, Charles Morgan, P. W. Voell, Charles Phipps, David St. John, R. C. Balger, H. W. Bishop, John J. Cox, Alfred Hanberg, Samuel W. Pachen, J. A. Pachen, G. G. Curtis, R. G. Fuller, Thomas Morgan, F.L. Olcott, W. R. Gould and W. G. Nichols.

LETTER FROM GOVERNOR WELLS, OF VIRGINIA.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:—

Your Washington correspondent says in an article published by you on Monday last that my son is to be appointed an aide-de-camp to myself, with a salary of $2,000 per annum; and he also charges, in the same article, that I consider "that the solution of pending questions in Virginia would be arrived at by a refusal on the part of General Canby to issue his proclamation declaring the result of the election until after the meeting of Congress." Both of those statements are untrue. My son has not been appointed to that or any other office, and will not be by me, nor with my consent.

I have never thought of nor heard the plan expressed to which your correspondent refers, and do not believe that any such plan is contemplated by anybody. H. H. WELLS.

THE NEWS.

Europe.

The cable despatches are dated August 6.

The London papers have taken up the question of the seizure of the Spanish gunboats by the United States government, and comment freely on the probability of the sale of Cuba. Great consternation was caused in the Houses of Parliament in London, during the session of yesterday morning, by the explosion of a canister of gunpowder somewhere within the building. No clue of the perpetrators of this outrage has been obtained. The new boat for the Harvard crew has arrived in London.

The Emperor and the Empress of the French have gone to visit Chalons. Marshal Niel is very unwell. A duel is reported between two well known Paris editors, in which one of the combatants received four wounds.

A correspondent of a London journal writes from Rome that the emancipation of civil society from the Church influence is so complete that it would be superfluous to prevent the meeting of the Council. Other States are expected to follow the moderation expressed by Baron Beust in respect to the Council.

The Carlist bands in Spain are reported to be dissolved and the partisans discouraged.

The representatives of the foreign Powers resident in Constantinople have interceded with the Sultan, and the difficulty with Egypt is, consequently, in a fair way of being settled.

Cuba.

Information has been received in Washington of the safe landing in Cuba of a filibustering party, 250 in number, which started from the coast of Florida on the 4th instant.

Miscellaneous.

The returns from Alabama show that Buckley and Hays (radicals) have been elected to Congress from the Second and Fourth districts, and Dox and Sherman (democrats) from the Fifth and Sixth districts. The First and Third districts are in doubt, but probably Buck (radical) is chosen in the First district.

The implied condemnation of ex-President Johnson by Secretary Boutwell and Postmaster Creswell in their letters endorsing the extreme radical party of Tennessee caused a reaction in that State in favor of the ex-President, and his return to the United States Senate is rendered more than probable.

Hon. James M. Cavanaugh, democrat, has been re-elected delegate to Congress from Montana by 2,000 majority.

The colored radicals of Mobile, Ala., held a meeting on Thursday night to celebrate the election of their candidate for Congress. During the meeting a slight difficulty ensued with a white man, when a general onslaught was made with pistols. Three negroes were killed outright and five were wounded. Five whites were also wounded. The negroes numbered 1,500, the whites 100.

It is believed that upon completion of the Kansas Pacific Railroad St. Louis will become the chief point of smelting the silver ores of Colorado, and in anticipation of this event parties in that city are already making arrangements for the erection of smelting works.

Injunctions were served yesterday upon the vice president and treasurer of the Susquehanna Railroad Company and a majority of the directors, preventing their acting as officers of the company. They are charged with conspiring to place the road in the hands of Jay Gould, and thus defraud the company out of its property.

A steamer of fifteen tons burden left Baltimore yesterday for Attakapas, La. Her route is by canal to this city, hence by river to Albany and through canals and lakes to the Mississippi river.

Jay Cooke & Co. deny the report forwarded from Philadelphia that they had made advances on whiskey destroyed at the burning of the government warehouses in that city.

A Southern farmer deposited $3,300 worth of government bonds in the ash hole of his smokehouse for safe keeping. His wife, knowing nothing of the circumstance, a few days ago, wishing to smoke some bacon, built a fire in the smokehouse and reduced the bonds to cinders.

A pleasure boat containing fourteen persons was capsized on Bush river, Harford county, Md., on Thursday afternoon, and three of the party—Harry Lee, of Baltimore, James M. and Septimus Sewell—were drowned. The mother of Mr. Lee resides in Brooklyn.

Charles Creswell, of Augusta, Ga., and his brother, J. D. Creswell, were met near Edgefield, S. C., on Thursday by the brothers of Miss Addison, who had been seduced by J. D. Creswell. Charles Creswell was shot dead and his brother dangerously wounded. The brothers of Miss Addison surrendered themselves to the authorities.

The City.

Work upon the new Post Office will be commenced on Monday next.

The photograph of the supposed Ocean Bank robber who committed suicide at a railway station in Crewe, England, was yesterday recognized by Mr. Frederick Leiss to be that of his brother, William Leiss, who left this city for Europe early in June.

John H. Platt, a major in the rebel army, was arrested on Thursday night on a charge of having on the 4th of October last, while a prisoner at Jefferson, Texas, assisted in killing three of his guard and making his escape.

Summonses have been served by United States Marshal Dallon upon nineteen Brooklyn bankers for failure to make their monthly returns to the assessors, as required by the internal revenue laws.

A Frenchman named Anthony Neill was arrested yesterday on a charge of manufacturing bogus coin. Upon his premises were found dies, presses and all the paraphernalia necessary for making gold and silver coin, and a quantity of metal so similar in appearance to gold and silver that few experts can detect the difference.

The cost of street repairs in Brooklyn for the month of July was $6,190, as reported by a committee to the Board of Water Works. In regard to street cleaning the same committee say that the streets are much cleaner than they were heretofore, over 3,000 loads of dirt having been removed from the Seventh ward alone.

In the matter of the Third avenue (Brooklyn) controversy another injunction was served yesterday on the Water Board, issued on the complaint of Mr. N. T. Higbie.

Between Thursday evening and yesterday morning three stores on Fulton street, Brooklyn, were entered by burglars and goods to various amounts stolen.

The Inman line steamship City of Washington, Captain Jones, will leave pier No. 45 North river at one P. M. to-day for Liverpool, via Queenstown. The mails for Europe will close at the Post Office at twelve M.

The steamship Ville de Paris, Captain Surmont, will leave pier No. 50 North river at about one P. M. to-day for Brest and Havre. The French mails will close at the Post Office at twelve M.

The National line steamship Denmark, Captain Cato, will sail from pier No. 47 North river at three P. M. to-day for Liverpool, touching at Queenstown to land passengers, &c.

The steamship Europa, Captain McDonald, of the Anchor line, will leave pier No. 20 North river at twelve M. to-day for Londonderry and Glasgow.

The steamship United States, Captain Norton, of the Merchants' steamship line, will leave pier No. 12 North river at three P. M. to-day for New Orleans direct.

Gold opened yesterday at 136¼, touched 136⅜, and 136, but was steady most of the day at 136⅛, closing at 136⅛. The stock market was fairly active, with the Western railway shares as the features, closing strong on these and firm on the Vanderbilt stocks.

The Solar Eclipse To-Day.

Since eclipses were first observed by mortal eyes they have been sensations. In early times they came on the world by surprise. Mortals naturally were put to their wits' end. The course of nature was disturbed. Darkness burst in upon the light. It was the seeming triumph of evil—either the world was at an end or the God of nature suffered. Later, even when solar eclipses have taken place and the true cause has been known, it has not been possible to eliminate from the minds of men the idea of direct supernatural agency; and the all but universal feeling has been that if nature was not in a condition to inspire us with alarm she had at least a claim on our sympathy. Among the Greeks and Romans it was common on such occasions to rush to the temples of special divinities and by prayers and costly offerings seek to appease their wrath. To this day it is common in China when eclipses take place to beat drums and brass kettles, believing, as the Chinese do, that such noises will frighten away the monsters which are devouring the sun and moon. We know something more than our rude forefathers, and believe ourselves to be a little better educated than our barbarian contemporaries; but we cannot say that eclipses no longer create either alarm or interest. They are known to occur much more frequently than was at one time believed; but they are so seldom experienced on one and the same point of the earth's surface that when they do occur they are felt to be sensations of no ordinary kind.

In another place in this day's HERALD we give a full and detailed account of the eclipse as it will be seen to-day. To this account we refer our readers. It is a peculiarity of the present eclipse that it will be seen all over the United States. In this it differs from the eclipse of last year, which was observable only from certain parts of South Africa and South America. For at least two hours to-morrow the inhabitants of Canada and of the United States, all along a belt which will run from Alaska to Wilmington, will witness this strange and startling phenomenon. From about twelve minutes past five till about twelve minutes past six the eclipse will be visible in New York city and neighborhood.

It is natural that scientific men should be considerably excited by what is this day expected, and that there should be made at different points all along the belt such arrangements as are likely to secure full and accurate observations of the entire phenomenon. At Sitka, at Norton's Sound, at Sioux City, at Burlington, at Des Moines, Iowa; at Springfield, Illinois; at Shelbyville, y., at Abingdon, Va, and elsewhere, scientific parties have located themselves, and, provided as they all are with complete apparatus for observing and photographing the strange sight, it is generally expected that something substantial will be added to our stock of astronomical knowledge. Attention on this occasion will be generally directed to the luminous protuberances which at one time were supposed to belong to the moon, but which are now satisfactorily proved to belong to the sun. These protuberances were observed as early as 1706. They were seen in 1715. They were seen again in 1724, when, however, it was noticed that the luminous corona of which they formed a part was not concentric with the moon, but with the sun. At Gottenburg, in the year 1733, these red protuberances were seen more distinctly by Vassenius, and since then they have been noticed on the occasion of every eclipse. They were seen in 1778 and in 1806, and in 1842 Arago, the celebrated French astronomer, saw them with his naked eye as well as with the telescope. Seen again from the Sandwich Islands in 1850 and from points of observation on the coasts of Sweden and Norway in 1851, they were naturally the great objects of study on the occasion of the eclipse of last year. Some of these protuberances were visible, and photographs taken at different states reveal them with great distinctness. M. Janessen, who made observations at Guntoor with the stereoscope, describes these protuberances as follows:—"The total obscuration occurred instantaneously and the spectral phenomenon also changed immediately in a very remarkable manner. Two spectra, formed of five or six bright lines, red, yellow, green, blue and violet, occupied the field in place of the prismatic image of the sun which had just disappeared. These spectra, about one minute (of arc) long, corresponded line for line, and were separated by a dark space in which I could see no lines. The finder showed that these two spectra were caused by two magnificent protuberances, which were now visible on each side of the point of contact. One of them, that on the left, was more than three minutes (or one-tenth of the sun's diameter) in height; it looked like the flame of a furnace rushing violently from the openings of the burning mass within, and driven by a strong wind. The one to the right presented the appearance of a mass of snowy mountains, with its base resting on the moon's limb, and enlightened by a setting sun." "The preceding observation shows at once:—First—The gaseous nature of the protuberances (the lines being bright). Second—The general similarity of their chemical composition (the spectra corresponding line for line). Third—Their chemical species (the red and blue lines of their spectrum being no other than the lines C and F of the solar one, and belonging, as is well known, to hydrogen gas)."

Later and from fuller observation he concluded:—"First, that the luminous protuberances observed during total eclipses belong unquestionably to the circumsolar regions. Second, that these bodies are mainly or entirely composed of incandescent hydrogen gas. Third, that they are subject to movements of which no terrestrial phenomenon can give us any idea; since, though they are masses of matter having several hundred times the volume of the earth, they change completely their form and position in the course of a few minutes."

Considering the many points of observation and the large numbers of scientific men who are engaged; considering, too, the superior apparatus which science will bring to its aid, great things are expected from the observations of to-day.

For many reasons the day will be interesting. There are many still living who remember the eclipse of 1842. To all such this will be but little of a surprise. There are many, however, who have never witnessed any such phenomenon. To all such it will, indeed, be a "new thing." There are hundreds of thousands again who will never see another eclipse. Before such another material phenomenon presents itself to the wondering gaze of mortals, telescopes and stereoscopes will to them be useless. This day all will gaze, admire, wonder. Many will pry into the mysteries of nature. Some will worship. Few will scoff. Is it unnatural in such circumstances to express the hope that faith this day will be strengthened as well as knowledge increased?

Our State Prison Management.

The management of Sing Sing Prison has been notoriously bad for some time. Revolts among the prisoners, murder and bloodshed within the prison walls and escapes of convicts have been the rule for many months past. We published yesterday the presentment of the Grand Jury of Westchester county, made upon the suggestions of Judge Cochran in his recent charge. The Grand Jury recite the circumstances of insubordination, escapes, cruel punishments, and so forth, all of which have already been published in the HERALD as they occurred. They make a few suggestions as to the best mode of correcting the existing evils in the prison system, and their suggestions, we should suppose, can be very easily adopted. They comprise the employment of a more efficient class of men as keepers and guards; a higher salary for these officials, which might induce better men to accept those situations; a larger number of officers in the prison to control the one thousand five hundred convicts; the absence of political favoritism in the selection of these officers, and the same discrimination in awarding of contracts for prison supplies. All, or nearly all, of these improvements can be adopted by the State Prison Inspectors if they choose to perform their duty faithfully. We have urged all these points upon the State Prison managers repeatedly, and we doubt whether the recommendations of the Grand Jury will have any better effect. But that they have reached the causes of the difficulties existing in the management of Sing Sing Prison there can be very little doubt. It remains to be seen now whether this official interference will receive any consideration at the hands of the prison authorities. If not, the next Legislature will have to remodel the whole State Prison system.

NOT DEAD YET.—Andy Johnson's return to the United States Senate, in view of the result in Tennessee, is almost certain. This is not the least satisfactory result of the contest in that State. Andy is a bold, positive exponent of that class of political ideas that is least agreeable to the blatant radical rulers. He has the one grand virtue that he will not be put down, and, therefore, discussion in the Senate will be the less monotonous for his presence. He has a Union record that no man can impeach. He is a Southern Senator not open to the carpetbag objection nor assailable on the copperhead sneer. He is genuine in all senses, absolutely fearless and honest, and will "make Rome howl" from his place in the Senate with much better effect than ever he did in his messages. He is the first President since John Quincy Adams whose political vitality has not been exhausted by the Presidency.

GUY FAWKES' "DAY" ANTICIPATED.—The members of the British Parliament were alarmed yesterday morning by an explosion in the building in which they were assembled. The fragments of a tin which had contained gunpowder were found outside. "The affair is, we are told, involved in mystery." Such "affairs" always are and have been since the original experiment of the first Guy. For regular "blow up" purposes our American politicians keep to whiskey. The English, as if to be ahead in something or other, are perhaps taking to gunpowder.

The Tennessee Election and Its Moral.

The conservatives in Tennessee have swept everything before them. Senter is elected Governor by a heavy majority, and there is probably a majority of conservatives returned for both branches of the Legislature. No one will be surprised at this result; for the violence, bitterness and ultra course of the radicals there, as in other parts of the South, have disgusted the moderate republicans. The reaction against radicalism which was seen in Virginia has extended to Tennessee, and will run, probably, through the whole South. The position of political parties in that section of the republic must have a powerful influence in the reorganization and course of parties throughout the whole country. The victory in Tennessee, as in Virginia, is not a democratic one; for the conservative republicans were the balance of power, if not the majority, in turning the election against the radicals. There was undoubtedly an alliance or concert of action with the democrats and moderate republicans; but if the democrats expect to make capital out of the result and to reorganize their party upon it they must abandon their old dogmas and construct a platform on which all the conservative elements can unite. On the other hand, should the radicals modify their ultra policy and unite with the administration in a more conservative course, they may head off the democracy and secure a longer lease of power. In any event, however, the elections in the Southern States will put the political elements of the country in a state of fermentation, and will in all probability cause a reorganization or modification of parties. As a consequence of the election in Tennessee it is not unlikely that ex-President Johnson may be returned to the United States Senate. He has a considerable party in the State, and is an able political manager. Should it be so he will prove a thorn in the side of the administration, and might have no little influence in shaping the course and future of parties. Still the administration holds the trump cards, if it knows how to play them—if, in a word, it ignores ultra radicalism and follows public sentiment. The elections in the Southern States give a lesson to both the great parties of the country. It remains to be seen how they will be instructed by them or what use they will make of them.

The Boston Murder.

The additional particulars which we published yesterday relative to the murder of Mrs. Hobbs by Major White clear the terrible Boston South End tragedy of much of the mystery which at first enveloped it. It appears from the testimony at the inquest that the deceased lady, who is described as having been "highly accomplished and widely known," had for twelve years lived happily as the wife of Dr. Alvah Hobbs, but that previous to her marriage she had been the doctor's housekeeper; that she was divorced from a former husband; that the doctor was divorced from a former wife, and that the Major, an invalid resident in their family, had long been passionately in love with Mrs. Hobbs, whose life he had attempted to take with a knife in 1861 in a fit of jealousy, after which he was confined for six months in an insane asylum at South Boston. Most imprudently invited to become an inmate of the family of Dr. Hobbs, his medical adviser, Major White carried into execution on Tuesday evening threats which, it is testified, he has often made to kill the wife of his host. It is difficult to suppose that the murderer was not insane.

But what a curious revelation this case would be of the state of society in Puritanical Boston if it were not known that Boston is no longer inhabited by Bostonians. Everybody who has visited the "Hub of the Universe" is aware that several years ago all the Bostonians de la vielle roche moved out of town. They only come in town every day to do business for a few hours in State street and on Long wharf, accompanied by their wives and daughters, who go shopping awhile, and whom they rejoin at teatime in Brookline or Waltham or Newton, or some other delightful suburban retreat within five to forty miles' distance of the State House. After sunset Bostonians proper can wash their hands of all the indecencies and crimes that have converted Boston Common and Boston streets into a modern counterpart of Sodom and Gomorrah.

Let us not be unjust even to the Boston Pharisees, who know nothing of all the iniquity on which Park street steeple and the Old South nightly look down with horror, and who, therefore, continually sing in their rural homes the "holier-than-thou" song with which they have made "the whole world and the rest of mankind" familiar. In this very latest so-called Boston tragedy is not the murderer a crazy Canadian? Let, then, the burden of responsibility rest not on pious Bostonians, but rather upon the fatal facilities of the divorce laws in almost all the United States except South Carolina, and on the folly of an unfortunate husband who welcomes a furious lover of his wife to the bosom of his family.

CURRENCY.—Here is the latest view of the Tribune in regard to the currency:—"While, therefore, we travel on the direct road to metallic payments, by pursuing a course which diffuses knowledge of our resources and confidence in our ability to redeem, we can, for the time, safely leave the currency to take care of itself." And only the other day, and for months and years, has the same voice clamored for specie payment on any terms, every terms, in season and out of season. When this change of tune? Somebody recently employed Greeley to write on political economy. That led him to study political economy, and in the course of the study he has mastered a few problems in finance, and now knows that our currency in our situation may be left "to take care of itself."

A LONG CRISIS.—Baron Beust says it is hazardous to promise to maintain peace in Europe at present, but that if there is not war in four years there will not be in a great while longer. "At present," therefore, means during the next four years.

BUYING LAND.—Some chiefs of the Osage Indians had agreed to sell a large tract of land to a railroad company at nineteen cents an acre. So said the railroad company; but the Indians say they made the agreement only under compulsion and fear.

Affairs in Cuba—Progress of the Patriots.

Our latest despatches from Cuba are on the whole encouraging. The insurrection, instead of being stamped out by the arrest of the Cuban volunteers that left this city, goes on with as much vigor as if no such check had been received. For some reason or reasons yet unexplained the Spanish authorities have detained the American mail steamer between Santiago de Cuba and this country. Probably when details reach us we shall find it only another instance of that high-handed and arbitrary way in which Spain has hitherto conducted this war. The unfortunate Cubans who, rightly or wrongly, are suspected of disloyalty are treated with extreme severity, being hurried away, even when in ill health, to Bayamo, there to be tried summarily before one of the military tribunals. The sequestration of estates still goes on, proving that the wealthy planters are deeply embarked in this cause. Little fighting of any consequence has taken place, the policy of Generals Cespedes and Jordan being to harass the Spanish troops, cut off their convoys of provisions and such small parties of soldiers as stray from the main body. A small body of patriots lately surprised the garrison (four thousand strong) of Puerto Principe by an assault upon the town before daybreak, and retreated in good order, carrying with them fifty thousand dollars' worth of provisions. But cholera and vomito are causing far greater havoc among the raw troops from Spain than all the efforts of the patriot leaders. The Spanish ranks are being thinned rapidly, and the difficulty of filling the vacancies caused thereby is daily becoming greater.

The government journals are now more fully alive than ever to the critical position of affairs, and are calling upon all ranks to volunteer, but the call is badly responded to. The Governor of Trinidad has pressed into the service all Spaniards between fifteen and sixty years of age, and it is proposed to extend this order to the whole island. The government is afraid, however, to entrust the creoles with arms, and as to the negro militia, they have threatened repeatedly to go over to the enemy should they be compelled to exchange garrison duty for service in the field. Quite in keeping with this threat is the news we publish to-day that sixteen of them—a first instalment—have already deserted. Urgent solicitations for fresh troops have been sent to the government in Madrid, and Brigadier Leteure y Rios has gone to Spain for this purpose, as well as to impress upon the government there the really critical position of affairs on the island.

Altogether the news from Cuba is reassuring to the friends of liberty, and, as might be expected, the patriots there rejoice to hear of Carlist insurrections and the many difficulties fast gathering round the Spanish government. Now that the question of the sale of the island seems finally set at rest the Cubans are prepared to fight out their own independence. Every week finds them better organized and fitter to take the field. The very atrocities of the Spanish volunteers have done much to strengthen the insurrection by fomenting among the natives a spirit of hatred against a government that countenances such ruffians, and by enlisting more warmly in behalf of Cuba and her freedom the good wishes of every American.

Election Riot in Mobile.

The political or constitutional experiment for the commingling of people of two distinct races on terms of perfect citizen equality which is being attempted in this country is likely to lead to serious trouble during its progress towards a final solution. From Mobile we have reports of the occurrence of a serious and fatal riot between whites and negroes during a moment of out-door rejoicings, conducted by the republicans of that city, in celebration of the triumph of their candidate for the Congressional representation of the district. An exclusively negro-black-republican meeting was held under the conduct of some white leaders, the enfranchised Africans being for the most part armed, in consequence, as their friends allege, of the prevalence of certain rumors to the effect that they would be assailed—and thus for self-protection. Unfortunately a collision—of the origin of which we have, as usual, very conflicting statements—did occur between men of the opposing parties—opposed in color, in sentiment and in politics. Firearms were freely used, and after a period of general tumult and alarm it was found that three negroes were killed and five others badly hurt in the mêlée. Seven white men were wounded. The expression in Mobile appears as if in gratitude that the affair was not of still worse consequence, and in direct condemnation of the itinerant agitators who "madden and inflame the passions of the negroes." It is the crimination and recrimination of politicians, and will go on until the negro attains his exact position, wherever that may be.

Trouble in the Republican General Committee.

The meeting of this body held on Thursday evening was not of the most harmonious character. In fact, the seeds of discord put up their heads so very demonstratively above the ground that it is quite possible, if the sprouts should flourish, there must necessarily come great trouble to the "Union Republican General Committee." It appears that a rival committee of outsiders has been formed, the members of which aspire to control the federal offices on their own hook, without due regard to the dignity and claims of the original body, as heretofore exercised. The intention expressed by the orators on this occasion tended to "weeding out" the members who had the temerity to join any other committee, and these gentlemen were pretty heartily denounced as backsliders and men who voted with the democratic ring, and were designated the most corrupt members of the republican party, and so on. Of course the parties assailed were not without their defenders. There were speakers who admitted that another organization existed of which they were members, and some who declared that the "General Republican Committee" was arraigned before the State as untrue to republican principles and guilty of infidelity to the party.

This is entirely a family quarrel. It is very amusing to witness, but it may prove a very serious affair to those who hold office or expect to hold office under the influence of the committee which has had the arrangement of these little matters entirely in its own hands. There appear to be some strong-backed politicians among the recusants, and hence the general committee may be compelled to compromise with them or else forego its exclusive claim to the spoils. The domestic fight, however, is of very little moment to the general public except as it suggests the good old proverb which runs "When rogues fall out honest men come by their own."

DETECTIVES.—On the 14th of July a man threw himself under a railroad train in England and was instantly killed, of course. No person acquainted with him was present. His name, home, destination were all unknown, and it became the duty of the police to determine his identity. Seven days later the London police were able almost to write his biography, although he was not an Englishman, and was only in England on his way to Australia. Every step he had taken since he landed in England was known, and in ten days the American Consul was able to send here a considerable statement of facts in regard to him. How would it have been had this event happened here? Detectives Blatherskyte, Puffer and Itchingpalm would have been assigned to "work up the case." They would have studied the newspapers for three days to ascertain what rewards were offered, and finding none would have informed us at the end of three months that the suicide was an impenetrable mystery. Why cannot we have a detective police as well as the Londoners?

CONSERVATIVE PARTIES—that is, parties of such modified republicanism that the democrats and sensible ex-Confederates find it not inconsistent with self-respect to act with them—have now swept Virginia and Tennessee.

MOVEMENTS OF PRESIDENT GRANT.

The President at the Home of the Secretary of State—Interesting Surroundings—Informal Visit to West Point—The Newburg Trip—A Cabinet Meeting Next Tuesday.

GARRISON'S, N. Y., August 6, 1869.

The President at the elegant country seat of the Secretary of State, Mr. Fish, will certainly enjoy to its fullest extent all the delightful recreation to be had only in this interesting locality. The rarest beauties of nature, in the shape of bold mountains, smiling valleys, a magnificent river, passing river craft, from the palatial steamboat to a low-deck schooner, the railway train rushing backward and forward day and night, the numerous mansions of the affluent and the humbler homes of the country people, all lend to this vicinity a peculiar charm. It was also in this vicinity that events transpired calling forth on the one hand feelings of gratitude and reverence and on the other scorn and rebuke. It was here that the patriots of the war of 1776 established for themselves a stronghold in the highlands; it was here that Arnold sought to betray that stronghold and his country to an infamous enemy, and failed because the countrymen were too true to the cause they had sworn to defend and to the principles which were to make them freemen. A few days [illegible] given to reflections upon those surroundings of historical association, forgetting the annoyances to which he has been subjected within the past few months by the mob of office-hunters, the President will certainly leave here benefited in every respect.

This morning the President inaugurated his visit to the Highlands by getting up at a good country hour, and breakfasted at nine o'clock. About half-past ten, in company with Mr. Fish and General Porter, he crossed over to West Point, on the opposite side of the Hudson. The visit of the President being entirely of an informal nature, not even informing the commanding officer that he was coming, his arrival was a complete surprise. No formalities were exchanged. The President drove to the tent of Brevet Lieutenant Colonel Black, commandant of cadets now in encampment, and remained some time. He also visited Brevet Brigadier General Pitcher, commanding the post. After passing several hours here, surrounded by the scenes of his youth, receiving the attentions of those few officers who by chance learned of his presence, and giving a passing look at the grounds and the encampment of cadets the party returned to Garrison's and thence back to the residence of Mr. Fish, arriving about half-past one.

At dinner this afternoon, which was at three o'clock, Mr. Fish invited General Pitcher and Colonel Black, who were both present, also Judge Pierrepont. The remainder of the day was passed quietly. At five o'clock the President took a short drive with District Attorney Pierrepont.

To-morrow, if it should not rain, the President, Mr. Fish and General Porter will visit Newburg, a short distance above here. A special boat will be at Garrison's by nine o'clock and convey the party to Newburg.

The President has determined to leave here on Monday evening for New York, and will proceed either the same evening or the next morning for Washington. He will be accompanied by Secretary Fish. There will be a meeting of the Cabinet upon the arrival of the President, and there is no doubt questions of importance will be taken up. The first scene of the Spanish Armada business having been so well and summarily disposed of we may look for new developments speedily.

Preparations at Newburg for the Reception of the President.

NEWBURG, August 6, 1869.

The citizens of this place are in a bustle of excitement and preparation for the grand event of to-morrow—the visit of the President of the United States. The event will be the first of the kind in the history of this little city, and there is a general desire to make the most of it, for it may not be repeated very soon. This morning Mayor Clark received a letter from President Grant stating that he would be at the disposal of the committee at ten o'clock to-morrow morning. He will be accompanied by Secretary Fish, General Pitcher, General Porter and others of Grant's friends. The programme is something as follows:—At nine o'clock A. M the committee of arrangements and invited guests will leave Newburg in the steamer M. Martin, formerly Grant's despatch boat, and now of the Newburg and Albany day line, and proceed to West Point, arriving about ten o'clock. The Presidential party and the West Point Band will be taken on board, and the steamer's head will be turned towards Newburg. The Martin will skirt the shore as closely as possible, to give the President opportunity for inspecting the proposed route of the Newburg and West Point carriage drive. The party will arrive at Newburg at eleven o'clock, and be received by a procession composed of the military, firemen and various civic societies. The Presidential party and invited guests will then be escorted through the principal streets to Washington's headquarters. Here the President will be welcomed in a short address by Mayor Clark, and presented to the citizens. A collation is to be served up on the headquarters grounds for the processionists, while the Presidential party and invited guests repair to the residence of Mayor Clark, to be dined and wined. After dinner the President will be driven around the city, and probably along the river road as far as Cornwall Landing, where he will again take the steamer Martin for West Point. At this hour of writing (7:15 P. M.) the weather has an unsettled appearance, with the promise of a northeast storm to-morrow. Should the day be stormy the visit of the President is to be deferred until Monday next.

THE SOLAR ECLIPSE AND THE WEATHER.

DES MOINES, August 6, 1869.

The weather has been cloudy for two days, with no sign of a break up. Twelve astronomers are here, with eleven telescopes in position, also meterological apparatus; but they doubt the possibility of making observations. The barometer rose a little this morning, but stopped. It will be a great scientific disappointment if the eclipse is not visible.

THE ARMY.

The President has accepted the resignation of Second Lieutenant Burbank, of the Fifth infantry. First Lieutenant Von Schrock is assigned to duty in the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen and Abandoned Lands, and ordered to report to General Howard. The resignation of First Lieutenant Wagmire, of the First cavalry, has been accepted by the President; also of First Lieutenants John Murphy and Moberly, from the cavalry. Captain Joseph Gebray and First Lieutenant Whiting are detailed for recruiting service, and ordered to report to the Superintendent of the recruiting service in New York city for assignment to duty.

THE NAVY.

Admiral Dahlgren will sever his official connection with the Ordnance Bureau as its chief on Tuesday next, on which day he will assume command of the Navy Yard in Washington, in place of Admiral Poor, who takes command of our squadron in Cuban waters, relieving Vice Admiral Hoff.

Second Assistant Engineer John Van Hovenberg is ordered to duty as assistant to the Inspector of Machinery at the New York Navy Yard.

The London Press on the Seizure of the Spanish Gunboats.

LONDON, August 6, 1869.

The seizure by the American government of the gunboats building for Spain at different points in the United States has elicited the following comments from the London newspapers:—

The Morning Star (radical organ) says that the American government having exhibited vigor in favor of Spain by enforcing the neutrality laws has now proceeded equally vigorously against Spain and for the same cause. The writer regards the recognition of Cuba by Peru as ill advised, though spirited. In spite of all the predictions the Cuban insurgents seem to be able to hold their ground. The whispers of the cession of Cuba to the United States are now louder than ever. The Americans have desired to come into possession of that island for the past twenty years. Now the obstacle of slavery having been removed, if a fair purchase can be effected, all the parties may be satisfied with the arrangements which will give another State to the American Union and remove the great perplexity from the arena of Spanish politics.

The News concludes its article as follows:—Considering all the circumstances which make it difficult for Europeans to keep hold of their unwilling colonists in America, and reflecting that Cuba is now in insurrection, Spain will be fortunate if $20,000,000 ever reach Madrid as the price of Cuba.

Another Gunpowder Plot—Explosion in the Houses of Parliament.

LONDON, August 6, 1869.

At an early hour this morning, during the sessions of the houses of Parliament, great excitement was occasioned by a loud explosion in the building. A search was instituted, and a tin case, which had contained powder, was picked up on the terrace near by. Not much damage was done. No arrests were made. The affair is involved in mystery.

The London Press on the Council at Rome.

LONDON, August 6, 1869.

The correspondent of the Morning Post at Rome writes that it is not probable the Pope will renounce the idea of a Council. The emancipation of civil society from Church influence is so complete that it would be superfluous to prevent the meeting. It is expected that other States will show the same moderation as Baron Beust in his reply to Hohenlohe.

The Edgefield Difficulty—A Seducer Shot—A Brother's Life Sacrificed.

AUGUSTA, August 6, 1869.

It now seems that the reported duel between the Creswell brothers, at Edgefield, S. C., yesterday, was altogether a misconception of the facts of the case. J. D. Creswell was accused of the seduction of a young lady named Addison, and while on his way to this city, accompanied by his brother Charles, he was met by George B. and James Addison, brothers of Miss Addison. Nothing is known regarding the unfortunate rencontre save that Charles Creswell was shot dead and J. D. Creswell dangerously but not mortally wounded. To-day the brothers Addison gave themselves up to the authorities.

OHIO.

An Unfaithful Wife and Her Paramour Wounded.

CLEVELAND, August 6, 1869.

Wm. K. Lamphear, a stencil cutter, residing at No. 68 Seneca street, suspecting an undue intimacy between his wife and one of his employes named George Stanley, who boarded at his house, went to work early this morning, and returning home he found Stanley in bed with his wife. He attacked them both with a knife, inflicting wounds in his wife's abdomen, which will probably prove fatal, and wounding Stanley in his shoulder. Lamphear was arrested.

CUBA.

Mail Detained at Santiago—Inhuman Arrests—Hunt After a Missing Spanish Expedition—Desertions to the Insurgents—Cholera.

HAVANA, August 4,
Via KEY WEST, August 6, 1869.

Intelligence from Santiago de Cuba to the 30th ult. reports that the authorities there have seized the American mail which was to leave for the United States via Havana.

Prominent citizens who had been released from confinement have been again arrested by order of Count Valmaseda and sent to Manzanillo despite the fact that some of them are dangerously sick. These are compelled to travel by land to Bayamo, where military courts are the only tribunals.

Three hundred soldiers, under Colonel Quiros, all that remain of the Reno regiment, had arrived at Santiago de Cuba. They form part of an expedition which is to be sent in search of Colonel Torrero and 250 Spanish soldiers, who have not been heard from for some time, and fears are entertained for their safety.

Sixteen volunteers of the mobilized force stationed on the Victoria farm deserted and went over to the insurgents.

The negroes on the various estates are suffering from want of food and are becoming troublesome.

Cholera has broken out among the Spanish detachments stationed on the plantations.

Landing of a Filibuster Party from Florida.

WASHINGTON, August 6, 1869.

Information has been received here that a Cuban expedition, composed of about 250 men, which left a point on the coast of Florida on the 4th inst., had arrived in Cuba. It is stated that a courier who accompanied the expedition returned to Florida and communicated by telegraph this morning with a party in this city.

STATE ELECTIONS.

TENNESSEE.

Senter's Majority Over 50,000.

NASHVILLE, August 6, 1869.

The total vote of Nashville and Davidson county is, Senter, 663; Stokes, 4,696. Stokes' official majority in Nashville is seventeen. Information from East Tennessee shows that Senter will carry that section by a small majority. In that case Senter's majority in the State will not be less than 50,000.

MEMPHIS, August 6, 1869.

The official vote of Shelby county, with one precinct to hear from, gives Senter 3,682 majority.

With the exception of the disturbance at Moscow no account of violence at the polls in Western Tennessee has been received.

The democratic press here, in announcing the victory achieved yesterday, calls upon the supporters of Senter to remember charity in their hour of triumph and forget the wrongs that have been inflicted upon them.

Ex-President Johnson Favoring Repudiation.

WASHINGTON, August 6, 1869.

Ex-President Johnson, in a speech of over three hours' duration at Blountsville, Tenn., the last he made before the election in that State, took the most open and unequivocal grounds in favor of national repudiation. The bondholders, he said, had already received the amount of their investments. The greatest enthusiasm was manifested throughout the address, at the conclusion of which three hearty cheers were given for the ex-President.

ALABAMA.

Two Radical and Two Democratic Congressmen Elected—Two Districts in Doubt.

MONTGOMERY, August 6, 1869.

The returns are still meagre, but enough is known to render it certain that Buckley and Hays, republicans, have been elected in the Second and Fourth districts by negro majorities. Dox and Sherman, democrats, are elected in the Fifth and Sixth districts by white majorities. The returns from the First district are too indefinite to pronounce certainly as to the result, but the impression is that Buck is elected. The Third district is very close, and 100 votes will probably decide the contest.

MONTANA.

Re-Election of James M. Cavanaugh.

CHICAGO, August 6, 1869.

A Helena (Montana) despatch says that Hon. J. M. Cavanaugh (democrat) has been re-elected Delegate to Congress from that Territory by 2,000 majority.

THE PLAINS.

Extension of the Kansas Pacific Railroad to Denver—Indian Outrages in New Mexico.

ST. LOUIS, August 6, 1869.

A Denver despatch says General Palmer, of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, left there yesterday after having completed arrangements for the extension of that road to Denver.

The most intelligent miners assert that St. Louis will become the chief point for smelting the silver ores of Colorado, and that 1,000 tons of ore will be shipped to this city daily when the railroad is finished, at a saving of thirty dollars per ton on the present mode of transportation. Parties are already preparing to erect smelting works for the treatment of these ores.

The receipts of the Land Office at Denver for July were $529,798.

Steamboats left Denver yesterday with the Vice President's party. Previous to leaving he was presented with a pitcher made of Colorado silver and gold.

A Santa Fé despatch says that a party of miners were attacked by Indians at Sulphur Springs, and their wagons and supplies fell into the hands of the savages.

A party of miners, on a prospecting tour to San Juan, were allowed to pass through the country by the Utah Indians, but they were positively prohibited from locating claims.

Large numbers of cattle and sheep have been driven off by the Indians in Arribo county.

MARYLAND.

Country Editors on the Rampage—Fatal Accident—Three Men Drowned.

BALTIMORE, August 6, 1869.

The association of editors of Maryland country journals left here this morning on a pleasure excursion to Harper's Ferry and the Springs of Virginia.

The small sidewheel steamer Helen Brooke, of fifteen tons burden, left this port yesterday for Attakapas, La. Her route is inland hence to New York by the canal, up the Hudson and through the canals to the Lakes and down the Mississippi.

Yesterday afternoon about three o'clock a sloop-rigged boat, sailed by the Philadelphia Yacht Club, was capsized on Bush river, Harford county, by a sudden flaw of wind. There were fourteen persons on board, three of whom—Harry Lee, of Baltimore, aged twenty-two years, and James M. Sewell and Septimus Sewell, aged respectively forty-five and fifty years, citizens of Harford county—were drowned. Both of the latter leave families. Young Lee was the son of the late Joseph Lee, a well known banker of this city. His mother resides at present in Brooklyn, N. Y.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Murder of Mrs. Hobbs—The Insanity Plea Repudiated.

BOSTON, August 6, 1869.

The inquest on the death of Mrs. Alvah Hobbs was resumed this afternoon. Three witnesses were examined, of whom two, Drs. Mansfield and C. W. Swan, were the attendant physicians. They described the appearance of the body of the murdered lady when they were called in, showing that the bullet entered the left breast and passed out back and under the right shoulder, probably severing the large vessels at the base of the heart, thus causing instantaneous death. The third witness was Warren Hartshorn, the police officer who arrested White. He testified that the prisoner made no resistance, and that while on the way to the station house he said that he did the deed, and that he had cause for doing it, but would reveal nothing until the right time. He further remarked, "They may call me insane, but I am not." Hartshorn stated that he asked White a second time why he did the deed, and the reply was, "There ought not to have been cause enough for doing what I have done." The hearing was adjourned until to-morrow, when the lieutenant of police who had charge of the station when White was brought in, and who entered into conversation with him, will be examined, and also others. The lieutenant's testimony, it is expected, will throw some further light on the cause of the commission of the act.

Bloody Affray in Mobile—Three Negroes Killed—Ten Persons Wounded.

MOBILE, Aug. 6, 1869.

Last night a serious riot occurred in this city, beginning at an out-door republican meeting to celebrate the triumph of the republican candidate for this Congressional district. The meeting was a large one, and was composed exclusively of negroes, except a few white leaders. During the whole of yesterday rumors were in circulation that the negroes were very much excited, defiant and threatening, and meant to burn the democratic candidate for Congress (Colonel Mann) in effigy. Several citizens called on the Mayor and some of the republican leaders, and advised them that it would be better to postpone the meeting, for if the effigy threat was carried out the whole people could not be restrained from an attempt to resent the indignity by force. It was thought that these representations had the desired effect, and there would be no meeting. At eight o'clock, however, the tar barrels were lighted and the negroes began to flock in until they swelled into a crowd of a thousand or fifteen hundred. Many came with guns; most all with concealed arms, pistols, knives and razors. Nothing occurred to disturb the harmony of the meeting, except the inflammatory talk of some of the speakers, until about ten o'clock, when a jocose dispute arose between two citizens on a subject entirely foreign to politics or the meeting attracted some attention, and in pressing up to see what it was about a white man accidentally trod on the foot of a negro. Just as the altercation about this was settled a pistol shot was heard, and this was the signal for a general firing. The whole crowd dispersed immediately. The firing was continued a few moments as the crowd scattered, and in ten minutes a dead quiet reigned, broken only by the tread of white patrols. A detachment of United States troops were stationed at the guard house, at the request of the Mayor, in anticipation of trouble. They took no part in the fray, except to march up town to look after and put a stop to some firing. It is not known who fired the first shot; it was the natural result of the excitement. There were not over 100 men as lookers on at the meeting. The casualties were small considering the number of shots fired and the close quarters. Many shots must have been fired in the air. Three negroes were killed outright and five were wounded. Four police officers and three other white men were wounded.

The Register of this morning comments on the riot as follows:—

> Last night's work, done after our editorial of this morning was in print, is a sharp and quick commentary on the dangers we forecasted from the present aspect of affairs. It is a burning shame that this community should be exposed to outrages like this, and the community owes it to itself to take measures to protect itself against a repetition of them. As to where the blame lies there is no room for question. These deeds are the direct outflow of the maddened passions of negroes, inflamed and lashed into fury by the public harangues and private instigations of the foreign radicals in our midst. It is a question for the public to decide how long these incendiaries shall be allowed to expose the peace of society and the safety of women and children. We hope that a public meeting will be held to answer this question.

Politics in San Francisco—Indian Murders in Arizona.

SAN FRANCISCO, August 5, 1869.

Efforts are being made to organize a people's party in this city to nominate a ticket for city and county officers. Reform is demanded, and it is deemed necessary to take the offices of the city out of the hands of the politicians.

The United States steamer Newbern has arrived from Sitka, touching at Fort Tongass. Her news is unimportant.

Advices from Arizona state that since January 1, in Pima county alone, 1,690 head of cattle have been stolen by the Indians. During the same period, out of a population of 750 whites the savages murdered fifty-two, wounded eighteen and carried two into captivity.

The Late Railroad Accident—Suits Against the Central Company—The Susquehanna Railroad Imbroglio—More Injunctions Against the Directors.

ALBANY, August 6, 1869.

The Coroner's jury in the case of the accident in Spencer street, on Wednesday, found that the flagman, John Delehanty, was absent from his post, and censure the Central Railroad Company for employing such a neglectful man. The railroad company will be prosecuted by the owners of the horses and the friends of the deceased.

The excitement here in regard to the Susquehanna Railroad is intense. A complaint was made to-day against Messrs. Leonard, Herrick, North and Wilbur, directors, and Mr. Phelps, treasurer, charging them with conspiracy to place the road in the control of Jay Gould and his friends, now managing the Erie Railway, and thus defraud the company out of its property. It also denies all charges against President Ramsay. Judge Clute issued an order enjoining the above parties from acting as directors, vice president and treasurer. This reduced the board to less than a quorum, and though they met they were obliged to adjourn sine die.

The Buffalo Coal Monopoly—Abolition of Duty on Foreign Coal.

BUFFALO, August 6, 1869.

The anti coal monopoly organization held another meeting this evening. A committee was appointed to arrange for an immediate supply of coal and procure a charter for the citizens' coal organization. Resolutions were passed recommending the abolition of the tariff on coal; instructing the Representative of this district to use his utmost endeavors to procure such abolishment in Congress, and denouncing the coal monopolies. A committee was appointed to draft a memorial to Congress for the abolition of the duty on foreign coal. A most earnest and determined spirit is manifested to break up the coal monopolies.

The American Dental Association.

SARATOGA, August 6, 1869.

The American Dental Association held its final session to-day.

Dr. Ambler, from the committee, reported thanks to Dr. C. Palmer for the report and illustrations on operative dentistry.

Drs. Allen, of New York; McClelland, of Louisville; S. B. Palmer, of Syracuse, read papers on medical dentistry. A paper commending rose pearl as the base mounting for artificial teeth was read.

Drs. Morgan, C. R. Butler and L. D. Shepherd were appointed a Committee on Dental Ethics for the ensuing year.

Dr. Freeman, of Philadelphia, offered a preamble and resolution in favor of admitting women to full membership in subordinate associations, and that in consultations the consideration of sex be avoided and only ability and moral character be the standard judgment. Laid on the table as a matter beyond the jurisdiction of this association.

The Committee on Dental Ethics reported a case of two members for advertising unprofessionally. The report was accepted, and a resolution expelling one of the members laid on the table to come up next year.

The following are the standing committees for next year:—

Dental Pathology and Surgery—W. H. Atkinson, J. S. Knapp and C. K. Butler.

Dental Physiology—J. H. Quillen, James Truman and W. H. Morgan.

Dental Chemistry—J. S. Buckingham, J. Allen and G. R. Thomas.

Dental Histology—Homer Judd, W. W. Allport and R. W. Vasney.

Mechanical Dentistry—S. B. Palmer, L. Cotton and S. M. Sturgis.

Dental Literature—L. D. Shepherd, J. McManus and William Smith.

Voluntary Essays—J. J. Wetherbee, C. D. Cook and L. S. Stran.

Publications—E. A. Bogue and J. Taft.

Dr. Judd, the new President, was then inducted to office.

Dr. Taft, the retiring President, read an address, and the Convention then adjourned.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS ITEMS.

General Meade and family arrived at Cape May last evening. A grand dress ball will be given in his honor this evening at Stockton's Hotel.

On Thursday morning the schooner L. E. Calvin sprung a leak and sunk ten miles from the shore, opposite Broderick's Point, Lake Ontario. All hands were saved.

Advices from Coyner's Springs, Va., are to the effect that the corn is suffering terribly from drought along the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad. No rain has fallen for eight weeks.

The game of base ball at Cincinnati yesterday between the Red Stockings, of Cincinnati, and the Forest City Club, of Cleveland, resulted in favor of the former by a score of 43 to 27.

The report forwarded from Philadelphia on Thursday in reference to Jay Cooke & Co. having advanced money on whiskey destroyed by the fire was erroneous and is positively denied by that firm.

The store of Samuel C. Anderson at Reed's Ferry, N. H., was entered on Thursday, the safe dumped into a cellar and blown open and robbed of $1,200. Thirty-five hundred dollars in government bonds were left in the safe.

The second game of base ball for the junior championship of the State of Maine was played at Augusta yesterday between the Dirigos, of Augusta, and the North Stars, of Portland. The Dirigos were victorious by a score of 35 to 24.

WASHINGTON.

Effects of Cabinet Interference in the Tennessee Election—Johnson's Return to the United States Senate Secured.

Prominent Tennessee republicans, supporters of Governor Senter, but strong opponents of Andrew Johnson, write to their friends in Washington city that Secretaries Boutwell and Creswell's letters endorsing Stokes have contributed largely to the probabilities of Johnson's election to the United States Senate. These letters of endorsement had the effect of exasperating these republicans who supported Senter in good faith upon the platform and principles enunciated by the Chicago Convention. They assert that they have always, in connection with Senter, stood, and now stand, upon that platform, while Boutwell and Creswell have sought to ignore it so far as the franchise question is concerned. These republicans say that Andrew Johnson and his friends were shrewd enough to take advantage of the fact that these two Cabinet officers were arraying the administration against the most prominent of Grant's supporters in Tennessee, and that therefore they were to be whipped in like a set of curs upon the caprice of ambitious aspirants for the Presidential succession in 1872. It being well understood that Andrew Johnson would be the most obnoxious person to General Grant and his Cabinet that could be sent from Tennessee to the United States Senate, a sympathy for Johnson's success in that regard has been aroused on the part of prominent conservatives who would otherwise have opposed him with strong probabilities of success. This sympathy for Mr. Johnson has also been materially heightened from the fact that General Grant has neglected or refused to contradict or qualify the terms of these mischievous letters of the Secretary of the Treasury and Postmaster General. Private telegrams predict that Senter's majority will reach 50,000.

Modification of Spanish Navigation Dues.

The United States Consulate at Valencia informs the Department of State that the Spanish navigation dues of November last have been modified. The tax on tonnage discharging dues imposed on shipping will be divided into three heads:—First, coasting, properly so called, or the navigation between Spanish ports in the Peninsula, Balearic and Canary Island and the penal possessions in Africa; secondly, the navigation between the above mentioned ports and all nations of Europe, including the coast of Asia in the Mediterranean and of Africa in said sea, and in the Atlantic as far as Cape Magador; and thirdly, the navigation between the Spanish ports and those of the rest of the globe not mentioned above.

ARTICLE 2. Vessels employed in the first kind of trade will continue the dues already established by the decree of November 22, 1868, namely, three reals (fifteen cents) per ton discharged, and two reals (ten cents) a head per passenger. Ships engaged in the third kind of trade will also pay the same dues as ordered by the decree of November, namely, ten reals (fifty cents) per ton discharged, and five reals (twenty-five cents) for passengers. Ships employed in the second kind of trade will henceforth pay five reals (twenty five cents) per ton discharged, and ten reals (fifty cents) per passenger.

Shingle Manufacturers Exempt from Taxation.

The subject of taxing manufacturers of shingles on sales, which has been before the Revenue Bureau lately, has been decided in favor of exempting the same, in accordance with the ruling of ex-Commissioner Rollins. The point raised by the assessors in the case was, that when shingles are sawed out they are completed and ready for consumption, and, therefore, are manufactured lumber; but the Bureau exempts boards and laths from tax precisely in this condition, because they may yet pass through second hands before they are completed or manufactured. The Commissioner thought the distinction too fine to be justly made, and, therefore, confirmed the previous ruling.

Transfer of Supervisors.

Under the present arrangement of transferring Supervisors of Internal Revenue from one district to another, the Commissioner has decided to assign Supervisor Ira M. Harrison, of New Jersey, to temporary duties in West Virginia, for the purpose of making a thorough investigation into internal revenue affairs in that State.

Customs Receipts.

The following are the customs receipts from July 24 to July 31, inclusive, at the ports named:—

Boston	$320,891
New York	2,398,000
Philadelphia	162,699
Baltimore	362,720
New Orleans, July 16 to 24	99,829
San Francisco	429,520

Reduction of Tariffs in Madagascar.

The Department of State has been informed that a reduction in tariff on the importation of rum has taken place in Madagascar. It was formerly rated at thirty-three and now at ten per cent. Another reduction has taken place in export duties. All Madagascar produce brought into Tallane for the purpose of trying the chances of the market is to pay ten per cent, and if sold for exportation ten per cent export rates; but all produce bought in the interior and sent to Tamatav for shipment to foreign ports is not subject to octroi, and pays only ten per cent export duty, as regulated by treaties.

A Novel Safe—Savory Bacon.

A letter was received at the Treasury Department, in which the writer says he had $3,300 worth of five twenty bonds which he had in the ash hole of his bacon house for safe keeping. His wife not being aware of the fact kindled a fire to smoke some bacon, and the bonds were reduced to a cinder. They came to the Redemption Bureau to-day to be exchanged in so dilapidated a condition as to almost defy identification, but the experts of the Treasury have managed to paste the charred bits together so as to make out the amount without loss to the owner, who will in a few days receive equal value in bonds of more promising appearance.

The Ecclesiastical Trial in Chicago—Arrival of Distinguished Chinese Merchants.

CHICAGO, August 6, 1869.

Among the documents presented to amend the bill filed by the Rev. Mr. Cheney's counsel, is a bill intended to meet the exigency presented by the answer to the original bill, which carried the proceedings of the Ecclesiastical body to the morning of the 22d of July. The original bill having closed with the adjournment of the first day's proceedings, by the supplemental bill the combining and confederating clause is carried in and new parties are made parties to the suit. These parties are the Bishop and presenters. Accompanying this bill is a correspondence between Bishop Whitehouse and Mr. Cheney. Bishop Whitehouse in his letter to Mr. Cheney answers that the offence and misconduct for which he was to be tried had been unreservedly admitted by Mr. Cheney. This Mr. Cheney emphatically denies, and his denial is sustained by his wife and Mrs. A. Louise Sheldon, who heard Mr. Cheney say in a loud voice, "Bishop, I admit nothing."

Singman and Choy-Chew, the Chinese merchants now in this city, had a reception at the Sherman House last evening, which was fully attended. They will leave for New York on Monday night.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

FOUND DROWNED.—The body of a drowned man was discovered floating in the East river at the foot of Twenty-sixth street yesterday evening and was taken to the Morgue. The body was attired in dress black sack coat, gray ribbed pants and red shirt. Deceased was about forty-five years of age and had sandy hair and whiskers.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT.—A singular accident occurred to a lady in Fulton street, near Broadway, yesterday evening at six o'clock. As Mrs. Mary Lyons was getting on a Ninth avenue car a man running by with a long piece of iron on his shoulder stumbled. One end of the iron knocked against a lamp post and the other, rebounding, struck Mrs. Lyons on the cheek, injuring her severely. She was taken to Bellevue Hospital.

DESPERATE ASSAULT ON AN OFFICER.

About eleven o'clock last night officer Kearney, of the Eighth precinct, arrested a woman named Maggie Lewis, who was acting in a disorderly manner at the corner of Broome and Sullivan streets. While in the act of taking her to the station house the woman, who was partially intoxicated, suddenly drew a pocket knife and stabbed him in the neck, the right cheek and in the left hand. The wound in the neck was deep and broad and was pronounced, by Dr. Armstrong, who dressed it, as very severe. The blood flowed from it all over his neck and back, and when he reached the station house with his prisoner he was quite weak. The assault was not expected by the officer, and the woman had time to stab him three different times before he was able to secure her.

YACHTING.

Annual Cruise of the New York Yacht Club.

The squadron of the New York Yacht Club will rendezvous at Glen Cove this afternoon, preparatory to the annual cruise, which, from all appearances, promises to be among the most enjoyable that have heretofore rendered the performances of this fleet so famous throughout this country. It is the intention of Commodore Stebbins, who goes in command, to make this great annual event as brilliant as possible, and there is no doubt that his desires will be most heartily responded to by the members of the club. The advent of our great pleasure navy at the several ports will, of course, be hailed with delight, not more because of the well known gallantry and hospitality of the New York Yacht Club and the enjoyment it affords all with whom the members come in contact to reciprocate most cordially, but because of the cherished associations which the former visits of the club have occasioned. The prospects are brilliant indeed, and it seems that nothing will be left undone to render the cruise of 1869 worthy a foremost place in the annals of the club.

According to the orders which have been issued the squadron will rendezvous at the charming anchorage of Glen Cove about four o'clock this evening. Mr. Kennard will doubtless welcome the officers with that warm-heartedness and cordiality which in years past have so thoroughly endeared him to the New York Yacht Club. The beautiful grounds which surround his mansion will, in all probability, be visited, and when the works of nature and art have been inspected and appreciated the guests will doubtless be the recipients of a hearty welcome within doors. Glen Cove will be alive to-day, and the grand fleet of schooner yachts will be gazed at by critical and admiring eyes. Indeed, the squadron would hardly have properly commenced did it not open the campaign at Glen Cove. Good King Sol will not long have risen on to-morrow ere a gun from the Commodore's yacht will boom loudly, announcing the departure of the fleet. A fair wind will carry the yachts to New London before sunset, and there a gala time is in the prospective. As New London is an old favorite with the club a stay of a day or two may be made should the arrangements for a regatta be completed. At all events, a hearty welcome is in store for the club, however short the stay. The squadron will sail direct for Newport, which, by the way, will just be in its prime when the yachts arrive. It is expected that a regatta will take place outside the harbor, indeed, it would be unusual if there should not be one, and the inhabitants, therefore, will be prepared for the wonted brilliant display of the fleet. Several yachts belonging to the club will join the club at Newport, so that it will be considerably augmented and the effect will increase accordingly. The races contemplated at Newport will be for plate, and a large number of entries is anticipated, so that on the whole the display will unquestionably be equal to those that on former occasions have so favorably characterized the club.

The squadron will start for Holmes' Hole either on Friday or Saturday morning, or perhaps a day later, according to circumstances, and on the return will visit New Bedford. The enthusiastic manner in which the hospitable and kind-hearted inhabitants of New Bedford ever welcome the officers of the club and their palatial craft has certainly rendered this city perhaps the most favorite resort of the club on its annual cruise. Moreover the authorities of New Bedford have ever displayed the greatest cordiality towards the officers, and manifested the utmost willingness to encourage the splendid amusements and entertainments afforded by the club, as well as extending facilities for their proper production. On the whole New Bedford is one of the most important places to be visited, and that a grand regatta will be given there is almost a certainty. It is needless to state that the waters about New Bedford afford a most delightful ground for sport of the kind.

A large number of the yacht owners meditate a trip to Boston when the fleet shall have been disbanded by the Commodore. A sail in that direction will be not only a novelty, but extremely desirable. It will doubtless be marked by much pleasure and excitement; for it is not at all improbable that a regatta may take place there. In addition to the many attractions which will characterize the annual cruise it is contemplated to have a number of boat races among the crews of the winning yachts, and purses will be given for competition. Such a course would not only afford great satisfaction on account of the pleasure to be derived from the contests, but it would also tend to stimulate the men to greater rivalry and exertion. Altogether a brilliant cruise may be expected. The following yachts have already entered:—

SCHOONERS

Yacht.	Owner.
Phantom	Commodore Stebbins.
Fleur de Lis	J. S. Dickerman.
Rambler	J. H. Banker.
Kate	Robert Dillon.

Gracie	Commodore Voorhis.
Madeline	Jacob Voorhis, Jr.
Josephine	B. M. Durfee.
White Cap	L. Livingston.
Coming	W. B. Nichols.
Storm King	Peter Voorhis.

Besides those mentioned there will be several others which will join the fleet at New London and Newport, the entire number amounting to about thirty sail.

Yachting Notes.

The race between the Peerless (Felix O'Connor) and Flying Cloud (James F. Morgan) for $1,000 will take place on Wednesday next. The course will be from a stakeboat off the Manhattan Club, at Tottenville, Staten Island, to another stakeboat ten miles to windward and back.

It should be mentioned that the Apollo did not voluntarily haul out of the race at the Union regatta given by the Bayonne Yacht Club on Tuesday. She was disabled by the loss of her jib when her prospects were very favorable.

AMUSEMENTS.

CENTRAL PARK GARDEN—THOMAS' TESTIMONIAL BENEFIT.—The New York public gave last night an unmistakable proof of the high esteem in which they hold Theodore Thomas by crowding his benefit at the above beautiful garden. It was an audience also such as would compare favorably with any of those of Philharmonic or Academy standard in fashion and appreciative musical powers. The programme was one of rare excellence, comprising several novelties. A military band was added to the superb orchestra, which was increased to its full strength for the occasion. Levy was, of course, the star of the evening, and the magic notes of his cornet reverberated through garden and halls, calling up memories of the palmiest days of Koenig. The new ballet music of Faust, the enchanting waltzes of Strauss, the grand "Jubilee Overture" of Weber, a couple of Wagner's happiest works and some quaint German dances by Borgiel were special orchestral features. It would be difficult in Europe or America to match Central Park Garden for real enjoyment during the summer.

Musical and Theatrical Notes.

The Rigl sisters have accepted a ten months' engagement to dance in the Hub.

Miss Ada Webb is rehearsing several new plays at Saratoga. She plays a star engagement at the Theatre Comique in this city, commencing on the 23d inst.

Mme. Marie Sass has received from the Viceroy of Egypt a parure of fine pearls to the value of $5,000.

The following matinées are announced for this afternoon:—"Rip Van Winkle," at Booth's; "Self," at Wallack's; "Lalla Rookh," at Wood's Museum; "Hiccory Diccory Dock," at the Olympic, and "East Lynne" at the Grand Opera House.

Mrs. Claude Hamilton, who won golden opinions during her late brief engagement at the Waverley theatre, where, by the bye, she appeared as a "giant among the pigmies," has just been engaged for a New York theatre for the coming season.

"Rusty Musket Jack" will be the "leading old man" of the Chestnut street theatre, Philadelphia, next season. He intends giving the "broadbrims" a taste of his "Jack Falstaff."

The Rand sisters, two clever actresses from the San Francisco theatres, have been engaged by Manager Wood for the regular fall and winter season at the Museum.

'Arry Palmer, since the revival of "Arrah-na-Pogue" at Niblo's, has been living on potatoes, with a view of improving his brogue. He might just as well give it up first as last, for nothing can possibly metamorphose the natty 'Arry into a good Patlander.

London is to have another theatre. It is to be built in the Strand, and to open in October, under the management of a Miss Litton, a popular London actress. The London theatres will soon all be under the management of women.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" is in active preparation at the Olympic. Hays is working night and day upon the necessary scenery, which will be in that artist's best style. The piece will be strongly cast, and will be produced about the 1st of September.

The Thompsonian brigade of blonde burlesquers, after playing in New York for forty-five consecutive weeks, and netting over $70,000 profit, have gone to the Canadian side of Niagara Falls to spend some of their American earnings. These bleached beauties of burlesque may possibly take it into their heads to go home by way of the Canada line, and if Jim Juoi lee, Jr., don't gratuitously place one of his luxurious "palace cars" at their disposal.

The Academy of Music will open about the 20th of September for a season of grand French opera, under a Brussels manager. Among the company will be Madame Marie Sass and the tenor, Roger. They are to receive for their services the extravagant terms of $5,000 per month, exclusive of hotel charges, carriages, &c. They will leave France for this city about the 25th inst. The opening opera will be "The Prophet." The season will terminate in November, when the company will visit the principal cities of the West and South.

The great European Circus, which left this city in May last, has been perambulating through the Eastern States, everywhere meeting with much success. This week it pitches its tent in Worcester, New London, and crosses the Connecticut river at Lyme, exhibiting at New Haven on the 7th, Bridgeport 9th, Stamford 10th, New Rochelle 11th, and Yonkers on the 12th. After this the concern travels up the Hudson as far as Albany, from which place it strikes into the interior of the State, returning to this city about the 1st of October.

The National Museum, Chicago, formerly owned by Colonel Wood, has recently been purchased by Mr. Frank E. Aiken, who will open it for the regular fall dramatic season on Monday evening, with all its old favorites and several new candidates for Chicagoan honors.

"Our American Cousin," with Miss Laura Keene as Florence Trenchard and Mr. Geo. C. Boniface as the irrepressible Asa, has been the attraction this week at Selwyn's theatre, Boston. The theatre closes this evening for alterations and repairs, and reopens on the 30th inst. under Mr. Selwyn's management, with the leading members of "The Great Boston Combination Company," with whose clever acting and whimsical caprices New Yorkers recently had an opportunity of becoming acquainted.

It is stated that the Pope has given M. Gounod three commissions—the composition of a mass, a national song and an oratorio. The last must be in three parts and be written for three choirs—a terrestrial choir upon the stage, an infernal chorus below it and a celestial choir behind the scenes.

A MAN BURIED ALIVE IN A WELL.

[From the Leavenworth (Kansas) Times and Conservative, July 29.]

From C. J. Hanks, Esq., route mail agent on the Kansas Pacific Railroad, we learn that the well being sunk at Monument Station by the company, caved in on Saturday last while two men were working in it, burying one, while the other escaped by seizing a rope, and was drawn up. It seems that the workmen had sunk the well 160 feet and were going through a strata of sand; owing to the scarcity of timber the curbing had been neglected for thirty feet above, and being thus insecure, without a moment's warning the well caved in, burying one man under several feet of earth and sand. The workmen above could distinctly hear his cries for help, and distinguished the words, "don't leave me." Yet, incredible as it may seem, his companions made no attempt to release him, alleging as an excuse that they were afraid of further caving in of the well. [illegible] more horrible still, after his cries had ceased and it was evident that life had fled, these inhuman monsters filled up the well, forever entombing a human being whom they might have rescued, or have at least obeyed the common dictates of humanity and have attempted to save.

THE SOLAR ECLIPSE.

Scientific Expeditions for Its Thorough Observation.

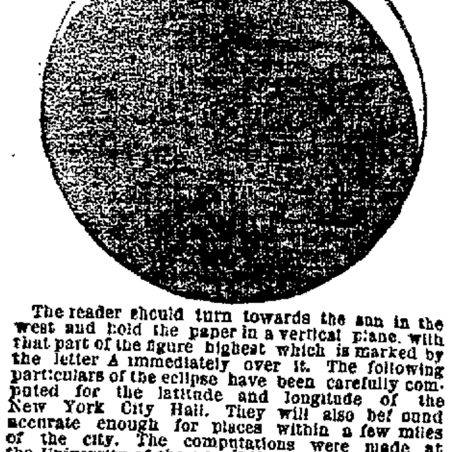
The Velocity of Its March Across the Continent.

This day there will occur one of the great phenomena of nature—a solar eclipse. There was one, an annular eclipse of the sun, on the 11th of February last, but visible only in the southern parts of South America and Africa. The one occurring to-day and visible over the whole United States, on a belt line, the centre of which runs from Alaska to the coast of North Carolina, is a total eclipse, the second and last for this year, and the last of this character visible in this country during the remainder of the present century. The last total eclipse of the sun occurred on the 18th of August, 1868, visible from points in Australia, South Africa and Southern Asia, and it will be recollected that a number of European governments sent out scientific expeditions to observe the phenomenon at places touched by the central line of the passing umbra, as the astronomers have named the shadow of the moon's disk thrown upon the earth's surface. It was on the occasion of the solar eclipse in 1860 that the modern invention of the process of almost instantaneous photograph was first applied with success by Mr. Warren de la Rue, to perpetuate the appearance of the sun in his various stages as the moon passed between him and the earth. Again, in 1866, the process of photography having been much improved, solar eclipses and their varying phases were successfully transferred to sensitive plates and preserved. But a new and still greater invention had been added to the means of science in the course of time. This was the spectroscope, a plain little instrument, constructed by Professors Bunsen and Kirchhoff, to analyze light, dissect it, as it were, into its component parts and discover the material character of the source from whence it proceeds. This little yet highly important instrument was for the first time used, in the year last named, in connection with improved telescopic and photographic apparatus in the scientific observations of the solar eclipse. The results then obtained were greatly surpassed, however, by those gained by the several expeditions to Asia and Africa, at Aden and other points, in 1868, where not only correct views were made of the physical appearance of the eclipse, but also the irregular outlines of the sun and moon partially determined and by means of the spectroscope even the nature of these heavenly bodies arrived at to a certain degree. The great discovery which the spectroscope thus enabled the men of science to make was that the component parts of the sun and the moon were the same as those of the earth, and nothing has been found in the prismatic reflection or dissection of the rays of light which has not also a corresponding ingredient in the earth's composition. And as the spectroscope has been brought to such perfection that the one hundred and eighty millionth part of a grain—a quantity the smallness of which is beyond human comprehension—of any substance can be detected and easily discerned in its reflection of light, it is certainly a good assurance for our belief. The total eclipse of this day, being visible over such a large belt of land as stretches from the northwest of the North American Continent to the shores of North Carolina, furnishes an extraordinary opportunity for thorough scientific observations, the results of which are looked forward to by men of science all over the world with unusual interest. Since, in the present utilitarian age, science is no longer the exclusive property of the few, but enters largely, as the most progressive and propelling element, into the civilization of mankind, none can doubt that from these observations, properly made use of, practical benefits may flow, not only in our enlarged knowledge of astronomical geography—if the term, like Maury's "Geography of the Sea," be allowed—but also in our better comprehension of the physical elements of the heavenly bodies. It will be apparent to all that such knowledge and comprehension cannot fail to exert their useful influence in many ways, and the nearer we bring the starry heavens to us the higher we raise the dignity and nobility of mankind.

IMPORTANT SCIENTIFIC EXPEDITIONS have been organized by the chief observatories, by the Nautical Almanac office, by the United States coast survey and by wealthy and public-spirited private parties, with all the facilities for accurate investigation. The sun, in various stages of eclipse, will be photographed and the time of the phenomena noted, while the spectroscopic phenomena will be made the subject of special and exhaustive analysis. The astronomical party from the Dearborn Observatory in Chicago will join forces with the party from the Washington Observatory, and are said to have selected for their point of observation a spot near Burlington, Iowa. Professor Hall, from the Washington Observatory, has started in time for Alaska, with an experienced corps of assistants, and he will there, so it is reported, be joined by a scientific expedition from Russia. Professor Henry, of the Smithsonian Institute, aided by experienced photographers and also by experts with spectroscope, will be in North Carolina and all along the central line of eclipse, or rather of the umbra or shadow of the moon, which is the line of total obscuration of the sun's disk; observations will be made at various points, some more, some less extensive. Even Europe has not let the opportunity pass and has sent out several expeditions from various countries to enrich the store of our knowledge of what is immediately above and around us. Great expectations are based upon the observations to be made by Professor Henry Morton, of the Franklin Institute, of Philadelphia, accompanied by Mr. J. H. Coffin, of the Nautical Almanac office, who are in Iowa to-day. Professor Morton has secured for this purpose the equatorial of the Philadelphia High School and that of the Gettysburg University, both of six inch aperture. Mr. Warren de la Rue recommends that refractors of six inch aperture and ten feet focal length should be used, mounted on equatorial stands with clockwork drivers. Each instrument has a portable observatory with photographic appliances, including four plate-holders and five baths, with fused nitrate of silver, which gives a more sensitive surface than the crystalized salt. Four operators accompany each telescope, two being expert photographers, and all well practised with the instrument in making lunar photographs.

THE ECLIPSE IN NEW YORK CITY.

In this city and its vicinity it will present the appearance of the accompanying figure at the moment of greatest obscuration:—



The reader should turn towards the sun in the west and hold the paper in a vertical plane, with that part of the figure highest which is marked by the letter A immediately over it. The following particulars of the eclipse have been carefully computed for the latitude and longitude of the New York City Hall. They will also be found accurate enough for places within a few miles of the city. The computations were made at the University of the city of New York, by members of the junior class, as part of their astronomical course. But the results obtained by the class have been verified by the separate computations of the professor of astronomy, using first the same process taught to the class, and secondly the formulæ and contents published in the American Nautical Almanac. The two different methods gave results agreeing within four and a half seconds of time, which is far within the limits of accuracy with which it is practicable to predict an eclipse on account of the unavoidable errors of the solar and lunar tables employed in the prediction. The results are:—

Beginning of eclipse, 5h. 12m. 33s. P. M., City Hall, mean time.

Greatest obscuration, 6h. 8m. 39s. P. M., City Hall, mean time.

End of eclipse, 7h. 0m. 46s. P. M., City Hall, mean time.

The sun's diameter being divided into twelve digits, 10 6-10 digits will be covered at greatest obscuration.

Where the observer's position is elevated sufficiently to overcome the obstructions of the surrounding buildings, and of the Palisade Heights in the West, he may see the sun entirely free from the moon's disk, about five minutes before the setting of that point on the sun's limb, at which the last contact with the moon's limb takes place.

WHAT IS THE ECLIPSE OF THE SUN?

The shortest definition of this natural phenomenon is that it is the passage of the moon between the sun and the earth. Astronomers have classified eclipses into three distinct degrees—partial, annular and total. A partial eclipse is when the moon's disk covers but a part of the sun; an annular eclipse occurs when the moon's disk covers the sun, leaving an annulus or ring of the latter visible around him, and at a total eclipse the entire disk of the sun is covered out of sight. An eclipse assumes either one of the first or last of the above phases in proportion as the observer may be nearer or further from the focal line. Thus, while the eclipse to-day will be total on the line already mentioned above, it will be but partial at certain distances to the north and south of it. An annular eclipse occurs under the following circumstances:—The smallest value of the length of the moon's shadow is 57.76 semi-diameters of the earth, and the greatest distance of the moon from the earth is 63.82 semi-diameters. Should the moon interpose between the earth and the sun when these values occur it is plain that the moon's shadow will fall short of the earth. In this case the sun will not be totally obscured from any point of the earth, but will present the phenomenon of a ring of light or an annular eclipse.

A total eclipse such as will be witnessed to-day along the focal line already described, occurs when a conjunction of the sun and moon happens at a time when the length of the shadow and the distance of the moon from the earth are identical, or nearly so. If, under these circumstances, the shadow fall upon the earth, there will be a total eclipse of the sun in all places with it, or over which it moves.

THE WIDTH OF THE SHADOW.

The breadth of the belt traversed by the umbra or shadow, when the sun's distance is greatest and the moon's the least, is estimated at about 180 miles. In this case the penumbra or semi-shadow covers a circular space of 4,900 miles in diameter, the eclipse happening exactly at the node. When the eclipse does not happen exactly at the node the axis of the shadow is inclined to the plane of the ecliptic, the shadow will be cut obliquely, and that part of the earth in shade will be oval. Such a chart as the spectator would observe from outside of the earth the astronomer compiles by calculation.

INCIDENTS OF SOLAR ECLIPSES.

There are some very thrilling and strange appearances connected with solar eclipses. It is not merely, in the case of a total eclipse such as that of to-day will be, that the darkness is almost instantaneous, but it is still more impressive from the strangeness of it, resembling neither the darkness of night nor the gloom of twilight. This peculiar tint of shade, if such an expression can be used, comes of the following fact:—The cone of the moon's shadow, though it envelopes the spectator, does not inclose the whole atmosphere above his horizon. The mass of unenveloped air catches the sunlight and reflects it into the region of the total eclipse, making a peculiarly solemn twilight, which has no analogy in all the appearance of nature.

FENIMORE COOPER'S DESCRIPTION OF AN ECLIPSE.

Fenimore Cooper, the great American romancist, left a description, never yet published, of the great eclipse of 1806, which he viewed, in company with his father, at Cooperstown, N. Y., which will be given to the reading world for the first time in Putnam's Magazine for September. In his beautiful language he describes the surroundings of nature and his own emotion at the moment, when the sun was totally obscured and darkness reigned:—

> I was recalled by a familiar and insignificant incident, the dull tramp of hoofs on the village bridge. A few cows, believing that night had overtaken them, were coming homeward from the wild open pastures about the village. And no wonder the kindly creatures were deceived; the darkness was now much deeper than the twilight which usually turns their faces homeward; the dew was falling perceptibly, as much so as at any hour of the previous night, and the coolness was so great that the thermometer must have fallen many degrees from the great heat of the morning. The lake, the hills and the buildings of the little town were swallowed up in the darkness. The absence of the usual lights in the dwellings rendered the obscurity still more impressive. All labor had ceased and the hushed voices of the people only broke the absolute stillness by subdued whispering tones. "Whisk! The whippoorwill!" whispered a friend near me, and at the same moment, as we listened in profound silence, we distinctly heard from the eastern bank of the river the wild, plaintive note of that solitary bird of night slowly repeated at intervals. The song of the summer birds, so full in June, had entirely ceased for the last half hour. A bat came flitting about our heads. Many stars were now visible, though not in sufficient number to lessen the darkness. At one point only, in the far distant northern horizon, something of the brightness of dawn appeared to linger.
> At twelve minutes past eleven the moon stood revealed in its greatest distinctness—a vast black orb, so nearly obscuring the sun that the face of the great luminary was entirely and absolutely darkened, though a corona of light appeared beyond. The gloom of night was upon us. A breathless intensity of interest was felt by all. * * * In looking back to that impressive hour, such now seem to me the feelings of the youth making one of that family group, all apparently impressed with a sensation of the deepest awe. I speak with certainty. A clearer view than I had ever yet had of the majesty of the Almighty, accompanied with a humiliating and, I trust, a profitable sense of my own utter insignificance. That movement of the moon, that sublime voyage of the worlds, often recurs to my imagination, and even at this distant day, as distinctly, as majestically, and nearly as fearfully, as it was then beheld.
> A group of silent, dusky forms stood near me. One emotion appeared to govern all. My father stood immovable, some fifteen feet from me, but I could not discern his features. Three minutes of darkness, all but absolute, elapsed. They appeared strangely lengthened by the intensity of feeling and the flood of overpowering thought which filled the mind. Thus far the sensation created by this majestic spectacle had been one of humiliation and awe. It seemed as if the great Father of the Universe had visibly and almost palpably veiled his face in wrath. But appalling as the withdrawal of the light had been, most glorious, most sublime, was its restoration. The corona of light above the moon became suddenly brighter, the heavens beyond were illuminated, the stars retired, and light began to play along the ridges of the distant mountains. And then a flood of grateful, cheering, consoling brightness fell into the valley with a sweetness and a power inconceivable to the mind unless the eye has actually beheld it. I can liken this sudden, joyous return of light, after the eclipse, to nothing of the kind that is familiarly known. It was certainly nearest to the change produced by the swift passage of the shadow of a very dark cloud; but it was the effect of this instantaneous transition, multiplied more than a thousand fold. It seemed to speak directly to our spirits, with full assurance of protection, of gracious mercy, and of that divine love which has produced all the glorious combinations of matter for our enjoyment. It was not in the least like the gradual dawning of day, or the actual rising of the sun. There was no gradation in the change. It was sudden, amazing, like what the imagination would teach us to expect of the advent of a heavenly vision. I know that philosophically I am wrong; but to me it seemed that the rays might actually be seen flowing through the darkness in torrents, till they had again illuminated the forest, the mountains, the valley and the lake with their glowing, [illegible].
> There was another grand movement as the crescent of the sun reappeared, and the moon was actually seen steering her course through the void. Venus was still shining brilliantly. * * * Men who witness any extraordinary spectacle together are apt, in after times, to find a pleasure in conversing on its impressions. But I do not remember to have ever heard a single being freely communicative on the subject of his individual feelings at the most solemn moment of the eclipse. It would seem as if sensations were aroused too closely connected with the constitution of the spirit to be irreverently and familiarly discussed. I shall only say that I have passed a varied and eventful life, that it has been my fortune to see earth, heavens, ocean and man in most of their aspects; but never have I beheld any spectacle which so plainly manifested the majesty of the Creator or so forcibly taught the lesson of humility to man as a total eclipse of the sun.

ARAGO ON THE ECLIPSE OF 1842.

In the year 1842 a total eclipse occurred in Europe. It was carefully observed and beautifully described by Arago, the great French astronomer. His point of observation was Perpignan, in the south of France. The following interesting extract from his account is worthy of perusal:—

> Between the commencement of the eclipse and the time which closely preceded the total disappearance of the sun we remarked nothing worthy of record in the countenances of the numerous spectators. But when the sun, narrowed to a mere line, began to throw over the horizon but a faint light, an anxiety spread through the whole crowd; each man felt impelled to communicate his impressions to his neighbor. Then began a dull roar, like that of a distant sea after a tempest. The noise became louder in proportion to the thinning of the slender solar crescent. Finally the crescent vanished. Darkness succeeded suddenly to the light, and an absolute silence marked this phase of the eclipse as sharply as did the pendulum of our astronomical clock. The phenomenon, in its magnificence, had triumphed over the restlessness of youth, over the frivolity which certain men take for a sign of superiority, and over the noisy indifference of which the soldiers ordinarily make their boast. A profound calm reigned, too, in the air; even the birds ceased their songs. After a solemn waiting of about two minutes' duration transports of joy, frantic applause saluted, with the same accord, the same spontaneity, the reappearance of the first solar rays.

THE ECLIPSE TO-DAY—THE VELOCITY OF THE SHADOW.

The effect of the eclipse to-day and the velocity of the shadow as it will sweep over the surface of the earth is thus described:—

> The rays of light coming from the extreme borders of the sun's spherical body in straight lines and without previously crossing, to the outer borders of the moon's much smaller globe, form a cone with its vortex pointed toward the earth—that is, on the occasion of an eclipse like that which will be witnessed to-day, of course, the opaque body of the moon cuts out all the light from this cone between her own sphere and the vortex. This cone reaches to the nearest surface of the earth; and if it were a material, solid body, it would pierce down towards the earth's centre so far that the section of the cone by the earth's surface forms nearly a circle of about 140 miles in diameter. All persons and places within the limits of this circular section of the moon's conical shadow are of course involved in the blackness of night. The brighter stars and planets near the region of the sun and moon appear; the birds and beasts, in great terror at the unusual and sudden approach of darkness, seek the nearest places of shelter and repose. But this circular shadow, of 140 miles in diameter, does not remain long on the same part of the earth's surface; for the moon is flying around the earth in her orbit from west to east with the velocity of about forty miles per minute, and the shadow passes over the earth's curved surface with an increased velocity of about forty-four miles per minute, or nearly three quarters of a mile every second of time. Hence the whole circular shadow, of 140 miles diameter, sweeps over the earth, in a general direction, from the west toward the east, forming a belt of its own width, more than 6,000 miles long, in the short time of about two hours and a half.

THE COURSE OF THE ECLIPSE IN THE UNITED STATES.

Mr. A. N. Skinner, of the Dearborn Observatory of Chicago, has prepared the following exact statement of the course of the eclipse across the North American Continent, the places which lie in the track of the shadowy cone of the moon, and also a time-table, giving the hours and minutes of its beginning and end at the principal cities touched. The following are his calculations:—

> The partial shadow of the moon first touches the earth in longitude west from Washington 138 degrees, and north latitude 37 degrees. The umbra, or the total shadow, touches the earth in longitude 163 degrees west from Washington, and in north latitude 53 degrees. In other words, at the first of these localities the dark body of the moon is seen to touch the sun earlier than at any place, just as the sun is rising. At the second locality the dark body of the moon is seen to wholly obscure the sun when the sun's centre is in the horizon. The umbra of the moon travels at first in a northeasterly direction toward Behring Straits, where it bends gradually eastward, and from Behring Straits it begins to travel in a southeasterly direction, which general direction it holds across British America and the United States. To speak definitely, the central line of the path of the umbra enters the territory of the United States about 200 miles northwest of Fort Union, which is situated at the junction of the Yellowstone and the Missouri rivers.
> ITS DIRECTION.
> It sweeps southeast across the territory of Dacotah and enters the State of Iowa near its northwestern boundary, and passes near the following places:—
> In Iowa—Cherokee, Cherokee county; New Munich, Sac county; Calhoun, Calhoun county; Quincy, Boone county; Boonsboro, Boone county; Belle Point, Boone county; Monroe, Jasper county; Oskaloosa, Mahaska county; Marysville, Wapello county; Fairfield, Jefferson county; Salem, Henry county; Lee City, Lee county; Fort Madison, Lee county.
> In Illinois—In the State of Illinois the following places are near the central line:—Colchester, McDonough county; Astoria, Fulton county; Bath, Mason county; New Salem, Menard county; Springfield, Sangamon county; Moweaqua, Shelby county; Shelbyville, Shelby county; Neoga, Cumberland county; Rose Hill, Jasper county.
> In Indiana—The central line passes near the following places:—Washington, Daviess county, Corydon, Harrison county.
> In Virginia—The following places are near the central line:—Estillville, Scott county; Bristol, Washington county.
> In Tennessee—Taylorsville, Johnson county, is near the central line.
> The Northern Limit of the Umbra—Or total shadow, passes near the following places in Iowa:—Forrest City, Winnebago county, just outside; Mason City, Cerro Gordo county, just outside; Clear Lake City, quite near the line; Clarksville, Butler county, just outside; Cedar Falls, Black Hawk county, inside; Independence, Buchanan county, outside, Anamosa, Jones county, outside; Wolcott, Scott county, inside; Davenport, Iowa.
> In Illinois—The northern edge of the umbra passes near the following places:—Rock Island, Rock Island county, inside; Hampton, Rock Island county, near the line; Colona, Henry county, inside; Neponset, Bureau county, near the line; Lacon, Marshall county, inside; Chenoa, McLean county, inside; Paxton, Ford county, inside; Danville, Vermilion county, inside.
> Kentucky—The following places in Kentucky are near the northern line of the umbra:—Warsaw, Gallatin county, inside; Williams, Grant county, inside; Carlisle, Bourbon county, inside; Triplet, Rowan county, near the line; Paintville, Johnson county.
> In Virginia—The following places are near the northern edge:—Arrocoma, Logan county, near the line; Mechanicsburg, Bland county, inside; Newbern, Pulaski county, inside; Danville, Pittsylvania county, inside.
> In North Carolina—The following places are near the northern limit of the umbra:—Roxboro, Person county, inside; Greenville, Pitt county, inside; Hatteras Inlet, near the line.
> The Southern Limit of the Umbra—Passes near the following places in Iowa:—Council Bluffs, near the line; Frankford, Montgomery county, inside; Mt. Ayr, Ringgold county, inside.
> In Missouri—The southern line of total eclipse passes near the following places:—Princeton, Mercer county, near the line; Shelbyville, Shelby county, inside; Bowling Green, Pike county, inside.
> In Illinois—The following places are near the southern limit of the umbra:—Alton, Madison county, inside; Edwardsville, Madison county, inside; Covington, Washington county, inside; Mt. Vernon, Jefferson county, inside; McLeansboro, Hamilton county, inside; New Haven, Gallatin county.
> The State of Indiana—Barely extends, at its southwestern point, to the southern limit of the umbra.
> Kentucky—The following places in Kentucky are near the southern line of the umbra:—Smithville, Henderson county, inside; Morgantown, Butler county, inside; Burkesville, Cumberland county, inside.
> In Tennessee—The following are near the southern edge of the umbra:—Huntsville, Scott county, inside; Knoxville, Knox county, near the line; Sevierville, Sevier county, inside.
> In North Carolina—Asheville, Buncombe county, is within, and Columbus, Polk county, is near the line.
> In South Carolina—The following places are near the southern line of the umbra:—Yorkville, York county, inside; Marion, Marion county, near the line; Cherry Grove, Horry county, near the line.
> Places which are within the northern and southern limits, as above described, will be within the total shadow, and at these places the eclipse will be total. Places outside of these lines will have a partial eclipse of greater or less magnitude, according as it is near or far from these limits.

REMARKABLE CASE OF DROWNING.

A Row on Board a Steamship—One of the Combatants Falls Overboard and is Drowned.

Coroner Rollins held an inquest yesterday over the remains of Richard Backhouse, a seaman belonging on board the steamship City of Limerick, he having met his death through drowning in a rather remarkable manner. The deceased quarrelled about some trifling matter, at half-past twelve o'clock yesterday morning, with one of his mates, named Daniel Brown, as they were going on board the steamer. Backhouse struck Brown at the gangway, and followed him to the forward gangplank, where he again assaulted Brown, the recoil making him tumble overboard, when he struck heavily on a fender floating in the water, sustaining a severe injury in the head, and was drowned before he could be aided. The following evidence was elicited before the jury:—

James McGiven, a seaman on board the steamship Nevada, testified that at the time of the disturbance he was on the dock in company with the deceased, the prisoner and one or two others of the crew of the City of Limerick, they having left a drinking saloon in Chariton street a few minutes before; while in the saloon the party had something to drink, none of them being intoxicated, though a little noisy and turbulent; when midnight arrived they all left the saloon, and there was no quarrel except a dispute about the payment for drinks between Lawrence Cummings and Robert Marlow; as the deceased and Brown started to go up the after gangway they had sharp words in relation to the dispute, Backhouse finally running back on the dock where he took off his coat and challenged Brown to fight; Brown declined the challenge by advice of the witness and went on board the steamer; the deceased then followed him, declaring that he would have it out with Brown on board; Brown was overtaken on the forward deck, when the deceased struck him; both men clinched and struggled until they reached the forward gangway, when they fell, being soon after separated; the deceased then stepped back a pace or two and fell down the gangway; the prisoner only struck the deceased once and did not knock him overboard; witness saw two men jump in after deceased.

Lawrence Cummings, a fireman on board of the steamship Limerick, testified that the deceased and the prisoner began quarrelling all of a sudden as they started to go over the gangplank; witness attempted to stop them fighting, the deceased having taken off his coat and vest for the purpose; Backhouse then struck the witness and ran after Brown; the next thing Cummings heard, as he was talking to the engineer, was that the deceased had fallen overboard.

Robert Marlow, another of the steamer's crew, testified that he saw the beginning of the quarrel and preceded the two men to the forecastle; he saw the deceased strike Brown at the gangplank as he turned around to see what the trouble was; Brown remarked, "I did not think you would do that, Dick;" the deceased replied, "Yes I did and will do it again;" when they reached the forward gangway, Backhouse again struck Brown, the blow having the effect to make both men stagger, the deceased falling over the gangway into the river; Brown did not strike the deceased as far as witness could see.

Robert Carson, one of the shipmates of Brown, was also examined and corroborated the evidence already elicited.

Charles Russell, second officer on board the steamship City of Limerick, testified that he knew nothing about the disturbance which led to the death of deceased, as he was in bed at the time; when the deceased fell overboard, there was a long fender floating in the water to keep the ship from the dock; he must have received injuries by the fall.

Dr. John Beach testified that he had examined the remains of deceased, and found a severe cut or fracture on the head; in his opinion the deceased had been rendered partially insensible by this injury, else he would not have been drowned.

The jury rendered a verdict that the deceased came to his death by a fall over the gangway of the steamer City of Limerick, and they fully exonerated the prisoner, Daniel Brown, from all participation in the struggle which led to the fall.

Brown was accordingly discharged from custody. The steamer City of Limerick then received her men again, and endeavored to make up for the two hours' delay caused by the investigation by at once departing from the dock for Europe.

THE COURTS.

Alleged Presentation of False Pay Rolls—Examination of General Thomas W. Eagan, a Custom House Weigher.

Before Commissioner Osborn.

The United States vs. Thomas W. Eagan.—Defendant, a Custom House weigher, was arrested a few days ago on a charge of defrauding the government by the presentation of fraudulent pay rolls. His examination was commenced this yesterday morning and the following evidence was taken:—

THE TESTIMONY.

James S. Fuller, an auditor in the office of the Surveyor of the Custom House, testified—The pay rolls of the weigher's department were presented to myself to audit and examine; they were sworn to before me; the oath made to the pay rolls was the only evidence of their correctness; that pay roll, July 1, 1869 (paper shown witness), was presented to me and sworn to by Thomas W. Eagan before me as a notary public; the pay rolls of July 8, 15, 22 and 29 were also sworn to before me by Mr. Eagan; each one was presented to me personally; he usually came to my desk with his roll and I administered the oath; by custom the weigher is the proper person to present the pay rolls; I audited all of the pay rolls shown me; after I audited the pay rolls I put them on the desk of the Deputy Surveyor, J. L. Benedict; these rolls are endorsed by him as approved.

Cross-examined—I knew Mr. Eagan personally; had never discovered that the pay rolls were fraudulent; the rolls were sworn to before me and I examined them simply to see if they were carried out correctly.

Re-direct—After the rolls are approved in the Surveyor's Office they are sent to the Auditor of the Collector's Office.

Clarence M. Buel testified—Have been in the employ of Mr. Eagan in various capacities in his weighing department; was so employed in July last, and knew the men he employed during that month; I did not know any such man in his employ as Joseph Naire.

To the Commissioner—There were sometimes fifteen and sometimes twenty men in his employ; I knew the name of every man in his employ from week to week.

To the District Attorney—I did not know L. Morrissey; I knew J. H. B. Jenkins; saw him with letters in Mr. Eagan's private office; never saw him do any other work; saw him with letters on two or three different days; I worked up to the 22d of July; I did not know P. Mentz; I know Edward Costello; I never saw him do any work; Costello is a liquor dealer on Eighth avenue; (showing witness pay roll of July 1, 1869) the following persons whose names are on this pay roll I did not see work:—J. D. Harrington, Joseph Naire; these are all I find upon this pay roll; (roll July 8 shown witness) did not see Joseph Naire, J. H. B. Jenkins or P. Mentz work; (roll July 15) did not see Jenkins or Naire work; (roll July 22) did not see Edward Costello or C. Hovey work; I made particular efforts to find out who were employed by Mr. Eagan from the 1st to 22d of July; I canvassed the district from Thirty-fourth street to Gouverneur slip and inquired the names of all the men in Eagan's employ; I took notes of what I learned; there were no men that I saw employed in that district whose names I didn't learn.

Cross Examined—My business while in Eagan's employ was tallying coal; I was classed as a laborer and was paid forty cents an hour; I was employed two days and a half in Eagan's district in the month of June before Eagan was appointed; was not connected with a particular gang of men; I weighed various kinds of merchandise while in Eagan's employ; Mr. Eagan's district is from pier 51 as far up as New York extends; while I was engaged in tallying coal nobody was engaged with me; nearly all the men of the district worked with me at different times; from June to July I was not engaged four or five week days and all the Sundays; there were several hours on days that I had no duties to perform in the district; while I was engaged all the men were not engaged with me at any time; I know from the pay-roll that all the men whose names are on it did not work and could not work without my knowledge; I was relieved from duty the 22d and I hung around the office for eight or nine days and was not called upon to go to work; Mr. Wilkes, the assistant foreman, employed me; sometimes Mr. Wilkes paid me and sometimes Frank Webb, the foreman; I receipted for my money in blank before I got it; it was the rule in that district while I was employed there for the men to sign their receipts in blank; one Saturday after the receipts had been signed in blank I signed another receipt, in which the amount was carried out; it was by the instruction of Mr. Eagan that this was done; at the same time he ordered that the pay rolls should no longer be signed in blank; they were afterwards signed in blank, as usual; I never had any dealings directly with Mr. Eagan; I reported the observations I made concerning the number of men in Eagan's district to Mr. Brush, a special agent of the Treasury during Mr. Carr's time; I communicated with Mr. Boutwell, and Colonel Howe sent for me; I was never paid anything for my services except as a laborer; Colonel Howe sent me to Colonel Eagan to get employment; I reported my time to Mr. Wilkes, and never saw anybody report to anybody else; Eagan's office was in Grand street; he was not much about the office; may have seen him ten or fifteen times during the time I was employed.

To the Commissioner—On Monday, the 5th of July, Joseph Naire is put down as working ten hours; no work was done on that day; there were no vessels discharging; I went over the district that day, between the hours of seven and eleven A. M., and saw no men at work; the men commence working at seven o'clock in the morning and work till six P. M.; J. H. B. Jenkins is put down as working fifty-three hours on the pay roll of July 15; I cannot specify any particular day put down on this pay roll (the 15th) when he did not work; I went over the district every day from the 8th to the 15th of July and never saw Naire or Jenkins at work.

Andrew M. Benedict, the chief clerk of the cashier in the Custom House, testified—I paid the five pay rolls shown me; one of them I paid to Mr. Eagan himself, and I am not positive that I did not pay all of them.

Charles E. Booth testified—I am employed as bookkeeper and clerk of General Eagan; have been in the employ of Eagan from the time Eagan came; as bookkeeper I knew the men employed in that district; Joseph Naire was not to my knowledge employed during the month of July last; James McGee was employed there; he was employed, as near as I can recollect, during the past three or four weeks; L. Morrissey, J. H. B. Jenkins, P. Mentz and Edward Costello were not employed, so far as I know; I have seen J. H. B. Jenkins at our office in Grand street; I do not know what he was doing; he was up in the General's private office; I don't know any such men as Naire, Morrissey and Mentz; I know Costello, but don't know what his business is; I know all the men employed in that district.

Cross-examined—I was first employed in this district last fall under Mr. Carr; the books I kept pertained to weighing merchandise; they had nothing to do with the names of the laborers; I did not keep the time of the men and had nothing to do with the hiring or the paying of them; the foremen usually paid the men off; never saw General Eagan pay off the men; so far as my observation went Mr. Wilkes, the assistant foreman, kept the time; the time was reported to him by the foreman of each gang; the foreman or assistant foreman handed me the list of each man's time for me to sign; I never knew of a new man being employed that I did not know of it within twenty-four or forty-eight hours; a new man could not possibly be employed and mingle with the men without my knowing it; it was no part of my duty to know the name and face of every man employed; I was on duty every day at the office all this time; I never signed the roll but in blank; I once heard General Eagan say that the proper way was to not sign the roll until the time was entered, and that was the way it must be done after that time; the pay rolls were not in the handwriting of Mr. Eagan; they were made out by Webb.

Arrest of an Alleged Murderer.

The United States vs. J. H. Platt.—Defendant was a major in the rebel army, and was arrested Thursday night on a charge of having on the 4th of October last, while a prisoner at Jefferson, Texas, in company with several others who were under guard of United States soldiers, killed three of the guard and made his escape. He was also charged with treason in the affidavit upon which the warrant was issued for his arrest. Four of his confederates are now in custody in Texas. Platt, it is alleged, was the leader of the movement for escape. At the time of his arrest he was in this city, and was found in Fourth street, near Washington square. He was brought before the Commissioner yesterday, and was held for examination on Monday next.

Refilling Barrels on which were Old Stamps.

Before Commissioner Shields.

The United States vs. D. E. Lecher and C. L. Lecher.—Defendants, who have a rectifying establishment at No. 161 Washington street, were examined yesterday on a charge of refilling barrels on which there were revenue stamps with distilled spirits. Robert Hunt, an assistant assessor, testified to going there on the 30th of July and finding forty or fifty barrels of spirits; he found two empty barrels on which were stamps and near by a tub containing spirits with which to fill them. Thomas Hood, an employé of the defendants, testified that the spirits found by Mr. Hunt in the tub had been poured out of the barrels for the purpose of gauging them. Defendants were held to await the action of the Grand Jury.

Refilling Stamped Cigar Boxes.

The United States vs. Louis Frey.—Defendant keeps a cigar store at No. 559 First avenue. He was arrested on a charge of refilling a cigar box on which was a revenue stamp, brought to his establishment for that purpose by a boy employed in a saloon in Second avenue. Rudolph Knott, an assistant assessor, upon whose complaint defendant was arrested, states in the complaint that he has repeatedly seen defendant filling cigar boxes brought in to him from a large box that he kept under the counter. Two of these boxes the complainant marked, and he afterwards saw them in the saloon in Second avenue, from which cigars were being sold at retail. Defendant held was for examination on Tuesday next.

Breaking Open a Letter.

The United States vs. Annie Clancy.—Defendant was arrested on a charge of opening a letter sent to the address of Ellen Berry. Her examination was set down for Monday next.

SUPREME COURT—CHAMBERS.

Before Judge Ingraham.

Victorine Steinhauser vs. John A. Steinhauser.—This was a motion to discharge the defendant from imprisonment on an attachment against him issued for non-payment of alimony to his wife. It appears that he has gone over to New Jersey since he obtained a decree of divorce from the plaintiff and married another woman, with whom he is now living in two States—namely, that of matrimony and that of Illinois. His discharge is asked for on the ground that he has no means, and is resisted on the ground that, having married another wife, whom he is presumed to support, and having entered into such marriage contract in violation of the decree, which forbids such marriage, he is able and ought to support his first wife.

The Judge took the papers and reserved decision. For plaintiff, Charles Wehle; for defendant, Wm. E. Smith.

Decisions.

By Judge Ingraham.

Beach vs. The Mayor of New York et al.—Motion granted.

Herchbach et al. vs. Kelsburg et al.—Motion denied, costs to abide event.

In the Matter of the Application of Duff et al. for Order, &c.—Reference orders.

National Citizens' Bank of New York vs. Boack.—Motion granted.

Williams vs. McWilliams.—Motion granted.

The Same vs. The Same.—Motion granted.

Leonard vs. Sykes.—Motion granted on payment of costs. Motion to be heard at September term.

Before Judge McCunn.

Mr. Guernsey, counsel for some of the bondholders in this case, appeared before Judge McCunn yesterday morning and presented an order to show cause why he should not be paid his counsel fees out of the Fenian money in the hands of the receiver.

Judge McCunn—I do not want to do anything in this matter too hastily. I will see about it, and see how much you ought to have.

Application for a Habeas Corpus Under Peculiar Circumstances.

Mr. James D. McClellan appeared before the court and asked for the issuance of a writ of habeas corpus on the following statement of facts:—On the night of the 2d of this month one Michael Brady was assaulted by one William Higgins in the cigar store of said Higgins, corner of Broome and Sullivan streets, and dangerously shot through the chin and jaw. Both parties were arrested and on the following morning brought before Justice Ledwith, at the Jefferson Market Police Court, when, for some reason, Brady refused to make a complaint, and the Justice committed both parties on a charge of disorderly conduct, requiring them to find bail in $1,000 each. On Wednesday last Higgins furnished the required bail, while Brady was sent to Blackwell's Island, suffering from his wounds. Judge McCunn said he would hear the case to-morrow morning.

The Charges by the Sheriff upon Attachments.

Before Judge McCunn.

Wooster vs. Weld and Others.—This case, heretofore reported in the HERALD, was an application to settle the amount of legal fees due to the Sheriff for executing two writs of attachment upon the goods of the defendants. The plaintiff objected to the charges made by the Sheriff, as illegal and exorbitant, and appealed to the Court, under the provisions of the Code, to adjust the amount. The Sheriff now abandoned the claim against the plaintiff, having received from the defendants in the suit the legal charges.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS.

Before Recorder Hackett.

The only case disposed of yesterday was a charge of larceny, preferred against Elizabeth Begley, who on the 23d of July stole a set of curtains from Mrs. Sarah Monell. She was convicted of petty larceny and sent to the Penitentiary for three months. The jury was discharged for the term, the Grand Jury of the Oyer and Terminer failing to bring in bills for this court to act upon.

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

THE WEATHER YESTERDAY.—The following record will show the changes in the temperature for the past twenty-four hours in comparison with the corresponding day of last year, as indicated by the thermometer at Hudnut's pharmacy, HERALD Building, Broadway, corner of Ann street:—

MUSIC IN THE PARK.—The Park Commissioners announce that if the weather be fine there will be music on the Mall at the Park this afternoon, commencing at four o'clock.

ACCIDENT ON THE HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD.—Charles Morgan, of No. 254 West Thirty-second street, was yesterday thrown under a car of the Hudson River Railroad, at the corner of Eleventh avenue and Fifty-first street, and had a leg frightfully mutilated. He was removed to Bellevue Hospital.

THE ALLEGED ENGLISH FORGERS.—Superintendent Kennedy yesterday received a cable despatch from England announcing the departure of an officer with the necessary papers to secure the extradition of the alleged forgers, Harwood and Hutcher, held at the Central Office. No further details as to the offence alleged to have been committed were received.

SERIOUS CASUALTIES YESTERDAY.—John Graham, of No. 541 West Fortieth street, was run over and very seriously injured by a truck. John G. Eggleston, of No. 4 Marcy street, Brooklyn, while crossing Roosevelt street ferry, was struck by a whiffletree and sustained severe injuries. Owen McDermot was sent to hospital from Harlem bridge, where he had a leg badly crushed in the "draw."

THE WRONG PASSENGER AROUSED.—About half-past nine o'clock yesterday morning the Superintendent of Police was a passenger on a Third avenue car. At the corner of Canal street and the Bowery car No. 16 of the Canal and East Broadway line attempted to cross, when both drivers whipped up their horses to make the crossing. There came very near being a serious collision. The Superintendent sprang from the Third avenue car to the other, when the conductor of the latter got into an altercation with him. Mr. Kennedy seized him by the neck and turned him over to officer Dolan, of the Fourteenth precinct, with orders to take him to headquarters. On the Superintendent's arrival there, between eleven and twelve, he roundly lectured the man and ordered him about his business.

MINOR INQUESTS.—The body of an unknown man was recovered yesterday from the East river, near pier 26, being subsequently removed to the Morgue for inquest by Coroner Rollins. Margaret Killalee, of No. 10 Downing street, died yesterday very suddenly from unknown causes. Coroner Rollins was notified. The remains of an unknown woman were found yesterday in the East river, near Twenty-first street, and taken to the Morgue. Mrs. Ann O'Conner, aged sixty, a native of Ireland, and residing at 71 Washington street, dropped dead yesterday in Rector street from heart disease. Coroner Keenan held an inquest. An unknown woman died suddenly at 510 West Twenty-eighth street yesterday from unknown causes. Coroner Rollins was duly notified.

SUICIDE BY A FEMALE DRUNKARD.—Coroner Rollins held an inquest yesterday over the remains of Mrs. Mary O'Neil, aged twenty-nine, who committed suicide at 223 Third avenue by swallowing Paris green. The deceased had been of intemperate habits and often threatened to seek a suicidal death when in her cups. When her husband returned home on Thursday he found his wife intoxicated, so he put her to bed in one room, while he retired in another. During the night he awoke by the noise of some one falling out of bed, and discovered the deceased on the floor of her room in a dying condition. A saucer containing a spoon and some Paris green was found on the table, and Mary admitted that she had swallowed the poison. A bottle of laudanum was also found in the room. The jury rendered a verdict of suicidal death, as was shown by the evidence adduced.

THE PUBLIC HEALTH.—The reports made to the Sanitary Superintendent's office show that the mortality from contagious diseases is on the decrease. Cholera and smallpox cases are of rare occurrence. Yesterday there was one case of the latter reported at No. 13 Sullivan street. Dr. Harris on Thursday night made an unexpected visit to the various establishments between Thirtieth and Fortieth streets, and found the stench worse than at any time this summer. The Board will hold a special meeting at ten o'clock this morning, when it is expected it will give all the establishments sudden and ignominious burial. The President and the Chairman of the Sanitary Committee made an extensive inspection of the streets yesterday, but have not reported the results of their ride. It is, however, understood that they found plenty of room for improvement.

NEW YORK ATHLETIC CLUB.—A well attended meeting of this club was held on the evening of August 4, at Wood's Gymnasium, No. 6 East Twenty-eighth street, Colonel William E. Van Wyck in the chair. Twelve new members were received and a number of new names were proposed for membership. The Committee on Gymnasiums reported, through Mr. J. Lawrence Hutton, that favorable arrangements could be made for the permanent location of the club at Louis W. Maires', No. 20 St. Mark's place, and at John Wood's, the place of the meeting. By a vote the latter place was chosen, and there the club will speedily get to work to be in readiness for the "fall games and exhibitions," such as it will be remembered were given on the 11th of last November at the skating rink on Third avenue and Sixty-fourth street. By the 1st of next month the club will be fully domiciled in its new locality. The committee to inquire into the qualifications of applicants for membership, consisting of Messrs. John H. Van Wyck and P. A. Curtis, Jr., was increased by the addition of Mr. Charles A. Watson. Mr. Francis Kinney, on behalf of the Committee on Outdoor Grounds and Waters, reported favorably on grounds at Ninety-second street and East river, and also at 120th street and East river, but no decision was reached. Messrs. W. E. Van Wyck, George Boahr, F. Kinney, J. R. Babcock, David G. Dorrian, C. A. Watson and H. E. Buermeyer were appointed a committee to revise the constitution and by-laws of the club to meet its present requirements. The club then adjourned.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

ALLEGED FALSE PRETENCES.—Jacob Smith, lately in the employ of Mr. Horace J. Farrington, was yesterday arrested on a charge of false pretences in obtaining upholstery goods of the value of $239 75 from the establishment of Charles M. Foster, No. 205 Canal street, under pretence of having been sent for the same by Mr. Farrington. Upon an affidavit setting forth the above facts the accused was held by Judge Kelly, at the Tombs, to answer the charge.

ACCUSED OF STEALING GLASSWARE.—A man giving his name subsequently as Henry T. Rooney yesterday employed Howard E. Smith, a cartman, to convey three packages of glassware from No. 49 Murray street to No. 35 New Bowery. After starting with the load Smith suspected the goods might have been stolen, and, returning to 49 Murray street, found his suspicions to be correct, and thereupon Rooney was arrested. The prisoner was taken before Judge Kelly, at the Tombs, and committed for examination.

ALLEGED SWINDLING.—Ludwig Levine, a German Jew, who was arrested some time since on a charge of being concerned in a confidence transaction, was yesterday brought before Justice Shandley, charged with an offence of a similar character. The complainant, Moses Barnot, of No. 41 East Broadway, stated that on the 29th of June the prisoner, in company with one Harry Beck, entered the store and offered for sale a quantity of linen which they said they had received from Europe, and for which they asked $100, at the same time stating that its real value was very much more. Barnot declined to purchase, but he was asked to smell of the goods, and after placing his nose to the linen he became so dizzy and confused that he was persuaded to pay the money asked. The goods were found to be almost worthless. Levine gave bail to answer.

DARING THEFT OF MONEY.—A well dressed and genteel looking young man, giving his name as Joseph Wood, was yesterday arraigned before Justice Shandley, at Essex Market Police Court, on a charge of stealing a large sum of money in a very daring manner. Mr. Hayward, who does business as a provision dealer at Nos. 49 and 51 First street, stated that during his absence from his place of business at dinner hour three young men entered his store and commenced a conversation with the man who had been left in charge of the premises. One of the trio brought a note addressed to a Mr. Cleveland (who is a son-in-law to Hayward), and while talking with the other two visitors the young man Wood went towards the desk. When the clerk looked round he noticed Wood opening the desk, and on looking into it he saw that a quantity of parcels of fractional currency had been removed therefrom. He laid hold of Wood and took from his pockets several bundles of stamps and a check, of the total value of $372. Just at this time Mr. Hayward entered, and being informed of the circumstance spoke to the prisoner, when, as alleged, he admitted the theft, pleaded for mercy, and produced the key with which he had opened the desk. The other two men had by this time disappeared. Wood was detained until officer Pettit, of the Seventeenth precinct, came in and arrested him. The envelope addressed to Mr. Cleveland was opened and found to contain only a blank sheet of paper. When brought before Justice Shandley the young man professed entire ignorance of the affair. He was locked up until this morning, when the clerk who detected the theft will be examined.

QUARANTINE.

Another Death from Yellow Fever—The Vessels from Rio Janeiro, St. Domingo and Key West Ominous.

There have been no new arrivals of vessels with yellow fever on board since Monday last. Dr. Reid, the Deputy Health Officer, is, however, in possession of certain ominous information relative to the departure of several vessels for this port from various Southern ports where Yellow Jack is having everything his own way, and it is quite likely under the circumstances that before the month of August has come to a close the health officers will have their hands full. The reports from Key West, St. Domingo and all along the Rio Grande are very bad, and indicate that yellow fever and cholera are prevailing in those parts to almost an unprecedented extent. Of course vessels coming from ports in those vicinities are to undergo more than usual inspection on their arrival here.

Information has also been received to the effect that the United States Consuls at Cape Caibarien, Cuba, refuse to give bills of health to vessels leaving there for the United States, owing to the epidemics which prevail in the neighborhood of the ports of departure.

The arrivals from Rio Janeiro still indicate the prevalence of yellow fever in that quarter. The brig Schlump-zu-Lulle, sixty-four days from there, just arrived, reports that she had to leave one of her crew in hospital at Rio. The bark Nyborge, also at quarantine, left her mate in hospital at the same place. It is believed that the men left behind were ill of yellow fever.

John Noyes, the second mate of the bark Gertrude, which arrived from Matanzas on the 3d inst., died yesterday morning in the hospital ship of the fever. Captain Atherton, of the same vessel, who was also prostrated by the disease when the bark arrived here, is now convalescent.

COMMISSIONERS OF EMIGRATION.

Special Meeting of the Commission—Investigation of the Hogan-Van Ness Affair—Sharp Criticism by Mr. O'Gorman.

A special meeting of the Commissioners of Emigration was held yesterday afternoon. Messrs. Hall and Kalbfleisch, the Mayors of New York and Brooklyn, and ex officio members of the Commission, were also present. The chief object of the meeting was to investigate the late fisticuffian performances in which Judge Hogan and Mr. Van Ness, both agents of rival railroad lines, lately engaged on Broadway, near Bowling Green, to the great delight of the spectators. Mr. Loutrel was for a thorough and fair investigation, hoping that each party would be afforded an opportunity to clear himself. Mr. Richard O'Gorman said that he thought the only question before the Board was the confirmation of Mr. Van Ness as a recognized agent in Castle Garden of his railway company. As to the difficulty between him and Judge Hogan Mr. O'Gorman said the Board had no authority to raise an investigation, since it was a personal affair only between them and had no connection with their duties at Castle Garden. He was opposed to the confirmation of Mr. Van Ness, as that gentleman had formerly been suspended because he had sold railway tickets in Europe, which practice is detrimental to the best interests of the emigrants. Mr. Smith was of a different opinion. The two persons concerned represented two great companies which transport very many emigrants to the West, and he believed it the duty of the Board, in order to protect these people, to investigate the affair in order to judge of the character of the two. Mayor Hall denied the jurisdiction of the Board to go into this investigation, and after some further debate he moved that the previous resolution for an investigation be rescinded. The motion was seconded by Mr. O'Gorman and unanimously carried. A motion of Mr. O'Gorman that the two Mayors be added to the committee to investigate the abuses at Castle Garden was afterwards withdrawn, and the Board adjourned.

SINGULAR NITRO-GLYCERINE EXPLOSION.

[From the Titusville (Pa.) Herald, August 4.]

One of the most extraordinary accidents which it has been our province to chronicle occurred at the "Salt Well," Scrubgrass, on Friday afternoon, and resulted in the death of George W. Fetterman, which was briefly alluded to in Saturday's issue, and the serious wounding of two other persons. From the reports of the affair which we have heard it appears that the unfortunate man above named procured on Monday last, for the purpose of oiling engines, a quantity of thick fluid, which, from the color, he supposed to be lard oil, but which, as the sequel proved, was really that dangerous explosive, nitro-glycerine. He used it as a lubricator on the engine at the "Salt Well," and also on another engine, from Monday until Friday afternoon. Strange as it may appear the nature of the fluid was not suspected during all the time, although it was remarked by some one, who was curious enough to taste it, that it was singularly sweet for lard oil. However, about three o'clock on Friday afternoon, as the man named was oiling the gudgeon of the sand pump pulley, which was revolving with great rapidity, a terrific explosion occurred. Fetterman was blown some distance and instantly killed. He was mutilated almost beyond recognition. The flesh was literally torn from his limbs, and one-half of his head was blown off. His brother James and a man named D. McNally, who were standing near by, were thrown violently to the earth. They were both much bruised. The former was wounded in the chest, thigh and groin by pieces of the can in which the glycerine had been kept, and other splinters, and the latter was struck in the face by a piece of tin. Their injuries are not considered dangerous. The force of the explosion drove pieces of the can and splinters in all directions, and also blew three or four boards off the engine house. One piece of tin was driven entirely through a four-inch post

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY, August 6—6 P. M.

With the exception of the stock market, which exhibited moderate animation, the markets in Wall street to-day were exceedingly dull and devoid of interest. Money continues to be in free supply, with more offerings on governments than there is any call for even at as low a figure as five per cent, the ruling rate on good collaterals being six per cent. Discounts continue to range between seven and nine per cent, with the bulk of business between these figures.

Gold opened at 136¾, advanced to 136½, reacted to 136 shortly after noon, recovering soon, however, to 136¼, at which figure it remained steady up to the adjournment of the board, in an exceedingly quiet market. Subsequently, upon the statement of engagements having been made for heavy shipments of specie to-morrow, amounting, it is said, to $464,000, there was a shade more activity, and the price rallied to 136⅜, at which figure it stood at the close of business. The disbursements of coin interest to-day amount to $74,245. The transactions of the Gold Exchange Bank were:—Gross clearings, $51,965,000; gold balances, $2,021,038; currency balances, $2,755,884.

10 A. M.	136¾	1 P. M.	136⅛
10:05 A. M.	136½	2 P. M.	136¼
11 A. M.	136½	3 P. M.	136⅜
12 M.	136½	4 P. M.	136¼
12:25 P. M.	136	5 P. M.	136⅜

From 5½ to 6½c. per cent were paid for carrying before Clearing House time, and subsequently 4 per cent.

Foreign exchange is firmer upon a less supply of commercial bills and additional caution in accepting those offered, consequent upon the recent failure. Prime bankers', sixty days, has advanced to 110¼. We quote:——Sterling, sixty days, commercial, 109⅛ a 109½; good to prime bankers', 109⅞ a 110⅛; short sight, 110⅜ a 110⅝; Paris, sixty days, 5.18¾ a 5.14⅜; short sight, 5.13¾ a 5.12½; Antwerp, 5.18¾ a 5.15; Switzerland, 5.18¾ a 5.16; Hamburg, 35⅝ a 36; Amsterdam, 40⅜ a 40½; Frankfort, 40⅜ a 40½; Bremen, 78⅝ a 79⅛; Prussian thalers, 70⅞ a 71⅛.

The government market was quiet throughout the day, with light offerings and a practical decline in prices, referrible principally to this dulness. Prominent houses report a continued inquiry for currency sixes, with offers to exchange five-twenties for these bonds. A leading query in an evening paper recently in regard to the amount of first mortgage bonds issued by the Pacific railroad companies under that clause of the law authorizing such issue, which empowered them to "issue, respectively, their bonds to the extent of one hundred miles in advance of a continuous completed line of construction," has called forth a card from the financial agents of the Central Pacific road. It is therein stated, in regard to that road, "that no such bonds have been issued in advance of the completed line of their road," and further, "that the aggregate of first mortgage bonds issued is less than the amount authorized under the law, and less than the amount of government six per cent bonds issued to them. When the loan was withdrawn from the market in April last the company had on hand, and still have, a large amount of bonds unsold." Importations by foreign bankers of small amounts of ten-forties and '81's are reported, the former probably induced by the offer of the Secretary to exchange for five-twenties. At five o'clock the market closed steady at the following figures:—United States sixes, 1881, registered, 124⅞ a 125; do. do., coupon, 124⅞ a 125; do. five-twenties, registered, 123½ a 123⅞; do. do., coupon, 1862, 125 a 125⅛; do. do., coupon, 1864, 123¾ a 124; do. do., coupon, 1865, 123⅞ a 124; do. do., coupon, new, 1865, 122⅛ a 122⅜; do. do., coupon, 1867, 122⅜ a 122⅝; do. do., coupon, 1868, 122⅜ a 122½; do. ten-forties, registered, 112⅛ a 112⅜; do. do., coupon, 116 a 116⅛; currency bonds, 111⅛ a 111¼.

The result of the election in Tennessee promising an early payment of the interest due on the State bonds caused an active movement in these securities to-day, the new bonds advancing on the first call to 56, against 54⅞ a 55 yesterday afternoon. These were the feature of the list; but their activity produced a steadier feeling in the others, which continued firm through the day, although quiet. The market closed as follows:—Tennessee, ex coupon, 62 a 63; do., new, 56 a 56⅛; Virginia, ex coupon, 59 a 59½; do., new, 61 a 62; Georgia sixes, 83 a 84; do., sevens, 91 a 93; North Carolina, ex coupon, 56½ a 57; do., new, 51 a 51½; Missouri sixes, 87 a 88; Louisiana sixes, 70 a 72; do., levee sixes, 64 a 64½; do., levee eights, 84 a 86; Alabama eights, 93 a 93½; South Carolina sixes, 64 a 65; do., new, 61 a 62; city Memphis sixes, 49 a 49½.

In the stock market the speculative interest of the street continues to be directed to the Western shares, which were quite active to-day in Lake Shore, Northwestern, St. Paul and Rock Island. The former advanced to 110, involving thereby, it is stated, the failure of a small operator on the "bear" side who was short 1,200 shares, which were bought in for his account. Northwestern sold up to 90, buyer three days, for the common and 97⅞ for the preferred, continuing firm to the close. St. Paul sold at 83⅛ for common and 90⅞ for preferred, closing stronger. Rock Island was more irregular, and ranged between 116⅛ and 117⅛. The Vanderbilt shares were dull and heavy most of the day, but became more active after the second call, and were stronger at the close. In the miscellaneous list Pacific Mail was the only active stock, and ranged, in extreme figures, between 83⅝ and 85¾, closing about midway between these figures. The expresses were dull and steady, without features. The market was generally strong at the close of business. The following were the prices on the second call:—Canton, 59⅞ a 61; Cumberland, 34⅞ a 36; Western Union, 38⅞ a 39; Quicksilver, 15⅞ a 16; Mariposa, 7⅞ a 9; do. preferred, 15⅛ a 16⅛; Pacific Mail, 84 a 84⅛; Boston Water Power, 15 bid; Adams Express, 59⅞ a 60; Wells-Fargo Express, 20⅛ a 20½; American Express, 41 a 41⅛; United States Express, 67⅞ bid; Merchants' Union Express, 10 bid; New York Central, 208⅛ a 208¼; Hudson River, 183 a 183⅛; Harlem, 154 a 155; Reading, 97 a 97⅛; Michigan Central, 132½; Lake Shore, 109⅛ a 109⅜; Illinois Central, 141½ a 141⅞; Cleveland and Pittsburg, 107½ a 108; Chicago and Northwestern, 88⅞ a 88⅞; do. preferred, 97⅞ a 97⅞; Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati, 74; Rock Island, 116⅞ a 116⅞; Milwaukee and St. Paul, 82⅞ a 82⅞; do. preferred, 90⅞; Toledo and Wabash, 74⅞ a 74⅞; do. preferred, 80; Fort Wayne, 153⅛ a 153⅞; Alton and Terre Haute, 34 a 36; do. preferred, 58⅞ a 59; Ohio and Mississippi, 32⅜ a 32⅞; Delaware and Lackawanna, 112⅞ bid; New Jersey Central, 104⅞ a 105; Chicago and Alton, 164 a 165½; Morris and Essex, 88 bid; Hannibal and St. Joseph, 126⅛ a 126⅜; do. preferred, 125 a 125⅛; Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central, 34 a 37.

The following were the bids for city bank stocks to-day:—New York, 130; Manhattan, 135; Merchants', 127; Mechanics', 140; America, 143; City, 201; Phenix, 110; Tradesmen's, 150; Fulton, 158; National, 114; Merchants' Exchange, 117; Leather Manufacturers', 153½; Seventh Ward, 113; State of New York, 112; Commerce, 125; Ocean, 101; American Exchange, 114; Chatham, 156; Bank of the Republic, 118; Irving, 108; Metropolitan, 136; Nassau, 105; Shoe and Leather, 140; Continental, 99½; Importers and Traders', 134; Park, 165; Central National, 110; Fourth National, 104½; Ninth National, 111; Tenth National, 100; Oriental, 155; Gold Exchange, 138; Bankers and Brokers' Association, 100.

FRIDAY, August 6—6 P. M.

BEESWAX was steady, with sales of 5,000 lbs. at 45c. a 47c. for Western and Southern.

BUILDING MATERIALS.—The market for most articles coming under this classification was quiet, but prices generally were steady. Eastern spruce was in fair demand, but with large offerings. The market was heavy and prices were somewhat lower. The sales were about 1,000,000 feet at from $15 to $22, the latter price for choice schedules. Laths were in good demand and firm, with sales of 1,000,000 at $2 70 a $2 75, the market closing at the latter price. Rosendale cement was in fair request at $2, while lime was steady at $1 15 for common and $1 75 for lump. Bricks were quiet but unchanged in value.

COPPER.—The market for ingot was unusually active and a shade firmer, closing strong at 22c. a 22¼c. for all kinds. The sales, which were chiefly to one firm, were 5,500,000 lbs. Lake, on the spot and for September delivery, at 22c. a 22¼c., the latter price for September. Telegraphic advices from Liverpool to-day quote Chile pig £67 per ton.

COTTON.—The low grades were in improved demand for export and held with firmness, while the better grades were but little sought after, but unchanged in value. For future delivery the market was active and firm. The sales were 1,349 bales (including 125 to arrive), of which 859 were for export, 385 for spinning and 457 on speculation. The sales for future delivery were as follows:—500 bales, basis low middling, for January, at 28½c.; 100 do., for December and January, at 27¾c.; 500 do., for the last half October, at 29c.; 500 do. for January, 100 do. for December, and 100 average low middling, for December, on private terms. We append the current quotations:—

COFFEE.—For Rio the market was quiet, but in prices there was no change. Other kinds were quiet but unchanged. Sales, 100 bags Laguayra at 17c., gold, duty paid. We quote:—Rio—Ordinary cargoes, 14½c. a 14c.; fair do., 15¼c. a 15c.; good do., 15⅞c. a 16¼c.; prime do., 16¾c. a 17c.; extremes for lots, 15½c. a 17½c.; Java, 22c. a 24c.; Singapore, 20c. a 22½c.; Ceylon, 17¼c. a 19½c.; Maracaibo, 16½c. a 19c.; Laguayra, 16¼c. a 18c.; Jamaica, 15c. a 18c.; Costa Rica, 15c. a 19½c.; Manila, 18c. a 19½c.; Mexican, 16c. a 18c., and Savanilla, 14½c. a 18c., all gold, duty paid.

CORDAGE.—Manila was quiet but prices were steady at 23c. a 24c.

CANDLES.—The market was inactive but full prices prevailed. We quote:—Adamantine 18c. a 22c., sperm 45c., and patent, 58c.

COCOA was dull and nominal at 10½c. a 11c., gold, for Guayaquil in bond, and 26c. a 27c., do., for Maracaibo do.

COOPERAGE STOCK.—The market was still quiet but prices were unchanged. We quote:—Sugar shooks, 35 inch heads, $3 a $3 10; sugar do., 25 do., $2 40 a $2 60, molasses do., 32 do., $2 50 a $2 60; rum do., $5 25 a $5 50; box do., $8; pipe do., $6 50 a $7; hoops, 14 feet, $45 a $50, and hoops, 12 feet, $40 a $45.

DYEWOODS.—Logwood remained scarce and firm at about $24 currency for St. Domingo, and $26 50, gold, for Jamaica. Fustic continued to rule dull and nominal at $30 a $31, gold, for Cuba, and $18 a $21, do., for other kinds.

FLOUR AND GRAIN.—Receipts, 9,146 bbls. flour, 850 bags corn meal, 46,081 bushels wheat, 28,600 do. corn, 128,464 do. oats and 1,526 do. malt. The flour market was steady under a good demand for extra State for shipment. The higher grades were quiet. California flour was dull. The sales were about 17,000 bbls., including 10,000 bbls. extra State, at $6 70 a $7—mainly at $6 90. Southern flour was dull but unchanged. The sales were 750 bbls. Rye flour was in moderate demand and steady in value. Sales 250 bbls. Corn meal was dull but unchanged. Sales 200 bbls. We quote:—

ROBBERY OF THE MAIL ON LONG ISLAND.

Disappearance of the Huntington (L. I.) Letter Bag—It is Found Rifled in the Bushes Near Hicksville.

On last Thursday morning the half-past eight o'clock train from Hunter's Point, on the Long Island Railroad, took out, in charge of the regular mail agent, the entire morning mail from New York for points along the railroad. At Hicksville the mail bags destined for Syosset, Huntington, Northport, Centre Port, Cold Spring Harbor and Oyster Bay are left in the charge of the postmaster of Hicksville to await the arrival of the train which leaves the depot at Hunter's Point at half-past ten A. M. and takes up this way mail at Hicksville and distributes it at the post offices along the Syosset branch road. On Thursday morning last the mail agent on the half-past eight o'clock A. M. train delivered these bags as usual into the charge of the Hicksville postmaster. When the same train yesterday reached Greenport the mail agent received a despatch from the postmaster at Huntington inquiring for the whereabouts of his letter bag of Thursday, as he had only received the bag containing the newspapers. The agent answered the despatch at once that he had left the bag in question at the station at Hicksville as usual, to be forwarded from thence to its destination. When the train on its return trip halted at Jamaica the mail agent learned to his surprise that one of the railroad trackmen while passing along the road on a tour of inspection had found the missing mail bag secreted in the bushes near the track, about half a mile west of Hicksville. The bag was burst open and a number of letters it contained were strewn about on the ground around the place. This is all that is known of the case so far. It is believed by those who appear to know the manner in which the Hicksville postmaster transacts his business that, as it has often been noticed before, the mail bags were left on the platform of the station, and that before the arrival of the train to take them one of the many roughs and sports who frequent Long Island during the summer season thought he would improve the opportunity by "doing an extra job," and picked out and carried away the Huntington letter bag. This, however, is only surmise at present, and nothing definite is yet known except the fact of the robbery as given above.

The Journal Officiel of Paris has got into a scrape by publishing the decree of the prorogation of the Corps Législatif before it was announced to the Deputies. The managing editor consequently loses his place.

THE ROCKLAND COUNTY MYSTERY.

Continuation of the Coroner's Inquest—Result of the Chemical Analysis.

The continuation of the inquest before Coroner John Quackenbush, of Rockland county, in this State, to inquire into the cause of the death of Mrs. Sophia L. Nickerson, of Clarksville, N. Y., in August, 1868, suspected of being poisoned, was continued at Haverstraw on Thursday evening and yesterday morning. There were present many witnesses and interested persons, conspicuously being Mr. Nathan B. Nickerson, against whom had been raised suspicions of the blackest hue. Professor Doremus, who made a chemical analysis of the stomach, intestines, liver and kidneys of the deceased, testified that there was no evidence that she died of poison. Facts deduced point to a complete vindication and the clearing away of all the innuendoes raised against the husband of the dead woman. The evidence is as follows:—

TESTIMONY OF JACOB HENGGELER, M. D.

Dr. Jacob Henggeler, being duly sworn, testified as follows:—I reside at Clarksville, Rockland county; am a practising physician, and was on the 17th of August last; I knew Sophia L. Nickerson during her lifetime; I treated her as a physician during her sickness; I was called and attended her from June 25 to August 14, 1868; during that time I visited her house four times, but "the last visit she came to see me," August 14; she thought she could bear the fatigue of the ride to my office, and consequently came to me, reporting herself "smart" when she entered the room; in examining her I found she was as she stated, "smart;" August 17, the following Monday, I was sent for in a hurry to come and see Mrs. Nickerson, the messenger saying that "she was very sick and dying;" this was in the early morning, between two and four o'clock; I immediately repaired to her residence and found her greatly prostrated, having a very quick and feeble pulse; her countenance had the appearance of great distress; eyes sunken in her head; she complained of great pain in the region of the stomach and bowels, which was increased on pressure; her hands were cold and her face in a clammy perspiration; at ten o'clock in the forenoon she rallied somewhat from the shock, but I could not tell the cause of her sickness at that time; afterwards, when better, I observed the following symptoms:—Constant and excessive vomiting, mostly of a greenish matter; difficulty in swallowing, burning feeling in the stomach, great restlessness, tossing her hands about and rolling from one end of the bed to the other; there was great nervous irritation, which was the most or one of the most frequent symptoms for many days in her sickness—up to the 26th of August—but the other symptoms before noticed accompanied it; this nervous irritation amounted at times to hysteria, it was so great; among the symptoms were that Mrs. Nickerson wiped her mouth constantly with her handkerchief; she could not get it clean or clear; great thirst and heat of the body; she wanted all the doors and windows thrown open, as she could not get cool air enough; on the 24th of August the condition of her stomach commenced to improve; three days following the deceased was "smart;" when I went to see her that morning I found her asleep; she said, after awakening, "that she had slept some last night and kept some chicken tea upon her stomach, both for the first time since the commencement of her illness;" she was better; I found her pulse was at eighty, nervous system quiet and composed; she had no pain or soreness in the stomach or abdomen; she felt stronger and greatly encouraged; I told her and the family that she "would get well if she continued to improve so rapidly;" but next day, August 28, I was surprised to find her worse; she complained of great prostration again, and had a weak and feeble pulse, distressed countenance and sunken eyes; complained again of great pain in the stomach, also complained of intense burning feeling there, using the expression at the time "I am all burning up inside"; she again referred to her excessive vomiting, the ejections from her stomach were mostly of the color of coffee grounds; she passed also very foetid black stools, with great pain (tenesmus); a great desire to take the stool; her bowels were exceedingly sore at the touch; the mouth, throat, tongue, lips, inside of her cheeks, and in fact everything in sight was greatly inflamed and covered with a white thrush; the whole alimentary canal from the throat to the rectum was entirely burned up; the great thirst continued, but she could not swallow anything, even the mildest nourishment; she also complained of numbness in her arms and lower extremity; on the 28th of August, the day before her death, irritation of the uterinary organs set in; I also observed the patient was in a high state of mental excitement, this particularly during the first of her sickness, as if there were something on her mind that worried her; after the relapse referred to she was almost constantly wiping her mouth; on the 29th of August, when I last saw her, she was sinking very rapidly, and she died the next morning.

Coroner—What did you prescribe for her?

A. On the 17th of August I left her two Dover's powders, composed of four grains each, which are composed of opium, sulphate of potash and ipecac.

By a Juror—There is less than one-half ounce of opium in each powder. They are made up from a rule.

Doctor—At the second visit, three o'clock in the forenoon of the same day, I left three powders, each containing four grains Dover's powders and one-quarter grain calomel; the powders were compounded the same as before; she begged me not to give her any morphine, so I prescribed the small quantity of Dover's powders; the next visit I prescribed the gum of assafoetida for her, and told her to keep it in reservation, in case of need of nervousness; on the 18th I gave her a prescription for a mixture of tincture of valerian, one ounce; compound spirits of lavender, one ounce and a half; Hoffman's anodyne, four drams; extract of hyoscyamus, one scruple; simple syrup, one ounce; on the 20th I gave her tincture of valerian, one ounce; compound spirits of lavender and tincture of hops, of each one ounce and a half; Hoffman's anodyne, six drams; simple syrup, one ounce; on the same evening I left her a Dover's powder of five grains, compounded as before; on the 21st I left her another Dover's powder for the night, as the family had not obtained the last prescribed mixture; on the 23d I took to her in a bottle a mixture of sulphate of soda, four grains, and simple syrup, half an ounce, with direction to take one-half a teaspoonful every half hour; on the 24th of August I gave her a prescription, as follows:—Sulphate of quinine, one scruple and a half (thirty grains); diluted sulphuric acid, thirty drops; peppermint water and syrup of cinnamon, each one ounce and a half; and at the same time gave another prescription for twenty-five assafoetida pills; when the relapse came on I left her a wash, composed of two grains nitrate of silver and one ounce of water, to be used locally, for a sore mouth; the following day I prescribed carbonate of ammonia, one scruple; mucilage of gum arabic, one and a half ounces; simple syrup, one ounce, and tincture of musk, two drams; the same day I ordered an injection composed of either oak bark, water and laudanum, or alum and laudanum; during her relapse I ordered a blister for her stomach; they obtained blistering salve from some other party than I suggested; they did not go to a drug store, but went to Dr. Harring (laughter from the ladies in the room); I did not give her any other medicine than what I have stated above; if these prescriptions that I ordered had been administered aright they would not have destroyed the life of Mrs. Nickerson, in my opinion; none of the medicine I left her could destroy human life. I never saw the remains of Mrs. Nickerson after her burial; I could not account for the symptoms that were visible with her in any natural way; poison would produce them; she had all such marked symptoms; the poison that would produce them is a mineral irritant; arsenic would produce them; I suppose the bi-chloride of mercury would also produce such symptoms, but it would be attended with "salivation," which she did not have; in my opinion she could not have died from the effects of bi-chloride of mercury; cannot now remember of any other poison that would produce them; in fact, don't know of any substance that would bring on her symptoms but arsenic; this has the property of preserving all the muscular tissues of the body after death; the effect of the introduction of arsenical poison in her system would produce the irritation of the kidneys and bladder—that is, its absorption from the stomach—and would produce and without doubt did lead to her affection noticed during her illness. In my opinion Mrs. Nickerson died from the overtasking of her kidneys, caused by the absorption of poison from her stomach; they were required to do too much and became congested; this was the cause of her uterinary affection; during her illness I proposed three times a consultation of physicians, both to her husband and to herself; she did not want any consultation, stating at the time she had confidence in me; on Tuesday, the 25th of August, at my proposition of consultation with physicians, she became very nervous and angry, and I feared she would go into hysteria; nothing would quiet her nerves at this period all I could do until I told her "all I wanted to know was to find out if she had any confidence in me" (laughter); I think that she did not want the consultation of other doctors for fear that the real cause of her sickness might be known by another medical man (excitement); on the 17th of August (Monday), when I first went to see Mrs. Nickerson the two Misses Stevens and her husband were present; they were there subsequently, and frequently there at times when I called; I never saw any medicine in any shape administered to her during my several visits; soon after Mrs. Nickerson's death her husband called upon me to pay his bill; I told him that I had not made it out, but I would soon, and sometime see him on the road and give it him. "No," he said, "leave it at —— store;" on the 6th of October, 1867, I met him there, and having found my bill, in looking over my books, to be $38, told him I would take $28 and give him a receipt; he showed me a $50 greenback, and afterwards changed it, gave me what I asked, and I handed him the receipt; so soon as this was done Mr. Nickerson asked me, "Doctor, what was the matter with my wife?" I responded, "Well, you know she was very sick that Monday morning you sent for me, but got better; she had a relapse and died of great prostration." Nickerson rejoined "Is that all?" He then went on, but said "you did not know what ailed my wife; you killed her; if there is anybody else around here that wants to be killed they should call on you and you will kill them; I would not have you to doctor a sick cat, as you would kill it." (Excessive laughter.)

Counsel for the Coroner—Doctor, if you know anything in relation to the conduct of Mr. Nickerson towards his wife, by her bedside and at home generally, that is, tending to make her life unhappy, state it?

Doctor—Well, Nickerson, while I attended his wife, never asked me whether she would get well; on the 17th of August, when I called, he would not go to her bedside, as is the case generally with friends, and he would not answer any of my questions; no one in the house would tell me what made her sick; and I was in great ignorance; all seemed to have an unwillingness to refer to the matter; I pressed my questions in this respect to such an extent that Mrs. Nickerson at last turned to me and said, "I have had such turns before, doctor;" I found out that none ever had been so severe as this one; she was so feeble she could not really explain the character of her attack; at this time, as her husband was standing beside me, I turned to him and said, "I understand your wife has had such attacks before, has she?" to which question he refused an answer, and went away; Mr. Nickerson also refused to go after medicine; he would not go after the blister to Nyack; he seemed to think it too much trouble; the blister I was determined his wife should have, and then he asked me if "I could not get it at —— store;" told him "no;" afterwards I made the blister myself from old material, but it was of no account; he then got some salve from Dr. Haring, and I did not want him to—(suppressed laughter); Mr. Nickerson never complained of the medical treatment of his wife during her life, neither did she; it was seldom that I could see Mr. Nickerson when I called at the house; it seemed as he avoided me; when he would open the door during my calls he always treated me uncivilly; would look scornfully at me; on the 28th of August, the day before her death, I put a small teaspoonful of brandy in a half tumbler of water, sweetened, and put half a teaspoonful on Mrs. Nickerson's tongue, but her husband came and took the tumbler out of my hands and scolded me for giving the brandy and water to her; on the 6th of October when I saw him he said I had given her medicine to "burn her throat, mouth, stomach, and that was the cause of her great pain and soreness"—.

A Voice—Very likely.

Doctor—And he said that the "miserable manner that I had treated his wife would kill me out of my practice, and soon I would have to run away"—.

A Voice—And that's likely, too.

Doctor—He also frequently called me in—store. "What ailed his wife?" I told him in putting him off, "that I would tell him some time," but not then; again on the street he asked me and shook his fist at me, as if he would say that I was an "ignorant man," as if he knew "I was a big fool;" he also told me sneeringly that I could not "see before three o'clock in the morning;" I wrote him a letter at one time after the death of his wife, stating that my impressions were at the time that the cause of her sickness was "grief and trouble," but it did not satisfy me at all, because I had observed unpleasant feelings between them at times; I soon after saw him, and as he did not answer my letter I began to reflect, and then was led to believe that there were distinct traces of poison in the case; then my mind was made to "work up" the case as best I could; at first I went to the Misses Stevens, but they would not give me any information; they spoke about the letter, and did not feel very pleasantly about my sending it; they would not listen to me at all, and declined saying anything about Mr. Nickerson; on a corner of a street in Clarkstown, during the latter part of October, last year, I met Mr. Nickerson; he looked at me and I at him; he said, "Do you see anything green?" "Yes," I returned, "I see somebody very green and stupid."

Coroner—We don't want these personalities; give testimony about the case, his wife, and nothing else but what is relevant thereto.

Doctor—I told him that his wife "had been sick and had died in a very queer and very mysterious way;" I said "I understand her case now; I can see through it, and the more I think of it the clearer it is to my mind;" he said "You stop such talk or I will come and knock you over," and with this threat "made his fist in my face;" as I saw that he meant to execute this threat, I stepped back from him and told him I "should have the matter investigated; that the truth must come out and the guilty party, too; that if I was the guilty person, I wanted to know it;" Mr. Nickerson dropped his head and did not say anything; he did not dare to look at me—(laughter)—and gazed in the opposite direction, and then we separated.

By counsel for the Coroner—I was not acquainted with any member of the Nickerson family until the latter part of May, 1868.

CAN DR. HENGGELER BE CROSS-EXAMINED?

At this stage of the proceedings Mr. C. P. Hoffman, who had been quietly taking notes of the doctor's testimony, said that he appeared in behalf of Mr. Nickerson and Coroner Sloat, who had been wilfully misrepresented in previous reports of the case. He claimed the privilege of cross-examination of the doctor, as it was due to them that such statements, furnished evidently by Dr. Henggeler, should be fitly characterized; that they were alone actuated by black malice; that the doctor suppressed many important facts within his knowledge, and he had uttered innuendoes which were false, and that he could show, if allowed to speak, that he wanted this opportunity for a full vindication of his clients, and such would be the ultimate result. The counsel for the Coroner denied the right of Mr. Hoffman to speak, and the Coroner sustained the objection.

Isaiah Milburn, the foreman of the jury, then stated that they wished such cross-examination to proceed, and that by Mr. Hoffman, as they desired the whole truth in the case. The Coroner, however, ruled that the request should not be granted.

By a Juror—We want to cross-examine Dr. Henggeler, and under the circumstances, ask you to keep him here in town until we can ——

Coroner—Certainly; Doctor, you will remain here until to-morrow.

A voice—And yes, perhaps longer.

Another voice—Fasten a ball and chain to him; he'll run away with that.

The examination of Dr. Henggeler was then rested.

Mr. Philip Moeller, a druggist of Nyack, who put up all the prescriptions of the preceding witness during his professional attendance upon Mrs. Sophia L. Nickerson, testified that there was a great profusion of podophylin, peppermint oil, nux vomica, diluted sulphuric acid, iodide of potash, simple syrup, ungh-hydr-nitr and pyrophosphate of iron, with some directions for use.

Mrs. Elizabeth Pye stated under oath that she often visited Mrs. Nickerson during her last illness; that Mr. Nickerson was always very solicitous regarding his wife's health; that at all times there were the greatest manifestations of extreme kindness and consideration between them. Mrs. Pye was corroborated by Mrs. Emma and Maria Campbell and Mrs. Bridget House. Mr. Abraham Merritt, of Nyack, never knew or heard of the Misses Stevens being with Mr. Nickerson after his wife's death or before.

THE TESTIMONY OF MISS MARGARET STEVENS,

who attended the deceased during her sickness, went to show that she administered the medicine as the doctor prescribed it; that the doctor was continually changing the prescriptions and did not seem to know what was the matter with her, saying that her sickness was nervousness and hysterics. Her testimony was taken at length, during which she either explained or contradicted many statements of Dr. Henggeler, which caused excited expressions of interest from the audience. She was fully corroborated by Miss Eliza Stevens. Mr. John I. House also testified that he never saw, knew or heard of the Misses Stevens riding with Mr. Nickerson.

TESTIMONY OF PROFESSOR R. OGDEN DOREMUS.

I received from Coroner Quackenbush portions of remains purporting to be of the body of Mrs. Sophia L. Nickerson, of Clarksville, on the 16th of April last, for analysis—viz., the stomach, intestines, liver, kidneys and portions of muscular tissues—with the request to submit the same to toxicological analysis; the stomach and intestines bore no evidence of irritation by poison, which might be accounted for if poison had been administered owing to the length of time elapsing since the death; the post-mortem appearances of the other organs for the same reason were of no especial value or guide as to the presence or absence of poison; examination was first made for volatile and organic poisons; the first class, which, owing to the lapse of time, would naturally evaporate the alkaloids, such as strychnia, morphia and that class, were searched for in the stomach and intestines, but no evidence of the presence of any of them was obtained; examinations were then instituted for the acid and metallic poisons, but no traces of them were found; very careful analysis was then made of the liver, the kidneys and also the muscular tissues for the metallic poisons, but no evidence obtained of their presence; owing to the fact that the portion of muscle was well preserved unusual care was taken in repeating the experiments for testing the presence of arsenic, but none was obtained; if arsenic was the cause of the preservation of the tissue it would exist there in sufficient quantity to enable a chemist to readily detect its presence; I therefore found no chemical evidence of any poison.

This testimony being what was earnestly and greatly wished for by the jurors, an adjournment was immediately had after Dr. Doremus signed his deposition in the case.

THE OCEAN BANK ROBBERY.

The Suicide at Crewe, England.

The article which appeared exclusively in the HERALD yesterday, in relation to the suicide at the railway station at Crewe, England, on the 14th ultimo, has created a great deal of excitement in many circles. The supposition that the person who made away with himself, by throwing himself before a passing train, was one of the parties connected with the robbery of the Ocean Bank, served, no doubt, to throw the shrewd detectives in this city off the track. The perpetrators of that masterly and audacious burglary must have had a good laugh over the fact that the unfortunate individual at Crewe was supposed to be one of their crew, and have felt at the same time more secure from discovery or arrest, as the occurrence in England would throw the officers off the scent.

Yesterday morning Mr. Frederick Leiss, of 65 Broadway, having read the correspondence published exclusively in the HERALD, called at the Mayor's office and recognized, from the photograph in possession of the Mayor, his brother, William Leiss, who left this city early in June. Superintendent Kennedy also called at the Mayor's office and had a consultation and a think over the matter. Several others called, but failed to recognize the likeness. Mr. Leiss will start for Europe immediately, to make further investigations.

THE NEW POST OFFICE.

Work to be Commenced Positively on Next Monday Morning—The Depth of the Cellars to be Governed by the Basement of the Herald Building—Pneumatic Tubes for the Convenience of the Newspaper Offices—The Basement Story to be Completed This Fall, and the Entire Structure to be Finished in 1870.

Mr. A. B. Mullett, the Supervising Architect of the United States Treasury Department, has now completed all the preliminary arrangements for the commencement of the actual work on the new Post Office in this city, and on next Monday morning the plot of ground forming the intended site will be enclosed with a board fence for the exclusion of would-be intruders, the protection of the tools and property, and to secure immunity from annoyance to the workmen. The iron railing at present standing on the property has not yet been purchased, but there are two or three bidders in the field, and an agreement will doubtless be arrived at to-day. As soon as the temporary fence is completed the surface of the ground will be cleared and the excavation of earth for the foundations and cellars will be at once commenced.

Mr. Mullett states that the depth of the basement story, which includes a cellar and sub-cellar, has not yet been positively decided on, but will be about thirty feet, and that the basement of the HERALD building will, in all probability, be the standard depth adopted. He has at least determined to go as deep as the lowest basement or excavation in the vicinity; this step being rendered necessary by the sandy nature of the earth, which would be apt to shift or allow the building to settle, as the superincumbent weight will necessarily be immense. A further reason for this determination also is to guard against any interference from the subterranean borings of proposed or projected underground railroads, several of which schemes, of an unfortunately more or less mythical nature, are at present agitating the minds of corporators and public franchise peddlers. Between 50,000 and 60,000 cubic yards of earth will have to be removed for the basement excavation.

The proposals for furnishing and delivering the granite for the construction of the foundations and basement will not close until the 14th instant, or about two weeks later than the proposals for the purchase of railing, the delivery of cement, excavation, &c., the awards in which latter instances have been announced. This was in consequence of a clerical mistake, but will not materially retard the progress of the work. And in this connection Mr. Mullett desires that it should be understood by contractors making proposals that the deliveries will have to be made to the letter of the agreement, in point of time as well as other requisites, as the government will push the work with all available energy and despatch when once commenced. About 150,000 cubic feet of granite will be required.

It is contemplated and expected that the entire basement story shall be finished flush with the level of the sidewalks during the approaching fall, or at least before the winter fairly sets in, and no failure on the part of contractors in the prompt delivery of material will be overlooked or palliated. If no unforeseen difficulties interpose to delay the work Mr. Mullett proposes to put the roof on in the fall of 1870, and have the building ready for occupancy by the following spring.

A new idea in connection with the building, and one which will not in any way necessitate a change or alteration of the original plans has just suggested itself, and will no doubt be a great success and convenience if carried out, as it probably will be. The proposition is to construct pneumatic tubes so as to connect the basements of the press and mail rooms of the various newspaper offices with the basement of the Post Office. Small box trucks running on fixed tracks or rails could be laden with the mail editions of the paper, and in a few seconds the carriages could be forced through the tubes by atmospheric pressure, and the papers "dumped" almost at the mouths of the receiving bags. Much valuable time and a vast amount of labor in the handling of these masses of mail matter would be saved in the early morning hours, which time is most precious in the despatch of news, by every train from the metropolis to all parts of the country. The plan is perfectly feasible and certainly ingenious. If mails so conveyed to the Post Office, having been assorted, would be placed on elevators and raised to the ground floor, as at present intended. The cellars, in addition to occupying the whole superficial area of the site, will be carried out under the sidewalks as far as the curbstone line.

Mr. Mullett is at present fully occupied daily, in fact hourly, in interviews with the different contractors and officials on matters relating to the work, which will until its completion engross almost his entire attention and supervision. The public of New York may confidently anticipate that there will be no lost time to be accounted for, as the appropriations made by Congress are ample for the prosecution of the work to an advanced state at least, and no hope deferred will make the expectant heart of the people sick, as has been the case with another building in the City Hall Park, which is not yet completed, although nearly a decade of years has passed since it was commenced.

THE NATIONAL GAME.

Harmonic vs. Mutual.

A few days since the Powhatans, from South Brooklyn, played with the Mutuals, at the Union grounds, and in a full game made the very good score of 13 to 20 for the Mutuals. Between the clubs of South Brooklyn there exists a friendly rivalry, and their efforts in contests with professional clubs are put forth with the intention of excelling each other in scoring for themselves and keeping down the score of their opponents. A game was arranged between the Mutuals and Harmonics, of South Brooklyn, to come off yesterday, and the latter were on hand in good season, and no time was lost in getting to work. The ball with which the game was played was a hard, "dead" ball, and the absence of extraordinary liveliness rendered it imperative on the fielders to work sharp, and prevented any display of showy batting. The result was a nicely played game in the majority of the innings. The playing of the Mutual nine was very good. They found early in the game that they could make themselves masters of the situation, but they found also that they need not count on a "sure thing," for in the fourth inning the young Brooklynites batted well for their bases and became quite confident. Then the Mutuals changed around; Norton went in to catch, Swandell to pitch, C. Mills to play short and Wolters left. Then again C. Mills and Wolters changed, the latter going in to short field. On the Mutual side Flanly, E. Mills, Swandell, Hatfield and McMahon, and on the Harmonic side Larkin, Lewis, Fenniman, Brown and Early deserve special mention for good playing in their respective positions. The Harmonics comprise in their nine several players who have figured in some of the leading clubs of South Brooklyn, such as the Star and Mohawk clubs, and can certainly present a good front. They are good batters, very neat and sure fielders, and, with practice, will be enabled to take a leading position in the ranks of the fraternity. The score of the game is as follows:—

To-day the Ross Club, of Harlem, will play the Mutuals at the Union grounds, and the Empire and Active second nines will play at the Elysian Fields, Hoboken.

To-morrow night the Atlantics start for Saratoga, where they will play the "Haymakers" on Monday.

The Eckfords also start to-morrow evening on their tour towards the West

SARATOGA RACES.

Two Races and a Walk Over—Remorseless and General Yorke Winners—Scenes and Incidents of the Day—Decision of the Judges in the Case of the Saratoga Cup Race.

SARATOGA, August 6, 1869.

A New York miss won a bonnet and fifty dollars on the race yesterday, and husbands who withheld cash from their better halves are warned against milliners' bills.

A leading fashionable lady won $5,000 on the first race yesterday and lost it all on the second.

The novelty of the Saratoga meeting having passed away, and Fashion having displayed all her latest styles at the course, the interest in the running has somewhat abated. The throng of people has in nowise diminished, however, and the streets and hotels present the same animated appearance as on the first day of the meeting. There has been a decided improvement in the character of the sporting gentry. The stringent regulations of the association and the exclusion from the grounds of known pickpockets, roughs and other disreputable characters have driven that class almost entirely from the place, and the attendance at the races is characterized by a remarkable degree of respectability. The perfect good order and decorum that have been observed each day are subjects of universal comment. Not a single disturbance has occurred, nor has there been a case of drunkenness on the ground. The road to the grounds has been free from reckless driving and boisterous conduct, and everything has thus far passed off in a manner unusual with occasions of this kind. The only incident that has occurred to ruffle the good feeling hitherto so universally prevailing has been the alleged

of McConnell & Thompson's Vauxhall, by John Ford, in the race for the Saratoga Cup yesterday. This incident took everybody by surprise and for a short time created no little consternation in betting circles, as it was impossible to determine how far the results of the affair might extend. Immediately after the racing the association held a meeting and adopted the following resolution:—

SARATOGA SPRINGS—ANNUAL MEETING OF THE SARATOGA ASSOCIATION.

AUGUST 5, 1869.

IN THE SARATOGA CUP RACE.—In consequence of the fraudulent riding of John Ford, the rider of Vauxhall in the race, it is resolved that all bets, pools or otherwise, on or against Vauxhall, or a field of horses in which Vauxhall is included, are declared off. John Ford, the rider of Vauxhall, is ruled off the course for fraud in riding, and will not be permitted to ride again on the course.

ODIN BOWIE.
F. F. BAYARD.
C. W. WOOLEY.

Great excitement prevailed among the sporting men throughout the afternoon and evening in consequence of the affair, and many comical scenes occurred between parties who had settled bets on Vauxhall before the action of the committee became known. The decisive measures adopted by the association, demonstrating that no dishonest practices would be tolerated, had a marked effect on all the sharpers, and it is now believed that the succeeding races will be free from all attempts at cheating.

were somewhat affected last night by the Vauxhall incident and were duller than usual. The following were the sales by Dr. Underwood:—

The Racing.

The track was in capital order for racing to-day and the weather fine. We had but two races, although there were two purses offered besides the Saratoga Stakes; but one of the purses failed to fill, there being but one entry, and as a matter of course that affair resulted in a walk over. The Saratoga Stakes was for two year olds and had eleven starters. A most capital race was the result, and a finer field of youngsters would be difficult to parade before a critical assemblage. Mr. Belmont had two in the race, Nellie James and Finesse, which are very handsome and promising. Messrs. Dennison & Crawford had also two by Censor, one out of L'Anglaise, and the other out of Pasta, which are splendidly developed for their age; Mr. McConnell's Anna Mace, by Leamington, is a grand creature in appearance, and in time, with care, ought to make a racer of distinction. All the others were fine specimens of the best strains of fashionable blood. Four of those that started were by Censor, two by imported Eclipse and only one by Lexington. Remorseless won this race as easily as she did the Flash Stakes the day before. She is a very fast filly and runs with great power and resolution. The second race had five starters, all well known to the racing public. These were General Yorke, Aldebaran, Climax, Lancaster and Julius. They only had 100 pounds up and made a very fast race, General Yorke winning the money. Lancaster was the favorite, but was beaten badly. The horse is not in condition for any race and has not been since he won the Saratoga Cup last summer. He has been beaten in every race that he has run in this year and will be when run again in his present form. General Yorke is a capital horse and can run any distance. He cannot run as fast as many others on the turf at the present day, but he will stay as long as any of them. This race suited him nicely, the weight and distance being playthings for him, and yet he sold in the pools for a mere song. Those who bought him reaped a rich harvest. Aldebaran seemed at ease with the 100 pounds on his back, and ran with spirit as far as he could. Climax, like Lancaster, deceived his backers and did not run as well as we have seen him. The journey was half a mile too long for him. Little was expected of Julius, and those who bought him in the pools got less. He never had the look of a winner from beginning to end. The following are the details of the day's sport:—

THE FIRST RACE.—THE SARATOGA STAKES.

This was the Saratoga Stakes, fifty dollars entrance, play or pay, $1,000 added for two year olds, three-quarters of a mile; colts, ninety pounds; fillies, eighty-seven pounds. There were forty-three entries, eleven of which came to the post. Mr. Belmont's entries sold highest in the pools; F. Morris' second choice. Dennison & Crawford's entries were the next in favor. The youngsters were started on the inside course, and while preparing for the start presented a fine appearance. They all appeared in the finest condition and were wild to get away. One break away and they were started very finely. The field consisted of F. Morris' chestnut filly Remorseless, by imported Eclipse, dam Barbarity; Mr. Belmont's chestnut fillies Finesse, by Lexington, dam Filigree, and Nellie James, by Dollar, dam Fleur de Champs; Dennison & Crawford's chestnut filly, by Censor, dam L'Anglaise, and chestnut filly, by Censor, dam Pasta; J. Eckerson's chestnut filly Polly Lyons, by Censor, dam Adelgiza; J. McConnell's bay filly Anna Mace, by Leamington, dam Luxemburg's dam; J. W. Doswell's bay filly Midday, by Eclipse, dam Vinetta; D. McDaniel's brown colt, by Doneraile, dam Canary Bird; L. G. Morris' chestnut filly, by Censor, dam Verbena, and John H. Davis' bay colt Kelso, by Voucher, dam by Epsilon. Remorseless had a trifle the best of the start, Anna Mace second, McDaniel's filly third, Dennison & Crawford's pair fourth and fifth, L. G. Morris' sixth, Belmont's seventh and eighth, J. Eckerson's ninth, Doswell's tenth, and Davis' last. They ran across the field rapidly, and when they entered the regular course at the half-mile pole Remorseless led two lengths; Anna Mace second; the others as before named. Going around the lower turn there was little change of place, with the exception of Belmont's and Dennison & Crawford's entries working their way through and past some of the others. As they came on the homestretch they began to spread out like the tail of a kite, Remorseless leading several lengths, Belmont's fillies second and third; then came Dennison & Crawford's pair fourth and fifth. They came dashing up the homestretch at a merry pace, Remorseless going in a winner by two lengths, Belmont's Nellie James second and his filly Finesse third, Dennison & Crawford's filly by L'Anglaise fourth, and their filly by Pasta fifth, Eckerson's Polly Lyons sixth, Anna Mace seventh, Midday eighth, McDaniel's brown colt ninth, L. G. Morris' chestnut filly tenth, and Kelso last. Time of the dash, 1:18¾. The race was a very interesting affair, and was run in very fair time.

The following is a summary:—

SARATOGA COURSE, August 6.—Saratoga Stakes; $50 entrance; play or pay; $1,000 added; for two year olds; three-quarters of a mile; colts 90 lbs., fillies 87 lbs.

F. Morris entered ch. f. Remorseless, by imp. Eclipse, dam Barbarity 1
A. Belmont entered ch. f. Nellie James, by Dollar, dam Fleur de Champs 2
A. Belmont entered ch. f. Finesse, by Lexington, dam Filigree 3
Dennison & Crawford entered ch. f. by Censor, dam L'Anglaise 4
Dennison & Crawford entered ch. f. by Censor, dam Pasta 5
J. Eckerson entered ch. f. Polly Lyons, by Censor, dam Adelgiza 6
J. McConnell entered b. f. Anna Mace, by Leamington, dam Luxemburg's dam 7
J. W. Doswell entered b. f. Midday, by Eclipse, dam Vinetta 8
D. McDaniel entered br. c. by Doneraile, dam Canary Bird 9
L. G. Morris entered ch. f. by Censor, dam Verbena 10
John H. Davis entered b. c. Kelso, by Voucher, dam by Eclipse 11

THE SECOND RACE.

This was for a purse of $700, for all ages; to carry 100 pounds, with the usual allowances to mares and geldings; two miles and an eighth; fifty dollars entrance, which was added to the purse. For this event there were five entries. These were R. W. Walden's chestnut horse General Yorke, by Planet, dam Albino, five years old; J. W. Weldon's chestnut gelding Aldebaran, by Commodore, dam Nannie Lewis, aged; R. Shea's brown horse Climax, by Balrownie, dam Jewell, aged; M. H. Sanford's bay horse Lancaster, by Lexington, dam Blue Bonnet, six years old, and D. McDaniel's bay horse Julius, by Lexington, dam Julia, aged. Lancaster was a great favorite, selling for as much as all the others put together. The start was from a point one furlong down the homestretch. The flag dropped at the first attempt, and the horses, getting under good headway from the first jump, came rattling up and passed the stand at a rapid pace, Lancaster leading, Climax second, Julius third, General Yorke fourth and Aldebaran fifth. Going around the turn Climax went up and took sides with Lancaster, and they passed the quarter pole head and head, two lengths in front of Julius, who was third, half a length ahead of General Yorke, who was a short length in advance of Aldebaran. Going down the backstretch Lancaster and Climax ran side and side, but just as they reached the half-mile pole Climax had his head and shoulders in advance. Aldebaran was the third at that point, having passed General Yorke and Julius. The pace was at this time too great for Julius, and Yorke took the fourth position, while Julius fell far in the rear, hopelessly beaten. Going around the lower turn Lancaster and Climax were again head and head, and they ran in that way well up the homestretch, when Aldebaran made a splendid burst, and, going up, passed them and led at the end of the mile. He was hailed with cheers as he dashed along in front of the stand. Going around the upper turn General Yorke ran ahead of Climax and Lancaster, these two showing symptoms of distress. Their chances of victory were entirely gone at the quarter pole. Aldebaran led two lengths and looked very much like the winning horse; but going down the backstretch General Yorke went after him with such power and speed that he captured the gelding before he reached the half-mile pole. At this point Aldebaran was three or four lengths in advance of Lancaster and Climax, who were fifty yards ahead of Julius. Aldebaran soon afterwards seemed to give the race up, and Lancaster appeared to revive for a short time and made a faint effort, which was like the flicker of a candle, and on the lower turn took second place, which he maintained into the homestretch. At the three-quarter pole General Yorke was leading four or five lengths, Lancaster second, Aldebaran third, Climax fourth, while Julius was eighty yards behind Lancaster. These gave the race entirely up, being hardly able to make a jump, and Climax seemed in almost the same condition, as they almost came to a standstill, and old Aldebaran struggled in the second place. General Yorke won the race, by half a dozen lengths, in fine style, Aldebaran second, followed by Climax a long way off, while Lancaster was so hard beaten that Julius came up and took the fourth place. Time of the two miles and an eighth, 3:51½, which is most capital time, notwithstanding the light weights that the horses carried.

Below is the summary of the race:—

SARATOGA COURSE, Same Day.—Purse of $700 for all ages; to carry 100 lbs., with the usual allowance for mares and geldings; two miles and an eighth; $50 entrance, which was added to the purse.

R. W. Walden entered ch. h. General Yorke, by Planet, dam Albino, five years old 1
J. W. Weldon entered ch. g. Aldebaran, by Commodore, dam Nannie Lewis, aged 2
R. Shea entered br. h. Climax, by Balrownie, dam Jewell, aged 3
D. McDaniel entered b. h. Julius, by Lexington, dam Julia, aged 4
M. H. Sanford entered b. h. Lancaster, by Lexington, dam Blue Bonnet, six years old 5

THE THIRD RACE.

This was for a purse of $600, for three year olds, one and a half miles, winners of the Belmont, Ladies' or Travers Stakes excluded; colts to carry 110 pounds, fillies 107 pounds. As there was only one entry, Mr. Babcock's chestnut colt Helmbold, by Australian, dam Lavender, he walked over for the money. The reason that there were no other entries for this purse was that the other owners of three year olds were under the impression that Mr. Babcock intended to enter Pompey Payne, and they were all afraid of him. Had they known that Helmbold would have been the colt entered there would have been a good field of horses in it and no doubt a good race.

COMING TROT BETWEEN LADY THORN AND MOUNTAIN BOY.

Lady Thorn and Mountain Boy trot here on Friday next for a $3,000 purse.

Saturday's Races.

The following are the entries and rates of betting for Saturday's races:—

For the Selling Race.—Fanny Ludlow, $350; Viley, $100; Bonny Braes, $85; Bayswater and Connelly together, $70; Lizzie Rogers, Urbana, Jubal and Scotia, $90.

For the Three Mile Dash.—Vauxhall, $600; Pompey Payne, $670; Ab del Kader, $185; Flora McIvor, $165; Sanford, $95; The Banshee, $35; Nellie McDonald, $50.

For the One and Three-quarter Mile Dash.—Helmbold, $200; Corsican, $150; Pleasureville, $100; Metairie, $50; Aldebaran, $30.

THE BUFFALO RACES.

BUFFALO, August 6, 1869.

The horses for the great trots to come off next week are arriving here daily from the West and from Canada. Old turf men say that there are more fast horses already here than were ever together before in one place. It is estimated that there are over $1,000,000 worth of fast horses in the city. The indications promise the most interesting trots ever held anywhere. The city is full of strangers. Among the arrivals yesterday were W. R. Johnson, from Kentucky, and the noted pacer Dan Voorhees.

TROTTING IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.

PORTSMOUTH, August 6, 1869.

At the Rockingham Park yesterday the trot for $400, in three purses, was won by McClellan in 2:35, 2:37, 2:38½; Black Walnut the second money, and Nelly Locke the third. Black Walnut took the second heat. The trot for $200 was won by Lady Wilkes, who won the race (under protest) in three straight heats. Time, 2:50, 2:53½, 2:51½. There were two dead heats in 2:51 and 2:54. Lady Wilkes' time on Monday should have been given as 2:35, not 2:55.

CUBA.

El Hombre Justiciero—Another Example of His Equitable and Unflinching Decisions—Extracts from the Press.

HAVANA, August 1, 1869.

The following was issued yesterday from the Secretary's office and appears in the Gaceta Oficial:—

HAVANA, July 31, 1869.

The court martial held in Santa Clara on the 24th inst. for the trial of Don Antonio Calvo, who, having abandoned the rebel lines and voluntarily presented himself for pardon to his Excellency the Commandant General of that district, has pronounced sentence absolutoria of all the charges brought against him, except that of having falsely asseverated that he was forced into the insurgent ranks against his will, having thus concealed the true character of the act and detracted from the merit that would have attached to a voluntary presentation; in consequence whereof, and placed at the disposition of the Superior Political Governor, his Excellency has ordered that the aforesaid Calvo fix his residence in the Peninsula of Spain.

The council of war held in the capital on the 20th inst., for the trial of Don Rafael Navarro y Fuentes, on a charge of disloyalty, gave verdict unanimously condemning the aforesaid Navarro to three years' banishment from this island. The sentence being approved and Navarro placed at the disposition of the Superior Political Governor, his Excellency has ordered that said banishment be fulfilled in the Peninsula of Spain.

CESAREO FERNANDEZ, Secretary.

The Captain General has directed, under yesterday's date, that Don Cesareo Fernandez (de Rodas) is to take charge of the "Despacho," ad interim, of the "Local Direccion de Administracion."

Don Enrique de Arantave ceases to be Inspector General of Telegraphs, and Don M. Crespo Quintano has taken charge of said office. Señor Arantave sailed for Spain in the steamer Comellas.

The press lauds General Prim's telegram of yesterday, in which the War Minister among other matters adds:—"I am giving my attention to preparing reinforcements for Cuba." This needs no comments, says La Prensa, "but it will produce effect on the minds of the laborantes and sympathizers, as they will little have expected it, especially those that fixed their attention to the appointment of General Sickles, as the new Minister of the United States in Madrid. In Spain certain negotiations can never be consummated, because the whole nation would reject them, and whatever may be the government of Spain she will always find the means to defend this much coveted Antille."

El Diario de la Marina says:—"Those few words imply a meaning of the greatest importance. In the first place it proves that the government considers itself with sufficient means to provide not only for its own military necessities, but also for those of Cuba; and in the next place it shows that it is firmly resolved to send everything necessary to put down the rebellion."

La Voz de Cuba cannot reconcile itself with the report that Señor Morales Lemus or any others of the Junta Cubana would be allowed to go to Spain under safe conduct, and much less be listened to by the Spanish government.

MURDER IN PORT JERVIS.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., August 6, 1869.

The people of this village were thrown into a state of the wildest excitement last night by a report that one of its oldest and most respected citizens had been shot dead in his own store, by an intoxicated ruffian, named Warren Fellows. It was soon found that the report was true.

It appears that about half-past eight o'clock this ruffian, well known in this section as a cigar and tobacco pedler, came to the storehouse of Alexander Swinton & Sons, and for indecent conduct was remonstrated with by one of the firm. He commenced an altercation, during which Mr. Alexander Swinton was shot and killed, and Fellows was nearly killed by James Swinton with a hatchet.

THE VICTIM.

Mr. Alexander Swinton was the head of the firm of Swinton & Sons, who occupy the Port Jervis Foundry building and keep a large hardware concern. He had been a resident of Port Jervis for many years, and was much esteemed in the community as a quiet, unoffending and peaceable citizen. He was a native of Scotland, sixty-four years of age, has no wife living, but leaves a family of five grown sons and daughters to mourn his untimely decease. He died in about twenty-five minutes after he was shot.

THE MURDERER.

Warren Fellows is a man who has for many years borne a bad reputation, having been engaged in a number of questionable rows before. He is pretty badly wounded, but his physicians say that if inflammation does not set in he may recover. He is at the Fowler House at present. Last evening Drs. Van Etten, Hunt and Lawrence performed an operation on Fellows' head, removing pieces of the fractured skull.

THE INQUEST.

Coroner Isaac Penney immediately summoned a jury and held an inquest at the house of John Swinton on the body of the deceased. The inquest was then adjourned until this morning, at nine o'clock, when the following testimony was taken:—

TESTIMONY OF PETER RUFFER.

Peter Ruffer testified—He resides in Port Jervis, and was present last evening when Alexander Swinton was shot; he went to Mr. Swinton's store to get some zinc; between eight and nine o'clock John Swinton went out to the door to get something to cut the zinc with; when he returned his brother James came in with him and Warren Fellows behind him; heard John Swinton say to Warren Fellows that he should go away, that he didn't want anything to do with him; and Warren Fellows replied that he didn't ask any odds of any Swinton, nor ever did nor ever would; he then saw a revolver in the hands of Warren Fellows, who cocked it and pointed it at James Swinton; the first word he heard James Swinton say was that he did not want him to point a revolver at him; then James Swinton took hold of Fellows' hand and shoved it away from him; John Swinton went out of the back door to the storeroom; when he went out of the door the father of John Swinton stood leaning against the showcase looking on; he then told Warren Fellows that he did not want him there—he should go out doors; then Fellows said something, but witness did not recollect the words; at that time Mr. Swinton took him by the arm and shoved him; witness at that time saw Fellows point his revolver at the lower part of his body and shoot; after he shot, James Swinton took a hatchet and hit Fellows on the head twice; Fellows dropped; witness said to Charles Hurley "Come, let's go;" after he got out doors the boy hallooed to him and said the man was shot; witness believed he meant Mr. Swinton, and went back and saw Mr. James Swinton holding his father in his arms; Fellows had got up then and went out doors; witness asked James Swinton if he should go for the doctor, and was told to do so; he came back to Swinton's, and Mr. Alexander Swinton was then lying on the counter almost dead; didn't hear him say anything after he was shot; the witness and Mr. Corey then went up near where Squire Penny's office is for a policeman and met officer Tibbetts coming down; when they got back Mr. Swinton was dead; when Fellows shot Mr. Swinton didn't fall; heard but one report of a revolver.

A revolver was produced which witness said was like the one Fellows had, but he could not say positively that it is the same.

TESTIMONY OF THOMAS H. CAMPBELL.

Thomas H. Campbell testified:—Never knew Alexander Swinton until last night; was present last night when he was shot; went in Mr. Swinton's store about half-past eight; should think the occurrence took place about nine o'clock; went into Swinton & Son's store and inquired of Mr. Swinton, the man who was shot, for John Swinton; a gentleman stood by and asked him if he had any zinc; John Swinton then stepped back and got hold of a roll of zinc and unrolled it; the gentleman said he wanted a piece of zinc, and gave Mr. Swinton the size he wanted; Swinton said he would have to get shears to cut it; he went out and was gone not to exceed three or four minutes; about one minute before Mr. Swinton came in I saw a gentleman pass the door, on the stoop; Mr. Swinton having returned, requested the man to step away from the door, and told him he did not think it a very nice caper to step up and do his business before a man's door; Mr. Swinton then proceeded to unroll the zinc and cut it with shears; I saw a man step in the door, draw a revolver and cock it as he stood in the door; he stepped up to Mr. John Swinton and pointed it at him, saying, "He did not ask any odds of any damned Swinton he ever saw;" Mr. Swinton told him to get out doors, and further told him he didn't have any use for such instruments, as he did not carry them nor have anything to do with such things; Fellows said, "By God, he used them and he carried them;" Mr. John Swinton dropped the shears and zinc and went out of the back door; after he had gone out James Swinton asked Fellows to go out doors; he said "he would go out when he got ready;" the old gentleman, Alexander Swinton, then told him to go out; he then made a movement forward towards Mr. Alexander Swinton; Mr. Swinton then took hold of his right arm near the shoulder and stepped with him to the door; Fellows then turned around on Mr. Swinton; took hold of Mr. Swinton somewhere near the shoulder; he then instantly fired and shot Mr. Swinton somewhere in the lower part of the body; Mr. Swinton then stepped back against the counter; he then said "My God, I'm shot;" James Swinton then took a hatchet from off the counter and stepped forward to Fellows; Fellows then drew up his revolver at him; James Swinton snatched the revolver out of Fellows' hand and then struck Fellows twice on the head with the hatchet; he then fell down on his hands and knees; Swinton then kicked him with his boot; Fellows then got up and started for the street; the witness then went to the door to see which way he made his escape; Mr. Swinton said "I'm dying;" James Swinton then caught his arm around his father's neck and lifted him up; I told him we had better pick Mr. Swinton up and lay him on the counter; he then asked me to hold his father until he had followed up Fellows and had retaliation; I told him he had better let him go and take care of his father, as I thought he was hurt very bad; he then put the revolver in his pocket; we picked up the old gentleman and laid him on the counter; in picking Mr. Swinton up to lay him on the counter I discovered a large quantity of blood under his back; I told them we had better unloose his clothes and see where he was shot; myself and another party unbuttoned his clothes; at that time Dr. Jones came in and he said there was no help for him; we then carried him through the rear of the store into an adjoining house; got him in there and presently Dr. Van Etten came in; he said Mr. Swinton was dying; I then started to go home, but Dr. Van Etten said I must stay there; told him I would go home and come back immediately; when I came back Mr. Swinton was dead; did not see any disturbance between Mr. Swinton and Fellows previous to his entering the store; Fellows appeared to have whiskey enough in him to make him ugly; think the revolver shown to the jury was the one Fellows used in shooting Mr. Swinton; think Mr. Swinton did not live over twenty-five minutes after he was shot; don't think it exceeded ten minutes from the time Fellows entered the store until he shot Mr. Swinton.

TESTIMONY OF DR. VAN ETTEN.

Sol. Van Etten, M. D., sworn, says:—Knew Alexander Swinton; was present last night when he died; it was at the residence of John Swinton, his son; it occurred a few minutes before nine o'clock; have examined the body since he was dead; find a pistol ball had entered the groin on the left side, about half way between the pubes and the anterior superior spinous process of the ilium, passing downward and forward, wounding the femoral artery just beneath the Poupart ligament; the artery was cut about half off; this would have caused death; made dissections; exposed the bowels; found them in a normal condition; exposed lungs, heart, stomach, liver, and found all the viscera of the chest and abdomen in a normal condition; did not find the ball, but traced it through the vital parts until it reached the part which caused his death; the death of Mr. Swinton was caused by a pistol ball.

Drs. Jones and Hunt fully corroborated the previous testimony of Dr. Van Etten in every particular. Mr. James Swinton, son of the murdered man, gave substantially the same account of the affair. Other witnesses were examined, but nothing of importance elicited to change in any way the previous aspect of this tragic case.

THE VERDICT.

The jury, after an hour's deliberation, rendered a verdict that "The said Alexander Swinton came to his death at the store of Swinton & Sons, in Port Jervis, in the town of Deerpark, on the evening of August 5, 1869, from a pistol shot wound from the hands of Warren Fellows, and said shot was fired without any just cause or provocation."

THE CONDITION OF THE ASSASSIN.

A brother of Warren Fellows arrived here this afternoon, and is now attending him. The pistol used by Fellows is a Smith & Wesson seven-shooter, carrying a heavy ball. This afternoon Fellows disposed of all his property, devising it to his mother and child. His wife died last March. He is now perfectly rational, and understands his situation. Dr. C. M. Lawrence is his physician, and thinks that unless he is a man of almost superhuman endurance he cannot survive his wounds. There is a strong feeling against Fellows, and the village has been in a state of great excitement all day.

GREAT FIRE ON LONG ISLAND.

Destruction of an Oilcloth Manufactory at Columbusville, Queen's County—Loss Estimated at $100,000.

One of the most disastrous fires that have occurred for many years took place at Columbusville, Queen's county, L. I., last night, on the premises of Messrs. Allan, Sampson & Sons, oilcloth manufacturers, of that place. About half-past ten o'clock last evening the inhabitants of New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City were alarmed by a great glare which overspread the whole of the sky, and which proved that a tremendous conflagration was going on somewhere in the vicinity. The conjectures as to the vicinity of the fire were numerous and conflicting, the inhabitants of Jersey City believing it to be in New York, while the New York police, on being questioned, stated that it was somewhere in East New York or Brooklyn. The ferryboats on the East river were soon crowded with an anxious throng, and the streets of Williamsburg at midnight presented a very animated appearance, large crowds of people hastening rapidly through the streets in the direction of Columbusville.

From the information which our reporter was able to gather in the midst of the great excitement which prevailed it appears that the fire broke out about ten o'clock, in a four story frame building used for the purpose of a drying house. Before the engine which was kept on the premises could be got to work the flames caught another frame building, which was used as the storehouse of the works, and which contained a large quantity of turpentine and other inflammable oils. Within half an hour after the alarm had been given No. 8 hose carriage, of Williamsburg, with a large body of firemen was on the ground, and in the course of an hour the following engines and carriages arrived in rapid succession:—No. 7 steam engine; No. 2 steam engine; Nos. 7, 3 and 4, hose carriages; engines Nos. 1 and 2 of the new Department, Brooklyn, and No. 5 hose carriage. A large number of volunteer firemen were also soon on the spot, and Chief Engineer John W. Smith, of the paid department, Brooklyn, took charge, and every exertion was used to conquer the flames. It soon became evident that there was no chance of saving the two frame buildings. The large quantity of turpentine caught fire and the flames speedily shot up to an alarming height. The exertions of all present were then turned to saving the adjoining property, and we are very glad to say these efforts were very successful. A third small frame building, used as an office, caught fire from the intense heat and was soon consumed.

The estimated loss is $25,000 for buildings, $15,000 for machinery and $60,000 stock—total, $100,000. It is believed that a great portion of the loss is covered by insurance, but the names of the companies could not be ascertained last night. Fortunately there was a very large available supply of water in a store reservoir at the back of the works. Had this not been the case it is probable that the whole of the works, which cover nearly four acres of ground, would have been destroyed. The cause of the fire is unknown. The frame building where it first broke out was covered only yesterday with a fresh coating of tar and of tar and gravel on the roof. The workmen engaged in this work left about seven o'clock, and it is thought that they may have left some lights about, and thus, through their carelessness, caused this lamentable accident.

At one o'clock this morning, the time our reporter left the scene of the disaster, the fire was still burning, but all danger of it spreading had passed.

THE LABOR MOVEMENT.

The Executive Committee and Central Body were in session all day at Germania Hall, 42 avenue A, and labored hard to reduce the art of selling watches, organizing committees and placing everything on a war footing to a science; and, as usual, several of the wives of the strikers volunteered as watchers. Only one disturbance took place during the day, resulting in the arrest of a man on watch at Hirschkind & Adler's store; but, on being taken to the Tombs, Judge Kelly immediately released him on parole.

The Committee on Agitation resolved on holding high festival on Monday next, when a grand demonstration will take place of all branches of the tailoring trade, and the Newark tailors, who intend participating in it, will be received with all due ceremony by the entire body at the depot. A committee was also appointed to visit the outlying districts and induce every tailor working there to declare in favor of the movement, and arrangements were made by which any man now on strike may receive immediate relief. The shop cutters have informed the Central Body of their intention of striking when called upon so to do, and this action on their part is unanimous. The Newark men went on strike on Wednesday, and are well sustained.

The following is a list of the firms now struck against:—Desaer & Stern, Sonneborn, Ehlfeld & Levy, Mayer & Co., Chatterton & Co., August & Bing, Strauss & Sahlin, Seldenbach & Schwab, Braun Bros., Yung & Son, Strauss & Co., Trettwell & Germen, Strauss & Raun, Blunn & Son, Feangs & Co., Erdmann & Fox, Greenbaum & Adler, Davis & Co., A. Psernheimer, Hoffman & Grirman, Stadler, Glarier & Co.; Hirschkind & Adler, Martin & Co., Hornthal, Rindskopf, Gutham, Hermann & Co., Funk, Werner, Schackmann, Levy Bros., Sudvon & Dayton, Haret, Heimanns & Helms, Jackson & Davis, Litthauer, Morris & Levy, Meisel, Neden & Metz, Vogler, Falk, Alexander, Baum & Schrier, Hall & Bruner, Cohn & Co., Sahlin, Jr., Weiss & Co., Newbrack, Friedlander & Stich, Wilde, Pearl street; Browning, Ratscher & Co., Runk & White, Wigal, Randolph, Leon & Arnold, Huerting & Harting, Longstreet, Hamerslough, Heidt & Hademann, Kaan, Metzer, Pintion, Reinteke, White & Whitman, August, Bruck, Feroslowsky, Harlemer, Levy & Co., Wolfenstein, Gross & Co., Turk & Co., Levison, Jones & Co., Warren street.

No returns from the manufacturers who have closed their establishments are forthcoming, but about 100 have as yet left off work, and the number of men employed by them exceeds 1,500.

The mass meeting was advertised for four P. M. at the Germania Assembly Rooms, but it was considerably later before business was commenced. At half-past four P. M. there were about 800 tailors present, and their behavior throughout the meeting was enthusiastic and orderly. Mr. Henry Lucker was unanimously voted to the chair and Mr. Sterr was appointed secretary, and read the report, showing the following firms, who employ over 1,000 hands, to have complied with their employés' demands:—Coleman Bros., Carhart & Whitford, Peet & Co., Brokaw Bros., Devlin & Co., Shaeffer Bros. and Steinhardt & Adler. Mr. Lucker then made a short speech, and the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

Whereas the obstinacy of our employers in acceding to our just demands is palpable, and as our colleagues of the clothing department have taken sides with us, therefore, we resolve to stand as men to the last.

Mr. Lucker again spoke followed by Mr. Brand, of Union No. 1, Messrs. Braun, Greiffenstein and also by a Mrs. Keiser, the latter a homely-looking dame, who spoke with great enthusiasm, but in a dialect totally incomprehensible even to the chairman, who, however, complimented her on her energy and proposed three cheers for the ladies, which were most vociferously complied with. Three cheers were also given for the Newark men, who were represented by a committee, and after exhorting the strikers to be firm and holding out a hope that by Monday next the strike would be virtually over the chairman adjourned the meeting.

Workingmen's Union.

A full representation of delegates of the Workingmen's Union, of this city, met last evening at No. 267 Bowery. Mr. Nelson W. Young, the President, on opening the proceedings, referred to the death of William H. Sylvis, late President of the National Labor Union and delivered a very feeling and eloquent eulogy on the life and services of the deceased in the cause of labor. Appropriate resolutions of condolence and regret as the loss they had suffered were passed by the meeting.

The tailors' strike received some attention, and the committee presented a report denouncing Brokaw Bros. as having acted dishonorably towards their men, declining to pay them as per agreement. A report was made stating that the Journeymen Bricklayers' Union No. 2 would strike on next Monday morning. It was reported that the iron moulders on a strike in Harlem were being arrested under the Conspiracy act and held in bonds to keep the peace. The delegate from the Tailors' Union reported 7,000 shop tailors as having struck, and the movement as successful and on the increase. By the end of next week the number of strikers, it is expected, will be 20,000. A delegate here delivered a lengthy speech on the tailors' strike, at the close of which speech Mr. Jessup was elected delegate to the National Labor Convention at Philadelphia, and the meeting adjourned.

PORT OF NEW YORK, AUGUST 6, 1869.

Herald Packages.

Captains and Pursers of Vessels arriving at this port will please deliver all packages intended for the HERALD to our regularly authorized agents who are attached to our Steam Yacht fleet. The New York Associated Press do not now collect marine reports nor attend to the delivery of packages, as will be seen by the following extract from the proceedings of the regular monthly meeting, held March 3, 1868:—

Resolved, That on and after April 1, 1868, the Associated Press will discontinue the collection of ship news in the harbor of New York. Passed unanimously.

☞ The office of the HERALD steam yachts JAMES and JEANNETTE is at Whitehall slip. All communications from owners and consignees to the masters of inward bound vessels will be forwarded free of charge.
